52nd Annual Lectureship To Feature 37 Speakers

Presentations by 37 speakers will highlight Harding's 1975 Lectureship program Oct. 8-11. The theme for the 52nd annual event is "They Being Dead Yet Speak."

This will be the third year the Lectureship has been held in October instead of the traditional Thanksgiving week. The change was first initiated in 1973.

The opening day (Wednesday) has been designated as Student Day, with the day's activities oriented toward the youth. Theme lecturers will speak in the evenings and during chapel sessions the remainder of the week. Theme forums with multiple speakers are scheduled for Thursday and Friday mornings at 10 and afternoons at 1:25. Classes and special lectures are also scheduled to explore various topics within the general theme of the four-day program.

Theme lecturers and their topics are Jimmy Allen of Searcy, "They Being Dead Yet Speak;" Warren Wilcox of Littleton, Colo., "Moses, A Successful Failure;" Dale Foster of Wichita Falls, Tex., "John, Son of Thunder and Apostle of Love;" John Whitley of Cleveland, Ohio, "Abraham, Faith in Action;" Marvin Phillips of Tulsa, Okla., "Esther, Providence of God;" Will Ed Warren of Searcy, "Timothy, No Man Likeminded;" and Wendell Winkler of Fort Worth, "Joseph, A Type of Christ."

Participating in theme forums will be Jack Lawyer of Pine Bluff, C. W. Bradley of Memphis, and Jay Lockhart of Tulsa, Okla., "Monarchs of Old;" James L. May of Newport, Frank Worgan of Corby, England, and Martel Pace of Kennett, Mo., "My Servants the Prophets;" Claude Lewis of Jacksonville, Edwin White of Phoenix, Ariz., and Bill Smith of West Monroe, La., "The Glory of the Ordinary;" and

John Cannon of Hot Springs, Sherman Cannon of Cypress, Calif., and Avon Malone of Searcy, "Heroes of Acts."

Serving as Wednesday Student Day speakers are Kenneth Reed of Tuscaloosa, Ala., "What Was Jesus Really Like;" Wally Wilkerson of Richardson, Tex., "Mirror, Mirror on the Wall or I've Been Framed;" Eddie Cloer of Osceola, "The Power and Influence of One Dedicated Life;" Dale Smith of Glen Ellyn, Ill., "Lessons from a Cave Man;" and Larry James of New Orleans, "God's Grace and Christian Morality."

Conducting classes will be Jim McGuiggan of Lubbock, Tex., "Studies in Daniel;" Bob Rigdon of Sylva, N.C., "Counseling;" Gene Ellmore of Huntington Beach, Calif., "Evangelism, Organization, Visitation — A Formula;" Dan Woodroof of Kerrville, Tex., "The Christian Home;" Albert Hill of Florence, Ala., "Children's Hour and Related Teaching Arrangements;" Virginia Vaught of Richardson, Tex., "What Makes Johnny Obey;" Dale Smith of Glen Ellyn, Ill., "Leadership for a Dynamic Church;" Louis Butterfield of Searcy, "Visual Aids;" Ed Sanders of Searcy, "Problem Passages;" and Frances Gammon of Vicksburg, Miss., "Whose Daughters Ye Are."

Presenting special lectures will be Keith Robinson of Garland, Tex., "Some of God's Great Missionaries;" Bill Cox of Searcy, "Christian Stewardship;" Waymon Miller of Tulsa, Okla., "Why Preachers Quit;" and Jerry Jones of Searcy, "Presuppositions of Persuasive Preaching."

Teas, breakfasts, luncheons and dinners are also scheduled during the Lectureship as well as performances by campus music groups.

CBS Correspondent Highlights Fall American Studies Series

Robert Pierpoint, White House correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System, will speak at a presentation October 2, sponsored by the American Studies Program. The program will be held in the Harding College Main Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

As CBS White House correspondent since 1957, Pierpoint has traveled more than one million miles with Presidents Dwight Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon. He has been an eye witness to every major national and international event from the 1960 Paris Summit Conference with Eisenhower and President Kennedy's assassination to current domestic and international happenings.

An honor graduate in economics from the University of Redlands, Pierpoint was a freelance broadcaster in Stockholm, before joining CBS in 1949. He covered the Korean War and was Far East Bureau chief for CBS before being appointed White House correspondent.

Pierpoint's presentation will be one of a series of nationally known speakers who will be brought to the Harding campus this year. Other speakers already confirmed include Dr. Jack Evans, president of Southwestern Christian College in Terrell, Tex., Sept. 18, and Bob Bleiberg, editor of Barron's National Business and Financial Weekly, Sept. 22.

On Sept. 23, Dr. Max Rafferty, a noted educator, will speak at the Harding campus in Memphis.

Beverley Venable Thompson, chairman of the board for the Texas Steel Company, compared the fable of King Midas to today's American society for Harding's 95 summer graduates August 15. (See related story on page 2.)

Kresge Grants $100,000 For Athletic-P.E. Project

Harding will receive a grant of $100,000 from the Sebastian S. Kresge Foundation of Troy, Michigan. The grant is to be applied toward the construction of a gymnasium and physical education center.

The joint announcement of the grant was made by William H. Baldwin, president of the foundation, and Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., president of the college. Payment of the grant is conditioned upon the raising of the balance of funds required for the project by April 15, 1976.

The grant by the Kresge Foundation is one of the largest contributions toward the $2,900,000 construction project. The gymnasium and physical education center project is part of Phase III of the college's Decade of Development. Projects in Phase III total $12.65 million in cost.

Founded by Sebastian S. Kresge, the Foundation contributes annually more than $25 million to charitable, non-profit, civic and educational organizations. In 1972 the Kresge Foundation made a $100,000 grant toward the construction of the Hammon Student Center on the Harding campus.

Construction on the gymnasium and physical education center is scheduled to be completed in January, 1976. The new structure has been designed to satisfy existing and future needs of the college.

The gymnasium will seat 5,000 for athletic events and it will have an all-purpose synthetic surface. Through the use of specially designed curtains which can be raised or lowered, the large basketball court can be divided into as many as six separate teaching areas.

Design features will enable the simultaneous teaching of basketball, tennis, track, volleyball, badminton, shuffleboard, table tennis and archery at various areas of the large facility. The building has been acoustically designed to prohibit distracting noise while various classes are in session.

An indoor track, weight room, three handball courts and a gymnastics area are also included in the building. The indoor track will be the only such facility in Arkansas.

