The Face of Harding 1969

Faces Record the Story

*Fall brings a tinge of excitement
To this Arkansas community
Harding awakes from summer slumber
And opens her doors
To the varied faces
The faces of youth*

*Anonymous faces search for a friend
Laugh
And find a niche
Familiar faces rested and eager
Say hello once again*

Of a Year of Growth

Winter activity and learning ignite the individual

Spring brings new personality

Maturity . . . Wisdom . . . change

1969 passes quickly

Harding closes her doors

The faces of adulthood prepare for the summer

Faces of Youth

Facial expressions capture '69

The faces of youth are here but for a moment

Lost in a crowd, caught in an antic

Youth is now

Faces of Spirit

*The outside world charges by
Our inward spirit remains constant*

Decision

*A part of the whole
Yet so alone
Daily
We face decisions
Forever
We seek answers*

Accomplishment

Faces of Involvement

*Involvement provides an answer
Work reaps results
For a national business team
An olympic tryout
An international tour
Renowned visitors encourage us
To become more involved*

Wisdom

*A moment
With a professor
An ancient scholar
A second
With our thoughts*

*The year
Only arouses
The inquisitive*

Face of God

*In the face of Christians
We see the face of God*

Responsibility

*Adulthood brings
Responsible actions
To cast a vote
To give life blood*

Faces of the Future

Challenges confront our world

Technology

Mechanization defy us . . .

To maintain individuality

Humanity

And faith in God

Is our task

DEDICATION

*A face among all other faces
The epitome of adulthood*

*An unselfish humanitarian
A thoughtful counselor
An ultimate source of strength to all who know him*

*A versatile mixture of
A nationally recognized scholar
A respected Christian
A loving husband and father
A dedicated servant of Harding*

*Upon his twenty-fifth anniversary at Harding
And in appreciation of his belief
in us,
We the Senior class
Dedicate the 1969 Petit Jean
To Dr. Joseph E. Pryor,
Our faithful friend.*

ADMINISTRATION

To Bro. Moore,
In appreciation for all he means to me
and to Harding College,
Cliff Ganus

SILHOUETTED by an evening sun, Dr. Ganus gazes pensively across the campus on a late fall day.

FORCING his opponent to the rear of the handball court, Dr. Ganus scores with a kill shot.

PRESIDENT

Ganus announces new plans for expansion in future years

DR. CLIFTON L. GANUS, JR., announced this year extensive plans for expansion of the Harding College facilities. With the construction of the art center, 1969 saw completion of the first phase of the "decade of development" outlined by President Ganus four year ago. Future projects include library expansion, a coliseum-auditorium, physical education center, new student center, two new dormitories, equipped computer center, Academy building and rehabilitation of the old science building.

During the fall of 1968, Governor Rockefeller honored President Ganus and Dean Pryor at a reception in Little Rock. Civic and educational groups frequently seek Harding's president to make speeches. In spite of a hectic schedule, he still found time to challenge faculty members to a game of handball or play basketball with students on weekends. His spirit and attendance at inter-collegiate athletic events was inspiring. Dr. Ganus was often away on Sundays, but when not out of town he taught a morning Bible class for Harding's freshmen and transfer students.

STANDING high in the stadium for a better view, Dr. Ganus watches the Bisons taste victory in the 1968 homecoming game.

ACCOMPANIED by Mrs. J. P. Duff and his wife, Harding's President and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Pryor wait to greet guests.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

Dean Pryor marks a quarter of century at Harding College

DR. JOSEPH E. PRYOR this year marked 25 years of service to Harding College. Each year has brought new responsibilities to Dr. Pryor, but in 1968-69 he not only efficiently fulfilled his duties as Dean, but taught two physical science classes and served in his 24th year as advisor to the Petit Jean as well. On occasion he even substituted in the absence of other teachers.

Governor Rockefeller last fall hosted a reception given in honor of Harding's President and Dean, and their wives. In October, Dr. Pryor and President Ganus attended a rocket launching at Cape Kennedy as guests of NASA. Dean Pryor has been active this year as a coordinator in the North Central Association Liberal Arts Study Program, traveling frequently.

DISPLAYING the bow-tie and ready smile which have become his trademarks, Dr. Joe makes the daily trek to his office.

MUNDANE and routine to some, checking the morning mail provides for Dr. Joe a welcome breather from a rapid, hectic schedule of conferences, classes and administrative decisions.

VIRGIL LAWYER, MA

DEAN OF STUDENTS

Lawyer yields track team duty to need for student recruiting

VIRGIL H. LAWYER, Dean of Students, found it necessary this year to give up coaching the cross-country team in order to devote more time to recruiting new students. In his responsibilities as director of admissions, special emphasis was placed on reaching potential students in Arkansas, since enrollment from that area was down this year.

A zealous man radiating school spirit, Lawyer was constantly striving to keep student morale high and, as a result, advocated relaxing social regulations in some areas. Dean Lawyer was active in mission work, having special interest in Japan. His leisure time was often spent studying history. He is a member of Phi Alpha Theta, a national history honor society. Other professional memberships of Dean Lawyer are the National Association of Foreign Student Advisors and the American Council of Admissions Counselors.

DEAN OF MEN

Allison advises draft-age men on current induction changes

CARL LEE ALLISON possesses an unusual ability to communicate well with young men, which resulted in the effective execution of his college responsibilities this year. Also, a thorough understanding of current draft policies caused Harding's male population to be especially grateful for his presence. Dean Allison earned a reputation of being a man who can be trusted to do whatever is possible in harmonizing student affairs. His extensive participation in sports aided in filling the role of assistant athletic director and makes him an amiable and competent baseball coach.

Dean Allison, often officiated athletic events. He is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Coaches and the Arkansas Officials Association. He is also involved every year with student recruitment and coordination of Camp Tahkodah facilities for non-college groups.

CARL ALLISON, MA

DIRECTOR OF TESTING

Gilliam chooses as his project a study of Harding dropouts

DR. BOB J. GILLIAM, Director of Testing and Counseling was selected to attend the North Central Association's Liberal Arts Workshop during the summer of 1968 and chose as his project, a study of college dropouts at Harding. His willingness to listen to problems and the profundity of his understanding won him the respect of the student body. Other responsibilities included serving as chairman of the department of psychology and sociology and teaching a young married couple's class on Sundays. Dr. Gilliam also coached the golf team.

BOB GILLIAM, EdD

PRESIDENTIAL ASSISTANT

Cox lectures on management, advises in business problems

BILLY RAY COX, assistant to the President, conducted a series of lectures for the American Management Association during 1967-68 to help solve many of the critical problems facing today's industry in areas of employee relations.

Cox also served as assistant professor of business administration, faculty advisor to Harding's outstanding business team and director of the American Studies Program. His extraordinary abilities were often sought after by individuals and firms as a tax and business consultant. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Arkansas and Texas Societies for Certified Public Accountants.

BILLY RAY COX, MBA, CPA, TDA

HARRY OLREE, EdD

DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH

Dr. Olree conducts research to aid NASA space program

DR. HARRY DOYLE OLREE, Director of Research, was occupied again in 1968-69 with the evaluation of physical fitness. In cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, research was conducted to aid in preparing man for the rigors of extended space flight.

Last November Dr. Olree was elected vice-president of the Arkansas Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He is Harding's athletic director and chairman of the division of education and department of health and education.

VIRGIL BECKETT, BA

REGISTRAR

Beckett keeps college records, utilizes IBM equipment often

VIRGIL M. BECKETT, aided by the intricate electronics of IBM equipment, was responsible for keeping accurate records of students' achievements. In his additional role as director of data processing, Mr. Beckett was involved with programming the machines for greatest efficiency. Their present versatility may be illustrated by the wide range of uses—from listing names for the student directory to complex financial computations and records.

Always willing to help with problems, Mr. Beckett checked seniors' degree plans to assure their graduating on schedule and counseled students facing indecision about their majors. He is a member of the American and Arkansas Associations of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Office.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

is elected Chairman of Board

WIVES of Board members enjoy a luncheon hosted by Mrs. Ganus while members view progress on the new art center.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: Jim Bill McInteer, Richard Gibson, T. J. McReynolds, Flanoy Alexander, Lemar Johnson, Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., Dr. Houston T. Karnes, Dr. Harold Cogburn, M.D.,

Louis Green, David Paul Burton, Olen Hendrix, Roy Sawyer, Hillard Johnmeyer, John D. Baldwin, J. A. Thompson, Dr. George S. Benson, Mrs. Robert S. Warnock, W. L. Howard.

IN MEMORIAM

"James Thomas Cone worked as though he would live forever; yet, he lived as though he would die tomorrow." Dr. Clifton Ganus, Jr., June 1968.

James Cone's life touched many, especially the young. He often said, "the best way to stay young is to be with young people but the quickest way to grow old is to keep up with young people."

Mr. Cone was born December 20, 1900 in Izard County, Ark. Marrying Oral Wood of Searcy, he established himself in the community and pioneered with several others the formation of a Church of Christ in Searcy. In 1945 Cone-Huddleston Construction Co. was formed to serve a growing town and expanding college.

