Harding is her name.

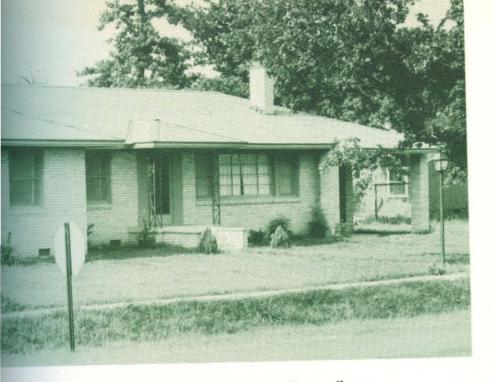

Harding received her first charter in 1919 while located in Morrilton under the name Arkansas Christian College. In 1924 Harper College of Harper, Kansas, was consolidated with Arkansas Christian College and the name changed to Harding College in memory of James A. Harding, co-founder of the institution.

Dr. George S. Benson became president in 1936 upon the retirement of J. N. Armstrong. Dr. Benson was greeted with a $76,000 debt, a result of the depression. Harding, held together by the faith and sacrifice of dedicated faculty members and students, then began her rise to national recognition.

In 1939, on Thanksgiving Day, alumni and visitors gathered on the Harding campus to see the burning of the mortgage representing the debt.

In June, 1954, Harding celebrated her thirtieth school year. She had seen the completion of a physical plant valued at over $5,000,000 and a substantial start toward a permanent endowment. Only a few weeks before, Harding received full accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

During the celebration Dr. Benson outlined plans for a new 2½ million dollar expansion program primarily on the graduate level. M.A. degrees, available in the fields of Bible, religion and education will later be offered in business administration.

alma mater Hord O. Sanderson Foreword

This, the 1956 PETIT JEAN, will mean different things to you who furn through its pages. To some it will bring to mind the inspirational devotionals in our daily chapel, the vespers each night that brought us closer to God, or the hymn sings that are a tradition at Harding. To others it will recall the wait in lunch line, the last minute cramming for exame, the excitement of a close ball game, the sharing of cookies from home at a midnight snack, or the anxiety of watching the mailbox while the letters are distributed.

Whatever your memories of Harding and this school year may be, we, the PETIT JEAN staff, believe this yearbook will vividly set them before you in panoramic view. We hope that you enjoy looking through these pages and remembering all those personalities and activities that made this year both unique and outstanding.

Jesse Parker Sewell

Dedication

Jesse Parker Sewell was born at Viola, Tennessee, January 21, 1876. He attended Viola Normal College and Nashville Bible School, which is now David Lipscomb College. He received an LL.D from Harding College in 1934.

Brother Sewell began to preach the gospel of Christ in 1895. During his 60 years of service to God he has conducted evangelistic meetings in 19 states and Washington D. C. He has preached for a number of years to congregations at Sherman, Dallas, San Angelo, and Abilene, Texas. From 1912-24 he was president of Abilene Christian College. During that time, the school developed from a non-accredited academy of 35 to a standard four-year college of 700 students. He also found time to write several volumes of Bible school literature and Bible lectures.

Brother Sewell came to Harding in January, 1950, to teach educational work in the local church for one term. He was persuaded to teach for four and one-half years. Though he is now retired, he remains the director of the Monday night preachers' meetings, and serves as special counselor for preaching students.

Brother and Sister Sewell in their living room at Sewell Hall, the building made possible by these two dedicated Christians.

To one who has devoted his life in service to God; who has preached the gospel for 60 years, who has always put his Lord first and himself last; who has been a leader in teaching the work of the local church; who is a friendly and sympathetic counselor; who is an inspiration to all who know him — to Jesse Parker Sewell, we dedicate this 1956 Petit Jean.

lifton L. Ganus, Sr., chairman of the Board of Trustees of Harding College from 1940 to 1954, lived only fifty-one years, yet his influence will be felt for generations. He was eminently successful from both a material and a spiritual viewpoint and Christian education was one of his primary interests.

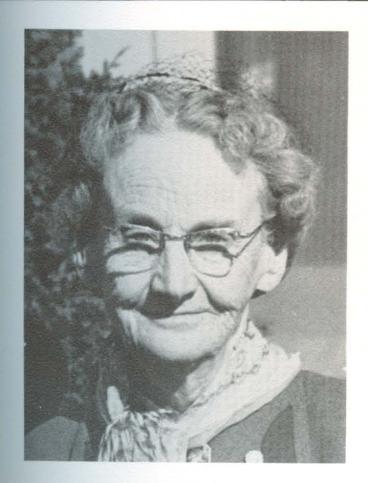

Mr. Ganus was a major supporter of Harding College, giving unselfishly of both time and money. The student center, which bears his name, was made possible by his generosity. In addition, he has placed more than $17.000 in loan funds for Harding students. Upon his retirement as chairman of the Board of Trustees, he was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

His death on September 20, 1955, following an extended illness, brought sorrow to the many who had learned to appreciate him for his Christian character, his interest in young people, and his example of Christian service.

Frank Lowery, a pioneer preacher in Illinois, Kansas, Montana, and Nebraska, contributed much to the cause of Christ and Harding College. A member of the Board of Trustees for more than 15 years, he also served as business manager of the college from 1927 to 1929. Bro. Lowery, editor of The People's Journal, Davenport, Neb., for 26 years, gave liberally of his printing facilities, financial means, and time to Christian education. Of his six children, four of them, J. Frank Lowery, Rose Marie Lowery, Mrs. J. E. Bartley, and Mrs. E. R. Stapleton, attended Harding College. Bro. Lowery's death on September 27, 1955, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. R. Stapleton, marked another deeply felt loss to Harding College.

on the Harding campus and was an inspiration to all who knew her. Interested in giving their children a Christian education, she and her husband moved first to Cordell, Oklahoma, then to Morrilton, and finally, in 1934, to Searcy.

Mrs. Dykes served as house mother to the boys in old Godden Hall until the death of her husband in 1941 and then she served as house mother to the girls in Gray Gables, until it was removed during the expansion program.

"Mother Dykes," as she was affectionately known on the campus, was a devout Christian and demonstrated her deep faith in God by remaining cheerful during a long illness that preceded her death on August 5, 1955.

The Administration Renders

George Stuart Benson, M.A., LL.D., President of the College.

George Stuart Benson, president of Harding College for 20 years, has guided Harding in achieving its present high standards. A graduate of Harding College and Oklahoma A and M, he holds the M.A. degree from the University of Chicago and honorary degrees from Knox College and Harding College. Returning to the United States in 1936, after serving 11 years as a missionary in China, he accepted the position he now holds. By the addition of new buildings, increasing salaries, assembling a strong faculty, developing a School of American Studies and the graduate school of Bible and education, Dr. Benson has greatly improved the position of the college. Although his major concerns have been the church and Harding College, Dr. Benson has also made valuable contributions to Arkansas and the nation. His example, that of a God-fearing man living a dynamic Christian life, is an inspiration to all.

Unselfish Service To Harding

Dean Lloyd Cline Sears has directed the academic life and affairs of Harding College since its early years. Beginning his teaching career at Harper Christian College in 1918, he became dean of Harding College in 1924. As dean, he has been active in aiding Harding's growth and development during the past 32 years. A graduate of Cordell Christian College and the University of Oklahoma, he has received graduate degrees from the University of Kansas and the University of Chicago. In addition to his duties as dean, he is also head of the English Department.

Those Who Are Consecrated To Christian Ideals

The Board of Trustees of Harding College is indispensable in providing a program that will lead to a philosophy of life consistent with Christian ideals. These outstanding men are devoted to the Christian way of life. With the interest of the student body foremost in their minds, they have formulated the policies, made the decisions, and guided the college throughout the thirty-two years of its existence. Rendering unselfish service and dedicated to the progress of Christian education, these men are the backbone of Harding College.

L. M. Graves, M.D., Memphis, Tenn., is present Chairman of the Board. Dr. Graves took this position following the retirement of C. L. Ganus in 1954.