The physical education center will provide office space for 12 faculty members, four classrooms and a student lounge, separate dressing room facilities for intercollegiate athletic participants, students, and faculty members.

Arrangement of one wing of the physical education center will provide students and intercollegiate participants with a six-lane 25-yard swimming pool with one- and three-meter diving boards. Seating for 300 spectators overlooking the pool is another feature of the center.

The gymnasium and physical education center will replace Rhodes Memorial Fieldhouse which was built in 1949 and has a seating capacity of only 2,000. Harding is expecting an enrollment of more than 2,500 for the 1975 fall semester.

Graduation Features Awards For Thompson, McKinney

Two prominent businessmen, Beverley Venable Thompson of Fort Worth, Tex., and Emory Maurice McKinney of Montgomery, Ala., were cited for distinguished American citizenship and presented certificates of award by President Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., during Harding's summer commencement exercises August 15.

Thompson, who was also speaker for the 95 Harding graduates, serves as chairman of the board of the Texas Steel Company, president of the Texas Education Association and as a director of the Liberty Manufacturing Company, the Continental National Bank and the Lauritzen and Makin Manufacturing Company, all in Fort Worth.

In making the presentation, Dr. Ganus said of Thompson: "He stands firmly for the basic principles that have made America great and is deeply interested in an education that seeks to develop a better understanding of an appreciation for our heritage. He has been a long-time friend and supporter of the work at Harding College and epitomizes the strength and character that have made the United States a great nation."

McKinney, a native of Georgia, has been active with the Civitan Clubs and has played a major role in aiding the success of the annual Youth Citizenship Seminar at Harding. (See related story on page three.)

"'Mac McKinney' is an enthusiastic, optimistic, dedicated American citizen and Christian gentleman who has given liberally of himself in service to his God, his country and his people. We at Harding College appreciate him and value greatly his friendship and his untiring efforts," Ganus said.

Of those graduating, 56 received the bachelor of arts degree, 24 the bachelor of science, one the bachelor of science in medical technology and 14 the master of education degree.

Dr. Ganus, B. V. Thompson and M.Ed. graduate Bob Knight meet during the aftermath of summer commencement. Knight is an assistant football and head baseball coach at a Memphis, Tenn., junior high school.

Jo Cleveland

Don Diffine

Two Earn Doctorates at Ole Miss

Mrs. Jo Cleveland, associate professor of English, and Don Diffine, assistant professor of economics, have recently completed requirements for the doctorate degree from the University of Mississippi.

Mrs. Cleveland, who joined the Harding faculty in 1966, was awarded the Doctor of Arts degree in English during commencement exercises at Ole Miss August 17. Her doctoral essay was entitled "Some Aspects of Literary Criticism and the English Curriculum."

She holds the B.A. degree in English education and M.A. degree in English, both from Michigan State University. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society, the American Association of University Women, the Modern Language Association, the South Central Modern Language Association and the National Council of Teachers of English.

Mrs. Cleveland was recipient of the Distinguished Teacher award in 1972 from Harding, and was named to Outstanding Educators of America in 1973.

Diffine completed and successfully defended in July his dissertation, "Analysis of Economic Understandings and Attitudes of Students Attending Four Year Colleges Associated with Churches of Christ."

Diffine holds the B.A. degree in economics from Long Beach State College and the M.A. degree in economics from St. Mary's University at San Antonio, Tex. He joined the Harding faculty in the fall of 1971 and previously had been the squadron commander of the 3707 Basic Military Training Squadron, Lackland AFB, Tex.

Diffine is a member of the American Economics Association, National Association of Business Economists, Southern Economic Association, and the Economic History Association.

O. O. Emmons Honored at Memphis

O. O. Emmons of Memphis has been recognized by Harding Academy and the Harding Graduate School of Religion for his leadership and support of Christian education, according to Hoyt White, director of development in Memphis.

Now more than 85 years old, Emmons played a major role in securing the King property on which the Academy and Graduate School now stand. The King Estate was purchased in 1953 for $280,000 by the Board of Trustees of the Memphis Christian Schools.

According to the Board minutes, J. W. Fox, Board chairman, said, "The committee of Brother Emmons, Walton Lipsey and Vernon Lovinggood were successful in securing the King Property for the school Brother Emmons kept at it until he got it. He said it was the most difficult transaction in 25

Jones to Head Graduate Studies

Dr. Wyatt Jones, a 1951 Harding alumnus and former head of the education department at Pepperdine University at Malibu, has been named director of graduate studies at Harding.

A native of Samburg, Tenn., Jones holds a B.A. degree in math and history from Harding and the M.A. and EdD degrees from the University of Alabama.

He previously has taught or served as principal in high schools in Berry and Parrish, Ala., has taught at the University of Alabama and has served as director of testing for Pepperdine University.

As professor of education and head of graduate studies, Jones will counsel graduate students, teach educational psychology classes and graduate education courses in educational sociology and research methods.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Alpha Theta honor societies and various educational associations.

His wife, the former Iris Miller, will serve as library assistant in the Beaumont Memorial Library. They have three children, Karen, Philip and Kevin.

Jones was a member of Lambda Sigma social club while a student at Harding and reports that he was the Harding ping pong champion for two years.

Wyatt Jones

Elliott, Organ Papers To Be Read at CCL

Dr. Gary D. Elliott and Dr. Dennis Organ of the Harding English department have been asked to read papers at the regional meeting of the Conference on Christianity and Literature in Waco, Tex., Sept. 26-27.

According to Elliott, the CCL is a "national organization of scholars interested in the relationship of Christianity and literature, and dedicated to scholarly excellence and fellowship among college-level teachers of literature."

Elliott, chairman of the English department and assistant professor of English, will read his composition "A Farewell to Arms: Frederic Henry's Farewell to Faith." Elliott holds the B.A. degree from Harding, the M.A. from North Texas State University and Ph.D. from Kansas State University. He has served as chairman of the English department since 1973.

The paper to be read by Organ, assistant professor of English, will be "Tennyson's King Arthur: A Failed Christ." Organ, a 1966 graduate of Harding, has been a member of the faculty since 1967. He holds the master's degree in journalism from the University of Missouri at Columbia and recently completed the doctorate at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

or 30 years of his business life."

He was born in Corinth, Miss., and left home at 18 with his brother to enroll at Georgia Robertson College in Henderson, Tenn. After some experience as a cotton buyer, he attended Macon and Anders Business College in Memphis and became secretary to the Mobile and Ohio Railroad in Corinth.

Through the years he was involved in the wholesale grocery and the lumber business before ill health forced his retirement in 1948.