Always active, Jim Cone was Vice-Chairman of Harding's Board, Board Chairman of Searcy Federal Savings and Loan, board member of the First National Bank and an elder in the Downtown Church of Christ.

James Cone is survived by his wife, Mrs. Oral Cone of Searcy; his daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Boyd of Memphis; and three grandchildren, Caroline, James and Andrew, all of Memphis.

LOTT TUCKER, BA

BUSINESS MANAGER

Tucker is named to new post in city Chamber of Commerce

LOTT R. TUCKER, JR., while carrying the complex responsibilities of business manager, was elected vice-president of the Searcy Chamber of Commerce last December. He previously served as a member of the Chamber of Commerce Board.

The vast financial affairs of the college grew to even greater proportions during 1968-69 as Harding's budget exceeded $5½ million. Mr. Tucker personally supervised much of the construction of the new art building in addition to handling the college's budgeting, purchasing, accounting and campus maintenance. He was active in the Searcy Kiwanis Club and was a board member of the Searcy Federal Savings and Loan Association.

ACADEMIC LIFE

INTRODUCTION

Harding's scholars learn their academic life is not confining

The story of academic life as the story of curriculums, libraries, papers and organizations is a story unfinished. Academic life at Harding during the 1968-1969 school year was more than the visible and the formal. It was a spirit, an approach, defying confinement.

Thus, academic life existed when a student and professor interacted anywhere, as intellect with intellect, seeking and discovering together. Meditation and independent research became outlets. In debate and discussion he searched for truth. Thinking, expanding his mind, the scholar's class never dismissed. Panta rei, ouden menei — "all things flow, nothing abides."

"The scholar of the first age received unto him the world around; brooded thereon; gave it the new arrangement of his own mind, and uttered it again. It came into him life; it went out from him truth. It came to him short-lived actions; it went out from him immortal thoughts. It came to him business; It went out from him poetry." —Emerson

INTERACTING informally, students and faculty members add significant impressions to each other's learning experiences

ALONE in his room, a student works late at night to complete his tasks.

INDEPENDENT study, term papers and daily assignments regularly send students to utilize the facilities of the Beaumont Memorial Library.

STUDENTS, as well as professors, administrators and visiting lecturers, speak at forums and clinics designed to expand knowledge and promote understanding.

LECTURES are enjoyed in the fall environment when pleasant weather brings some classes out of buildings onto the campus lawn.

ADDING versatility to Bible classes, Eddie Wan describes religion in the Orient as Reggy Hare waits to speak of Austria.

BIBLE

Theologians stress missionary effort in new division major

THE DIVISION OF RELIGION, in the words of Dr. W. Joe Hacker, "is committed to the classroom and beyond." Augmenting this year's curriculum was the inauguration of a four year missionary training program which includes a Bachelor of Arts degree in missions. Beginning this year, an experienced missionary served the department for a twelve month period as a visiting professor. Joe Cannon was first to work in this capacity.

Fall lectureship brought a variety of speakers to the campus. All students had the opportunity to hear and converse with these outstanding speakers. Seminar speakers and guest lecturers came throughout the year, continuing to meet the academic needs of Bible majors and other students. Desiring to give each student a thorough understanding of the Christian philosophy, the school required everyone to enroll in Bible courses.

To help meet the needs of approximately 175 Bible and mission majors, Jim Howard and Joe Cannon were added as new members of the department.

Numerous activities beyond the classroom were also sponsored by the Bible Department. Germany was the sight of a campaign conducted last summer. Groups will go to Germany, Japan and Denmark this summer. Campaigners also worked in Arkansas and other states.

INTELLECTUAL and spiritual growth for all students is the object of diversified Bible courses required every semester.

RESEARCH material for Bible courses found in the G. C. Brewer room of the library benefit Randy Bostic and Lawrence Barr.

SPIRITUAL growth and development is sought in private as well as classroom study.

TEACHING music to the elementary school child is planned and practiced by students in Mrs. Sewell's education class.

EDUCATION

Olree, Lloyd exercise influence nationwide in NASA, AAU

THE DIVISION OF EDUCATION was strengthened by the involvement of faculty and students in state and national activities. Dr. Harry D. Olree was elected a Fellow of the American College of Sports Medicine, and he also is on the Board of Trustees. Another faculty member, Ted Lloyd, was a delegate to the National AAU Convention. Harding again received a grant of $46,000 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for research.

Sally Cook was president of the Arkansas SNEA. Mrs. Maude Montgomery was elected president of the Arkansas Association for Student Teaching.

Author and former Olympic coach Dr. Edmund Welch conducted a volleyball clinic for physical education faculty and majors. It was the first in a series of similar clinics for the department.

PRACTICE teacher Jim Gowen explains weight-lifting techniques.

CHECKING Mike Hallimore's pulse rate, Bob Corbin continues to work in the NASA research program.

JANE YOUNG mirrors the concentration required to achieve the desired results in gymnastics.

CONCENTRATING, Al Garrett adds the finishing preparation to his ceramic self portrait, one of the many fascinating projects which Harding's aspirant artists create and produce.

FINE ARTS

Unique new building for artists meets demand for expansion

THE DIVISION OF FINE ARTS improved significantly when the art department moved into its new building this spring. The structure is located behind the Benson House, and corridors connect the house with the new building. Combined facilities provide much needed room for departmental expansion.

Entering the State College Show for Arkansas the past two years, Harding students have won the first three places both years. Students also display their art work in exhibits on campus every spring. Shows are held in the library, the American Heritage and now the new art building. Similarly, music majors give recitals open to the public.

Iceland and the area in the Northeast Command were toured in the spring by members of the Belles and Beaux, a vocal music group under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Davis, Jr. The group was awarded the prize following a successful tour in Southeast Asia and Japan last spring.

New courses added in the fine arts division include one in music literature and an art course in color theory. Also, art history courses have been adjusted to add more hours for upper level credit.

COMBINED facilities of the adjoining Benson House and the new art building provide offices, work rooms and exhibit areas.

NATURAL sounds accompany the tones of Janyth Martin's flute.

THEORY is related to the tonal sound played by Mr. Hollaway.

PRINTING skills are practiced by Gene Hines while his typography class uses the college print shop as a laboratory.

CITIZENS in the area benefit from students practicing speech therapy.

IMPROVING staging skills, Lynn Calhoun and Mike Wise busily construct the set for a departmental production.

HUMANITIES

French major is added; Ulrey, Atteberry address colleagues

COMMUNICATION in radio and television involves the mastery of techniques learned by Wilton Painter in laboratory work.

THE DIVISION OF HUMANITIES added a major in French to its curriculum this fall. Dr. Dorothy Wright joined the department to help teach the 38 hours required for the major. Other majors who want or need foreign language credits also benefit from the expanded schedule.

Dr. Evan Ulrey spoke at a symposium of German and American speech teachers, held at the University of Heidelberg last August. His subject was "The Field of Rhetoric and Public Address in the United States."

Dr. James Atteberry is the President of Region II of Alpha Chi. "The Freedom of Scholarship" was the subject of his address given at the spring meeting. President of the Speech and Hearing Association of Arkansas is Dr. Richard Walker.

Linda Schmidt, Larry Menefee and Terry Eymann are the new members of the speech department. Alice Jewell joined the English faculty, and Dennis Organ is now a member of the journalism department.

CONDUCTING his freshman English class in a seminar situation, instructor Jim Ed Williams seeks to maintain free discussion.

STILL waters yield a variety of creatures to be gathered and later examined by biologists Pat Kalberg and Larry Silva.

NATURAL SCIENCE

Physics major, electronics and theory courses boost division

THE DIVISION OF NATURAL SCIENCE bolstered its capacities by the addition of a physics major, with new courses offered in electronics, electromagnetic theory and advanced laboratory. Introductory physics was divided into two courses. Other additions included courses in computerization and readings in mathematics.

At a national meeting of the American Chemical Society in Atlanta, Dr. England presented a paper. Others also presented papers and served as officers in professional science organizations.

SPECIMENS of interest added to Billy Gain's collection for science in the elementary school include a hairy caterpillar

THREADING a needle, Sara Nell Roper performs the simplest, but most basic task of her sewing assignment.

CAREFULLY watching the distillation process, Tom Glass concentrates to perform his lab experiment successfully.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Speakers, tours challenge AS group to examine our society

THE DIVISION OF SOCIAL SCIENCE broadened educational experiences for many of its students through the American Studies Program. "Crisis and Conflict in Contemporary America" was the year's topic. Political scientists, government workers, businessmen and others were invited to speak before the group on campus. Most meetings were open to the public, and several guests of the program appeared in chapel.

The group, composed of faculty members and outstanding students in all the division's departments, went on two major tours, one to New Orleans and the other to St. Louis. Billy Ray Cox directs the program.

Office management was offered as a major by the department of business and economics for the first time this fall. Sociology, in its second year as a major, added Delmar O'Dell to its staff. Other new division faculty members were Kelly Randolph in psychology and Fred Jewell in history.

STUDENT LIFE

RELUCTANTLY complying with Harding's rule against hirsute adornment, Joe Moore shaves in the fall registration line.

