The Foreword

As the pages of this memory book are slowly turned, we, the staff of the '44 Petit Jean, hope that the Christian principles of our Alma Mater will be renewed. It is our purpose to establish by picture and words the memories that hold Harding near to our hearts.

Although our country is one of the many involved in war, we, at Harding are striving to uphold Christ, His life and His work. We strive to uphold the ideals for which many are fighting and giving their lives.

Dedication

TO MRS. B. F. RHODES,

Whose contributions to the cultural and spiritual advancement of Harding College has been felt by Harding students for more than a quarter of a century, the 1944 Petit Jean is dedicated as an expression of our appreciation of this worthy woman, the mother of five Harding graduates.

MRS. B. F. RHODES

To her Christian environment, Harding draws approximately four hundred fifty students from twenty-five states and Canada. Northern and southern customs combine in constant association making life-long friendships.

Since the students are guided by a faculty well trained in Christian education, the Bible and its principles naturally radiate through every branch of learning.

"Christian standard is her motto; Christian life is stressed." Wholesome work and play is a vital part of the Christian education of every Hardingite. The Alma Mater describes Harding as nearly as words can express.

Chapel

Each school day morning the students and faculty members assemble in the auditorium for a brief period of worship. Here we share our joys and sorrows and offer our prayer as a united petition. In our chapel periods we enjoy the speakers who bring us vital messages which may always be applied to the daily life of each of us. Lives are influenced for good in these short periods of worship.

Well-trained Bible teachers guide the young preachers in their work and help them with their many problems. Great possibilities and power lie in these young men. Their lives on the campus make us know and believe in the success of their chosen field. Each week-end boys from this group go out to congregations, in Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, and other neighboring states. Many discouraging experiences are theirs but they are determined to go on. Many of them enjoy the hospitality of homes and Christian generosity. These young preachers are enthusiasts and are ready to go to work.

Monday Night Meeting

Under the direction of the College church, the young ministers have a chance to develop and grow in their church work. The Monday Night Meeting gives them an opportunity to deliver messages and defend the faith.

Problems facing the youth of today and tomorrow are discussed and each one is encouraged to make sure he can defend his position with the Bible.

Because the Bible is the real guide to the development of Christian character, every one is required to enroll in one Bible class. Brother Armstrong has the Freshmen Bible student work which he likes very much. He teaches Acts, Matthew, and Hebrews to these Freshmen classes. Brother Baxter, Brother Rhodes, Brother Mattox and Brother Dykes teach Bible classes and aid in the development of Christian personalities in both the young men and young ladies.

Personal Evangelism

With Brother Benson as the leader, there has been a new class meeting this year known as the Personal Evangelism Class. This class meets each Friday evening for an hour and valuable instruction is given for those who plan to do mission work. Members of this class will go to fields this summer to practice the things that they have been taught. This class will be represented in Michigan, Ohio, New York, Mississippi, North Carolina, Nevada, and Utah. Classes like this will aid greatly in evangelizing the world. This class replaces and broadens the work formerly done by the Missionary Forum.

Vespers

At the close of the day's activity the girls assemble in the reception room of Pattie Cobb Hall for vesper service. Mrs. Florence Cathcart directs this group in reading inspirational Bible passages, prayer, and singing of hymns. Another period of worship is also conducted by Mrs. Mack Greenway and the girls in East Wing, while the girls in Grey Gables conduct their own vesper services in the various rooms.

There is a similar service in the boy's dormitory. It is conducted by a group of boys who are interested in their own spiritual development and that of their associates. These meetings inspire the students and increase greatly their faith in God.

J. N. Armstrong
Mrs. J. N. Armstrong

Four of the faculty members have served in Christian school work forty years or more. These faculty members were honored at a banquet given May 4 by the college and faculty members.

Lectureship

The annual lectureship is another feature of Harding's year-around program for developing better Christian personalities in every student. The most outstanding preachers of the church are brought to the student body and visitors of the school throughout the Thanksgiving Week.

