Eight Hardingites Either Leaving Or Returning To Mission Field; Six Work in Parts of Africa

Harding now has many alumni and associates who are serving Christ in distant lands, and any attempt to list them would undoubtedly fail. However, several of them are now either returning to their field or leaving it for a time.

Five who are coming home with their families in order to make further preparation to return are Dow Merritt, J. C. Shewmaker, Leon Clymore, J. A. Hobby and Douglas Lawyer.

Dow Merritts

Merritt, who received the Distinguished Alumnus Award last year, is returning this month from Africa. The missionary in Africa for more than 35 years is returning to live in Searcy, where he will enroll a son and daughter in Harding College this semester, and a daughter will attend the Harding Academy.

Merritt began service as a medical missionary at Kabanga Mission which he helped to establish in 1926. He attended Western Literary Bible College before enrolling at Harper and later Cordell, two predecessors of Harding.

J. A. Hobbys

Another life-long missionary in Africa, J. A. Hobby (BA'37), recently returned. Now living in Texarkana, Hobby plans to take a course in nursing before going back to Africa. Mrs. Hobby (Georgia Pruett, BA'38) is teaching. They plan to remain in this country for several years.

J. C. Shewmakers

In the same classification are J. C. Shewmaker (BA'30) and his wife (Joyce Copeland BA'33) who returned last month from Central Africa. The Shewmakers have been serving at the Namwianga Mission, Kalomo, Northern Rhodesia, since 1939. They have been home only once since then, from October 1948 to October 1949. With them in Africa are their son, Stan (BA'60) and his wife (Joan Seay) who are teaching in the school for whites. All white teachers in the colored schools are confined to teaching Bible.

Douglas Lawyers

Douglas Lawyer (BA'49) and his wife (Charla Cranford, '54) with their family arrived in Little Rock Dec. 7, after completing two years of work in Nigeria, West Africa. They plan a six months speaking tour before returning to Nigeria in 1963.

Lawyer served as principal of the Bible Training College at Onicha Ngwa, and as evangelist among the Ibo tribe of Eastern Nigeria.

Leon Clymores

Returning from Nyasaland are Leon Clymore (BA'58) and his wife (Luella Cheney, '60) and their family. They are now in California where Clymore plans to attend Pepperdine College for a short time.

Ken Elders

Leaving recently for the foreign fields have been Ken Elder (BA'49) and his wife (Iris Merritt, BA'42). They returned to the Kabanga Mission, Northern Rhodesia, South Africa.

Gerald Starling

With help from the Harding student body, Gerald Starling (BA'60) obtained sufficient funds and is now in Wellington, New Zealand. He arrived the first of this month.

Irene Johnson

Irene Johnson, Harding faculty member and former missionary in Germany, plans to return to Frankfurt this summer to stay indefinitely. Miss Johnson was in Germany for nine years before returning to the United States to teach at Harding in 1957.

Guest Column

Wake Up To The Truth!

by Leon Sanderson, BA '54

W. S. Gilbert, comic opera writer with Arthur Sullivan, has one of his characters saying, "You have no idea of what poor opinion I have of myself—and how little I deserve it." Many have a poor opinion of themselves without reason. If you feel this way, you have failed to realize your worth. The talents you possess, whether many or few, are God-given and valuable. These abilities make your potential much greater. Wake up to the truth and recognize the power that is within you and around you!

Alumni often possess this incorrect concept in their relationship to their Alma Mater. A recent article reported the enrollment of Harding very near the 1200 mark. Campus news relates that plans are materializing for the alumni house-continuing education center which will cost about $750,000. The Harding Graduate School of Bible and Religion in Memphis is making progress. The area of influence of this Bible-centered curriculum is reaching university campuses and surrounding states. The success of proposed growth is largely dependent upon alumni.

There are several ways in which the Harding alumni may translate their value into action. They offer the best publicity available. The school mails out printed brochures. Personnel from the Alumni Office visit homes and groups of young people across the nation. Many prospective students remain unconvinced until they can be assured of the opportunities at Harding by a former student. There is no substitute for the enthusiasm of alumni when it comes to gaining new students.