In September, 1955, Harding College and the Board suffered a tremendous loss in the death of Mr. Ganus, who rendered invaluable service to this institution while chairman of the board.

The student center proves inviting to faculty as well as students. Professors here take their daily break.

Talent, energy, competition and praise to God - activities which make the year worthwhile.

Christian standard is her motto...

Religion at Harding is not relegated to a specific time or place; rather it is a prevailing force that penetrates into every classroom and every activity.

It is Harding's Christian atmosphere that draws students from most of the 48 states and many foreign countries. Here students are taught by word and deed the reality in the religion of our Lord. Here students have an opportunity to study God's Word under the direction of those dedicated to His purpose.

Bible classes, the daily chapel programs, vesper services, private devotionals, Monday Night Meeting and many other activities on the campus give students an opportunity to prepare to serve God.

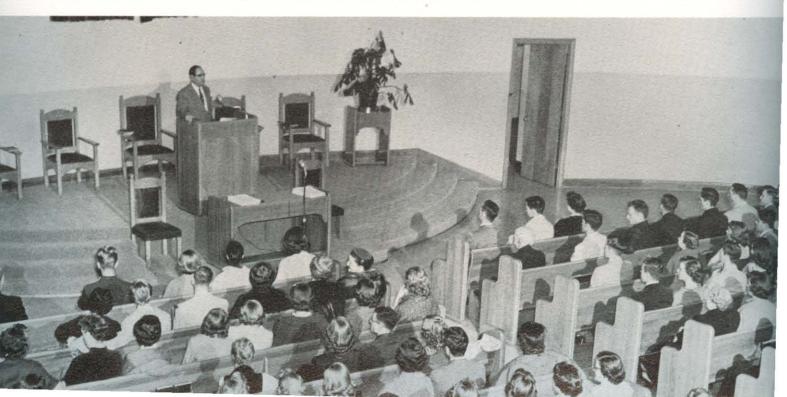

Off the campus other opportunities are provided for Christian service and growth. Worship services at the county farm are conducted each Sunday afternoon; Bible classes are taught to the deaf in Little Rock; various teaching opportunities are found in neighboring towns; and many sermons are preached throughout the state by Harding students every Sunday. Truly, Christianity forms the spirit of Harding.

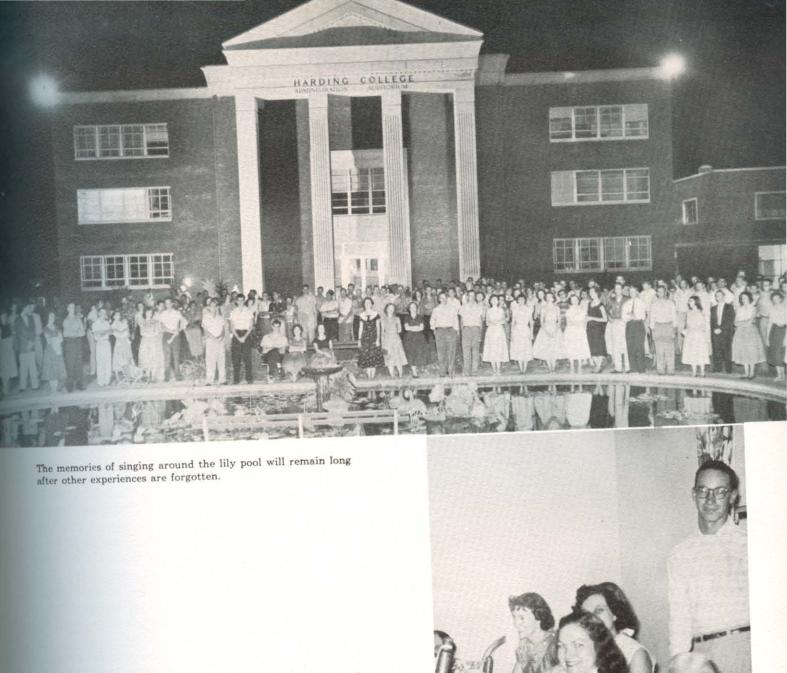

Brother Andy T. Ritchie., has inspired many young people through his personal evangelism meetings.

Christian life is stressed...

We gather in the College church to worship the Creator together in song, in prayer, and in the study of His Word. The sermons of Brother Gordon Teel always contain a full measure of inspiration and instruction.

The Apprentices to Campus Players, Campus Players and Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatic fraternity, are the dramatic clubs at Harding. Members of these organizations spend many industrious hours working towards the production of the plays which were presented during the year. The performances ranged from the talent shows to the three major play productions of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Silver Cord," and "Poppa Is All."

Students, anxious to demonstrate their talents, were given an opportunity to do so at the talent shows. After the first talent show in the fall, the student body eagerly awaited the spring performance. The long wait was well rewarded since the show was a big success. Students also looked forward to the production of the one act plays. The production class, Campus Players and the Apprentices combined forces to provide entertainment every two weeks by these plays.

Students interested in music find the courses they need offered at Harding. The Music Department provides opportunities in the music field through classwork and outside activities. Students desiring to learn about music may obtain this knowledge by studying in music theory classes, music appreciation classes, and through private vocal or instrumental lessons.

Opportunities for singing are made available through the Harding A Cappella Chorus and the Harding Chorale. The A Cappella Chorus delivered spiritual messages and pleasure on their five trips. Recording for 178 stations in 41 states, Alaska and Canada, the chorus sang their way into the hearts of the nation.

Harding enjoyed music sung by the Chorale during the Lectureship, a program of Christmas Carols, and a spring concert. Four professional Lyceum Concerts were presented on the Harding stage during the year.

Under the direction of Cecil Beck and ably assisted by Hugh Rhodes, the department of health and physical education offers a broad and varied intramural sports program for men. It provides a wide variety of competitive activities which are available to every student in the college.

Mr. Beck was assisted by several students who helped in officiating some of the sports. Football, baseball, volleyball, tennis, baseball, and softball were just some of the sports in which more than 250 boys took an active part.

With Miss Imogene McAlister at its head, the women's intramural program, which includes basketball, softball, tennis, volleyball, archery, badminton, and several other sports, was participated in by more than 150 young women.

Student Council - Linking Students And Faculty

The role of the STUDENT COUNCIL at Harding is to guide the student body into a better understanding of the purposes and ideals of the college.

The council makes an effort to improve the campus appearance, chapel hour, and campus life in general. Some of the accomplishments of the year included the purchasing of a new jukebox for the Student Center and a milk dispenser for Armstrong

Hall, instituting Saturday night games in the Emerald Room, and assisting the Club Council in sponsoring an all-school Christmas party.

Another Saturday night feature presented by the Council, in conjunction with the Health Council, were movies on marriage and the home. A breakfast at Camp Wyldewood honoring officers-elect concludes the year's activities.

Bible

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free ... " This is the guiding influence of Harding's religious life and training which is directed by a faculty dedicated to teaching the truth.

More than 1,900 years ago Jesus said "man shall not live by bread alone." Therefore Harding emphasizes the Bible, the supreme revelation of God to man. In doing so, Harding is preparing students for fuller Christian service.

One of the best classes on the campus is extracurricular. It is the Monday night preacher's meeting conducted by Bro. Jesse P. Sewell.

Young people at Harding learn by doing, as well as study. In chapel, services at the college congregation, and Monday night meetings students participate in leading prayer, directing singing, reading scripture and preaching.

One of the greatest benefits to young ministers comes from experience gained by speaking at surrounding congregations. More than 120 congregations in Arkansas and neighboring states are served by preachers from Harding College.

Harding's preachers meet to discuss problems and methods.

These Activities Show Christianity At Work

Although college is a place of learning, Harding students also believe in a working Christianity as preparation for the life ahead.

Vespers at the close of each day, in every dorm, help to strengthen our tie with God, and give us practice in religious leadership.

