Summer School Brings Degrees to 56 Students

mer term came to a fitting climax on August 10, when 56 degrees were awarded at commencement services. Of these, 34 earned the Bachelor of Arts, eight the Bachelor of Science and 14 the Master of Arts in Teaching.

Dr. Donald R. Sime, associate professor of religious education and counseling, Harding College Graduate School of Religion in Memphis, addressed graduates, faculty and friends on Gift of Power."

Ten New Faculty Members Added: Eight are Alumni

The fall term will introduce 10 new faculty members but eight of them will not be strangers to the campus. These will be fulfilling the dream of many Harding graduates of returning to their Alma Mater to serve in the field of Christian education, They will be filling faculty vacancies created by moves, leaves of absence or death.

Jerome Barnes (B.A.'56; M.A.T.-'58) will be instructor in social science, replacing Gene Rainey who is on leave of absence to complete the Ph.D. in political science at George Washington University.

Shirley Ann Birdsall (B.A.'54), who holds the MS. in Library Science from Louisiana State University, will be librarian, replacing Annie May Alston who is moving to the library of the Graduate School of Religion in Memphis to supervise the expansion of that library as it grows toward needing the new building planned for early erection on the 60-acre Memphis campus.

Regina Clary (B.A.'59) has completed the M.A. at University of Arizona and will replace Tom Loney as journalism instructor and assistant director of publicity and publications. Loney is now serving as assistant minister of the College Church of Christ in Austin, Tex.

Geneva Combs (B.A. '62) will be instructor in business and secretarial science, replacing Deanna

Neal Pryor (B.A.'56; B.S.L.'58) will teach Bible, replacing John McRay who is on leave to complete the Ph.D. at University of Chicago.

Don Robinson, B.A. South-western Missouri State College, who has done work toward the M.A. at Colorado State Teachers College, will replace Herbert Dean as a teacher of art. Dean is now associated with Crowley's Ridge Christian College in development.

Two New Majors

In preparation for the new school year, new courses have been added, others have been revised, new majors have been created and the curriculum has been reorganized and strengthened in some departments.

A new major added is a Bachelor of Science degree in American Studies. Previously, American Studies work was channeled into existing majors in business, education and social science. A second new major is the expansion of the Bachelor of Arts in Social Science into a broad area major, requiring no minor.

Curricula have been revised. reorganized and expanded in the Departments of Art, Bible, Mathematics and Graduate Education, keeping Harding on a high academic plane.

Sharon Unland Grady is one of 56 who received degrees at Summer Commencement. Waiting his turn to receive the B.S. degree from Dr. Benson is Albert W. Gray.

History of Harding Is Be ng Published

A History of Harding College is now being published serially in "Ministers' Monthly." It is written by Dr. James Atteberry, professor of English, from research of yearbooks, old Bisons, other printed material and by interviews with old-timers. The first installment appeared in June. Remaining articles will appear monthly until the entire series has been published.

> The afternoon sessions were equally well attended and were also instructive and inspiring. Many elders attended the workshop on leadership directed by W. J. Hamby, Beaumont, Tex., elder.

> Mrs. E. H. Ijams dramatically and dynamically spoke to the women each afternoon about the responsibilities of women in teaching the Bible at home. Jule Miller demonstrated personal evangelism as practiced in cottage meetings. Education directors were instructed in a class conducted by T. B. Underwood.

Evening Programs