Alumni are best aware of the qualifications of Harding and are most responsive to the need for finances. The Alumni Office hopes to find 100 former students

Alumnus, Father Give $841

Wallace Alexander (BA'57) partner with his father Flanoy Alexander in the publishing and printing firm in Delight, Arkansas, which publishes the Gospel Light magazine, joined with his father in a gift of $841.00 to Harding College in November. They gave 20,000 copies of the November paper to Harding to mail to additional families.

The November edition of the paper carried articles and news on Harding's new estate planning services. When the costs of the paper and printing and delivery were calculated the Alexanders made a gift of the entire project to the college.

IN SYMPATHY

Our sympathy is extended to the following:

Ordis Copeland (BA'46) whose wife, Aleatrice Freeze Copeland ('41), was killed in an automobile accident on Nov. 16.

The family of Paul Hobby ('63) who passed away Aug. 10 because of infectious mononucleosis.

The family of Inez Shofner ('50) who passed away Sept. 8 in Texarkana. She was the sister of Mrs. Lillie Huddleston (BA'40) of Searcy.

Irene Johnson (Assoc.) whose mother passed away Aug. 22 following a heart attack. Mrs. Johnson had been ill for some time.

APOLOGY

Miss Pearle Mahan (BA'50), is an annual contributor to the Alumni fund and our apology to Pearle for failure to list her name among those who gave last year.

who will give $1,000 to the newly announced continuing education center. There are more than 100 who are able to give this amount over a two-year period. However, the greatness of this request does not overshadow the need for smaller contributions from every alumnus. Not only are these contributions helpful in expanding and sustaining Harding's program, but also are helpful in securing donations from foundations and corporations throughout our nation. In this latter case, the percentage of alumni who give is more important than the amount given.

Are alumni important? Definitely! Our role as former Harding students is unique and invaluable. Let us fulfill our potential in every available way.

Gary Blake Begins Work With Deaf In Ethiopia Mission

Gary Blake, his wife Mary and their children left for Addis Ababa, Ethiopia on Oct. 1, 1962 from the Little Rock airport. Blake will head a school for the deaf in Ethiopia. This service will open the door for missionaries to remain in Ethiopia because according to national law, the church must render some special service to be recognized in the country.

From Little Rock the Blakes flew to London where they were met by the Linnie Darden family with whom they are to work. The families then flew to Paris, Rome and parts of the Holy Land before going to Addis Ababa.

The Blakes are being sponsored by the Faulkner and Robinson Streets congregation in Conway where Ordis Copeland is minister. The church in El Segundo, Calif. is sponsoring the Dardens.

Only eleven months after their decision to go to the Tthiopia mission field, Gary and Mary Blake and their two children, Matthew and Elizabeth, step of the Ethiopia Airlines flight from Cairo, Egypt.

This posed picture, taken in Addis Ababa, Nov. 19, 1962, shows three areas of curriculum in the first school for the deaf in Ethiopia which was started by our missionaries on Nov. 5. In addition to four deaf students, the teachers, left to right, are Linnie Darden working with the children at a slot chart teaching the days of the week; Atta Demera, a convert and former teacher for seven years in the Ethiopian government schools, teaching a new student how to write his name; and Gary Blake working with a girl in developing speech. A candle is used to help in teaching the "t" sound. This program in deaf education fulfills the government requirement that all mission groups provide a public service before it can be officially recognized and allowed to operate.

Leon (BA'58) and Luella Cheney ('60) Clymore have returned to the States after four years of evangelistic work in Africa. They plan to return to Nyasaland in 1963.

At its banquet meeting on Thursday evening, July 26, the John A. Dickson Publishing Company honored Dan J. Ottinger ('32), Area Manager from Nashville, Tenn., with a 20-volume set of the American Peoples Encyclopedia for his twenty-five years of service with the company.

Dorothy Fay Welsh (BA'49) was critically injured on Dec. 23 when she was struck by a car that went out of control and plunged into a crowd at the Southern Pacific railway station at Glendale, Calif. She had to undergo four hours of surgery immediately and is still in critical condition at the Glendale Memorial Hospital where she will have to remain for at least three months.

Dale T. Lemon ('53) has been appointed to the office of Vice-President of N.I.C.E. He was formerly minister for the church in Traverse City, Mich., but was replaced by Eugene Pickren ('63). Mrs. Pickren is the former Sandra Chastain (Special '60).