The SIGN LANGUAGE CLUB consists of a group interested in teaching the word of God to the deaf. In addition to meeting each week for dactylology study, six club members travel to the Little Rock Deaf School each Lord's day, preaching and teaching the Gospel to the deaf.

Another practice of Harding students is to visit those in need, especially on Sunday afternoons. Some visit in individual homes, others in the county farm or jail.

Participation in activities such as these allow students to relax from their studies and carry out the will of God, as they plan to do in future years of service.

Young People's Meeting is planned to be of help and interest to all. Here Dr. Joe speaks on "The Wonders of the World." Personal Evangelism, under the direction of Bro. Andy T. Ritchie, attempts to give students a basis for active personal work.

Needs of the graduate library are explained to lectureship visitors.

Lectureship, An Association Of Christians

The topic which the lectureship committee selected for the theme of this year's lectureship, "The Things Which Befit Sound Doctrine," was an especially appropriate one. As the religious highlight of the year, this program is looked to for inspiration, strength and fellowship.

The speakers, selected from among the best in the churches throughout the nation, brought stimulating lessons to the greatest number of people ever to attend Harding's lectureship.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. S. A. Bell, the HOME ECONOMICS CLUB carried out their theme of "Handicrafts" during every meeting. The highlight of the year was the awarding of a certificate to the most outstanding girl in home economics. This spring the members attended a four day workshop at Arkansas State Teachers College, and the club was honored in having Nina Harvey elected as the state secretary at the annual convention in Little Rock.

The purpose of the GERMAN CLUB is to increase student interest in German customs, the people, their language and culture. The club accomplishes its purpose by corresponding with the people of Germany, hearing speeches and records by German students on campus, and seeing movies of the country. This group is under the direction of Prof. Leslie Burke.

The purpose of the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA is to create interest and understanding in the teaching profession. Work got underway this year with a chapel program, "Gripo Barks Show," which began the annual membership drive that culminated in a membership of 135 — a record for the Florence Cathcart Chapter.

THE SCIENCE CLUB was organized to further scientific education among students. At their meetings films, demonstrations, lectures by professional leaders, and talks by members of the club on different phases of science were presented. Other activities during the year included a field trip to the Aluminum Company of America at Bauxite and the presentation of exhibits at the Arkansas Junior Academy of Science convention.

THE CIRCLE K CLUB is a men's service organization sponsored by the Searcy Kiwanis Club and has proved to be an outstanding asset to the campus and community.

Among the various services rendered by this organization during the year included providing ushers for each lyceum program, giving the case in the gym for the display of intramural sports winners, and presenting a weekly radio program which featured Harding student talent. In connection with national Safe Driving Day, the club also presented a series of radio programs.

THE BIG SISTERS, arriving early in the fall, greeted the new girls and helped them to become adjusted to college life. Initial contact with the girls is by correspondence during the summer months. After school begins, the "sisters" work in every way possible to help the students become orientated to Harding.

Directed by Prof. Kenneth Davis, A TEMPO consists of thirty-five members. Activities during the year included three chapel programs, the presentation of the annual spring opera, which is given in conjunction with the dramatics department, and "The Squirrel Hunt," the organization's annual outing at Bee Rock. Also, A Tempo presents the Outstanding Musician Award each year.

Still another outstanding choral group on the campus is the HARDING CHORALE, whose major purpose is to train and develop students for the A Cappella Chorus. Under the direction of Dr. Erle Moore, the organization is open to any student interested in singing. Activities during the year included a concert of hymns at the annual fall lectureship, chapel programs, and a spring concert.

Singing Is A Tradition At Harding

In addition to personal appearances in nine states, the A CAPPELLA CHORUS, over the weekly program "Hymns From Harding," was heard over 179 radio stations in the United States and Canada this year. Made up of Harding students from 21 states, members of the chorus are selected from the entire student body by private audition. Directed by Prof. Kenneth Davis the 59 member chorus makes two major trips each year; with individual members of the group answering many other singing engagements. In addition, programs for lectureship, weddings, and chapel were given. States visited by the chorus include Ark., Okla., Kans., Miss., Ala., Mo., and Tenn.

Directed by Prof. Eddie Baggett and composed of 33 members, the HARDING BAND this year took another step forward in its development by going on its first tour. Giving a total of six programs, the group appeared in Des Arc, Paragould, and Newport, Ark., and Memphis and Henderson, Tenn. Showing great improvement and group interest, the organization's local appearances consisted of playing for chapel programs and civic organizations. Also, parts of the band, as the brass sextet, clarinet quartet and the "Hungry Five" (German Band), gave individual programs. Members of the band are a combined group, consisting of both high school and college students.

Clubs For Service, Study, And Activity

To better acquaint the members with the Latin American language and customs, the LOS RANCH-EROS started two new weekly Spanish classes in addition to the ones already meeting. Under the direction of Joe Cuellar and Brother Gordon Teel, the classes viewed films and heard reports on "south of the border" customs;" all reports were given in Spanish. The annual Mexican dinner, with students attending in Latin American dress, climaxed the year's activity.

THE HARDING DEBATE SQUAD made six trips this year, participating in intercollegiate debates and other speech activities. This, one of their most successful years, saw the Squad take second place in the University of Arkansas Invitational Tournament. The Senior team went to the finals in the Mid-South Tournament, while Bill Floyd won first place in the Junior Men's Oratorical Contest at Baylor University.

THE STUDENT HEALTH COUNCIL is made up of pre-med and pre-nursing students, a representative of each social club, and anyone else interested in a better health program for the college. Since its organization last year the Council has developed definite aims and purposes, two of which are the promotion of better health on the campus and the organization of dormitory committees for first aid. The group's sponsor is Mrs. Mable French.

THE BOHEMIAN CLUB, under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. Perry Mason and Mr. Herb Dean, strives to further interest and study in visual arts. Activities during the year included an art exhibition, the annual "Costume Ball" attended by members disguised as works of art, and a trip to Brooks Memorial Art Gallery in Memphis, Tenn.

THE CAMERA CLUB, designed to promote interest and skill in photography, is sponsored by Prof. Neil B. Cope. Photography techniques and practices were discussed and demonstrated at club meetings. Two snapshot contests and a field trip to Petit Jean were the club's activities for the year.

The Bison Reports Campus News As It Happens

Interviewing, writing copy, proof reading, meeting deadlines and doing the other numerous tasks involved in publishing a weekly newspaper often becomes tiresome, but the BISON staff members had a feeling of accomplishment every Wednesday afternoon when each student reached happily for his copy of the paper.

But keeping the students informed of campus news and activities is not the only function of the Bison. Other activities for the year included sponsoring the All-Star Football and Basketball games, the Bison essay contest, attending the ACPA convention at Magnolia, and presenting letters to staff members earning them.

Mr. West and Dennie check a first run. Editor Hall gave us an excellent paper; he personally supervised every move.

The Petit Jean Pictures Highlights Of The Year

In creating the 1956 PETIT JEAN, as in every other annual, copy must be written, edited, and proofed; pictures must be taken, developed, and placed; and names must be checked and double-checked.

Although we admittedly experienced a few headaches and a few late hours; nevertheless, we have enjoyed every exciting day. Our biggest reward comes when we see the happy faces of the students as they look through these pages.

Petit Jean Day is the climax for the entire staff. Then, the annuals are distributed to you, the reader. We sincerely hope you enjoy the re-creation on paper of a wonderful school year as we have tried to do in this '56 PJ.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA, the only national honorary organization on the campus, sponsors Harding's dramatic organizations and encourages dramatic ability. Membership is gained through outstanding ability and consistent achievement in stage work. This year the group presented three one act plays.

THE APPRENTICES, Campus Player's junior organization, is composed of Harding students interested in dramatics. The Apprentices work their way into Campus Players on a point system, membership being granted only after the required number of points have been earned.

The purpose of CAMPUS PLAYERS is to further interest in the theatre, giving many students a chance to develop dramatic talent. Three major productions and a number of one act plays were given this year. This group also presents awards for outstanding service and achievement in dramatics.