Realizing that the future of the church depends upon the young Christians of today, this year's subjects were centered around the problems of the church regarding youth. Christian Education was the general theme.

Brother Harold Hawley of Flint, Michigan, an experienced teacher in the public schools of Michigan, gave several lectures on "Christian Education." Other speakers appearing on these programs were: Harvey Scott, William Medearis, S. F. Timmerman, Clifton Ganus, Hall C. Crowder, Charles Pitner, K. C. Moser, Howard A. White, E. W. McMillian, Ulrich R. Beeson, J. N. Armstrong, and Lewis F. Mills.

Brother Wade Ruby of George Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, California, did the preaching in the spring meeting of the college church. This meeting was conducted from March 19 to March 26.

An outstanding variety of subjects were discussed in the evenings and chapel periods. Throughout every lesson and throughout the meeting the objective of exalting Christ and emphasizing the practicability of Christianity was dominant.

WADE RUBY

Downtown Congregation

The congregation of the Church which meets in the attractive red brick building downtown, offers further opportunities for Harding students to develop spiritually.

The Wednesday evening prayer meeting service of this congregation is well attended by our students. The programs at these meetings include many of the student preachers in our school. This gives them invaluable opportunities to develop in the Lord's service and trains leaders for the Church.

Brother T. H. Sherrill is the full time minister for the Downtown Church.

Each Sunday morning at 7:30, the Downtown congregation in conjunction with the congregation which meets at the college, sponsors a one-half hour radio broadcast over station KLRA, Little Rock.

The singing on these programs is provided by an informal chorus of about twenty Harding students. They are under the direction of Edwin Stover, a student preacher and a senior in Harding College.

This group sings each week, worshipping God, in hope that their songs may inspire in the hearts of their hearers a more complete reverence for our Almighty Father.

Sextet and Chorus

The sextet sings on many programs with the chorus, is featured in concerts with the men's glee club, and is composed of Betty Jane Carter and Jeanne Chouteau, first sopranos, Marguerite Barker and Patricia Halbert, second sopranos, Mildred Lanier and Carmen Price, altos.

The mixed chorus is the largest music organization at Harding. Its members are determined by a love for singing and a willingness to work.

The longest trip this year was late in January through parts of Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi. A few short trips throughout the year were made by the chorus.

Because of tire and gas rationing the chorus could not go in person to sing, but made and distributed a large number of recordings of hymns, spiritual songs, and secular numbers.

An annual program was given by the chorus in a twilight Christmas concert. They also engaged in a Thanksgiving devotional service at 6:30 in the morning.

Under the baton of Mr. Leonard Kirk, the chorus worked and had fun, and its activities were a source of inspiration for the members and also those who heard them. Christine Neal was accompanist for the group.

Glee Club

Harding's department of music provides a wide range of singing experiences for all degrees of musical talent. About one-third of the student body sings in one of the music groups. Musical experience may also be received in the glee clubs, hymn directing, and soloist training.

The girls' glee club is perhaps the most colorful of these groups. Under the direction of Mrs. Florence Jewell, the girls participate in various programs throughout the school year. Several of the concerts were combined with the men's glee club and chorus. Ann Richmond and Mereda Jackson served as accompanists for this group.

Mr. Leonard Kirk conducts the men's glee club, a group open to everyone interested in doing his best to sing. Always a favorite in concert performances, this group worked hard to learn a large variety of numbers and strove for excellence in singing. Ann Scarborough and Janet Rea served as accompanists.

Piano and Violin

Mrs. B. L. Oliver, instructor in piano, has been a valuable asset to the music department as a member of the faculty. Mrs. Oliver has taught piano in Searcy for many years.

The piano students were presented in recitals in the winter and spring quarters. These recitals and various chapel performances were evidence of a great deal of training, talent and hard work. Four practice rooms in Grey Gables encourage these students to devote more time to their practice periods.

From this group the accompanists for chorus, sextet, and the glee clubs are chosen. Some of the students of piano entertained at banquets, teas, and club entertainments throughout the school year.