"Though his physical heart is in poor health, his spiritual heart beats strong with support for Christian education," White said. "A major gift made possible the campaign in 1966 for the construction of the O. O. Emmons Auditorium at the Harding Academy of Memphis. He and his wife are long time friends of Harding and we salute them for their support."

Alumni Reunions, Musicals To Highlight Homecoming

Alumni reunions, musical productions and special programs, dinners and gatherings will highlight the November 7-8 Homecoming celebration.

According to Dr. James Carr, chairman of the Homecoming Committee, a strong emphasis is being initiated to bring all Harding alumni back to the campus whose graduating years are a multiple of five, from 1925-75.

"Dr. Harry Oree, president of the Alumni Association, has contacted all class presidents of the designated classes who in turn are writing a letter to be sent to all class members," Carr said. "We have also selected local people from each five-year class to coordinate activities here on campus."

Activities for the alumni reunion will include a Continental Breakfast, an alumni chapel presented by the class of 1950, reunion gatherings with groups and social clubs of former membership, campus devotionals, and the annual Black and Gold Banquet, with Morton Utley of Phoenix, Ariz., founder of the Utley improvement awards at Harding, as speaker.

The Homecoming musical tentatively scheduled for the week-end will be "Annie Get Your Gun." For guests who attend the musical on Friday night, "Black-Out '75," a fast-moving variety show featuring top campus talent, will be presented Saturday evening in Rhodes Memorial fieldhouse.

The traditional events are scheduled, which include a city parade, the chili supper and the Saturday afternoon football game with Southern State College, with special pre-game and half-time activities highlighted by the crowning of this year's Homecoming queen.

The theme for Homecoming, 1975 will be announced at a later date, Carr said.

Mississippi Businessman Inducted Into Oral History Association

Irving F. Hyde, a Thyatira and Tate County, Mississippi, businessman, was inducted August 1 into the Harding College Oral History Association, a member of the national Oral History Association.

The 90-minute recorded interview was conducted by Hoyt White, special representative of the college. Hyde became the eleventh inductee of Harding's Oral History Association.

Among the inductees are H. R. Gibson, founder of the Gibson Discount chain; Dr. George S. Benson, president emeritus of Harding; Gordon B. McLendon, founder of the 458-station Liberty Broadcasting System; W. R. "Whitt" Stephens, retired chairman of the board and former president of Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company; Wallace E. Johnson, vice chairman of Holiday Inns Incorporated; the late Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, a United States District Judge; and O. O. Emmons, a retired Memphis businessman.

During the induction interview the 78-year-old Thyatira resident recounted his business career in Tate County and his 20-year employment with the Veterans Administration.

He cited his early school experiences in a one-room log cabin schoolhouse near Thyatira, his education at Mississippi State University, his teaching experience in Oklahoma, and his service in the Marine Corps during World War I.

He was wounded in the Battle of the Argonne in France and was later discharged. He returned to Senatobia, Miss., and began farming and operating a grocery store. Hyde was soon hired by the Veterans Administration to help disabled veterans select farm sites and to teach the veterans to farm successfully.

The Oral History induction was recorded at Hyde's home in Thyatira.

Irving F. Hyde displays some of his well-aged memorabilia to Hoyt White.

President Clifton L. Ganus presents E. M. McKinney his award.

Harding Honors Alabamian

Emory M. "Mac" McKinney, an Alabama insurance executive and civic leader, was awarded the Distinguished American Citizenship Award during the summer commencement exercises August 15.

The award is the highest recognition made by Harding to honor individuals who have made outstanding contributions in promoting citizenship and the free enterprise system.

A graduate of Auburn University, McKinney has been employed by Alabama Farm Bureau Insurance since 1948. He is district sales manager in Montgomery. He is an elder in the Druid Hills Church of Christ.

In May he was presented the "Liberty Bell Award" by the Montgomery County and Federal Bar Association. The award was for outstanding civic leadership. He was nominated for the award by the Normandale Civitan Club.

He has been a member of Civitan International since 1955. He served as president and vice president of both the Anniston (Ala.) and the Normandale Civitan Clubs.

For the past nine years he has been the Civitan district chairman for Harding's annual Youth Citizenship Seminar. In recognition of his work with the seminar, the Alabama-West Florida District of Civitan International presented McKinney with the "District Honor Key," the highest honor a district can award.

McKinney makes trips to every club in the district informing them about the seminar. He coordinates the bus routes, the pickup stations and secures chaperones for the week-long seminar.

"When Mac and his bus caravan from Alabama arrive we know it's time to begin the seminar. And we don't begin without him," said Dr. Billy Ray Cox, vice president of Harding and director of the Youth Citizenship Seminar.

"He is truly dedicated to citizenship education. Mac has been known to board a bus at 6 a.m. on Sunday in Montgomery and go with the group to Searcy. He would then ride the bus back to Montgomery during the night and be at work at 8 a.m. Monday morning," said Cox.

"Mac has also worked all day on Friday and then boarded a bus for Searcy in order to ride back to Alabama with the students the following day."

The first year McKinney escorted a group of 46 to Harding. The number has grown to more than 200 who make the trip each year from the Alabama-West Florida District.

Harding's Youth Citizenship Seminar was begun in 1956 after Civitan Clubs in Alabama and Florida asked the college to establish such a program. Approximately 425 students attend the seminar each summer in June.

McKinney is a member of the board of directors of Auburn Christian Foundation. He was nominated by the YMCA for "Man of the Year" honors and in 1974 was "Boss of the Year" of the Montgomery Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

He is married to the former Kathryn Gunter and the couple has two daughters, Gail and Barbara, both of whom attended Harding.

Faculty Additions Made to 8 Departments

Faculty additions to eight departments have been announced by Dr. Joseph Pryor, vice president for academic affairs and dean of the college.

Joining the Bible department are Tom Eddins of Cincinnati, Ohio, Joe Dale Jones of Searcy and Frank Worgan of Corby, England.

A native of Henderson, Ky., Eddins attended the University of Evansville and Freed-Hardeman College and holds the B.A. degree from David Lipscomb College, and the M.A. and M.Th. degrees from the Harding Graduate School of Religion. He has served as minister for churches in Tennessee and Indiana and has come to Harding from Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati where he accepted the H. R. Sheurer Fellowship.

Jones has lived in Searcy for four years where he has been involved in attending school and in full-time local work. Last year he was minister for the church at Marked Tree, while attending the Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis. A 1973 Harding alumnus, Jones is additionally a graduate of the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock, Tex., and received the M.A. degree from Harding Graduate School in August.