Dramatics Provide Fu

Each year outstanding dramatic and concert artists of national reputation are brought to the Harding campus to complement the college lyceum presentations.

The first program of the year was presented by the duo piano team of Bill and Pat Medley. On November 3 students were privileged to hear the world renown baritone Igor Gorin.

swept the campus in the form of an unusual two hour program presented by Dr. Franz Polgar, famous hynoptist.

Making its first appearance in Arkansas and on the Harding campus was the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony which presented two programs on February 14. Concluding the concert presentations was the musical program given by Ralph Nielsen and Audrey Paul on March 19.

Students couldn't pass up the opportunity to obtain the autograph of the famous Igor Gorin.

What better test of strength could Dr. Polgar devise for Ronnie Carter and Alvin Cashon.

Suspense ran high in the Alpha Psi Omega chapel presentation of the one act play, "Trifles".

Softball Opens The Fall Program

For the first time in several years the fall intramural program ran two sports simultanesly — softball and football. The juniors were the first to get in the glory trail by defeating the sophomores in a closely fought battle for the class softball championship. Then came the league race; when play was ended the Choctaws, led by fireballer Tom Eaves, were crowned champions. However, in the all-star game that followed the Choctaws were no match for the Starlets.

Tackle Footba

Not since 1932 had collegiate tackle football been played on the Harding campus. But this year with four evenly matched teams in a league race the pads began to pop again. Once more fans experienced the thrill and excitement of a highly competitive sport. When all the dust had cleared, the Texas Longhorns were at the top of the standings. In the last game of the year the champions were beaten by the league all-stars.

Action was rough and rugged on many occasions during the volleyball season. The fellows here are warming up for a game.

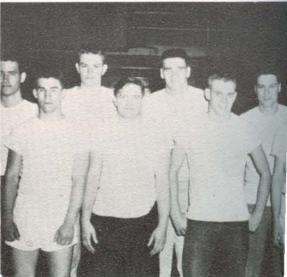

Participants Enjoyed Volleyball

Though less appealing to many sportsmen than other of the major sports, volleyball was enjoyed by a large number of participants. At times interest lagged, but often fast, exciting action was the thing that brought the fellows out to the games. Although many of the men had never been trained in volleyball, exceptional play was often exhibited.

As in the past, two leagues were formed, with five teams in each league. In the Canine League the Beagles captured the laurels, while during the same period, the Angoras of the Feline League were victorious. In the play-off game, the Beagles proved themselves the better team and were crowned school champions. When the battle of the all-stars had subsided the Feline League group had won. As for the class tournament, the Juniors carried off the championship in easy style. Never threatened seriously, they defeated the Faculty in the finals.

Spring Highlights Were Baseball And Track

Baseball and track were the sports which furnished the fun for spring time. Pitching was the outstanding characteristic of the baseball season. Not since the days of J. C. Roe had Harding seen such fireballers — C. V. Combs, Garrett Timmerman, Raymond Healy.

In league play Combs led a well balanced Dodger team to victory. However, the all-star team was superior in the play-off game. Minor league baseball was just as exciting, with the Houston team winning the championship. A fine freshman squad — now sophomores — won the class tournament easily.

There were many club teams that entered the annual track and field events. When the final tussle had ended the Mohicans were proclaimed winners of the men's division, and the Omega Phi club was the champion girls team at Harding.

Basketball Is Stil

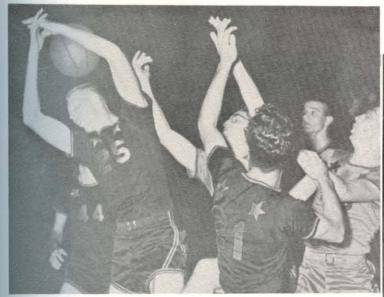

As usual basketball was the top intramural sport on the Harding campus. More fellows were on the hardwood for play than went onto the football field or the baseball diamond.

It was a wonderful season with two fine teams emerging as champions of their respective leagues. The Mules, Atlantic Coast Conference champs, trounced the Huskies, champs of the Pacific Coast Conference, for the school championship.

The class tournament always offers an extra spark of excitement. This was certainly true of the event this year. A really great Junior team whipped everything in sight to win the coveted crown.

The big game of the season was the all-star tussle. The Bison sports staff went all out to make it a gala occasion. The newest and most appropriate innovation was the flashy gold and black uniforms. In the nip and tuck battle an underdog crew of Pacific Coast all-stars defeated the Atlantic Coast aggregation. The Outstanding Player Award went to Red Norwood, consistent Pacific Conference guard.

Increased Interest Is

With a desire to have fun and make some real friends, a large number of girls participated in girls' intramurals this year. The purpose of intramurals is to provide an opportunity for all girls to take part in sports. Accordingly, skill and experience are not necessary.

A double round robin schedule was arranged in basketball with games being played at five-forty-five in order to avoid conflict with the boys games. In a final play-off Betty Floyd's Panthers came out victorious, followed by Myrna French's Tigers.

Ann Belue's keen eye for the basket brought her a victory in the free throw contest which was a new innovation this year.

Shown In Girl's Sports

Five teams, from which fourteen girls were chosen for the All-Star game, competed in the tournament. Although the All-Star game started slowly, it turned into a real thriller with close scoring all the way. The Red sextet won the game.

In the class tournament the seniors again brought out their superiority by regaining the title of champs.

The enthusiasm shown in the club tournament last year was again displayed this year when the teams met to compare skill on the hardwood.

Fall Highlights Were Softball And Volleyball

The season for girls' sports opened in an intramural softball tournament with Ann Belue and Betty Floyd's Yellowjackets emerging as champions. From 40 eligible girls, ten players were chosen for an All-Star position.

This year found volleyball honored with the largest turn-out. Six teams participated in the tournament which was backed by interest and enthusiasm. The Robins, champions of the intramural contest, went down to defeat at the hands of the mighty all-stars in their scheduled match.

Volleyball Champions, The Robins — ROW ONE: Doris Sue Jones, Kay Wilson, Pauline Barnes, Shirley Gentry. ROW TWO: Ruby Bobbitt, Andee King, Dot Reed, Jo Holton.

These Were The Minor Sports Events

Tournaments were held in most of the minor sports events and medals were presented to winners. Such sports as tennis, badminton, horseshoes, table tennis, and archery continued to accomplish wonders in the development of confidence, coordination, and initiative — as well as being a source of fun and relaxation.

The participation in such events was quite wide spread. A large number of fellows and girls turned out for each tournament, making the events more exciting and enjoyable.

Harding experienced the largest enrollment of her history this fall when she opened her portals to 842 students, sixty-one graduate students included. The students represented thirty-five different states, Alaska, Canada, China, France, Germany, Greece, Japan, Korea, and South Africa.

The freshman class claimed the largest enrollment — as they have for several years — with 310 "green ones" flooding the campus grounds. It was also noted that a greater percentage of students returned from each of the classes than in previous years.

The careful screening students receive showed that more were entering college with a real purpose in mind. Harding now possesses the "highest quality of students," and with her North Central accreditation she has assured her students that their credits will be accepted throughout the world.

Harding classes can be described as interesting, inspirational and informative. Each class is designed to give the student a maximum of professional knowledge as well as an abundance of character training and Christian fellowship. In the Harding classroom one is able to study under capable men and women who are scholars in their respective academic fields. More than twenty members of the faculty have earned a doctoral degree and about the same number plan to complete work for the doctorate in the near future.

Through the medium of classroom lectures and discussions, audio-visual aids, outside assignments and laboratory experiments students acquire the basic knowledge and techniques needed for their life's work. A core general education curriculum has been carefully designed. In the field of religious training, Harding provides numerous courses in Bible, religious education and speech. For those students who plan to be teachers, Harding provides practice teaching facilities as a proving ground for educational theories the student has learned in the classroom.