THE FACES OF AUTUMN

Confusion characterizes faces of autumn semester registrants

Even years of previous experience did not alleviate the preliminary confusion of registration week for most Harding students. Four hundred and ninety-three freshmen endured the ordeal without the benefit of experience. Computerization simplified the process but did not shorten the line or shade one from the sun. A total of 1,943 students registered for the fall semester.

With registration scarcely over the need for class officers arose, creating another stir. Depending largely on the weather, the student center managed to look like either an election center or a giant litter heap bedecked with gimmickery.

Somewhere, somehow amidst the confusion students managed to find time to relax. The SA-sponsored watermelon fest provided just such an opportunity.

STEPPING out of the registration line, Jan Chapman stops for a few moments to join the local chapter of the SNEA.

WISELY locating a temporary resting place, Jim Lucas and Jim Green relax for a minute during a long, hot registration.

ADDING to the early autumn confusion, class officer elections camouflage and litter the student center beyond recognition.

FACES of confusion melt into laughter as Dale Turner and his "dummy", David Muncy, entertain at the SA watermelon party.

AUTUMN leaves, trees and a warm sun offer quiet surroundings as a student fulfills the need for solitude on our campus.

THE FACES OF AUTUMN

Autumnal confusion stabilizes in the face of college routine

Emerging from the early semester confusion, faces became stabilized in the routine of college life. The routine was not without exceptions, however.

Sharing national concern over an election year, many Harding students went about the serious business of registering to vote or filing for absentee ballots. Other students became politically involved on the local level by supporting Senator Fulbright who visited Searcy in October.

Pat Boone enlivened chapel routine. Overflow crowds attended as students went to chapel eagerly for a change and actually stayed overtime without becoming disgruntled.

Spectating remained the favorite student sport as intramural and club competition got underway. An invitation weightlifting match provided a new sport to watch for most students.

SPECTATOR Ray Meek's face characterizes concern and agony as he watches his social club, Mohicans, lose a rag-tag game.

PAT BOONE significantly increases chapel attendance by making a "surprise" guest appearance on stage during a fall program.

KICKING off the Homecoming weekend, the SA sponsors a Friday night chili supper complete with entertainment and bonfire.

THE FACES OF AUTUMN

Preparation for Homecoming makes the weekend a success

Week-long preparation found fulfillment in another Homecoming weekend. Friday arrived, interrupting work as students bussed or drove to Wyldeewood for the traditional chili supper. Entertainment ranged from folk music to prestidigitation. Hiking to Bee Rock, students gathered around the bonfire for a pep rally and a devotional to conclude the evening.

Further preparation continued through Saturday morning as social clubs and classes put the finishing on their car and float entries. Saturday afternoon the parade snaked through Searcy. Ko Jo Kai and the junior class won the car and float divisions, respectively. Mary Smith received the queen's crown at halftime while the Bisons provided a fitting denouement to Homecoming by beating Northwood Institute 35-6.

Homecoming faces, crowd faces, group faces — these too were faces of autumn.

CROWD faces blend into one face—the face of victory—as the Bisons provide Homecoming fans with an exceptional contest.

PREPARATION begins early and continues late. Dedicated souls labor over the Homecoming Queen's float into the night hours.

ENTHUSIASTIC stage action provides strong visual interest for the audience as the troupe sings the "Up With People" theme.

THE FACES OF WINTER

Up With People and SA party spark week before Christmas

Two noteworthy events highlighted the week before Christmas. The first was the annual SA-sponsored Christmas party. Students and faculty combined to provide an uproarious evening of spoof and song. With an all-faculty cast, "The Fatal Quest" proved to be the high point of excitement as the characters all made the fatal "plunge."

"Up With People" entertained two days later to the delight of a full house of Harding and Searcy people. With a surprising amount of co-ordination the troupe of nearly one hundred and fifty performers maneuvered on stage, singing all the while, in what could have been termed a two-hour experience in enthusiasm. Enthusiasm was not confined to the stage, however, as several Harding students enlisted in the troupe.

MASTER of ceremonies, "Santa Cox" presides over the party. Unlike previous S.A. Santas he does not need artificial stuffing.

THICKENING rapidly, the plot of "The Fatal Quest" reaches the denouement while the cast of players thins with equal speed.

CLEVERLY disguised for Christmas, the bell tower still stands as a monument to the nightly ten o'clock curfew for our co-eds.

SUNRISE is seen by those students unfortunate enough to have early classes or students hungry enough to want breakfast.

THE FACES OF WINTER

Semester transition is smooth as winter settles on campus

Final exams over, students routinely addressed themselves to the tasks of counseling and registering for second semester. Two weeks of rain mixed with occasional sleet dampened the change-over period between semesters. During the interim a total of 1873 students registered for the second semester. Thankfully, lines to stand in were fewer and smaller than in the fall. Computerization of the entire registration procedure was employed for the first time and proved to be successful.

Thereafter, each student faced the small problems of meeting new classes, finding a new chapel seat, buying and selling books and perhaps changing dorms or cafeterias. Then as classes began in earnest, students prepared to endure the winter in anticipation of spring.

RAIN, a common phenomenon in Arkansas, dampens the end of the first semester and the start of the second in a two-week spree.

EXITING first chapel, students sometimes find time to pause and talk on the sidewalk before hurrying to the cafeterias for lunch.

AMID morning shadows, a co-ed walks to her eight o'clock class.

WINTER sunset comes early to the surrounding Arkansas hills.

STUDYING is of necessity a key occupation for serious students. Most students develop the ability to study in the dormitories.

SOFTLY strumming his guitar, Jimmie Deal finds relief from the pressures of daily college life in his musical talents.

GATHERED informally in the hall, men of the New Dorm discuss the matter of dormitory regulations with their wing counselor.

ATTENDING to "household chores" such as ironing or washing is one of the least glamorous aspects of college to students.

LATE evening thirsts are conquered often at the Coke machine.

EQUIPPED with color television, the reception room of the New Women's Dormitory proves to be a favorite relaxation center.

THE FACES OF WINTER

Life intensifies in dormitories during cold months of winter

Throughout the year dorm life is a key facet of student life, but at no other time is it more important than during winter. Consciously or otherwise, students find themselves spending more time in the dorms and less time on the campus. Winter weather dictates this.

Dormitory life itself has four central aspects: intellectual, social, recreational and biological. Most students attempt to pursue their intellectual purposes through studying in the dorms, usually after ten o'clock. Relating to others fulfills social needs, as living in close physical proximity calls for a degree of ability in getting along with others. Recreational activities include practical jokes, yoga exercises, television viewing and card playing, to name a few. Meanwhile, biological necessities like eating and sleeping must also be fulfilled and for this, dormitory life is significant.

THE FACES OF SPRING

Diversions of spring alleviate strain of winter-weary students

Diverting weary students from the finals of one semester and the registration of another, spring infiltrated the campus. Spring diversions ranged from swing romancing and Heber outings to the SA auction and the annual talent show.

Meanwhile, in chapel, diversion reached the high point of excitement with the Singin' Trav'lers from Pepperdine College. Once again chapel proved it could be both entertaining and edifying as the group performed both religious and secular numbers with unusual verve.

During final exam week the weather provided another distraction. Tornado warnings were issued for the Searcy area as ominous clouds brought memories of Judsonia's disaster. On numerous occasions spring wore a stormy face.

RELIEF from the routine of campus life comes for some with an occasional escape to Heber Springs and other likely spots.

BETWEEN spring exams and school sponsored activities, some couples still find time to relax in one of Harding's swings.

THREATENING storm clouds are one of the many faces of spring.

AUCTIONING the unclaimed articles from the Lost and Found Department, Randy Bostick draws the usual interested crowd.

RAGTIME piano proves to be Dr. Earl Wilcox's forte, as he performs in Harding's annual spring variety and talent show.

PROVIDING chapel audiences with a delightful and varied repertoire are the Singin' Trav'lers from Pepperdine College.

THE FACES OF SPRING

Queen Dinah Chisum, court typify faces of spring beauty

Few faces of spring were more beautiful than those of May Day. Reigning in beauty over her court was May Queen Dinah Chisum, attended by Karyn Kendrick and Judy Johnson. The court, composed of representatives from each women's social club, joined their escorts and the on-lookers in watching 32 maidens gracefully and intricately wind the Maypole.

Harding's annual May Day fete is traditionally produced by the Ju Go Ju women's social club with the assistance of its brother club, Mohicans.

PRECEDED by her crownbearer and flowergirl, our Queen of May, Dinah Chisum, leads the recessional ending the ceremony.

AWAITING their musical cue, the May Pole winders pause before winding the pastel ribbons in the traditional springtime rite.

LONG hours of work and practice pay off for the 32 May Pole winders, as a large crowd gathers to observe the annual event.

WATCHING intently, the May Day court, made up of women's social club representatives, admires the final winding of the May Pole.

Petit Jean assembly reveals unique purple and silver book

In purple and silver splendor the giant cover of the 1968 Petit Jean descended, revealing to the audience a truly unique book. On May 14, Editor Ann Camp unveiled her book to the student body. Among the numerous presentations was the dedication of the book to Dr. Neil B. Cope. SA President Mike O'Neal crowned Jan Chapman Queen during the ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the presentation the doors of the Administration Building burst open as eager students stampeded to their designated areas to receive their books. Shortly thereafter places to sit on campus became scarce. Students shared memories or sought them alone.