Worgan is serving as visiting professor of missions for the 1975-76 school year. The seventh missionary to work in Harding's visiting missionary program, he is only the second who is a native of the country he serves. Worgan was educated in England and received evangelistic training in Bathgate, Scotland. He will participate in the Mission/Prepare program in addition to teaching Bible classes.

Arnold C. Anderson, a Huntsville, Ala., native, will serve as instructor of art. He has attended Freed-Hardeman College, Itawamba Junior College in Fulton, Miss., and holds the B.A. and M.Ed. degrees from Harding. He has taught one year at the Harding Academy in Searcy as an art and Bible teacher.

The newest addition to the psychology department is Robert McKelvain of College Station, Tex. He holds the B.A. degree from Abilene Christian College, the M.A. degree from Texas A & M University and is a doctoral student in counseling psychology at TAMU. He previously has directed research in missions at ACC and has served as lecturer for the TAMU department of political science.

John Nunnally has joined the faculty to assist in computer operations and the math department. (A computer story will be featured next month.)

New librarians with faculty status are Suzanne Spurrier, a 1971 Harding alumnus, and Frank D. Hays of Henderson, Tenn. Miss Spurrier, who will work in circulation cataloging, holds the M.A. degree from the University of West Virginia. She has previously taught an elementary school fifth grade class in Parkersburg, W.

Va., for four and one-half years.

Hays has served two years as periodicals librarian at Freed-Hardeman and will be filling the same capacity at Harding. He holds the M.L.S. from George Peabody College.

Five additions have been made to the nursing department: Janice Bingham, Anna Chambless, Elissa Lane, Pat Rice and Louise Truex. (See related article.)

Elsie Huffard, wife of Evertt Huffard of the Bible department, will be teaching a course in ethnology in conjunction with the sociology department. The Huffards plan to return to the Middle East as missionaries next year.

Tom Statom of the history department and Duane McCampbell of the English department, have returned to Harding after a leave of absence. Statom has been working toward the doctorate at the University of Alabama and McCampbell has been at the University of Arkansas.

Joining the education department as assistant director of educational media is Louis Butterfield, who is returning from doctoral studies at Indiana State University at Bloomington. Butterfield will be in charge of all video on campus, will direct the television studio for the Christian Communications Program, and will teach an education course in graphics. He holds the EDS Specialist in Media degree and is nearing completion of requirements for the doctorate in education.

Offices, Dormitories Show New Personnel

New staff members at Harding include additions in the admissions office, the library and three residence halls.

Joining the staff as an admissions counselor is Ken Qualls, an August graduate of Harding who holds the B.A. in special education. A native of Hammond, Ind., Qualls has been working part-time with the office since May and has begun full-time work at the beginning of the fall semester. He has attended Thornton Community College and while a student at Harding was a member of Theta Alpha Gamma married students social club and the Spelunkers club.

Mrs. Wyatt (Iris) Jones of Malibu, Calif., will work at Beaumont Memorial Library replacing retiring Corinne Burke as library assistant. She is the wife of new graduate studies director, Wyatt Jones.

Three new families are managing Armstrong, Keller and the new women's residence halls. Serving as manager for Armstrong is Louis Butterfield, who has returned from doctoral studies in Indiana. Butterfield will be working with the education department and with the video portion of the Christian Communications Program.

Bob and Linda Hubbard will be dorm managers for Keller residence hall. They previously were managers of Pine Wood Manor apartments in Searcy, which housed male resident students of Harding. Hubbard will commute to the Harding Graduate School of Religion for two days a week to complete graduate studies by May.

Managing the new women's dormitory, which houses 300, are Mr. and Mrs. Doug Robison of Searcy. Mrs. Robison will serve as dorm mother and Robison will continue to serve as minister for the Southside Church of Christ in Searcy.

Five Join Nursing Education Teaching Staff

The teaching staff of the nursing education program, Harding's newest departmental addition, has increased by five for the fall semester, according to Mrs. A. Michele Warren, chairman of the department.

Joining the Harding faculty as assistant professors, instructors or lab assistants in nursing are Janice Bingham of Jackson, Tenn., Mrs. Ronald (Anna) Chambless of Birmingham, Ala., Elissa Lane of Wynne, Mrs. Guilford (Pat) Rice of Nashville, Tenn., and Louise Truex of Detroit, Mich.

Miss Bingham, a native of Jack's Creek, Tenn., is an alumnus of Freed-Hardeman and David Lipscomb colleges, and Union University at Jackson, Tenn., where she received degrees in nursing and medical technology. Miss Bingham previously has taught elementary school in conjunction with Mission Exodus to Stamford, Conn., has worked one year in Shiloh, N.J., and two years in Zambia as a missionary. Coming to Harding from Union Hospital in Jackson, she will join the nursing faculty in September as a clinical laboratory assistant and will work part time at Central Arkansas General Hospital in Searcy.

Mrs. Chambless, a Bridgeport, Ala., native, comes to Harding from the University Hospital in Birmingham. She attended David Lipscomb College, the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa and received the B.S. degree in nursing from the University of Alabama at Birmingham in 1974. She is a member of Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Honor Society and the American Nurses Association. Serving as an assistant instructor of nursing, Mrs. Chambless will teach first semester nursing courses.

A 1973 Harding alumnus, Elissa Lane has attended the University of Kansas and the University of Arkansas and holds bachelors degrees in history and nursing and the MNSc in maternal-child health. A member of the Arkansas Nurses Association, she was previously employed with Arkansas State University at Jonesboro. As assistant professor of nursing, she will teach maternal-child nursing and is co-coordinator of first semester nursing courses.

Mrs. Rice, a graduate of David Lipscomb College and the Aultman Hospital School of Nursing in Canton, Ohio, worked at Lipscomb for 10 years in supervision and as a counselor for pre-nursing students. As clinical lab assistant, she will perform as coordinator of the Learning Resource Lab.

Specializing in psychiatric nursing is Louise Truex, assistant professor of nursing. A native of Barnsville, Ohio, she holds the BSN degree from Ohio State University and the MSN from Wayne State University in Detroit. In addition to her speciality area she will be co-coordinator of first semester nursing courses and is currently working with a group to prepare a paper for the national conference of rehabilitation in November, 1975. "What Does the Patient Say," a new approach to rehabilitation," an article for publication, will be prepared after the conference.