Graduates of Harding have made an outstanding record in leading graduate and professional schools and they have made a real contribution to the teaching profession. Her alumni have gone to all part of the world as preachers and missionaries. Harding sincerely encourages everyone who enters her portals to "tread the path to knowledge" and diligently seeks to provide capable guidance along that path.

An important part of a club's work is its project. Projects may vary with the need of the college. When club members find a situation where they can be of service they are ready to assist. A few groups prefer to choose a project that will be the same every year.

Among the traditional club projects each year is the May Fete program, which has been presented by the Ju Go Ju Club for over twenty years. The Queen of May is chosen each year in a student body election and her coronation on May Day is accompanied by winding of the May Pole.

Classes

These classes are the melting pot and molds for the thoughts, dreams, aspirations and ambitions of each student who will heed to the call of Christian education issued on our campus.

In the fall of each year, hundreds of students pour onto the Campus from over 35 states and several foreign countries. Their first impression, especially freshmen, is that college life is one continuous line. A line which ends, for most, four years later as it marches from the auditorium following Bible Faculty — ROW ONE: Jack P. Lewis, W. B. West, Jr., chairman, Earl West, William Leslie Burke. ROW TWO: Fount William Mattox, James D. Bales, W. B. Barton, Jr., Evan Ulrey.

With an enrollment of fifty-one students, including the Memphis and Little Rock extensions, the Graduate Department of Bible completed its fourth year. The M.A. Degree is offered in four fields — Biblical, Historical, Doctrinal, and Practical. The department, organized in September, 1952, now has eight professors. Bro. W. B. West, head of the department, is not teaching at present, but is devoting his efforts to the expansion program.

Harding's first education classes at the graduate level were offered in June, 1955. During this program's first year, more than thirty-five students have been enrolled for either part or full time study. With five professors, the department offers the M.A. degree in both the elementary and secondary fields, with enough administrative courses being offered to enable students to qualify for a certificate in that field.

eniors started their most important year of college with early class meetings. When elections were over Dr. Joe Pryor had been chosen sponsor and Pete Ward elected class prexy. Knowing that busy days lay ahead, the class planned an early outing. Amid the beautiful fall colors everyone had an enjoyable afternoon at Letona — even though some had trouble finding the way out and others got stuck in the mud, they all managed to be there at meal time.

The busy life of a college senior left little time for class functions until again in the spring when another outing was held; and then, too, there was the Junior-Senior Banquet. Who shall forget the fun of that evening with the memories the class history recalled, and, of course, the class prophecy?

On that fateful May 31 about one hundred happy seniors were graduated from Harding College. Looking back over these events, and the happy times of the previous three years, each individual in the class of '56 will certainly find many of those cherished moments to remember.

our years ago the Regina social club instituted the presentation of the Regina Spirit Award to the senior who most nearly typified the true Harding spirit.

A cheerful willingness to serve others, a warm and friendly greeting for everyone, a devotion to God and to any task undertaken, combined with a sense of humility these are the qualities which characterize the Harding spirit and are exemplified in our JANE CLAXTON, named as recipient of the '56 Spirit Award by her classmates.

he junior year, as always, produced many activities for the class of '57, and this year an energetic group took the work in fine style.

Soon after the election of officers and the appointment of committees, planning began for parties, projects, and the traditional Junior-Senior Banquet. The big joy was counted as a pleasure when the class played host to the seniors at the annual affair held at the Rendezvous on April 14.

Other social activities of the year included a "Club '57" party in the Emerald Room at which the usual pranks, laughter, and good food prevailed. In the spring a troop traveled to Wyldewood for an afternoon filled with hiking and eating.

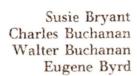

The class motto, "The Junior Class, Harding, the Community," was considered and worked toward during every class activity. Enthusiasm prevailed when the juniors got busy one Monday, designated as "Junior Day," and accomplished such tasks as repainting the lines on the tennis courts, building a barbecue pit at the college park, and giving assistance at the infirmary.

ow sweet the revenge! No longer looked down upon as lowly freshmen the sophomores took their places in the life and circles of Harding activities; but first, there was social club pledge week during which time the horrors, trials, and tribulations had to be passed on to the new class of freshmen.

The "green" has now begun to fade and there emerges a personality dedicated to God, to the ideals of Harding, and to our new-found friends.

Who shall ever forget Howard Flippin and Sue Gary, who took first place prizes at the class "Hobo's Christmas" party, which was held in the Emerald Room before the holidays!

As its project for the year, the class purchased a record player for the college infirmary.

Fun, food, and foolishness were in order in the spring when members of the class staged another "clam bake" on campus, and journeyed out into the woods for an outing.

hat a year to be a freshman! Harding launched into a new building program and once again the campus was to sprout steel beams. Many "green" pledges were tossed into the fish pond and once again Dr. Jack had to rescue the fish.

The year was full of adventure, surprises, enriching experiences, and honor. Who shall ever forget the elections, or more especially the campaigning that went with it?

The class project was the buying of clothes at Christmas for the people at the county farm. About $85 was spent for different articles of clothing, which were requested by the people.

Spring was the time for gaiety and good times. First came the class costume party in the Emerald Room with group games providing the big laughs for the evening. Then came the always-looked-for spring outing, which was held at Camp Wyldewood.

All in all the class was always doing big things in a big way promising to match the growth of the campus in fine style.

Highlighting the spring season on campus is the traditional May Fete, sponsored by the Ju Go Ju club as their annual project. Excitement and suspense run high as the crowd anxiously awaits the entrance of the May Queen and her court. The royal court is composed of representatives of each of the social clubs in college and in high school.

The queen and her two attendants are chosen by the entire student body in an election held earlier in the school year.

Concluding the coronation ceremony is the winding of the May Pole. This year saw the return of a second pole, which increased the number of winders to forty-eight. Adding sparkle and gaiety to the event were the court jesters.

Planning and preparations were begun months before by '56 director Jackie King. The graceful May Pole winders present quite a different picture during the early morning hours of the month preceding the festivities as they go through their daily "rain dance" practice. The prevailing costume for this portion of the activity is blue jeans, coveralls and coats featured around half open eyes and rolled up hair.

Who's Who Honors-Recognition Of Achievement

Twelve seniors and one junior were selected for one of the most highly prized awards given college students — that of receiving a place in the annual publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These thirteen were selected by the faculty from a list submitted by the Student Council. Scholastic achievement, leadership, character and extracurricular activity participation served as the basis for selection.

Klaus Goebbels

George Kieffer

KLAUS GOEBBELS, came to the Harding campus from Germany; he was another who rated high in his scholastic achievements.

MARGARET BUCHANAN, her quiet but sparkling manner made each meal in the cafeteria a little more pleasant for every student she served.

GEORGE KIEFFER, seen in many phases of campus life, from shaving cream fights to extensive club work, he still found time to become engaged.

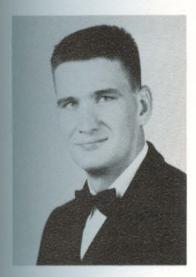

JANE CLAXTON, a "go-getter" of the first order; her achievements as a campus leader speak well for her Christian character.

JOE LEWIS, his outstanding musical ability made him a valuable asset to the Harding Music Department and other campus activities.

Jack McNutt

Jerry Perrin

Jacqueline King

PEGGY FUTRELL, a campus beauty and a favorite of students, faculty, and the pupils with whom she worked as a practice teacher.

LOUISE SCHULTS, was an efficient secretary to Dr. Mattox; her scholastic ability was an inspiration to her teachers and her classmates.

DICK RICHARDSON, "The Senator," was known on campus for his sense of humor as exhibited in his weekly column, "Rambling with Richard."

RAMONA THOMPSON, her lovable manner made her a popular figure on the Harding stage and in her campus associations.

WINFRED WRIGHT, as a leader in campus activities "Wimpy" could not be excelled; his devotion to God and to Harding were an inspiration.

JACK McNUTT, "an old married man" who set an oustanding scholastic record at Harding and was known for his dependability and integrity.