Several months later the 1968 Petit Jean received All-American rating as well as top honors from the Arkansas Collegiate Press Association.

AFFECTIONATELY bussing Dr. Cope, Editor Ann Camp presents him with a copy of her book. Dr. Cope received the dedication.

QUEEN Jan Chapman, flanked by her attendants, Judy Worth and Donna Eldridge, reigns over the presentation of the Petit Jean.

SPREADING across the entire campus, students gather in pairs, in groups or sit alone to reminisce over their new annuals.

LOOKING somewhat uncertain about their futures, members of the class of 1968 file into the auditorium to receive their diplomas.

PORTRAYING success at last, Janie Rittenour's face breaks into a grin as she receives her diploma from President C. L. Ganus.

CEREMONIES over, three graduates pose for the last snapshot in front of the lily pond before bidding friends good-bye.

THE FACES OF SPRING

Spring ceremonies represent rebirth for graduating class

Spring is a time of renaissance. Superficially at least, graduation presents a picture of completion — of termination. Yet college is not an end in itself, rather it is a beginning — a rebirth.

Baccalaureate and commencement speakers Roy F. Osborne and Carr P. Collins presented students with some final challenging thoughts. Then college students received their diplomas and became graduates. Their transformation completed, 240 individual graduates made exoduses from Harding College. For most the future was less than certain. Yet uncertainty need not produce fear or pessimism. Hopefully, they went forth prepared to accept the challenge of life as capable and versatile men and women.

FAMILY, friends and relatives gather outside the Administration building to congratulate the graduates after the ceremonies.

CLASSES

SENIORS

Seniors survive growing pains with unusual addition of 75

With a dynamic growth of more than 75, the 1969 senior class began the year by electing officers and making plans for a possible project. The seniors met and voted on erecting a sign at the intersection of North Grand and Race Street directing any visitor to the college. Also, the class selected a sponsor, voted on the yearbook dedication and Regina Spirit Award.

The Regina Spirit Award is given each year to a senior who exemplifies outstanding leadership in all aspects of campus life — social, academic and spiritual. The 1969 graduating class chose Mark Woodward as recipient of the award. A Bible major from Ft. Worth, Texas, Woodward excels in each of these aspects as a member of Alpha Chi, a Northeast campaigner, religious editor of the Bison, member of TNT and the Timothy Club.

Alpha Chi

The Alpha Chi National Honor Society promotes superior scholarship as well as honoring individuals who have reached an exceptional level in academic performance. Harding's Arkansas Eta chapter was inducted into the National Society in 1957, although a local honor group had existed since 1936. This year 48 scholars met the stringent requirements of Alpha Chi and were officially inducted at one of the solemn ceremonies which were held each semester. Dr. Joe Pryor, official sponsor of the group, also holds the office of Secretary-Treasurer of Region II. In March, he and several students attended the Regional Conference in Ada, Oklahoma. David Young, Judy Worth and Hanaba Munn each read an academically researched paper on a topic of the individual's choosing.

ALPHA CHI President Mark Woodward officiates at an impressive induction ceremony held at the home of Dr. Joe Pryor.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

SA hosts successful Christian college confab, leaders attend

Countless hours of frantic preparation paid off as the Twelfth Annual Christian College Conference, hosted by Harding's Student Association, proved the most successful yet. Some 75 delegates from 14 different schools were present. Speeches, group discussions and brainstorming sessions were used in finding the "Keys to Effective Student Government."

Action throughout the year by the SA brought needed changes in pledgeweek, a donation of 20 bikes to orphan children and the installation of an AM/FM stereo unit in the Emerald Room. An SA sponsored mock election was held during the '68 campaigns.

CAREFUL attention to last minute details assures President Ronnie Reeve of the success of Student Association projects.

Spaghetti fete highlights busy year for wing representatives

Highlighting the year for the Women's Dorm Council was the spaghetti supper held in the apartment of new council sponsor, Mrs. Thelma Buchanan. During the year council members made a study of the possible advantages of having a women's dormitory restricted to upperclass women who are to be allowed graduated privileges.

The Men's Dorm Council recommended numerous improvements of the physical facilities. Vending machines, telephones and carpets were items which the council hoped to obtain for all men's dormitories. The council also tackled the thorny problem of naming the New Men's Dorm.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

'69 Petit Jean focuses on faces of youth reaching for maturity

The face of the 1969 Petit Jean was one of dedication. This year's staff was dedicated to the goal of presenting the faces of youth in the transition to maturity. The book sought to record this transition for the year 1968-69.

To achieve this goal, Editor Diane Hoagland assembled her staff as soon as classes began. Some 40 people attended the first annual Petit Jean Workshop, held the second week of school. Dr. Joseph Pryor, sponsor, Mr. John Clark of American Yearbook and Miss Hoagland explained what makes an All-American book. Early organization, new equipment and cooperation from those on the technical end enabled the staff to meet the earliest deadlines in Petit Jean history. Also, a new sales record was set by Gail McKinney.

The social side of work on the Petit Jean was not overlooked. A visit from the Great Pumpkin and a Christmas breakfast provided a pleasant diversion for the staff.

GETTING ideas for their next Bison columns are staff editors Debbie Ganus, Bev Wilkinson, Mark Woodward and Roger Lamb.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Bison editor announces policy: purpose primarily informative

A change in editorial policy marked the first edition of the 1968-69 Bison. According to Editor Kay Gowen, the Bison would try to voice student views while representing the views of the college. The paper was to be primarily informative with positive criticism included as the need might arise. Another aim for the year was obtaining the ACPA General Excellence and Sweepstakes Awards.

The change also brought about an increase in the staff. New additions to the editorial staff were a Women's Intramural Editor and a Religious Editor. The photography staff was enlarged to include two full-time photographers and a photography editor in charge of the darkroom.

Under Business Manager Rick Venable, the ad section of the Bison also took on new proportions. For the first time regional and national advertising was included in the paper.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS

Mission Study group features forum of nine foreign students

Lectures by Bible faculty members and by visiting ministers comprised several programs of the Timothy Club. Two panel discussions — one on beginning a new preaching work and the other on the opportunities and problems of a minister's wife — were also presented.

Collecting magazine pictures for use by missionaries in teaching classes was one of the three projects undertaken by Les Bonnes de Christe. The club also made "encouragement cards" for all seniors, and in December it hosted a dinner for elderly people in Searcy.

Highlighting the year for the Mission Study group was a program featuring students from nine countries who dressed in native costumes and sang in their native language. Each told some of the customs of his country and the ways in which these differ from customs in the United States.

DONNING traditional Japanese attire, Ed Pendergrass and Steve Prout inform Mission Study members about life in the Orient.

Chorus, Dr. Davis anticipate first overseas tour this summer

Excitement about their first overseas tour highlighted the year for the 81 members of the A Cappella Chorus. Planned for the summer of 1969 is a six-week singing tour of ten European countries. Five mid-western states were included in the fall tour, while the spring tour was made to Colorado, New Mexico and Kansas. The Belles and Beaux, a 15-member group selected from the chorus, presented its show "America in Song" to military personnel during a one-month tour of Greenland and Iceland.

Also composed of members selected from the A Cappella Chorus are the Men's and Women's Ensembles. They performed in the chorus programs and lectureship.

Students interested in foreign mission work compose the Recording Chorus. They recorded hymns in Japanese and sent them to Japan.

MUSIC GROUPS

Music groups get new director, tour New Orleans in March

Under the new direction of Cliff Ganus III, the Chorale made its first week-long tour — a trip to New Orleans. Singing as members of the Chorale but also presenting special programs were the Madrigal Singers. They sang fourteenth and fifteenth century music, attempting to recreate the musical emphasis of that period.

Halftime performances at home football games, participation in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Band Festival and a spring trip were the major activities of the Bison Marching Band. Under the direction of Dr. Davis, a nine-piece String Ensemble presented a spring concert and a chapel program.

KHCA initiates first semester as 'mighty mouth' of Harding

Radio station KHCA, the "Mighty Mouth of Harding College," began the year with a new station manager, a new slogan and a new broadcasting schedule. Under the direction of Bill Brant, KHCA began broadcasting six hours daily.

Harding's debate team competed successfully in a number of important tournaments, including that of the University of Arkansas, where Harding teams took the coveted Sweepstakes award. Harding debaters also attended the National Pi Kappa Delta meet in Arizona and hosted a high school tournament in early March.

A reception in September for all students interested in becoming Campus Players opened a busy season for Harding thespians. Productions for the year included "The Importance of Being Earnest," "The Rainmaker" and "The Masterbuilder."

SPEECH AND DRAMA GROUPS

British comedy opens season of drama for Harding players

A light Victorian British comedy was chosen to open the 1968-69 dramatic season. "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde offered the Harding audience an opportunity to view several newcomers to the Harding stage. Cast as the two pairs of young lovers were Chuq Parker, Cindy Loudermilk, Mike Shannon and Patty Selvia. In addition to newcomers among the cast, stage production and theatrical direction were handled by two new faculty members, Terry Eyman and Larry Menefee.

