Alumni Giving for 1974-75 Tops Previous Records

Contributions by alumni reached a record $409,338 during the 12-month period July, 1974, through June, 1975, according to the annual report compiled by Buford Tucker, Executive Secretary of the Harding Alumni Association.

Alumni donations increased by more than $112,000 over the previous year's total of $296,484. The 1974-75 contribution is the largest ever made by members of the Alumni Association surpassing the old record of $386,664 given in fiscal year 1971-72.

The number of alumni contributing (4,191) was 34.9 percent of the college's 12,017 active alumni on file, an increase from 18.8 percentage.

Tucker's report revealed a decrease in the average gift made by an alumnus. The average gift made during fiscal 1974-75 was $97 as compared to the 1973-74 average of $136.

Two principal factors contributed to the significant increase in alumni contributions. Members of the Alumni Association responded overwhelmingly in 1974 to the Phonathon campaign. More than $1 million was pledged by alumni. Many began paying on their pledges during the first six months of 1975.

Secondly, the response to the Senior Class Project has increased both the number of contributors and the total amount given. The project was developed by Floyd Daniel, Vice President for Development.

During Harding's Decade of Development which began in 1965, alumni contributions have made significant increases. During fiscal 1965-66 gifts from alumni totaled $87,737. Since that time alumni contributions have averaged $211,157.

Dates for Spring Sing '76 have been set for April 15-17. Hostesses for this year are (sitting) Misses Beverly Bucy, Susan Seavers and Pam Powers. Hosts are (standing) Eric Manlove and Ken Dowdy. See related story with ticket order on page 14.

Topics, Speakers Chosen For 1976 Preachers' Forum

Topics have been announced for the eighth annual Preachers' Forum, "Establishing Biblical Authority," set for March 16 on the Searcy campus. The meetings will be in the American Heritage Center auditorium.

Following registration and a welcome by Harding President Clifton L. Ganus, the opening session at 8:30 will feature Hardeman Nichols of Ft. Worth speaking on "Commands and Biblical Authority." At 9 a.m. Thomas B. Warren of the Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis will speak on "Examples and Biblical Authority."

The closing morning address will be at 9:30 with Roy Deaver of Ft. Worth addressing the ministers on "Necessary Inference and Biblical Authority." At 10 a.m. an open discussion will be held with Ed Sanders of the Harding Bible faculty as moderator.

Following lunch, Everett Ferguson of Abilene will speak on "The Lord's Supper and Biblical Authority" at 1 p.m. At 1:30 J. D. Bales of the Harding Bible faculty will discuss "Instrumental Music and Biblical Authority" followed by J. D. Thomas of Freed-Hardeman College speaking at 2 p.m. on "Fellowship and Biblical Authority."

The 2:30 to 4 p.m. open discussion with Jerry Jones, chairman of the Harding Bible department, as moderator will close the day's activities.

Harding College Designated As Bicentennial College Campus

Harding College has been designated a National Bicentennial College Campus for 1976 by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration. President Clifton Ganus received confirmation of the announcement November 20 from the ARBA regional director, S. L. Abbott of Dallas.

As a Bicentennial campus, Harding will conduct a series of commemorative observances, fly the official Bicentennial flag and have authorized use of the National Symbol.

Approval of Harding's Bicentennial College status was made possible through the initial efforts of Dr. James Carr, assistant to the president and chairman of the Bicentennial Committee at Harding. Carr was responsible for planning this year's program of activities in keeping with the national theme.

Campus observances are conducted according to three broad theme areas embraced by the ARBA program, which was established by the United States Congress (Public Law 93-173). Theme areas are "Heritage '76," a recollection of America's first 200 years of growth and development; "Festival USA," a celebration focusing on people, the hospitality of which has characterized the nation's development; "Horizons '76," a future-oriented occasion for looking ahead, aiming toward common purposes and seeking new levels of achievement. Campus activities designated for each thematic area are required by the national ARBA in an effort to achieve the goal of increasing awareness of the full scope of the nation's Bicentennial program, "A past to remember; a future to mold."

'Third Force Management Seminar' To Feature Consultant Frank Goble

More than 200 Arkansas businessmen are expected to attend the "Third Force Management Seminar" January 23-24 sponsored by Harding's department of business and economics and the American Studies Program.

The fourth annual seminar will feature Frank Goble, president of the Thomas Jefferson Research Center at Pasadena, Calif., and "an accomplished writer, lecturer and management consultant" according to Dr. David Burks, chairman of the business department.