Facilities for the nursing education program are housed in the renovated Olen Hendrix Nursing and Home Economics Center, of which 7,500 square feet are designated for required resources for the program.

Formerly known as the Old Science Building, the remodeled structure is named for Olen Hendrix, a member of Harding's Board of Trustees. Hendrix has taken an active interest in Christian education and leadership in promoting health care in Arkansas.

Catherine Gould

'71 Grad Completes CPS Examination

Catherine Gould, a 1971 Harding alumnus, has completed all requirements for qualification as a Certified Professional Secretary, according to an announcement made by the National Secretaries Association.

Miss Gould, the secretary for Dr. Joseph E. Pryor, vice-president for academic affairs at Harding, learned of her certification July 8. The certification program for professional secretaries is similar to requirements for the Certified Public Accountant.

She completed all segments of the six-part examination in the spring of 1975. The CPS exam has been developed and administered by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, which is a department of the National Secretaries Association in Kansas City, Mo.

The examination is based upon an analysis of secretarial work, with emphasis on judgment, understanding and administrative ability gained through experience. It includes skills, techniques and knowledge in the areas of environmental relationships, business and public policy, economics of management, financial analysis, communications and decision making and office procedures.

Miss Gould completed four parts of the exam in 1973, one part in 1974 and the final part in 1975. Unlike some desiring to qualify who took courses for 30 hours undergraduate credit, Miss Gould's studies were on an individual private basis with the aid of two correspondence courses in the business field, and a bibliography provided by the Institute. As of 1974, only 18 CPS's were located in Arkansas and 7,737 in the United States.

Miss Gould, a native of Kensett, has worked for Harding and Dr. Pryor since August, 1971. She received the bachelor's degree in secretarial science and while a student at Harding she was a member of the A Cappella and recording choruses.

Education Society Holds Initiation

Nineteen Harding education majors were inducted July 23 into the Nu Lambda chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society for education majors.

Charles Ganus, senior from Searcy and charter member of the society, conducted the first initiation ceremony since the chapter's beginning in April.

To be eligible for membership students must be juniors, seniors or graduate students with a grade point average of 3.25 or higher.

New members include: Lee Ellis, Corinne Eubanks, Robert Gomer, Renee Hill, Bob Knight, Jimmie Lee Mills, Maxine Morton, Mary Mosley, Joy Olree, Judy Perry, Richard Powell, Mary Jane Phillips, Jean Rogers, Judy Scammerhorn, Judy Street, Billie Ruth Verkler, Alan Whitten, Tony Wood and Kay Wunderlich.

Kappa Delta Pi was founded March 8, 1911 at the University of Illinois. The Nu Lambda chapter was installed at Harding by Dr. J. Richard McElheny, executive secretary of Kappa Delta Pi, on April 30.

Dr. Ed Sewell, chairman of the department of education, is sponsor for the Harding chapter. There are currently 69 members, including faculty and students.

High School Students Attend Orientation

Two hundred high school students from 20 states including Hawaii, attended the last session of Harding College's Early Orientation program July 20-22, according to figures released by Dr. James Carr, director.

Carr said the total for the two sessions offered this summer was 330, which represented roughly half of the incoming freshman class for the fall.

"Our goal is to bring three-fourths of the freshman class to the Harding campus during early orientation sessions each summer," he said.

Those in attendance completed all activities required for incoming students except for the actual registration. Sessions were held on counseling, sectionizing, institutionalized testing, college services and the college's policies and procedures.

"The orientation sessions were designed to help the student make better adjustments during his freshman year," Carr said.

The Early Orientation program was introduced at Harding in 1973 with the goal of aiding new students in familiarizing themselves with the campus, taking care of preliminary details and becoming acquainted with faculty members.

Time of Day Announces Album

The Time of Day musical trio has completed a second record album, "Harding College Gives You the Time of Day," released August 7.

The group, made up of Chuck Hicks of High Point, N.C., Don Miller of Lubbock, Tex., and Tim Woodroof of Searcy, performed a variety of tunes for the album, ranging in style from folk rock to country.

The album features 15 popular songs, such as "Foggy Mountain Breakdown," "Stop and Smell the Roses," "This Old Guitar," "Best of My Love," "Amie," and "Helplessly Hoping." All songs executed are variations and adaptations of the originals.

"They feature our arranging abilities," Hicks said. "All of the vocal and instrumental music for the record was performed without the assistance of studio musicians."

"Our second record has a better sound than our first album, 'All Kinds of Time,' which was recorded here on campus," he continued.

A three-year veteran of the group, Hicks is a 1973 Harding graduate currently employed with the admissions office and as a staff artist in the Harding public relations office.

Miller is a senior Bible and psychology major at Harding and has been performing with the Time of Day since 1972.

Woodroof, as the newest member, joined the trio a year ago. He is a sophomore speech and Bible major at Harding.

Enrollment New High For Summer Session

A record 668 students enrolled for Harding's 1975 summer sessions, according to Virgil Beckett, registrar.

Ninety-three new students registered for the second session of classes, Beckett said, making the total for both sessions 87 students more than last year's 581 tally.

The second session breakdown of new students includes 13 freshmen, 18 sophomores, 32 juniors, 18 seniors, eight graduates, three post-graduates and one special student.

The overall count lists 130 freshmen, 96 sophomores, 211 juniors, 113 seniors, 84 graduate students and 34 post-graduate and special students.

The group's second album was recorded at Arlue Recording Studios in Jackson, Tennessee. The technical engineer was John Bob Hall a graduate of Harding and former member of the Belles & Beaux. Hall commented concerning the album. "This is one of the best releases I've heard of this type. I'm proud to have been a part of it."

The primary function of the Time of Day is to perform for young people who are prospective students at Harding. The group entertains at youth rallies, college night programs, banquets, assemblies and for several events on the Harding campus. They have performed before thousands of teenagers in 44 states since being organized in 1971. This summer they completed a month-long, 24-state tour of the northeastern United States.

The new albums are available for $5 each plus 50 cents postage. Eight-track tapes are available for $6 plus 50 cents postage. To purchase the album, write to Harding College admissions office, Box 762, Station A, Searcy, Arkansas 72143.

Allen Cancels Tour Due to Illness

Jimmy Allen, associate professor of Bible, cancelled a three-week August preaching tour in Zambia early in the month due to illness.

The tour, which had been more than a year in the planning stages, was to have included stops in Livingston, Lusaka and Zambia Christian Schools at Kolomo.

Allen, who has not missed a speaking engagement all summer, began experiencing stomach and colon disorders more than five weeks ago. After undergoing extensive medical tests the condition was diagnosed as a spastic colon.