An unusual feature of the production was the selection of a single motif, a Gothic arch with reversed legs used in costuming as well as set design.

BENEATH the stage John Gingerich, production manager Terry Eyman and David Vaughan work frantically to finish the set.

VARYING reactions are displayed by Mike Shannon, Patty Selvia, Cindy Loudermilk and Chuq Parker as true identities are revealed.

STUDENTS for Fulbright gather at the White County Courthouse to support the senator's bid for re-election.

OCAPA member Mike Hallimore keeps the Student Center bulletin board up to date with controversial photos and clippings.

BILL DUDLEY and Lynn Calhoun supply Ernie Gilbert and Marilyn Krape with data about HOPE's organization and objectives.

POLITICAL GROUPS

Political organizations study Asian war and state election

Election year and the Vietnam war prompted the organization of several new political groups on campus. Representing opposing views in the senatorial election were the Students for Fulbright and the Young Americans for Freedom. Students for Fulbright helped canvass the community while YAF members distributed "The Prodigal Son," a publication of the Arkansas YAF. HOPE, the Harding Organization for Peaceful Existence among nations, was established to inform students about the Vietnam war. OCAPA and the Veritas Forum offered further information on political questions.

Harding student serves state as president of future teachers

For the second consecutive year a Harding student served as Arkansas Student National Education Association President. Working closely with the faculty advisor in Little Rock, Sally Cook coordinated activities for the entire state. Harding's SNEA chapter began a scholarship fund for prospective teachers. A wiener roast and devotional at Bee Rock, followed by a skating party delighted members of The Guild, campus art enthusiasts. "The Fatal Quest" and Christmas caroling, both in French, brought variety to meetings of Le Cercle Français. Other departmental clubs are the Student Music Educational National Conference and the PEMM Club for P. E. majors and minors.

Pi Kappa Delta holds forums demonstrating styles of debate

Initiating a monthly public affairs forum, Pi Kappa Delta concentrated on presenting various debate styles and relevant topics. The forums included a Lincoln-Douglas style debate on the candidacy of Richard Nixon and a panel discussion on youth and civil disorder. Harding's Eta Pi Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta hosted the regional meeting of the national history society in April.

Pi Gamma Psi accountants visited the IRS and various businesses in Little Rock and Memphis. They also heard speeches by outstanding businessmen, including a representative of the eighth-largest accounting firm in the nation. Hours of hard work by members of the Eta Omega cast of Alpha Psi Omega ended with the presentation of awards at the Annual Spotlight Banquet in May.

Kappa Pi holds candlelight ceremony at Heritage Center

The fall induction of members into Kappa Pi International Art Honor Fraternity took place on November 15. This marked the first such ceremony for the Harding chapter, which was organized last spring. A week of pledging activities preceded the candlelight ceremony held in the Heritage Room.

Mid-April was selected as the time for the annual induction meeting and dinner of Alpha Phi Gamma. The induction of new members into the honorary journalism fraternity also took place at the American Heritage Cafeteria. Unlike many campus organizations, membership is open to both students and faculty.

Autumn tour to New Orleans features visit to state capital

For American Studies members both old and new, the fall trip to New Orleans proved to be one of the most exciting in years. In addition to visiting New Orleans business spots such as the Bank of New Orleans and the International Trade Mart, the group also made a tour of the harbor and met with the mayor of New Orleans. Side trips included a tour of the Civil War battleground at Vicksburg, Mississippi, and a visit with Louisiana Governor McKeithen in Baton Rouge.

For the remainder of the year, the group heard speakers discuss topics related to the theme: "Crisis and Conflict in Contemporary America."

MEMBERS of the fall trip to New Orleans view all aspects of life in the city, including this one atop a skyscraper.

SOCIAL CLUBS

INTRODUCTION

Pledge week change marks year of social club innovation

Through faculty vote and student approval, pledge week for the 1968-69 school year was moved from the traditional eleventh week to the sixth week of school. However, roughness of pledge week activities this year led to changes in the pledging rules for the '69-'70 school year. Large boys clubs reached record numbers because of a decision made by the social club presidents not to limit boy's club quotas. Unusual service projects also characterized the social club year. Several Harding clubs collected materials and money for Biafra and money was raised for mentally retarded children.

FEELING a sense of belonging makes it all seem worthwhile.

UNASHAMED of their rather odd apparel, these TNT's sit by the lily pond during pledge week activities to enjoy a few minutes of relaxation from the harassment of pledge masters.

HUMILIATING tasks, such as this pledge's imitation of a duck walk, must be taken in stride by those hopeful of receiving the honor of membership in one of Harding's social clubs.

FESTIVE atmosphere is provided through WHC's Christmas party.

Hotdog supper and basketball games initiate year for AEX

The year began for members of Alpha Epsilon Chi with an outing to Wyldewood for a hotdog supper. The members and their dates finished the evening with an exciting game of basketball. The enthusiasm of AEX carried over into their other activities, which included aiding in the lily pond devotionals and participation in the Biafran fund drive. An increase in membership this year was a vital part of Alpha Epsilon's participation in club and school activities. After pledge week activities were concluded, the club had increased to 25 members. AEX's formal banquet was held during March at the Ramada Inn in Jacksonville. To bring the year to a close, AEX organized a spring outing to Petit Jean Mountain.

Webb's barn affords unusual setting for APK third function

A cozy fireplace in the multi-colored gameroom of Joe Webb's barn set the scene for APK's informal party. After supper Denny Dotson, Ron Goss and Bobby McKeel provided musical entertainment for the other members and their dates. Everyone then joined in a sing-a-long. The remainder of the evening was spent watching television, playing cards or taking a hayride. Aside from pledge week and their annual "tea party," APK's main emphasis was on sports, taking first in softball and second in B team softball and volleyball.

Alpha Tau Epsilon becomes Harding's newest social club

Forming Harding's newest social club, Alpha Tau Epsilon began in the spring of 1968 with a small membership of twelve. This year the club more than doubled its membership. Although its size increased, the club sought to maintain a small club atmosphere.

Interested in sports, Alpha Tau placed third in volleyball competition among small clubs. Preparing food baskets and delivering Christmas trees to needy families proved to be the Alpha Tau's most rewarding project of the year. Following pledge week, pledges and members joined in a stag outing at Wyldewood which they plan to make an annual function.

BETA PHI KAPPA

Beta Phi provides old clothes for needy families in Searcy

GIVING clothes to needy families is Beta Phi's club project.

Beta Phi Kappa brought great tidings of good cheer into the homes of many needy Searcy families throughout the year. This project evolved around Christmas when boxes full of clothes were given. Since these gifts were so readily accepted, Beta Phi decided to make it a year round project. The club collected clothes, toys and staple foods at every meeting and stored them in the College Church building.

The increase in size helped boost the club in all of its activities. A fall hayride followed by a wiener roast around the campfire at Wyldewood was enjoyed by the members and their dates.

Frater's concern for starving Biafrans becomes club project

The starvation of the Biafran people has been the main concern of the Frater Sodalis social club this year. Following the chapel speech given by Rees Bryant in the fall, Fraters immediately went to work on a project of collecting money for these people. At every meeting each member contributed as he could, earnestly interested in the people's plight. A hayride, complete with homemade goulash, an inspiring chapel program and a third function in the spring completed the activities.

MOHICAN

Mohicans begin school year with a pledge week wedding

In the presence of 150 witnesses Mohicans enacted their traditional mock wedding along with their sister club Zeta Phi Zeta during pledge week. Complete with the traditional black color scheme, the ceremony was quietly solemnized in front of the American Heritage Center. The pledges had full charge of the ceremony and conducted the services in a humorous manner.

An active year followed, including the traditional cleaning and guarding of the lily pond the night before May Day. A moonlight hayride on Halloween night, followed by a hot dog supper, made October 31 memorable for Mohawks and their dates. JU GO JU

Luau ends the pledge week for new Ju Go Ju members

A luau at the home of Mrs. John Prock began the year for both old and new members of the Ju Go Ju social club. Hawaiian costumes and food added atmosphere to the event. "Memories Are Made of This" was the theme of the club's February 15 banquet, held at the Holiday Inn in Searcy. Ju Go Ju's service project, which ran continuously all year, was to assist in the training of a physically retarded child. Members of the club helped the child perform exercises to develop muscular control.

KAPPA DELTA

Hawaiian food adds exotic interest to Kappa Delta luau

A Hawaiian menu and the natural surroundings of Wyldewood added South sea island-flavor to Kappa Delta's luau in May. Wyldewood also served as the scene of two club bunking parties during the year. "The Impossible Dream" was the theme for the club's April 14 chapel program. Highlighting the year, "Tara" provided an unusual touch of the old South for the annual banquet. Kappa Delta's more than doubled their membership this year, allowing the club to participate in a variety of events which included giving money to a needy family and winning small club spasketball.