During the six years that she has taught piano and violin in Harding College, Mrs. R. A. Ward has become essential to our organization. Several members of this group attended some outstanding concerts in the Robinson Auditorium in Little Rock. Zimbalist, violinist, and Firkusny, pianist, were heard in two of these concerts.

Voice and Art

The voice department under the direction of Mrs. Florence Jewell is one of the departments that has shown rapid growth and progress. The aim of this department is to teach voice students good tone quality and diction. Mrs. Jewell also instills in the pupil a love for and an appreciation of good music.

Regular class recitals were held and all voice students participated, each receiving the criticism of the group. Voice students entertained various business and professional clubs. They were also featured as soloist with other music organizations.

Miss Ruth Langford, head of the Art Department, very efficiently guides her students in their class activities. Sally Ann Ammerman and Nelda Justiss are two of the advanced students of art. The Art Department was opened to visitors Thanksgiving Lecture Week. Another special exhibit was shown April 1-22.

Essay Contest—Oratory

The annual oratorical contest which is sponsored by the Bison was held this year in connection with the Speech Festival.

Weldon Casey and Mary Bess Love won top honors in the men's and women's divisions respectively. Mr. Casey spoke on "The Stars of the Future" and Miss Love on "Our National Flag." T. Coy Porter and Mona Belle Campbell, runners-up in the contest, spoke on "Freedom for All" and "God's Jew." The orators were judged on subject matter and delivery.

For two years Dr. Samuel B. Pettengill of South Bend, Indiana, has sponsored an essay contest on America's Constitutional Liberty. This contest is designed to stimulate an interest in and a better understanding of our constitution which will safeguard our liberty and our American way of life. A faculty committee serves as preliminary judges of the essays and sends them to Dr. Pettengill who chooses the winner. A prize of sixty dollars, fifty dollars by Dr. Pettengill and ten dollars by Mr. R. E. Dutcher of Pierce, Nebraska, is given to the author of the best entry.

Entrants in this year's contest are Diamond Perkins, T. Coy Porter, Wyatt Sawyer, Weldon Casey, and Dale Larsen. They also entered these papers as an event in the annual speech festival.

Each year a compilation, the biographies of these outstanding students on the campuses of American Universities and Colleges, is published in book form and released to prospective employers and business men throughout the country. Approximately five thousand students receive recognition in this publication and more than five hundred colleges and universities are represented in it.

Potential usefulness to business and society, character, scholarship and leadership in extra-curricular activities are the factors considered in the selection of students for nomination to this honor. Only juniors and seniors are eligible for membership in this organization. No school may nominate more than one-half of one percent of its total enrollment.

Among Universities and Colleges

The members of Who's Who are privileged to wear the official key or locket. Their pictures and biographies appear in the annual volume of "Who's Who" which is a reference of authoritative information on a cross-section of the most outstanding personalities in America's university and college life today.

Alpha Honor Society

With membership open only to juniors and seniors, the Alpha Honor Society was designed to give recognition to outstanding scholarship. For juniors to be eligible for membership they must have a grade point record of 2.7 or above and seniors must have a grade point average of 2.5. A scholarship index of 3.0 indicates a straight "A" record throughout the four years of college.

Alpha Psi Omega

The Eta Omega is the Harding chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, a national dramatic fraternity. Eta Omega has provided an incentive for hard work on the part of actors and actresses.

To hold membership in this fraternity, a person must have shown superior acting ability in amateur play work and must be proficient in backstage work. The standards of this fraternity are high and are worth working for.

Intramurals

KERMIT ARY

Kermit Ary, a senior and Physical Education major, was student director of the Physical Education Department. Mr. F. W. Mattox has done more class room work in Social Science and Bible this year. With the supervision of Mr. Mattox, Kermit has conducted an intramural program that has been most outstanding.

The intramural program has been a part of the Physical Education Department's work for several years. With the intramural program many students who are not best in a game have opportunity to take part in sports. Those who do not excell in sports get as much pleasure from the games as those who do excell.