Goble, a businessman with more than 30 years management experience, is the former president of the D. B. Millikin Co., which he helped to found. The Jefferson Research Center, of which he is now president, is a center which conducts interdisciplinary research in applied motivation in management. Included is the work of hundreds of executives, psychologists, psychiatrists and management consultants searching for practical answers to human problems.

Goble has authored several texts, the first being The Third Force, which discusses the psychological theories of Dr. Abraham Maslow, a noted psychologist. His most recent book, Excellence in Leadership, combines theory and practice in a practical text for executives and supervisors.

He has been described as "one of the two or three best writers in the country on the subject of management and motivation."

The seminar will begin registration at 4:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 23, and will end at noon on Saturday, Jan. 24. All activities will be conducted in the American Heritage Center Auditorium.

Friday night's program will include presentations on "Excellence in Management" and "The Quality of Leadership." Saturday morning's features are "Third Force Psychology" and "How to Motivate People."

Seminar attendance is also open to business and accounting students and members of the American Studies Program.

Previous Seminar lecturers have included Saul Gellerman and Joe Batten.

For further information write or call Dr. David Burks or Dr. Billy Ray Cox at Harding College.

Gen. Westmoreland To Speak for A.S.

General William C. Westmoreland will head a schedule of distinguished speakers for the American Studies Program spring lecture series. The former Army Chief of Staff and Commander of the U.S. Military Forces in Vietnam, will speak in the main auditorium April 5.

General Westmoreland, considered one of modern history's most controversial military figures, will speak on the Memphis Harding campus April 6.

Political analyst Ralph de Tolendano will open the spring series on January 19. Dr. Billy Ray Cox, director of the American Studies Program, has also announced a management seminar January 23-24 with Frank Goble, president of Thomas Jefferson Research Center, as the speaker.

Former Minnesota Congressman Dr. Walter Judd will address the students and guests February 2. Dr. Judd, who has spoken on the campus several times previously, is a contributing editor for Reader's Digest.

Also speaking on the Memphis campus April 20 will be Congressman John Ashbrook of Ohio.

Bicentennial College...

Observances of "Heritage '76" have included the Bicentennial Youth Debate, October 20-24, whose program focused on questions of value that underline the American experience; and the Bicentennial American Studies Lecture Series, which began in September and will continue through May.

Other activities honoring "Heritage '76" include a Bicentennial Musical Celebration featuring the Harding Band, Chorale, A Cappella Chorus and other musical groups; a Fourth of July celebration involving the campus and community; and the "Cavalcade of America," an overview of the development of American drama during the past 200 years produced by the National Players of Washington.

"Festival USA" will be commemorated through Spring Sing '76, April 15, 16, 17, a production involving an estimated 700 students which will center on America's musical heritage, and "Our Country," a campus-community program.

The annual American Studies trip, March 19-28, will combine activities for "Horizons '76" and "Heritage '76" as a group of 55 students from the American Studies Program visits Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia.

Preparation for Harding's recognition as a Bicentennial College began during the summer with appointment of a Bicentennial Committee that was broadly representative of the student body, faculty and administration.

Members of Harding's Bicentennial Committee included: Fred Alexander, director of admissions; Dr. Eddie Baggett, associate professor of music; Dr. David Burks, assistant professor of business; Dr. Cliff Ganus III, assistant professor of music; Randy Gill, a senior music education major from Rochester, Mich.; Dr. Ray Muncy, associate professor of history; Don Robinson, associate professor of art; Dr. Jack Ryan, professor of speech; Lot Therrio, senior Bible major from Marrero, La.; Will Ed Warren, associate instructor in Bible; Cecil Wilson, senior accounting major from Garfield; Jan Yates, junior nursing major from Memphis; Stan Green, director of public relations; and Dr. Carr.

President's Development Council Increases by 12

A dozen recent additions to the President's Development Council bring the total to approximately 300 men and women who have been designated "the eyes and ears of Harding College" by President Clifton L. Ganus Jr.

Early in 1965, Dr. Ganus formed the Council with the members assisting the school in public relations, financially and in an advisory capacity. The group holds a general session twice each year on the campus.