Traditional birthday fete ends pledge week for Tri Kappa's

Tri Kappa's began the year with a birthday party in honor of their club. Pledges baked a cake and decorated it with the club's emblem, which is a gold key. The movie "Camelot" was the source of Tri Kappa's theme for their spring banquet. Demonstrating enthusiasm for sports, Tri Kappa's won second in club spasketball and volleyball, and first in large club basketball. Paying for the furnishings of a room in the Heritage Center has been an annual Tri Kappa project in the past and the tradition was continued this year.

Coaches plan strategy early to grab AIC all-sports trophy

One point separated Harding from the victor, Southern State, in the race for the 1968 AIC All-Sports Trophy. Nevertheless, Harding captured AIC championships in cross country, bowling and tennis. Determined to capture the trophy for the 1969 season, the nine athletic coaches began planning team strategy early for their respective sports; John Prock, head football coach, assisted by Roddy Osborne, Jerry Mote and Ted Altman; Hugh Groover, head basketball coach, assisted by Ted Altman; Ted Lloyd, track and cross country; Joe Miller, swimming; Ed Burt, bowling; Dr. Bob J. Gilliam, golf; Bob Knight, tennis; and Carl Allison, baseball. Responsibility for Harding's intercollegiate athletic program this year resided in the Faculty Athletic Committee.

Well organized pep rallies drew record crowds in time of defeat as well as victory. Serving as captain of the cheerleaders, Brenda Needham was assisted by junior co-captain, Mary Smith. In addition to cheerleading, Miss Smith was chosen by the student body as football Homecoming Queen. Serving for the first year were cheerleaders Martina Prock, Ellen Potter, Paula Erwin, Jeanette Sims, Cass Yingling, Dinecia Trickey and Debbie Dickey. Lori Bailey, four-year old daughter of sponsor Karyl Bailey, served as mascot. Bennie the Bison was represented at games by a head created in his likeness.

Pro offense creates balance; mistakes produce 2-8 season

Initiating a pro-type offense this year, head coach John Prock hoped to create a more balanced team. In previous years, emphasis was placed on running, and the new offense of the '68 season emphasized passing as well. The line was studded with freshmen and sophomores including Ronnie Peacock who set a single season passing record. Although the season's 2-8 record was unimpressive, the future is brighter with the return of Honorable Mention All-AIC David Treadwell and David Litzkow.

Rousing action began at home against the Centenary College Gentlemen with nine different Bisons scoring touchdowns for a 62-7 victory. In another non-conference battle, a strong Millsaps team capitalized on three Harding miscues to down the Bisons 21-6. Playing the first AIC contest in a heavy rain at Magnolia, Harding could not contain the explosive Southern State backfield and was defeated 36-13, despite completing 20 of 39 passes for 178 yards.

Pass interceptions by Mizzou team grab victory from Bisons

Seven pass interceptions enabled huge Central Missouri State to beat the Bisons 35-0 even though statistics showed the game to be fairly even. Two offensive mistakes on the squad enabled A&M to eke out a 13-0 victory on Dad's Day. Fumbling early in the game, Harding allowed Ouachita to gain a 13-0 first quarter edge which the Tigers expanded to 34-7. Behind the powerful running of Charles Jones, the Bisons routed Northwood Institute 30-6 in the Homecoming event. For the final road game, Harding went to Arkadelphia to tangle with powerful Henderson State and was edged 34-25 while playing the finest offensive game of the season. At home against conference champion Arkansas Tech the Bisons played excellent football in a 21-7 loss. The State College Bears were too strong in the line for the Bison bulls and pounded out a 28-6 victory in the final game.

Reddies swamp opponents; Bisons struggle for fifth place

The 1968-1969 Harding basketball season was very exciting. The Bisons were in contention for the conference crown through the first half of the round robin but faltered somewhat during the second. Barring an early February slump, the team might well have finished second instead of struggling for fifth. Nevertheless, the squad compiled a 10-8 AIC record. This was the largest number of conference wins in school history.

For the year, the team established a respectable 17-9 mark dropping only one non-conference game to a strong team from Southwestern Oklahoma College. Led by the play of five seniors — Bobby McKeel, George Frazier, Jeff Stitt, Mike Lamb and Marvin Levels, the team grabbed two impressive victories from the perennially strong Oklahoma Christian Eagles.

SHOWING excellent shooting style, Mike Lamb pumps his famous corner shot which made him a dangerous outside threat.

ALL-AIC center, George Frazier, fires a jump shot against Henderson State College as several Reddies watch along with Olsen.

RESERVE Danny Russell shoots a crisp shot to raise the Bison score by two as he does his part to aid the team's victory.

STRETCHING high above Henderson's Darrell Oates, Larry Olsen snatches a rebound off the boards as George Frazier observes.

BASKETBALL

AIC yields top-notch shooters; McKeel, Levels near the top

The AIC conference continued to produce an array of fine shooters during 1969 season such as Bill Cosey of Arkansas College, Danny Sheets of Ouachita, Danny Davis of Henderson and Paul Brown of Arkansas Tech. Harding's Bobby McKeel and Marvin Levels were near the top of this group as McKeel tallied a 22.1 point per game scoring average which was good for second place behind Paul Brown.

The conference was not without defensive stand-outs as Lew Wood of Henderson, Mike Bridges of SCA and Ronny Tollett of Southern State. Among the leading AIC rebounders were Harding's George Frazier and Jeff Stitt. Frazier won the rebounding title and Stitt was a close fourth behind Danny Davis of Henderson State and Dwayne Nash of Hendrix College.

DISPLAYING his patented rhythm, Bobby McKeel shoots a free throw as he improves the all-time AIC percentage record.

DRIVING down the lane, Harding's senior forward Marvin Levels works against an all-AIC competitor, Danny Davis of Henderson.

CLEARING the backboards, Jeff Stitt and George Frazier show the form that ranked them high in the conference as rebounders.

BASKETBALL

Frazier, McKeel make all-AIC, set records on hot Bison team

Two Bison hustlers made the 1969 all-AIC team. For the second straight year, Harding's big center, George Frazier, captured a spot. Also added to the list was Bobby McKeel whose shooting made him well-known in the AIC basketball circuit.

Frazier led the conference in rebounds with an average of 12.7. Also, he averaged 18.2 points per game, finishing high in that category. McKeel closed out his career by ripping the nets at a 22.2 points per game. He scored consistently over the court, plus earning a 91.7 free-throw percentage.

STOCKY George Frazier goes high above the Reddies' Danny Davis and Darrell Oates as he tries to add to Harding's score.

DRIBBLING up the court, Mike Lamb protects the ball as he prepares to set up the high-scoring Harding offensive machine.

SHOOTING over a confused Henderson Reddie, dependable Marvin Levels consistently scored well for the Bison hustlers.

HUSTLING for a much needed rebound, the Bison's Bobby McKeel and Jeff Stitt reach for the ball to control the backboards.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Distance combo pace harriers, Bisons win 6th straight crown

Led by the finest one-two distance combination in Arkansas history, Bison harriers, paced by Jim Crawford and Joe Boyle, continued their domination of cross country in the AIC by winning the championship for the sixth consecutive year. Jim Crawford, a senior who trained at Lake Tahoe during the summer as an Olympic hopeful in the 1500 meters, won many of the meets which Harding entered. Winning the AIC meet over the 4.9-mile Hendrix course in record time, he paced the field in 23:20. Joe Boyle, another senior, ran second to Jim in many of the meets, including the AIC meet, but he edged Jim in winning the Arkansas AAU Cross Country Championship one week later. Dick Shenfield, Skip Cain and Kenny Coston rounded out the five-man team in the conference meet. Coach Ted Lloyd was in his second year as cross country coach.

PAIN and desire are seen on the face of cross country ace Joe Boyle. Leading Harding to a 17th in the NAIA at Oklahoma City he went on to place 13th in the national AAU meet.

RUNNING one, two, Jim Crawford and Joe Boyle show the form that led the team to a sixth consecutive AIC championship.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Experience gives leadership;
fast-paced seniors place high

RECEIVING congratulations from Dean Lawyer, Joe Boyle receives fourth place in a fall meet hosted by the Bisons.

PROVIDING fine team leadership, captain Dick Shenfield consistently placed near the top for the Harding Bison harriers.

SPRINTING at the sound of the gun, these 75 eager cross country runners, representing 10 Arkansas colleges, begin the grueling four mile race at the Fifth Annual Harding College Invitational.

SWIMMING

Hendrix cops AIC swimming; water buffaloes salvage fourth

Harding's 1967-1968 season was plagued with ineligible players and stiff competition. Nevertheless, the Water Buffaloes managed a fourth place finish in the AIC meet. There was no doubt that Hendrix College would win, and they proved that by winning every event and scoring 165 points. The Bisons scored 26 points trailing SCA and Southern State. High Bison honors went to Rusty Barclay who placed fourth in three events and fifth in another. Other members of the team were Doug Bashaw, Mark McDaniel, Abner Pitts, Richard Gillenwaters and Alan Garner.

The 1968-1969 season looked better as new coach Joe Miller and boys placed high in the AIC meet. The team was strong with the return of David Cole and the arrival of Phil Johnson and Art Peddle.

CONCENTRATING on his form and entrances, Harding Bison diver Bill Pratt splits the water smoothly as he practices to perfect his diving style and to add more points for his team.