"Anyone who has worked on the other side of the world knows what a battering a fully healthy body takes due to the change in time and food. Under the circumstances, it seemed best for me to stay at home," Allen said.

He noted that his classes and other speaking engagements planned would meet as scheduled.

Open house and dedication ceremonies for the Olen Hendrix Nursing and Home Economics Center has been slated for Saturday afternoon, September 20.

Coach's Wife Is Named Cooking Queen Runnerup

"Cooking is another way of competing for me."

And competition is the way of life for a chicken-cookin' coach's wife, Charlene Prock, who was first runner-up for the second consecutive year to the Arkansas Chicken Cookin' Queen.

Standing on her laurels, which are a 25-year-old gas range, a single high school homemaking class and 27 years of marriage to Harding's head football coach John Prock, complete with the cooking experience that goes with a husband and three children, this youthful grandmother outcooked 15 other chicken chefs in the Searcy district to be one of the four selected to compete in the state cook-offs in Little Rock earlier this summer. Out of the 12 participating at state finals, she placed second for the second year in a row, with this year's original adaptation of "Stuffed Chicken Breast Delight."

"I come from a competitive family," she said. "My husband is involved in football competition and my daughters have been active in cheerleading and other college oriented activities — one is even married to a coach now. My son is an athlete who participated in several sports in high school and will be competing in college, and I have my cooking."

The Arkansas Poultry Federation sponsors the contest yearly and also crowns its Poultry Princess and Poultry Producers of the Year at the annual Arkansas Poultry Festival in June.

The cooking competition was held on a Saturday morning during the Festival, with the winning recipes displayed for sampling purposes at a poultry industry luncheon the same day.

"At the competition you are interviewed by three judges from different parts of the country, and at the cook-off they taste the recipes and decide the winner," Mrs. Prock said. "As first runner-up, I received a cash prize and a microwave oven.

"My present major aspiration is to achieve the poultry cooking queen title and to represent Arkansas in this way," she stated. "You can enter the contest as many years as you like until you become queen. After winning once, you are ineligible to compete."

Of her "Stuffed Chicken Breast Delight" recipe, she said, "I don't claim any originality to cooking. It's just like clothes fashions where someone else came up with the original years ago and we just revive and revise the original from time to time."

Claiming to be a self-taught cook, this is the third year she has entered the contest and has made it to the finals each time.

She attributes her success in culinary skills to her husband: "He's been encouraging me for 27 years. I first started cooking when we married and the food was horrible, but John bragged on everything I fixed, no matter what it was, and it gave me the incentive to want to cook better.

"Cooking is my main hobby now," she continued. "It completely relaxes me and relieves tensions. It's practically my life."

Mrs. Prock still prepares her delectibles on a 25-year-old gas stove, naming sentimentality to be the reason for not having a newer model range.

The mother of three; Mrs. Ronnie (Martina) Peacock of Fort Worth, Tex., Mona, a May graduate of Harding, and Cam, a Harding freshman, and the grandmother of one, Daysha, 3, of Fort Worth, she has worked part time in the student personnel office at Harding for 12 years, where she is in charge of recording daily chapel attendance for Harding's 2,500 students.

The Procks came to Harding in the fall of 1960. John Prock served as assistant coach for Harding's newly instituted football team. They came to Searcy from Clinton, Okla., and a five-year coaching position there. Prock holds the B.A. degree from Southwestern State College at Weatherford, Okla., and MAT from Harding. He became head coach in 1964, and has led the Bisons to a top-ranked position in the Arkansas college ranks.

A native of Hollis, Okla., Mrs. Prock played basketball in high school and was in band. "I've grown up competing at one thing or another and cooking is one of those things," she said.

Stuffed Chicken Breast Delight

- 4 whole chicken breasts, boned and halved
- 4 thin slices boiled ham
- 4 thin slices Swiss cheese
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sauterne cooking wine
- 1/4 cup onion, chopped
- 1/4 cup green pepper, chopped
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup half-and-half

Flatten chicken breasts with meat mallet. Place a slice of ham and cheese on each chicken breast, roll up, and secure with toothpicks. Dip rolls in the 1/2 cup flour, dip in egg, coat well with bread crumbs. Lightly brown on all sides in 1/4 cup butter. Add wine. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Place rolls in shallow baking dish, reserving drippings. Saute' onion and green pepper in the 6 tablespoons butter until tender. Blend in the 1/4 cup flour, salt, and pepper. Gradually add milk and half-and-half, stirring constantly until smooth. Add reserved drippings, simmer, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Pour sauce over rolls, bake, uncovered at 325 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Garnish with parsley. Serve over cooked rice. Serves 8.

Graduate School Plans Workshop

Harding Graduate School of Religion will conduct its annual Fall Workshop September 15. Three classes are offered simultaneously for two days of intensive study of an Old Testament book, a New Testament book and a related theme. Night sessions combine men in one group, women in another, for practical suggestions as to the development of sermon ideas and class materials from the subject matter being intensively studied during the day.

The Workshop this year will begin at 9:30 a.m., on Monday, September 15 and will close at 8:45 p.m., on Tuesday, September 16. C. F. Myer, Jr., Dean of the Northeastern Christian College, will develop his speeches around the theme of "Christian Certainty Against a Background of Prophets in Israel."

"Modern Millennial Speculation" will be developed by Frank Pack, dean of graduate studies at Pepperdine University. Earl West, professor of church history at the Harding Graduate School of Religion, will speak on "The Assurance of a Decisive Pulpit." These men will speak four times each day of the Workshop. In addition to these speakers, Avon Malone of Harding College will speak Monday at 7:30 p.m., on "Building Confidence in the Bible." At this same time, Mrs. Warder Novak of Huntingdon, Tennessee will speak to the women present on "Being a Christian Wife." Tuesday night speeches will be presented by Mrs. Warder Novak and John Gipson, minister of the Sixth and Izard Church of Christ in Little Rock, Arkansas. Gipson's title will be "The Case for Christian Morality" and Mrs. Novak will continue to discuss "Being a Christian Wife."

"We believe the Workshop gives an indepth approach to a body of material which makes a unique contribution to the growth of preachers, elders, their wives, as well as teachers. Everyone is invited," said Harold Hazelip, dean of the graduate school.

22 Chapters of AWH Begin Eleventh Year of Service

The 22 chapters of the Associated Women for Harding have begun their eleventh year of charitable service to Harding College.