Harding Alumna Releases First Record; Others Scheduled

United Southern Recording of Hot Springs has released a new record of Dot Beck, a former Harding elementary school teacher and a 1952 graduate of Harding College. The record features "When is Tomorrow." The flip side is "Ed Went A-Courtin," an arrangement by Mrs. Beck of the old folk song, "Froggie Went A-Courtin."

Mrs. Beck sings on KWCB, Searcy radio station, each Wednesday and Friday mornings at 10:00 on "Tips and Tunes."

She has appeared with Steve Stephens on "Eye on Arkansas," a KTHV production. Stephens liked her performance so much that he has invited her to appear weekly on his program.

"I Close My Eyes," an original composition by Mrs. Beck, will be recorded soon for her next release.

☆ Chapter News ☆

Arkansas

The ARK-LA alumni chapter met Oct. 13, 1962, in Norphlet, Arkansas. Eighteen were present to hear L. O. Sanderson speak and lead the group in singing. The first Distinguished Alumni Award was given to L. O. Sanderson. Plans were made for raising funds for one-half the amount needed for an athletic scholarship for the current school year.

New club officers were elected and installed. They are Varna Davis (BA'36), president; Don Fike (BA'51), vice-president; and Mrs. Diamond Perkins Sewell (BA'46), secretary. The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 12, 1963, at the Block and Hardy Street Church building in El Dorado.

Oklahoma

The Oklahoma City alumni held its annual fall meeting on Oct. 26, at the Tropical Cafeteria. The entertainment was furnished by a quartet from Oklahoma Christian College. Jimmy Allen, a member of the Harding Bible faculty, was the speaker. More than forty were present for the dinner and program that followed.

The following new officers were elected:

Phil Watson (BA'59), president; Marion Hickingbottom (BA'50), vice-president; and Mrs. Linda Phillips Alexander ('60), secretary-treasurer.

The Bartlesville Alumni Chapter reported that their last meeting was held Dec. 18, at the home of Wayne Smathers. Following the business meeting, they sang Christmas Carols and had refreshments.

The following officers were elected: Wayne Smathers ('42), president; and William Nations (BA'48), vice-president. Mrs. Lucien Bagnetto (BA'47), secretary-treasurer, is serving in that capacity for two years.

Southeast Louisiana

The Southeast Louisiana Chapter met Dec. 7, at the A & G Resturant. They will continue to sponsor a partial scholarship for a Harding student. The 1962-63 scholarship will go to Lance Haines, a Harding freshman. New officers elected were Johnny Figgins (BS'55), president; Mrs. Melvin Ganus ('49), vice-president; and Mrs. Perry Maon, Jr. (BS'60), secretary-treasurer. The chapter secretary mailed a check to the alumni office with the names of all chapter contributors for the purpose of helping with the percentage of alumni giving.

This is a scene from a typical annual party given by Claude and Mary French of Detroit, Mich. for the Detroit Alumni Association of Harding College. Once a year the Frenches go "all out" in decorating their home in keeping with the season or holiday for a lively party and dinner for all former students of Harding College. This is an event that all former Harding students, who have once attended one of the parties, look forward to with interest each year. Those present at the party were Fred and Claudette Harris (BA'57) Alexander; Doyle (BA'41) and Margaret Earwood; Cecil (BA'58) and Jo Lilly (BA'56) Alexander; Otis and Alma Morgan ('33) Gatewood; Hugh (BA'51) and Joy Smith ('53) Mingle; Joe and Joy Eddings; Logan and Mona Conley (Special) Mathis; Gene ('51) and Wanda Hatcher; Robert (BA'54) and Susan Waggoner; Bude ('38) and Lois Gardner ('30) Little; Leo and Hae Murphy ('31) Gentry; George (BS'43) and El Meta Finch ('38) Ford; Claude and Mary French; Fay Conley (BA'60); Sue Gentry; Tom Martin ('63) and Georgia Carver.

NOTICE

The Harding College Alumni Association is organized to serve all students who have attended Harding for any length of time—whether one semester or four years. Former students have questioned this ranking, but as we understand it, this is the general policy of all schools. If you have received credits from Harding Colleges, you are eligible for the services of its Alumni Association.