BOWLING

Kegglers capture first in AIC, rank second in national effort

Continuing its winning tradition, the 1968 Harding College Bowling team captured the AIC crown. Under new coach Ed Burt, the team took the lead from State College of Arkansas in the fourth round of competition and won by 295 pins. Gary Parsons paced the Bisons and led the AIC with 4,671 pins.

Having won the conference, the Bisons represented the AIC in Little Rock at the NAIA District 17 playoffs. In the sixth game at the Plaza Lanes, the Harding kegglers won with 5,671 pins. This total was also top in area four which includes New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas. The win entitled the team to go to Kansas City and participate in the National Tournament.

In the NAIA National Tourney held in April, Harding finished second behind La Crosse State of Wisconsin. Harding's Johnny Beck ranked fourth nationally and Gary Martin was tenth. Beck had a high game of 257, rolling thirteen straight strikes in one series.

The 1969 season brought the return of eight lettermen, composing the strongest keggler line-up to date.

RELEASING the ball, Charles Burt practices to develop his delivery as he and fellow teammates try for the championship.

SENIOR bowler Jim Brown displays his smooth release and follow-through as he practices rolling the ball down the lane.

IMPROVING his timing, junior Gary Martin carried an impressive load finishing number nine in the National Singles' finals.

BASEBALL

Baseballers hustle for fourth; OBU and SSU capture crown

The 1968 baseball season found the Bisons' overall record at 15 wins and 9 losses. In the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, the team tallied 5 wins against 7 defeats. Ouachita Baptist and Southern State tied for the championship with 9-3 records. Arkansas A&M was third with a 6-6 record. The Bisons' 5-7 record earned a tie for fourth place with Henderson. By winning the toss of coin, Henderson gained the right to participate in the District 17 NAIA tournament.

The season produced some outstanding individual performances. Pitcher David Jones compiled a 4-0 record. Also Ken Merritt pitched a no-hitter against Southwestern. Roy Steele and Dale Neal led the team in hitting.

BATTING with the fungo bat, Bison Skipper Carl Allison raps the ball infield to sharpen his team's fielding ability and percentage.

WATCHING carefully as the ball is thrown by second baseman Gary Isbell, first baseman Gary Corum makes the play. The AIC umpire and first base coach view the crucial action.

BASEBALL

GOLF

Bisons shrink to sixth place; talented freshmen color future

The Harding golf team failed to meet expectations for the 1967-1968 season but did win six matches while losing eight and tying one. The season was climaxed by a sixth place finish in the conference match. From 1964-1966 the golfers placed eighth but in the 1966-1967 season, they rose to fifth. The '68 team was paced by sophomore Terry McMichaels who won several matches and finished respectably in conference individual honors. Other team members were Jimmy Henderson, Jim Preston, Tom Snyder and Don Wilson.

The 1969 season was brightened with the addition of freshman Cody Bridges, who was one of the best high school golfers in Arkansas.

CONCENTRATING for the sound of the gun in his starting block, Harding's Jim Crawford prepares to run for another first place.

TRACK

Inexperience creates off-year, Bison tracksters tie for fourth

The 1968 track season was an off-year for the Bisons. Lacking experienced sprinters, the track team managed only a fourth place tie with Arkansas Tech. As expected by most, Southern State captured the crown with strong sprinters and relay teams. Harding's conference hopes were further dampened with Jim Crawford's ailment although Joe Boyle ran well, winning the mile and 880 yard run.

Looking toward the 1969 season, the Bisons were once again strong in the distance events. Jim Crawford, Harding's and Arkansas' all-time best miler, ran an indoor 4:01.2 mile defeating Tom Day and Dave Patrick for first place in the San Diego meet held in February. All eyes were on the outdoor season and Jim Crawford as he pursued the four-minute barrier and more Bison track records.

RISING over the cross-bar, Jesse White displays the precise form and agility which enabled him to set new school records.

WORKING for proper form and coordination, Vance Cox practices with the discus to give added strength in the field events.

TENNIS

Netters sweep doubles play, surprise fans with A I C finish

The Harding College tennis team started its successful 1968 season by winning the doubles championship, and placing second in the singles at the Hendrix Invitational fall tournament. The spring season began at the Burns Park Tournament in Little Rock. Harding placed third behind national powerhouses, Oral Roberts and Tulsa University. Peter Von Lingen, world ranked, defeated Harding's David Elliott 6-1, 6-3 in the second round.

In match play, the netters compiled an impressive 13-4 mark. In the AIC Tournament Dean Bawcom defeated teammate Elliott in the finals 8-6, 6-2. The two then teamed to defeat Southern State in the doubles finals. Winning the AIC championship and defeating Little Rock University in district play-off assured the Bisons a trip to the Nationals. At the NAIA tournament in Kansas City the team made its first national appearance and placed a surprising eleventh.

CONSISTENT in his winning, senior David Elliott strokes the backhand volley that helped him become an AIC champion.

SWING and a miss for Joyce Howell, as catcher Patty Elkins fields the ball in a hard fought women's intramural ballgame.

PREPARING to grab the flag of his opponent, Dale Laird quickly pursues the ball carrier as teammates come to his aid.

INTRAMURALS

Rag-tag draws huge crowds; team intramurals come alive

High attendance at flag football games in the fall set the pace for a record breaking intramural year. A whopping 75 per cent of the students participated in the versatile program. A choice of 35 sports enabled the amateurs to find a sport fitted to their needs. To increase women's interest in intramurals a board, similar to the men's intramural board, was erected conveniently near their dorms. The '69 season marked the sixteenth year that Cecil Beck has directed the men's program and the third year Barbara Barnes has handled the women. They are assisted by student physical education majors.

DEDICATION

Wilt Martin

The '69 senior class dedicates this Petit Jean to Coach Martin

Four years on the Academy Faculty have been ample time to prove Coach Wilt Martin's ability as a teacher, coach and friend.

This big man with his pleasant, easy-going manner and true pride and loyalty to the Academy has gained the respect of all Academy students.

Coach Martin teaches government, coaches the Wildcat basketball teams and sponsors the senior class. His activities acquaint him daily with the many faces of youth.

Summed up in the words of Principal Bill Diles, "There isn't a more conscientious teacher than Coach."

We, the senior class of 1969, dedicate our portion of the 1969 Petit Jean to Coach Wilton Martin, in appreciation of the respect he first gave us.

ADMINISTRATION

Administrators serve school in many unique, varied roles

BILL DILES, MA, began his second year as principal of Harding Academy. He served as statistician for the athletic teams and sponsor of the Future Business Leaders of America. This year he taught typing and Bible.

Although his administrative duties kept him busy, he found time to help the students as a counselor, as an umpire or as a sports announcer. During the past summer, Mr. Diles received his administrative certificate from the University of Arkansas.

Throughout this year, Mr. Diles has livened the Wednesday chapel days by adding a laugh to the announcements with his many familiar jokes.

Mr. Diles initiated the requirement this fall that all students make passing grades in Bible to participate in extra-curricular activities.

BILL DILES, MA, Principal

PERRY S. MASON, MA, LLD, Superintendent

PERRY S. MASON, BA, MA, LLD, Superintendent of Harding Academy, actively serves his school and community. He sponsors the Academy Key Club and is a member of the Searcy Kiwanis Club. Working as the State Chairman of the Americanism Division of the American Legion, Dr. Mason made numerous speeches concerning the topic of citizenship throughout the state this year. He also serves as a member of the National Commission of the American Legion.

J. E. BERRYHILL, MA, Registrar

J. E. BERRYHILL, BA, MA, has long been a familiar figure in Academy life. In his second year as registrar, one frequently sees him counseling students in which courses to take academically and spiritually. In addition to his duties of registrar and counseling this year he teaches driver education, Bible and history. With his dry wit but firm manner, he creates a useful student-teacher relationship. He actively supports Wildcat teams.

FACULTY

Teachers encourage students to participate in extra activity

The Academy faculty in their monthly meetings this year have updated study courses, revised the student handbook and solved current problems in school. In doing this, they have maintained the Academy's high North Central Association rating.

The enthusiasm they give to school activities such as FHA conventions, intramurals and Junior Civitan candy sales encourages all students to participate in extracurricular projects.

HONORS

Studious senior boy is chosen by Sub-Deb to receive Award

The Sub-Deb social club selected as the recipient of their annual award, senior Mark Nadeau. Nadeau served his school as president of the A Cappella Chorus and secretary-treasurer of the National Beta Club.

The student council set their goals high this year by trying to improve relations between students and faculty and to encourage leadership among the student body. The council was composed of a representative from all clubs and service organizations. Skits presented to the chapel audiences by council members promoted individual leadership.

PUBLICATIONS

Academy Petit Jean, Wildcat staffs create new look in '69

The aim of the Academy annual staff is to create a new look for the 1969 Petit Jean. Achieving this required long hours of picture taking, writing and rewriting copy, scheduling numerous elections, typing and proofreading. The 1969 editor, senior Jenny Davis, was responsible for supervising work upon the section. Preparing for next year's publication, Rosemary Baggett, learned the many duties of coordinating an annual. Senior Mike Mears reported the sports activities of the Academy Wildcats.