JACQUELINE KING, always giving her best to the task at hand she directed the '56 May Fete and was an active P J staff worker.

JERRY PERRIN, an outstanding sports figure on campus, and an invaluable member of the Harding A Cappella Chorus and men's quartette.

Membership is open only to members of the junior or senior class. Juniors must have completed

80 semester hours with a scholarship index of 3.7 and a senior must have completed 112 hours with a level of 3.5. The six members elected to membership this spring brought the total membership to 128

The Delta Chi Omegas have had a very busy year starting with their impressive initiation which was held in the Emerald Room. The initiation featured the new club song written by Andee King and set to music by Prof. Kenneth Davis. On November 15 the girls had a dinner at the Rendezvous celebrating the club's eighth birthday. The club had its formal banquet on December 13 at the Mayfair Hotel using the theme "An Old Fashioned Christmas." The club's spring outing took place April 23 at Camp Tahkodah. The club's project for this year was to place two large clocks in the dining hall and a bulletin board in the hall for Mrs. Hart's notices to workers.

The Alpha Phis began their busy year with a stag outing near Bee Rock. It was this night that Andee King was chosen to be their club queen. Following this, they put their heads together to make plans for a busy week for their seven lowly pledges. The week was concluded with a wonderful supper at the home of their club sponsor, Mr. Charles Pitner, and the final initiation at Red Bluff. The club went to the Mayfair on February 11 for an evening "Under the Big Top." After enjoying a year of fun they worked together in helping bring Sin Ho Kim to Harding from North Korea. The year was climaxed with their spring outing at Petit Jean and their club breakfast at the home of Mr. Pitner.

These new ones cooperated to present the beautiful "Frosted Gardens" formal banquet at the Rendezvous on February 4. May 7 was the red-letter day

As a result of pledge week, the Cavaliers increased their membership by five. An informal initiation held at Bee Rock paved the way for their entrance into the club. February 10 was the date for their informal banquet at the Mayfair Hotel. Dr. Richard C. Baker was the speaker. Along came May, and the Cavaliers and their dates took off to Petit Jean State Park for the annual spring outing. The Cavalier Club project for 1956 again was to increase the club Loan Fund. The Cavalier Club Loan Fund is especially provided for the benefit of worthy students who need financial help. Miss Margie McGinnis was selected as Club Queen, and nominee for Petit Jean Queen.

Fourteen new students proudly wore three little H's on their heads during pledge week. Following the "trial period," they were officially made "Harding Husband Hunters" at a formal initiation in the home of sponsor Mrs. James Burrow. For their formal banquet, using the theme "The Sand and the Sea," the H Club members put on one of the most unusual and beautiful banquets of the season. January 20 was the date, and the Terrace Room at the Mayfair the site for the gay event. April 23 took members and their dates off to Camp Tahkodah for their spring outing. The year's activities were highlighted by several parties and bunking parties. For over 20 years the May Fete has been the Ju Go Ju project.

A "Garden of Roses" set the stage for the "Jugs" banquet at the Mayfair Hotel's Terrace Room on February 18. Decorations featured all the aspects of a rose garden, and the entertainment featured pianist Bobby Scott Fuller from Hendrix College. Camp Tahkodah was the spot, and May 7 the date for the spring outing. 1956 marks the 29th year for the Ju Go Ju's existence. This year also brought ten new pledges into the ranks. Activities included bunking parties in the dorm and in town, club meetings in Armstrong at sponsor Mrs. Cecil Beck's apartment, and the annual alumni tea during graduation. This year's projects included food to a needy family at Christmas and the May Fete.

strong as their weakest member. Their banquet took members and their dates to "A Presidential Ball' at the Mayfair on February 18. Speaker was club sponsor Andy T. Ritchie. Getting the "outing urge" the Fraters spent the day of May 15 on Petit Jean Mountain. The 1955-56 project was to help Searcy citizens when they were in need of clothes or food.

The nineteen Frater pledges were ushered into the club both formally and informally. The informal "party" really made the neophytes feel "wanted" — raw eggs, free shaves, and lots of cute games! The formal initiation proved to be a highlight of the year. The idea of a chain was used to impress each newcomer that the Fraters are only as

Some of the eleven Tri Kappa pledges seemed to think that the "Gopher Girl Song" was amusing, but after a week of obeying pledgemasters, they changed their minds. January 6 was the bright spot on the calendar for the banquet, highlighted by falling decorations. Using the theme of "Never, Never Land," the banquet featured Dr. Richard F. Staar as speaker. The Tri Kappas celebrated their eighth birthday with an Italian supper at the Ganus home. Sponsor Mary Etta Grady's apartment was the scene of the first club bunking party. Another bunking party was enjoyed at the home of member Mary Ellen Fletcher. Tri Kappas and dates "got away from it all' on their spring outing on May 14.

The Davises showed the Galaxies how to pose for portraits.

"A Bird In A Gilded Cage" was the theme for the Galaxy annual formal banquet. A large gilded bird cage was the center of the decorations. The spring outing was held April 23 at Blanchard Springs. The first stag outing of the year was on September 25 at Camp Wyldewood. The night was spent playing Rook and Monopoly, and as usual sponsor Ken Davis outplayed everybody. A midnight snack consisted of hot dogs, homemade ice cream and cake, and for breakfast Bob Nichols served his famous hot cakes and bacon. Other activities included parties at the Davis home and hanging a large Christmas card in the Student Center. Project consisted of adding to the Galaxy Fund.

MEA's were fortunate to have twelve pledges to perform for them during the hectic week. The pledges became "real" members after both a formal and informal initiation. The club stages its spring outing on May 14, at Petit Jean State Park. During Christmas time, the home of sponsor, Mrs. Jim Atteberry, was the scene of a gay party. All in all the MEA's can be said to have had a highly successful year!

A Unique Idea, Pledge Date Auctions

Harding newcomer, Bro. Teel, is speaker at the banquet.

"One cent, two cents, and who will bid three?" This was the cry of the Lambda Sigma pledge-masters as they auctioned off their eighteen lowly pledges in front of the cafeteria one evening during pledge week. With the largest membership in the history of the club, the Lambda Sigmas soon settled down enough to carry out two worthy projects;

one was buying clothing for the residents of the County Farm, and the other was helping support Ibaraki Christian College. A banquet was enjoyed on December 8 at the Rendezvous Cafe. The spring outing was held on April 30 at Petit Jean State Park. Along with these activities, frequent stag outings provided a happy and eventful year for the club.

"Mostly Marty" was the song composed for the Sigma Tau queen.

The Sigma Tau Sigmas began the year with an informal initiation of eleven pledges at Echo Dale. With these additions, stag outings and projects were planned to fill in the year. The highlight of the year was the banquet held at the Rendezvous on February 17. The banquet was centered around the traditional theme of "Hearts" with an unusual color scheme of black and gold. On this occasion, Miss Marty Austin, club Queen as well as the Sigma Taus' nominee for P. J. Queen, was presented her sweater. Stag outings to Bee Rock, Red River and Wyldewood gave variety to the year's activities, which were capped by the spring outing to Petit Jean.

Second semester brought back a former member, making the membership just enough to spin a "Web of Pink Rhythm" at the Rendezvous on February 18. Spring finally sprang after the weeks of rain, and Reginas and dates took off to the hills for their annual outing. TNT's have plenty reason to be proud of their club project.

There were eighteen pledges this year. Washing venetian blinds and calling pledgemasters "Mister" were some of the pledging duties. The initiation was held in one of the barns out at the college farm. The American Legion Hut was the site of the annual Cowboy Party. TNT'ers and dates ate barbecued chicken. The year's activities were varied — stag outings to Wyldewood and Bee Rock, club meetings in the swimming pool, and sessions in the gym. Petit Jean was the site for their spring outing, and the outing proved to be another in the series of interesting activities. For their project the club erected the Intramural Sports bulletin board, and brought stones for the walks from Little Red River.