New members include Jim Burnett, an attorney from Clinton; Dr. Tim Duke, a dentist, and Dr. Henry Farrar, a surgeon, both of Searcy; Dr. Robert Foster, a dentist, and Ronald Henson, a Certified Public Accountant, both of Texarkana; Charles Kammerdiener, manager of Nest Fresh, Inc., of Hope; Dr. David Kernodle, a dentist of Harrison; Bruce McFadden, president of ICM, Inc., of Cabot; J. A. McFarlin, a farmer of Carlisle; Everett Penick, vice president of the U. S. Coal Producers Assn., of Lebanon, Va.; Nick Poulos, a pharmacist of Lauderhill, Fla., and Dr. Gaylon Smith, a gynecologist of Memphis.

Current Needs in Zambia Emphasized

By George S. Benson
President Emeritus

Missionary work today is going on in many different countries. Some of the ripest fields are found in the African Republics, of which there are nearly 40. It is my desire to describe great opportunities in one of them.

Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia, lies in the Southeast part of the country, with no coastline. It is 18 degrees south of the equator, has an elevation of 4,000 feet, moderate climate, tens of thousands of square miles of unoccupied territory, and has a very friendly people among whom I have, in six trips, seen no beggars.

The President of Zambia, a native of that country, is the son of a Church of England preacher. On one occasion when he had invited me to dinner at the Government House he said: "The Christian religion offers our only hope of building the kind of character that can make Zambia a great country." Population is four and one-half million. Lusaka, the capitol, with a population of 350,000, and a modern city, is centrally located. Livingstone in the southern part of the country, near Rhodesia, on the Zambesi River, beside the Great Victoria Falls — one of the seven natural wonders of the world — is a delightful city.

The country gained its independence in 1964, took the new name of "Zambia," and is quite generally recognized as the most stable of the present African Republics.

Zambia is perhaps the second largest exporter of copper in the world. From this money she is establishing a chain of high schools, but the teachers have to be temporarily imported. Zambia is striving mightily to train leadership at all levels. She has established a University at Lusaka and three teacher training colleges in other parts of the country.

Brethren Short, Scott, Brown, Reese, Hobby, Elder, and others have spent time in that country. Brethren Merritt, Hobby and Elder are still there.

They started grammar schools way back 40 years ago. A good many of the current leaders in the country are church of Christ members. For instance, members of the churches of Christ head two of the three teacher training colleges. The college president, an English professor, and a third educator are the three Livingstone elders over a church with 300 members.

Another sizeable congregation meets in another part of the city. In Lusaka there are eight congregations — four having their own buildings and four meeting in school buildings. Some 70 churches exist in various parts of the country.

At the recommendation of Brother Dow Merritt we established our own high school eight years ago. It offers a five-year program, includes the regular standard high school curriculum, plus Bible which is taught to every student every term. In fact, all students are required to enroll in two Bible courses the first three years. There are seven American families and several single people working with the school, and 235 students are enrolled.

Man-Power Needed

By the government authorities I have been invited to recommend teachers whom they could employ in the Zambian University and in the three teacher training colleges. They offer to pay wages of about $10,000 per year plus transportation both ways plus a house to live in while there. In our own high school we, at the present time, are urgently in need of two English teachers to begin work by the 10th of January 1976. We also need a science teacher and a social studies teacher, although the urgency is not quite so great as in the case of the English teachers.

Requirement for teachers in our own school would be a bachelor's degree and a teacher's certificate. In the university or one of the teacher training colleges at least a master's degree and several years of experience in teaching is required.

This provides the way to evangelize Zambia in a generation: If we will place two good teachers, who are dedicated Christians and who will use their influence to wisely help expand the Kingdom of the Lord, in the university and in each of those three teacher training colleges, and maintain a good faculty in our own school, we can, in one generation, touch the whole of the people who are becoming best prepared for leadership in Zambia, in all fields, including teachers and church leaders.

The President of Zambia expressed his appreciation for our work last year by sending his Secretary of State for Education down to visit our high school for a whole day. He was the speaker at graduation and handed out the credentials. The preceding year the Cabinet Minister for Education likewise came for a half-day on campus. This meant a 220-mile drive by automobile each way.

Summary

The government is friendly; they want Christian missionaries and they want Christian influence. They want self-supporting, self-propagating, self-edifying churches. The 70 we now have there are of that kind.

They want strong teachers in those teacher training colleges and that university. They will be in favor of their wielding as much Christian influence as possible. Were one qualified for it, he might very well be given along with his other work, one class in Bible. They want qualified American teachers. This opens opportunities for self-supporting missionaries, located in the most strategic places in the country.

