An Expression of Gratitude

By Jack Wood Sears

Shortly we will be enjoying a feast of good things at our annual Lectureship. Traditionally this has been a time of thanksgiving and of counting our blessings. That is what I want to do for a moment now.

Isn't this a wonderful world? There are mountains of problems, and as we stand looking at them many present apparently insurmountable cliffs and unscalable heights. But this has always been so. Think of the blessings these obstacles provide in the challenges they present to the best, the strongest, the most courageous qualities of all of us. Anyone can live when the times are easy. It takes men of faith and courage to meet the challenge of adversity.

God has indeed complimented us by permitting these problems to confront us. In His divine judgment there must be among us men and women who can and will meet the challenge. I can't help but believe He is thinking of some of you, the alumni of Harding College.

I'm grateful for the challenges and confident that by His power you will come through in these times as you have in the past. This year for the first time the Harding alumni have exceeded the $100,000 mark in our contributions. For this I personally am very grateful.

Your response to our letters and appeals has been most wonderful. More than 23 per cent responded with something. Of course, this is not as high a percentage as we would like; but this is considerably above last year and higher than all but three of the last ten years.

Gifts ranged from 10 cents to more than $5,000. We are grateful for the 10 cents because really it is not how much you give that is so important, but the fact that you cared enough to give something. Certainly we rejoice in the large gifts and are thankful to God that an increasing number of you have been blessed to the extent that you can make substantial gifts to your Alma Mater.

We rejoice because of the more than $101,000 that you gave this year. Every "little bit" helps to make it easier for Dr. Ganus and those who work with him in the financial end of this great work we call Harding. Again let me say I am grateful to all of you.

I am grateful that the amount given each year has steadily increased, with the exception of 1960-61, when it remained the same as the year before. This is as it should be. Both the percentages of alumni giving and the total alumni gift should increase year by year. Let's keep up this encouraging trend.

Again let me say thank you from all of us here. I hope you are planning to be with us at the Lectureship. God willing, I will see you then.