Standing: Joe Cannon, N. Watson,
C. Shaffer, S. Roper, R. Rowland

K. Ary, W. Sawyer, J. Ganus, C. Campbell, E. Stover

Sitting: R. Chandler, L. Bagnetto,
V. Lawyer, T. Love

FIELD DAY

Each student must be enrolled in a physical education class so that he may be physically fit and in good condition all the time. Because of the shortage of manpower each student in school is encouraged to keep in good physical condition so that hours, days, and weeks will not be lost from working at vital jobs. This department has been an aid in this physical fitness program.

WRESTLING

Many minor activities are engaged in by all students. Horseshoes, horseback riding, boating, croquet, badminton, and boxing.

Winner in the badminton singles was Kermit Ary; in doubles, Edwin Stover and Kermit Ary.

VOLLEY BALL

Colis Campbell, Sidney Roper, Wesley Colburn, Wyatt Sawyer, Joe Wooton, Tolbert Vaughan

BASKETBALL

Virgil Lawyer, A. G. Johnson, Kermit Ary, Wymer Wiser, John Cannon

SOFT BALL

Sidney Roper, Wyatt Sawyer, Joe Cannon, James Ganus, Virgil Lawyer, Colis Campbell, Kermit Ary, Thomas Love.

Many boys took part in the team games, soft ball, basketball and volley ball. The winning teams work hard, of course, but all the boys likewise put their best into the games. In the team work the boys are not only strengthened physically but are also developed in sportsmanship, leadership, and character.

Archery, wrestling, table tennis, football and swimming are all major activities in our integrated program for healthfulness through play. Large numbers of the boys sign up for these intramural sports each season.

The brawny fellows who now wear the titles of champion wrestlers won these honors with many a grunt and groan. There are various divisions of the wrestling tournament.

Table tennis is one of the best-liked year-round recreations at Harding. It gives the students an opportunity to use the same techniques learned in lawn tennis but it is less strenuous and requires less time to play a match.

Archery is one of those more refined sports which Harding students may enjoy. A great predominance of warm, sunshiny days offers many opportunities for participation in this out-of-doors pastime.

In the cold winter months the Intramural Program swings into a touch football tournament. This part of the directed athletic program is a favorite with the boys.

Swimming is a popular sport in the winter as well as in summer. During the winter months the pool is steam heated. The intramural swimming meet was held late in the winter quarter.

Touch Football

In intramurals, the problem of selecting teams presents itself. Chance rather than ability determines the team, so that competition is usually very close. Consequently, the winners often owe as much to hard work as to any other virtue.

Members of the winning teams are given points toward the jackets and medals which are presented to the most outstanding athletes at the end of the year. An all-star team is also selected and points are likewise awarded for representation on this squad.

Touch football takes a large place in our athletics. Each year five or six teams are chosen and the winner is determined. Pictured here is a part of this year's winning team: Kermit Ary, center; Joe Cannon and James Ganus, guards; and Thomas Love, backfield. Bob Totheroh and Bill Smith are not pictured.

Richard Chandler won the archery tournament this year. Richard takes great interest in archery and makes his own bows and arrows.

The basketball free throw is a shorter event in our intramural competition. It takes little time but it does require skill and steady nerves. Bill Smith won first honors in this division. John Cannon was second place winner. Smith and Cannon were center and forward respectively, on the winning Sophomore basketball team.

Girls' Intramural Activities

CARMEN PRICE

The girls' physical educational program was very successfully carried out under the direction of Carmen Price. An outstanding athlete, she was well fitted to lead the girls.

The intramurals program was based on a system of points. A certain number of points were given to each girl who entered the events and additional ones were given to the winners.

WINNING TEAM

Jackie Hyde, Frances Fry, Estelle Ruby, Esther Sewell, Jewel Hanes, Reba McCaslin

ALL STAR

Reba McCaslin, Ruby Jean Wesson, Estelle Ruby, Esther Sewell, C. Price, Fanajo Douthitt

A large majority of the girls took part in athletics. During the winter term the basketball court was in constant use. Probably, more interest is shown in this than in any other one event of the intramural year.