Dedicated to the purpose of promoting Christian education, these women from four states have designated as a major goal to raise funds for the Harding schools in Searcy and Memphis.

Patterning the association after the Oklahoma Christian College Stepping Stones, the organization was chartered in March, 1965 at Searcy. It has since branched out into chapters at Batesville, Benton, Camden, Ft. Smith, Harrison, Helena, Hope, Hot Springs, Northeast Arkansas (Jonesboro area), Little Rock, Magnolia-Waldo, Mountain Home, Newport, Northwest Arkansas (Benton and Washington counties), Russellville, Walnut Ridge, Memphis, Tenn., Monroe, La., Shreveport, La., Greenville, Miss., and Texarkana, Tex.

Members of the AWH meet monthly except for December, in an attempt to foster a spirit of friendship among women who are interested in the development of Christian education. A monthly newsletter is published, to which each chapter sends news for publication. Two major meetings of all chapter members are held in Searcy each year. The spring meeting in April is held for the purpose of sharing ideas for ways to raise money and encourage membership. In the fall AWH holds another major meeting where chapters summarize the year's work and designate how each chapter wants their project money spent.

In 1970 the Searcy chapter initiated a five-year project to raise money for furnishing the first floor of the Hammon Student Center, which was opened for use in the fall of 1974. This project branched out to other chapters and the fund goal of $50,000 was reached in four years.

AWH has adopted a variety of projects for its money-raising efforts. One such enterprise for the Searcy chapter has been the Nearly New Nook, a thrift store near the campus which offers clothing, dishes and various other items donated by chapter members and run by volunteers for two half-days a week. The Nook has proved to be quite profitable for the chapter.

The annual Gift Fair will be held this year during the Harding College Lectureship, Oct. 9-11. It is held in conjunction with the Searcy and other chapters.

According to Mrs. David Burks chairman of this year's Gift Fair, quality hand-crafted items donated by chapter members will be featured at the sale.

Priced from 50 cents, articles for sale will include fall and Christmas decorations, knitted and crocheted items, artificial flowers, plaques, material for teaching Bible classes, quilts, table clothes, place mats, aprons, stuffed dolls and animals, draped dolls, bread baskets, baby items, etc.

Other money-makers for the chapters have been an association-wide selling of steak knives, cookbooks and birthday calendars, holding style shows which feature current fashions from local merchants, rummage sales, pie auctions, the annual Gift Fair and white elephant sales, catering services to high school banquets, saving coupons and stamps and presenting concerts featuring Harding-oriented individuals or groups.

According to Mrs. Bill Cox, past AWH president and publicity chairman of this year's Gift Fair in Searcy, the Associated Women for Harding has offered some kind of aid for nearly every building on the Harding campus. The art department has been the most recent recipient of AWH funds, with new carpeting in the downstairs area of the Stevens Art Center scheduled for installation for the fall semester.

Shoppers look with interest at items for sale at an AWH Gift Fair held in the past. This year's Fair will be October 9-11.

Other aid offered includes providing robes for the A Cappella Chorus, projectors and machines for the Media Center, a curtain for the stage in the main auditorium, carpeting for Kendall Hall, and stamps and coupons for the home economics department for use in purchasing needed appliances.

The association has helped in the selection of landscape and furnishings for the American Heritage Center, furnishings in new men's residence halls, and in remodeling the reception rooms of Cathcart and Patti Cobb women's residence halls. In addition, cash amounts have been given to the speech, drama and science departments, the Belles and Beaux music ensemble and the Beaumont Memorial Library.

Yearly dues for AWH membership are $12 for regular members, $1 for student wives, $100 for lifetime members and $500 for patron members from out-of-state. The executive committee has the authority to bestow honorary membership upon a woman who has rendered outstanding and distinguished service to Christian education.

For membership information, contact Mrs. Bill Harris, Membership Chairman, 1006 N. Cedar, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Officers for the Searcy chapter are Mrs. John Burkett, president; Mrs. Jerry Mote, first vice president; Mrs. Bill Harris, second vice president; Mrs. Ed Wilson, third vice president; Mrs. Ken Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Charles Pittman, treasurer; Mrs. Mike James, reporter; and Mrs. Murrey Wilson, historian.

Student Apiarist Raises Bees for Profit and Pleasure

In a student body of more than 2,400 where a variety of personal interests exist, perhaps one of the more unusual is that of sophomore Lowell Kirby, professional beekeeper.

For Kirby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Kirby of El Centro, Calif., keeping bees is one interesting way of maintaining a livelihood through honey and beeswax sales.

As a beginning apiarist, he owns 50 colonies, or hives, of bees, with an average of 12,000 bees per hive. The average hive is less than three feet in height and consists of three stacked boxes with nine frames inside each box. The boxes are branded for identification and the number is registered with the county office. They are housed in California where an uncle serves as overseer while Kirby is at Harding studying Bible.

"I plan to make a living with my bees for a while and then hope some day to become a missionary," he said.

Kirby chose Harding because "it has more to offer than a state school in the realm of Bible and religion. I want to obtain a better background in theology," he said.

The enterprising freshman, who has been involved in facets of older brothers' bee businesses since childhood days and has served as apprentice for other professional bee services, desires a company of his own in the near future. He plans to work at home in El Centro during spring, 1976, to further develop his business.

"Right now, I am mainly re-investing my profits in equipment and more bees," he said. "Equipment for maintaining an apiary is more expensive these days."

Profits are from honey and beeswax sales and pollination rental services. According to Kirby, raw honey, which he sells wholesale to individuals or larger companies, is selling at a much greater premium than it was a few years ago.

The honey is usually extracted when the frames inside the hives are full and caps are removed from the honey cells. The combs are then placed in an extractor which rotates and slings the honey from the cells. Honey in this natural unheated state is considered raw honey.

Kirby said the price of beeswax, which can be used to make all kinds of products, including candles, has increased also. For beeswax collection, the emptied combs are stored in a special glass-topped unit for sun-melting purposes.

He also rents his bees to farmers who use them in pollinating alfalfa seed, melon and other crops to yield more produce. This process requires transporting entire hives to designated fields to be pollinated for a period of four to six weeks. Kirby's bees were recently taken 700 miles up-state for pollination on an almond crop.

Rain determines the honey flow, which is usually 60-100 lbs. per hive per summer. The bees ascertain their sense of direction from the sun and cannot function in thick clouds. Work is slowed because the bees cannot fly in rain.

Kirby has no plans for bringing his colonies to Arkansas.