Dedication

For his devotion to the Academy, his willingness to cooperate in all our activities, his untiring efforts to instill within us the principles of Christianity, the spirit of fair play, and the Christlike humility which he possesses, we, the graduating class of 1956, respectfully dedicate our portion of the Petit Jean to our coach, HUGH GROOVER.

Hugh Groover was born in Columbus, Ohio, on October 9, 1928, and attended public school in Magnetic Springs, Ohio. Upon his graduation from high school in 1946, he entered Otterbein College in Westerville, Ohio, but after one year he transferred to Harding College where he majored in physical education and history. While a student here, Hugh was very active in sports and won the Sportsman Trophy in 1948. He was a member of the Trojan Club and the Physical Education Club.

In March of his senior year, Hugh married his college sweetheart, Mildred Horne. Following his graduation from Harding in 1950, Hugh was girl's basketball coach for one year at Searcy High. Since moving into Harding Academy's athletic program as head coach in 1952, Hugh has continuously displayed his unexhaustable patience and love in guiding us to an ever higher plane of living.

A critical moment; the confidence Coach Groover imparts at times like this is what wins games.

Under the direction of Miss Grady, high school Home Economics students learn by use of modern facilities.

One of Mrs. Pitner's typing classes; Harding Academy attempts to prepare students for a more useful life by such classes.

The Harding Academy, now fully accredited by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, has enjoyed one of its most outstanding years. Directed by Superintendent Perry S. Mason, the Academy's aim of developing Christian character and good citizenship is being successfully accomplished. Making up its 32-unit curriculum, both vocational and cultural courses are offered in the following general fields: art, Bible, business, English and speech, home economics, mathematics, music, physical education, science, and social science.

Trained counselors and instructors make it possible for the students to develop not only by studying but also by doing as they take part in the various extracurricular activities, such as sports, dramatics, and chorus. The Academy students enjoy life on the Harding campus where the imitation of Christ's life is everyone's goal.

In The Academy's Music Program

The Academy has one musical organization of which anyone may become a member — the LARGE CHORUS. Formed with the idea of improving congregational singing as well as giving students a musical background, the organization also serves as a training group for the small chorus. Participation in chapel singing is one evidence of the success of this group. Although taking no tours, as the other chorus, this was the group's second year in helping interested students improve their singing. After meeting for over a semester, the organization participated in a joint concert with the Harding Band, the Harding A Cappella Chorus, and the Harding Chorale on February 17. Approximately sixty students, directed by Mr. Eddie Baggett, make up this group.

Talents Are Developed By The Dramatic Club

The DRAMATIC CLUB is composed of students who are interested in acting and related activities. Two of the plays presented this year were "Home For Christmas" and "Seven Keys to Baldpate." Also included in the organization's activities for the year was a colorful masquerade party given in the fall, with members attending dressed as characters from well known stories and nursery rhymes. Club officers are: Sam Kitching, pres.; Dorsey Tynes, vice-pres.; Faye Berry, sec.-treas.; and Bob Wallace, reporter. Mrs. Hallie Vanderpool, dramatics teacher, is club sponsor.

Much work goes into play production; before, during and after.

Wildcats Have Winning Season

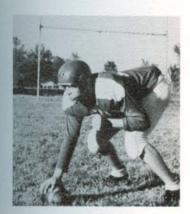

Coach Hugh Groover and Assistant Coach Stan Schwartz.

The "Wildcats" opened the season with a victory over Bradford. The very next week the team scored a second exciting triumph. This time the victim was Heber Springs. With these two wins under their belt the "Cats" of Coach Groover were off to a winning season. Few in number but mighty in fire and zeal, this snappy team always played with the spirit of true competition and fair play.

Bobby House All-district All-state

The 1955-56 football season brought Harding Academy's first all-stater. It was Bobby House, a 180 pound senior tackle. Bob was chosen as district 2B's most outstanding lineman. Along with House, fullback Mavis Baldwin, center John Gibbons and end Roy Vanderpool, were chosen all-district representatives. Vanderpool received honorable mention all-state.

Academy Basketball Has Large Following

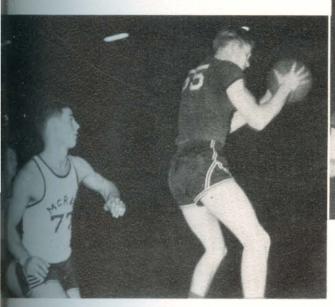

The Wildcats, handicapped greatly by the loss of a large number of good players on last year's squad, still got right to work and provided hot competition for all surrounding teams. Spirit, stamina, and sportsmanship were the greatest assets of the Wildcat squad. After a slow start the Wildcats settled down and won several of their games. However, the "Cats" did not do well in tournament play. Mountain View eliminated them in their first game of the district tournament. The team came out with a .500 season record of eleven wins and eleven losses.

Gibbons (66) is set to pump in a lay-up in Harding's victory over McRae. Gerald Casey (55) and Jackie Rhodes (44) look on in anticipation.

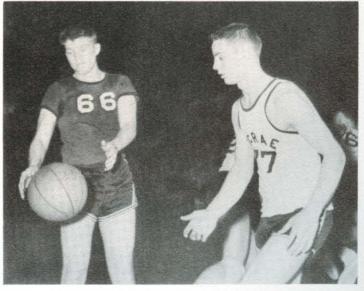

While the Wildcat rooters look on, Gibbons (66) tries to control the ball at the jump. Other players are there to give him help.

The Juniors Were Good, Too

The Junior "Wildkittens" who were very small in size but very big in spirit won eight games and lost six. Under their able coach, Stan Schwartz, the Juniors enjoyed a good season on the hardwood. Add a few years and a few pounds to these young fellows and they will make Harding Academy a fine Senior team. Like the Senior team the "Kittens" were unsuccessful in tournament play. After winning one game in the county tournament, the Juniors lost to a good Bradford team. The district tournament brought a defeat by Desha. Characteristic of the team was a spirit of good sportsmanship.

Spring Brought Out The Track Team

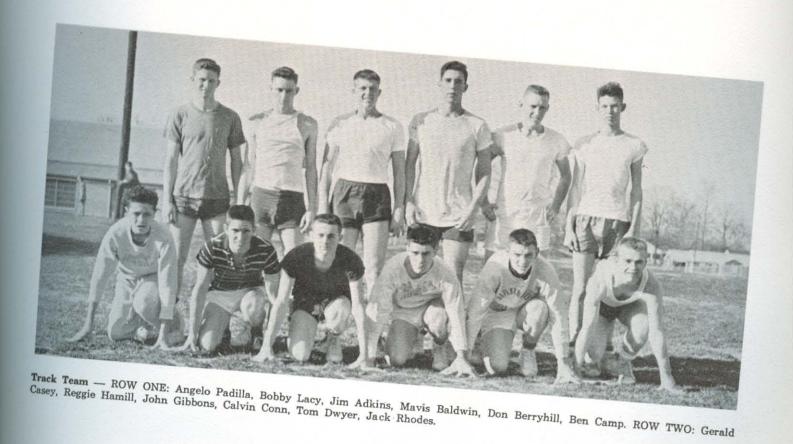

The track team came out this year with great enthusiasm, after winning the district championship and placing third in the state last year. With a small squad of only twelve men, Hugh Groover, in his usual way, coached the team on to several honors. Of course, lacking the depth and general excellence necessary, last year's record was not equaled, but much valuable experience in fair play and much self confidence was gained. A school of the Academy's size could not be expected to field a team such as is found in larger schools. However, when fellows exhibit the hustle these showed, people take notice.

John Gibbons did well with the shotput. Here he is on the practice field in one of the many tough sessions.

The hurdles are a difficult event in which to enter. Jack Baldwin makes it look very simple with his easy stride.

Organizations For Service, As Well As Study

The LIBRARY CLUB's purpose is to give library assistance in any way possible. Club members straighten, letter, and classify books, while one of the members serves as librarian each period. Meeting once every two weeks, club members discuss methods of classification, the value of good books, and other pertinent questions.