TENNIS

Tennis created much interest for all of those who entered and for those who watched. Large numbers entered this tournament. Carmen Price winning the girls' singles. Ruby Jean Wesson was defeated but gave Carmen a hard fight.

Soft Ball

WINNING TEAM

Sue Chandler, Frances Fry, Geraldine Young, Ruby Jean Wesson, Carmen Price, Lenore Campbell, Eugenia Stover

ALL STAR

Carleen Smith, Mabel Ford, Ruby Jean Wesson, Estelle Ruby, Carmen Price, Elma Cluck, Fanajo Douthitt

Archery

Sally Ammerman won the archery tournament in distance. While Ann Richmond won in accuracy.

The college's many outdoor sports such as softball and archery are engaged in regularly by a large number of girls. They have held the interest of many throughout the year and contribute much to the activities of the student body.

Volley Ball

WINNING TEAM

Estelle Ruby, Ruby Jean Wesson, Nelda Chesshir, Gladys Walden, Jackie Hyde, Carmen Price, Florence Dorney

ALL STAR

Gladys Walden, Ruby Jean Wesson, Estelle Ruby, Marguerite Barker, Carmen Price

Volley ball is only one of the games played by the girls, during the winter months. In these games a feeling of cooperation and sportsmanship is placed above the desire to win.

To the Harding Students of 1944:

It is a genuine satisfaction to pen a message to the Harding College student body of 1944, where, by the grace of God, the unusual never ceases to happen.

While many colleges have closed for want of students, and while many others have been kept open only by the presence of those in military training, the Harding dormitories have remained crowded, with only civilian students, coming from twenty-five states and Canada.

An ever-present consciousness of the raging global war, with its terrible destruction of life and property, has had its sobering influence on us all.

You have been our most serious-minded student body. Harding College is proud of you. We know the world will be better because of you. Great opportunities lie before you. Be ambitious!

May God bless you in holding fast the true values of life amidst the confusing problems of today; may He guide you into more and more strategic centers of service as you advance along life's venturesome way.

Sincerely,

GEORGE S. BENSON

Academy

Another part of Harding College is its Academy. It makes a definite contribution to Harding society and the high school students also benefit through their close association with the college. They live in the Christian environment found on the campus and they attend a Bible class and an inspirational chapel every day. They also learn of college life which prepares them for the future adjustment which must come to each student entering a college society. They have access to the library of the college and may sing in the music organizations on the campus. All this suggests the great opportunities afforded them in the Harding Academy.

The high school is, however, a unit in itself. Its curriculum is both adequate and extensive. New courses in Physical Education have been added. It has its own social clubs which are active groups and help satisfy the need for extra curricular expression. Each Wednesday, the high school students meet for their separate chapel period.

Training School

The Harding Elementary Training School serves a two-fold purpose. It provides a modern elementary program for eighty children, and a laboratory where college students may receive teacher training. As elsewhere at Harding, the Bible is taught daily, Sidney Roper being in charge of Bible instruction this year.

Besides the regular school program of studies, each child may participate in swimming in the college pool, handicraft, woodwork or sewing, a music appreciation class held in Mr. Kirk's studio, a flag raising ceremony out on the college field, and an elementary chorus after school.

Special events of the year included "The First Noel," a Christmas play given by the upper grades, and a play given in April by the primary grade children. Also the children above the third grade spent April 7 in an education tour of Little Rock. The fifth and sixth grades wrote and published a class newspaper, "The Monthly Echo," and the seventh and Eighth grades put out a class magazine, "The Inkwell."

The eighth grade will give its annual graduation program in the auditorium.

Debating

Debating has retained its place as a prominent extra-curricular activity at Harding, and in spite of transportation difficulties this year, teams went to three tournaments, making good records in each one.