"California is one of the best states for honey production with its year-round climate," he said. "You generally have to kill the bees in colder climates before winter and buy new ones in the spring."

A self-employed beekeeper, Kirby is an avid subscriber to Gleaning's Bee Culture magazine and is familiar with other bee publications, including the American Bee Journal, Australian Bee Journal and African Bee Journal.

Alumni Speak on Radio Series

Three Harding alumni are among 14 speakers participating this summer in the "Herald of Truth" speaker series on the 30-minute Sunday radio program.

Jimmy Allen of Searcy, Jim Bill McInter of Nashville, Tenn., and Doug Kostowski of Inglewood, Calif., have participated in the weekly series, which began June 1 and will conclude August 31. A different gospel preacher is being featured each week with a presentation on a specific topic.

Allen, associate professor of Bible at Harding, was featured on the July 20 radio program with his lesson "Salvation by Grace." He has been on the faculty of Harding College since 1959 and holds the B.A. degree from Harding, the M.R.E. from Harding Graduate School of Religion and the Doctor of Humanities from Oklahoma Christian College. A noted lectureship and campaign speaker, Allen has participated in approximately 50 area-wide campaigns across the nation.

Presenting an August 10 radio sermon entitled "God's Lavish Love," was Jim Bill McInter, minister for the West End Church of Christ in Nashville, and a member of the Harding Board of Trustees. He attended David Lipscomb and Harding colleges and began his preaching career in 1939 at Whites Creek, Tenn. McInter, as an active writer and editor of books, tracts and articles in Christian publications, is business manager for 20th Century Christian and regularly broadcasts on "Call to Worship," a radio program out of Nashville.

Special Notice

LEGAL NOTE WITH REGARD TO FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, better known as the Buckley Amendment, provides, with certain exceptions, (1) that students shall have a right of access to their educational records and (2) that educational institutions shall not release educational records to non-school employees without consent of the student. "Students" as used in this notice includes former students. With regard to Academy students, the term means parents of students.

Right of Access. With a few exceptions provided by law, students at Harding may see any of their educational records upon request. Access will generally be granted immediately upon request to the record custodian, but if delay is necessary, the student may sign a "Request for Access to Student Records" and be allowed access sometime within 45 days of the request. Students are entitled to copies (at the student's expense) of all records to which they have access. Students further have the right, under established procedures, to challenge the accuracy of the records and to enter their viewpoints in the records. A list of all educational records maintained by Harding is kept in the Student Personnel Office of Harding College.

Son, Marcus Camp, to Bruce (BA'71) and Beverly Jo Tipps ('73) Mayhall March 5 in Belpre, Ohio.

Son, Scott Downing, to Russell (BS'71) and Vicki Downing (BA'71) Burcham, III June 19 in Huntsville, Ala.

Son, Robert Shawn, to Mike and Sharron Salvant ('68) Walker July 3 in Grand Prairie, Tex.

Daughter, Wendy Lee, to Walter and Donna Cheek (BA'69) Wear July 3 in Herrin, Ill.

SYMPATHY

To Mrs. Wayne Anderson, the former Carol Ann Brown ('70), whose husband, William Wayne Anderson, Jr. was killed July 21 in Clovis, Calif. in a motorcycle accident.

To the family of Mrs. Billie Joe Nailon, the former Lela Rae McAdams ('51), who died of cancer June 3 in Arlington, Tex.

Henry (Hank) McDaniel, Jr. (BA'68), whose father, Henry McDaniel, Sr., died May 21 in Jackson, Miss. with a heart attack.

Kostowski, the last speaker scheduled, attended Freed-Hardeman College and graduated from Harding in 1965. He has done post-graduate study at the Harding Graduate School of Religion and Wayne State University. Since 1972, he has been minister for the Inglewood Church of Christ in California. Kostowski is a popular spokesman at youth meetings and evangelistic efforts throughout the United States. His August 31 sermon is entitled "Power."

Four May Graduates Teach at Academy

Four 1975 Harding graduates have joined the Harding Academy faculty in Searcy. Jennifer Hurd of Hope is serving as first grade co-teacher in the elementary school. She holds the B.A. degree in elementary education.

LaJuana Case of Houston is teaching art to elementary and high school students. Miss Case received the B.A. degree in art in May.

David Ingram (Skitch) Henderson of Memphis is teaching high school chemistry, biology, general science and Bible. As a May graduate, he holds the B.A. in secondary education.

A native of Henderson, Tenn., Cathy Vernon has attended Freed-Hardeman College and earned the B.A. degree from Harding in May. She is serving as business teacher at the academy.

The school may not require students to sign a waiver of their right to access, but students should be aware that recommendations and evaluations may not be very helpful or candid without a signed waiver.

Release of Information. With several exceptions, Harding cannot release information about students to employers, graduate schools, credit bureaus, etc., without the written consent of the student. Students and alumni applying for jobs, credit, graduate school, etc., can expedite their applications by providing written permission for access to their records, specifying which records, and who has access. Harding will continue to send grades and other students information to parents until a student executes an acceptable "Notice for Non-Dependency" for federal income tax purposes in the Student Personnel Office (not applicable to Academy students). The Executive Committee of Harding College has designated what information may be released without consent as "directory information" and a list of these items is available in the Student Personnel Office of Harding College.

Further Information. The Student Personnel Office of Harding College maintains detailed information and procedures with regard to these rights. Students desiring further information should request to see the "Buckley Amendment" material in that office.

To the family of Charles E. Darwin (BA'38) who died June 3 in California.

To Mrs. Jerry L. Reaves, the former Marilyn Dixon (BA'67), whose father died with cancer on November 10, 1974.

To Mrs. Charles Paine, the former Mary Halbrook (BA'37) and Sarah Halbrook ('42), whose mother, Mrs. J. P. Halbrook, passed away recently in Athens, Ala.

To the family of Mrs. T. H. Sherrill, the former Grace Aldridge ('38), who passed away recently in Memphis, Tenn.

Her two children attended Harding also — Bill Sherrill (BA'54) and Mrs. Bill Lynn, the former Margaret Jane Sherrill (BA'44).

To Mrs. William E. Rice, the former Rose Jones (BA'59), whose son, Brian, died suddenly June 28 in Mesquite, Tex.

To Mrs. Arvil Smith, the former Louise Kendrick ('34), whose husband, Arvil Smith ('37) passed away in May.

Also to his two daughters, Mrs. Robert Alley, (Thomie Ann '63) and Mrs. David McAdams, (Janis Ruth '67).