There is no shortage of brains in the Academy, and many of our "geniuses" may be found in the SCIENCE CLUB. Mrs. Lasater, science teacher, sponsors this intellectual group which seek to learn more about the world in which we live. Club members attended the Arkansas Junior Academy of Science, where Roy Vanderpool was elected president.

Debate Offers Improvement Of Speaking Ability

The DEBATE CLUB, meeting every Monday night during the school year, is composed of students interested in improved public speaking, with debate being especially stressed.

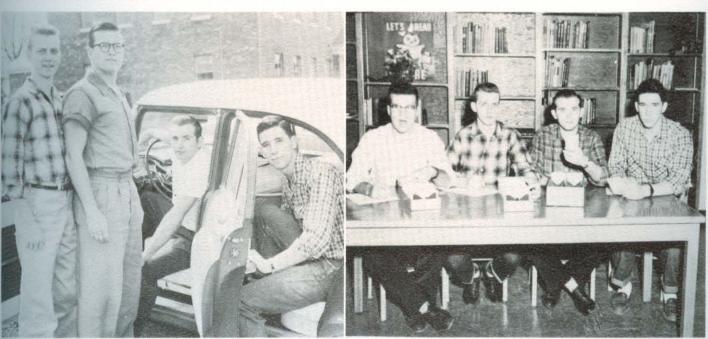

Activities of the year included debating with other schools and participation in the Mid-South Debate Contest at Memphis. Also, the club presented a chapel debate, "Should Harding College Have Inter-Collegiate Football."

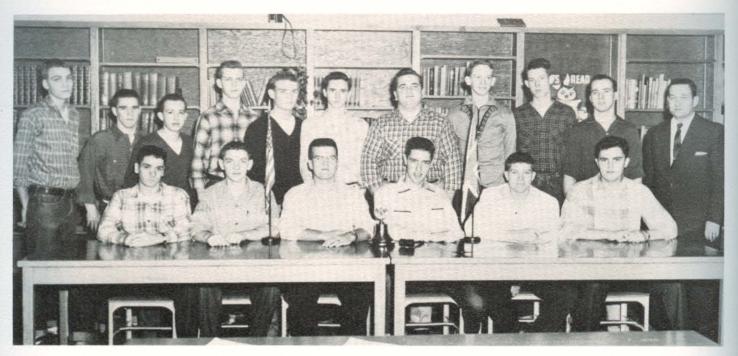

Applicants for membership are accepted only after they have staged a debate.

Officers are: Calvin Conn, pres.; Sam Kitching, vice-pres.; Alvin Cashon, sec.-treas.; and Dorsey Tynes, reporter.

These Clubs Offer Opportunities For Service

Every school needs a service organization and Harding Academy has an excellent one in the KEY CLUB. Affiliated with the Kiwanis, the Key Club is in its fifth year of efficient service to the Academy. Providing coat hangers for the racks, keeping the lockers clean, selling tickets to certain school functions, and selling concessions at home games are a few of this year's activities. The annual "Athletic Banquet" in honor of the athletes, coaches and cheerleaders, is also given by this organization.

Presenting student interests to the administration is one purpose of the CITIZENSHIP CLUB. Prior to this year the club had only five members; it now has ten — two each from the freshman, sophomores and junior classes, and four from the senior class. Once elected to the club a student remains a member as long as long as he is enrolled in the Academy.

The club welcomes suggestions from all students concerning the school.

Wagon Wheels Make A Western Atmosphere

Sound advice from K-9 members.

The K-9 Club is the oldest of the high school boys' clubs. It was originally called the Nine Knights because of its nine members, but it is now the largest club in the Academy. This year the K-9's had an informal cowboy banquet, the theme of which was "Wagon Wheels." The Legion Hut added to the western atmosphere. The high school boy's quartette provided the entertainment. Later in the year they took time off from the rush of school work for the annual spring outing, which was held April 30, at Pettit Jean. There were twenty-seven pledges this year, part of which later formed a new boys' club. One of the main events of the informal initiation was the track meet held with the ZKT pledges.

The Kappa Alpha Theta Club pledges can always be spotted by their maroon and white beanies and their skinned knees (from falling at the mention of the word Air-raid!) There were three K.A.T. pledges this year. At the rough initiation the pledges entertained the club members. They told ghost stories around the camp fire while roasting weiners and drinking cokes. The formal initiation was held at Charlene Harris' home. The pledges repeated their vows in a candlelight service. For the banquet Paris filled the air. The theme was "Parisienne Fantasy." Richard Andrejewski was the speaker. To get things off to a good start the club had a slumber party at Charlene Harris' home early in the year.

This year a third boys' club, the Vikings, was started in the high school. The informal initiation was held with the K-9 pledges since the club was not fully organized at that time. On March 1 they changed the blue room at the Rendezvous into a soft, dreamy atmosphere of a "Southsea Island." "ser For their entertainment they had the Blue Beats ing play for them. On April 23 the boys and their dates spent a day of hiking, boating, and eating at Petit Jean State Park. The need for a new club (which the Vikings have filled) indicates the rapid growth of our Academy. A hearty welcome and a good "send off" to the campus' newest club. Here's hoping they continue to grow throughout the years.

This year the S.T.A.R. club had six pledges to initiate into the club. The formal initiation was the traditional candlelight service held at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Andy Ritchie. The informal initiation was also held at the home of Mrs. Ritchie, around a campfire in the back yard. Early in the year they really went to work on the banquet plans, and decided to have it on February 28, at the Mayfair. The theme of "Dreamland" was carried out. A "Dreamgirl" was elected to reign over the banquet. Brother Gordon Teel was the speaker, and Ruth Simmons provided the entertainment at the piano. Later on in the spring the S.T.A.R. Club had their annual outing.

The Zeta Kappa Taus added ten new members to the club this year. The informal initiation was rough and was held in the football dressing room. Using the theme of "Moments to Remember," the ZKT's held their winter formal banquet in the Terrace Room of the Mayfair Hotel on March 10. May 7 was the spot on the calendar reserved for their annual spring outing at Petit Jean State Park. Events of the day included hiking, boating, and fun for all. "Camp Wyldewood Work Day" is the name given for their annual club project. All the boys of the club participated in helping to clean up Camp Wyldewood before the summer sessions started. Mr. Eddie Baggett is the club's sponsor.

had a lovely banquet February 3, 1956, at Bill's Grill. The theme was "Melody of Love." Brother Andy T. Ritchie, Jr., was the speaker, and Nancy Banowsky and Bettye Fogarty provided the entertainment. The Sub-Deb Club is the oldest of the high school girls' clubs. It has been functioning since 1938, and is a chapter of the National Sub-Deb Club.

The four 1955 Sub Deb pledges had their hands full and their time well taken in trying to supply the wants of all their pledge masters. The masters gave them a rough time of it even down to an informal initiation in a corn field! Their formal initiation was held at Mrs. Guy Vanderpool's home, where the pledges gave ther vows by candlelight. The Subdebs

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF SERVICE

Sign of... A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Producer of more than 70 Petroleum and Chemical products for Transportation, Industry and Agriculture, Lion Oil Company is proud of its leading role in the development of the South's industrial potential.

Lion sends to market each year the equivalent of more than 65,000 railway carloads of products from its three manufacturing plants in Arkansas and Louisiana. It pays approximately $17,500,000 yearly to 3,000 employees in wages and benefits, and it pays another $17,000,000 in taxes. Altogether, Lion puts nearly $100,000,000 into circulation annually throughout its territory.

Industrial development is going ahead in the South on a bigger scale than ever before. Lion Oil Company continues to lead the way with the most advanced methods of manufacturing, finding and producing vital raw materials, and in scientific research. The result: more jobs, better products for consumers, conservation of resources and more efficient use of those resources. No wonder that to Southerners, the Sign of the Lion has truly become the Sign of a Good Neighbor!