In the State Tournament at Arkadelphia in December, Harding teams won three second places. Sawyer and Roper took this honor in the senior men's division, Harris and Huffard for junior men, and Cannon and Cowan in the battle royal division for inexperienced debaters. Smith and Dyer had a very good record also in this tourney, losing in the semi-finals round to the team that took first place.

Early in March, Coach B. F. Rhodes, Jr. took two teams to Durant, Oklahoma to compete in the Savage Forensic Tournament, which attracted teams from six states. Although the Harding teams did not place in this meet, Roper and Smith received high ranking as individual debaters and won a dollar war stamp for their proficiency. The team of Smith and Dyer lost two decisions to the first-place combination from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

At Jackson, Mississippi, March 20, Smith and Huffard entered the Southern Association of Teachers of Speech Tournament, where they won second place in the junior college section, out of a field of twenty teams. They received public mention here as "the hitch-hiking debaters."

The motto of the M. E. A.'s, "Happiness is found in serving others," was given a literal expression in the fall term when the club served breakfast to the girls in their rooms in Pattie Cobb, East Wing, and Grey Gables.

Black and white are the club colors. Long sleeved white sweaters with a black club emblem distinguished the M. E. A.'s on our campus.

The club gave two twenty-five dollar war bonds toward the student center building fund. This is an indication of the foresight of its members.

The activities of the GATA's are always marked with originality and talent. As their project this year the club will make campus seats and repair the swings.

A hobo party was given in honor of the new girls at the beginning of the year. On December 4, the GATA's and their dates walked out into the country for a weiner roast. The colors of the club are blue and white with white carnations as their favorite flowers.

On March 4, the club members and dates enjoyed a family dinner in the music studio.

Since the fall of 1933 there has been an L. C. club on the Harding campus. Their name, Las Companeras, is a Spanish term, "the companion."

Their ideal as expressed in the club aim, "To create a close band of friendship among the students, to stimulate social activities, and to bring its members to a greater appreciation of the real values of life," is in keeping with their title.

The L. C.'s entertained the girls and lady faculty members in a colorful informal party October 29 in the gymnasium. February 19 was the date of their winter social, an informal dinner, in the music studio. The club jackets of white satin and maroon add life and color to our campus.

Cavaliers

This year is the first in sixteen that there hasn't been a Cavalier Club on Harding Campus. It had been the oldest men's club on the campus for several years. Uncle Sam needed these boys so not a one could return this year to rebuild the club.

This space in our yearbook is a salute to the memory of this club and to our friends, its former members, who are now serving our country. The strength and the truly American independence which characterized these fellows is a symbol of what America is fighting for in this war.

Christian Education

The creation of man in the likeness of the image of God climaxed the work of the Master. Man was created with a definite purpose in God's great plan. Man is a creature of education, however, and cannot properly fulfill his function in God's great program until he has been adequately trained and developed.

First, man is a physical being. Food, air, sleep and exercise are essential to the development of the physical body. The total accomplishments of man depend much upon the success with which his physical form is developed.

Man is a mental being with intelligence to reason, to think, and to act. The mind is capable of marvelous developments, as demonstrated by the marvelous accomplishments of man on the earth.

Man is also a spiritual being, with a conscience that either accuses or excuses him. The spirit of man seeks after God and cannot be thoroughly happy without a knowledge of God and without rendering obedience to Him.

Any system of training that does not develop an individual along all three of these lines is unbalanced, and doomed to ultimate failure. The present world war is caused by men who were developed along only the first two lines. It is not in man that walketh to direct his own steps. There is a way that seemeth right unto man and the end thereof are the ways of death. Those who rely merely upon physical and mental training can never achieve success. Spiritual development is man's greatest need.

Harding College offers a balanced education. A complete intramural physical education program reaches nearly every student on the campus. A highly trained faculty offering twenty majors, provides every possible incentive for the highest mental development. A strong spiritual atmosphere, a large offering of subjects in the field of religion, daily chapel and abundant opportunity for practical work develops the spiritual nature day by day at Harding College.