The school paper, the Wildcat, also had a new look this year. Responsible for coordinating the paper was senior editor, Nancy Clark, assisted by Rachel Formby. New organization, editorial cartoons and more pictures were a part of the new Wildcat. Allen Gould edited all sports sections of the newspaper.

Miss Ruth Browning, the faculty advisor, spent much time helping the editors, lending advice and proofreading all articles.

MUSIC GROUPS

New director, largest chorus to date spark a.m. rehearsals

Ray Wright, formerly from Crowleys Ridge Academy, began his first year at Harding Academy as the high school chorus director. Every morning at 7:30 Mr. Wright energetically leads the 56 members in warm-up exercises and spiritual songs. These long and hard practices are all in preparation for the several chorus trips each year. The trips this year took the chorus to many places in Arkansas and neighboring states. On the fall trip the chorus visited St. Louis and other places in Missouri, Tennessee and Arkansas.

The new Harding Academy pep band added zesty spirit and sparkle to the stands this year. Mrs. Kay Gowen, junior high chorus and band director, organized and directed the group of hard working students in junior and senior high.

SERVICE CLUBS

Candy sales, locker fines and secret pals highlight the year

Particularly heavy home game attendance through the year kept Key Club members busy in concession stands. Under the supervision of Perry Mason the club performed other services including checking lockers, monitoring the halls and raising money for the school.

The newly formed Junior Civitan club guided by Miss Ruth Browning promotes citizenship. The club enables girls to also serve the school. A successful candy sale by the club provided funds to aid Academy renovation.

Decorating lockers as secret peanut pals was just one of the ways the Pepettes added zest and spirit to the Academy sports program this year. The girls also did hand routines with the cheerleaders' yells and boosted the players' morale.

Parliamentarians win third in national contest in Wash., D.C.

The parliamentary procedure team represented the school and the Future Business Leaders of America in Washington, D. C., and won third place in the nation. Other members of the club entered contests in typing, spelling and shorthand on a state-wide level.

The Academy chapter of Future Homemakers of America chose as this year's project to correspond with soldiers in Viet Nam.

Points acquired by participation in Academy plays during the year enabled students to become members of the National Thespian Society.

KAT

Kappa Alpha Theta sponsors orphan at Children's Colony

Again this year the Kappa Alpha Theta social club chose as its special project to help support a child at the Conway Children's Colony. Accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Elsie Lynn, the girls personally delivered the many clothes and Christmas presents to the little girl. Gifts were given by many of the Kappa Alpha Theta club members, the faculty and the student body of the Academy.

Senior beau, Dallas Stricklin and junior beau, Dan Daniel, gave their support to all KAT activities. The KAT members chose Janet Nadeau as their '69 May Court representative.

SUB-DEB

Sub-Deb spirit sparks another successful intramural season

A carefully planned pledge week started the year for the Sub-Debs. New club pledges fulfilled their duties by burying their smiles and collecting 33 1/3 pennies while the pledgemistresses tried to keep a firm hand. At the formal initiation all members drew names to see who would be their anonymous peanut pal.

At Christmas the Sub-Debs held their traditional caroling party and succeeded in filling neighborhoods nearby with the spirit of the season. Jenny Davis hosted the Christmas party at her home, and each girl received a present from her peanut, the sponsor and the club beaux, Dan Curry and Stephen Tucker.

The beaux also added their support throughout the year by coaching the Sub-Debs' victorious softball and volleyball teams.

OFFICERS. Groover, Pres.; Martin, Vice-Pres.; Clark, Sec.; Formby, Treas.; Baggett, Rep.; Paula Hicks, Sponsor.

SPIRIT and enthusiasm are shown by the victorious Sub-Deb's as they give their rousing club cry after a volleyball game.

STAR

STARS begin an active year by welcoming eleven pledges

The 1969 pledge week was an unusual and frightening event for eleven STAR pledges. The informal initiation took place at Carole Cleveland's home, where the pledges learned to overcome an army obstacle course.

Darlene Jones was chosen as the STAR May Court representative and Suzan Cook as a Queen Attendant. STAR vice-president, Jody Pipkin, received the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award.

Shortly before the Christmas vacation STAR's sponsor, the former Miss Anne Blue, became Mrs. Gene Rouse.

Seniors Lee Daniel and Jaro Finney, the STAR beaux, were honored at the annual spring banquet.

OFFICERS. Blue, Pres.; Pipkin, Vice-Pres.; Jones, Sec.; Cleveland, Treas.; Spradlin, Rep.; Ann Rouse, Sponsor.

Wildcat's spirit zooms higher during 1968 football season

The spirit kicked high with the 1968 Harding Academy Wildcats. The Wildcats faced a tough schedule with determination. Coaches Cliff Sharp and Bill Barden lead the Wildcats to a final 4-4-1 record. Starting the season with a scoreless tie against Des Arc, the Cats went on to beat Harding Academy of Memphis. Losing to Beebe, the Cats then won their first conference game with Cotton Plant. After a defeat from Hazen, the Wildcats won their next two games, one of which was a conference game, the other Homecoming. The team lost their last two games, a conference game and a rivalry with Augusta.

Two Wildcats were selected for positions on the all-district team in recognition of their individual achievements and in tribute to the coaching they received. Those chosen were Lee Daniel for his strong defensive play, and Alec Petway for his ability to run the ball.

STRIVING for a first down, senior fullback Lee Daniel attempts to maneuver past two Harding of Memphis defenders.

BREAKING through the line, Alec Petway, junior tailback, keeps his balance as he picks up another ten yards for the Wildcats.

SENIOR wingback, Dan Curry, again displays fine form in catching another of his many passes in competition against Clinton.

INTERCEPTING a pass, sophomore linebacker Allen Green strains hard for extra yardage as a cluster of Memphis Lions close in.

Strong passing ability gives Jr. Wildcats a winning season

The Junior Cats, with an unusually large number of boys, used their passing ability to pave their way to a winning record. The team scored on breakaway pass plays and used hardnosed football as the by-word of the defense.

The Cats played steady ball after their first loss to Morris. They went on to trample Beedeville and in their second game with Morris they re-ven-ge-d their loss with a solid win. They closed the season with a win over Heber Springs and a tie with Cotton Plant.

Coaches Bill Barden and Wilt Martin said that the hustle, determination and desire shown by the boys attributed for the winning season.

JUMPING high, Senior Jaro Finney attempts to sink another two points above the outstretched hand of a Central defender.

BASKETBALL

Hustle, desire, teamwork lead Wildcats to victory in county

Featuring a fast-break offense and a full-court press defense, the 1969 Harding Academy basketball team provided many thrills for their fans. Coach Wilt Martin, in his first year as head coach, said that hustle, desire and teamwork led the Cats to one of the best season records the Academy has ever had. The season record was 21-5.

By defeating Bald Knob, Kensett and Pangburn in the county tournament the Wildcats won first place. Two seniors, Lee Daniel and Jaro Finney were placed on the all-tournament team. Junior John Vines was also placed on the team and tied for all-tournament player. For the first time in Academy history the Wildcats were able to play in the district finals only to loose to Kensett. Although they placed second, the Academy had more men on the all-district team than any other school. Jaro Finney, Lee Daniel and John Vines made the team.

GAINING control of a rebound, Johnny Baines attempts to dribble past two Central defenders to move the ball down court.

WORKING their two-on-one full-court defensive press, two Wildcats, Lee Daniel and Stephen Tucker, reach for the ball.

DISPLAYING the smooth form that caused him to be named All-Tournament Player, John Vines sinks another two points.

BASKETBALL

Strong will to win contributes to junior's outstanding season

LEAPING high into the air, Wildcat Charles Ganus tips the ball to No. 30, Steve Kellar, who streaks toward the basket.

Academy school spirit spiced by peppy junior high students

The junior high students boosted their football team to a 3-1-1 record for the season. They gave 100 per cent support to the senior high athletic teams by helping decorate halls, attend pep rallies and go to all the games at home and away.

This year the Junior Beta Club achieved its largest membership of 21 students. The standards for joining are the same as the senior high club, a ninety average for two consecutive six-weeks.

Under the new direction of Mrs. Kay Gowen, the 45-member junior high chorus presented programs in chapel and in the variety show.

Faces composed the story of Harding 1969. We as a staff blended the faces together in the classes, the organizations, the social clubs. Yet, the myriad of faces sifted apart. And the faces in the 1969 Petit Jean became distinct individuals.

We watched people and we recorded personalities on film. We observed the anonymous freshman he selected a leader, the weak athlete gain strength, the black man become a brother.

We participated in a year of each man doing his own thing by doing ours —

To the photographer, the editor, or the typesetter the job was a means to an end. The combination of late hours, team work and imagination resulted in a unified group effort to meet this end.

The face of the '69 Petit Jean cannot help but mirror her staff and those who so faithfully aided in the production. These varied faces have not only acquired a character line or two but they have also left a touch of themselves behind on the pages.

To their editor, all 368 pages recall not only their faces but their personalities — each one unique, dedicated and very dear.

It was only yesterday at a September workshop the staff was challenged by the task ahead. And now it is today. The challenge has been met and so has the realization that time passes too quickly.