One former convert has already started nine different churches; another has started four and in fact, most of the 70 churches there have been started by Zambians.

In my opinion this is a wonderful opportunity and I am urging with all seriousness the need for filling these spots with qualified men. We need your help in finding these men promptly, to help evangelize a country in one generation.

Where to Find Men

It was from the faculty of Harding College that I went to China 50 years ago. When we sought a man to found a Christian school in Japan in 1946, I helped persuade E. W. McMillan to go, and helped persuade Union Avenue to send him and support him. It is my feeling if we find men qualified to fill the spots I have recommended above we must find them in the faculties of our Christian colleges or filling other important positions. I recommended to Dr. Cliff Ganus and Dr. Joe Pryor, President and Dean of Harding College, that they select someone in their faculty to recommend. I believe they thought I was joking but I was never more serious. We won't find men of this caliber among the unemployed. We must find them already in important jobs and persuade them to accept this heavy responsibility in Zambia, while Jesus is still giving us time to evangelize the country in keeping with his orders. For added information, please write to: George S. Benson, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas 72143.

Petit Jean Extends All-American Trend

Harding's Petit Jean All-American tradition was extended another year with the announcement of the top rating at a meeting of the Arkansas College Publications Association in October. The award brings the total to 16 consecutive years the yearbook has received the All-American rating.

The Petit Jean was named winner of the General Excellence competition, winning on the basis of total points awarded in yearbook copy, display, concept, photography and coverage. The award carried a $100 cash prize from the Hurley Company, yearbook publisher.

Mrs. Diane Kirk of Leoma, Tennessee, was editor and Miss Barbara McKinney of Montgomery, Alabama, was business manager of the publication.

The 1976 book is well underway with Miss Andrea Mannen of Stuttgart as editor and Mrs. Mary Whitten Blake of Bay Minette, Alabama, as business manager.

Jan. 5 Orientation To Start Spring Term

Activities for the 1976 spring semester will get underway officially with orientation of new students on Monday, January 5. Many of the current students, however, will have been counseled prior to the close of the current semester.

New students have been asked to assemble for counseling on Tuesday, January 6 when faculty members will be available to assist in arranging schedules and class sections.

Registration will begin Wednesday at 8 a.m. and students may continue to register until 4 p.m. Classes will get underway Thursday when all classes will meet on regular schedule.

Attendance for the semester is expected to be less than the fall record of 2,601, partly because 97 seniors will complete degree requirements with the end of the current semester. However, administrative officials expect the number to exceed last year's spring registration of 2,337.

Males Dominate Posts In Class Elections

Harding males dominated the top spots in class officer elections earlier this year. Eleven of 16 posts voted upon were filled by men.

In freshman class, Malcom McCollum of Apple Valley, Calif., was elected president; Norman Kahla of Deer Park, Tex., vice president; Nancy Harris of Searcy, secretary; and Gary Shores of Cave Springs, treasurer.

For the second consecutive year George "Goover" McCoy of Vicksburg, Miss., was elected sophomore class president and is assisted by Buddy Vetter of Sylvester, Calif., vice president; Sue Palmer of Aurora, Colo., secretary; and Mark Miller of Cridersville, Ohio, treasurer.

Junior class officers are Perry Cain of Memphis, president; Gary Oliver of Osgood, Ind., vice president; Polly Mullen of Oxford, Miss., secretary; and Jan Hyslop of Wheaton, Ill., treasurer.

In the senior class, Rick Hendricks of McCool, Neb. was elected president; Neil Swain of Bartow, Fla., vice president; Melinda Howell of Ft. Worth, Tex., secretary and Sheila Oswald of Jonesboro, treasurer.

Freshman Student Association representatives also elected are Mike Tomlin of Woodstock, Ga., and Anita McCutcheon of Memphis, Tenn.

Phi Alpha Theta Gains Members

Harding's Eta Phi chapter of Phi Alpha Theta history honor society inducted seven new members this semester.

They include Jeff Broadwater of Searcy, Janet Gallman of Ft. Worth, Tex., Charles Ganus of Searcy, James Hinds of Jonesboro, John McGee of Monett, Mo., Ken Neller of Huntsville, Ala., and Mary Margaret Ramsey of Baton Rouge, La.

Membership in Phi Alpha Theta is open to students with more than a 3.0 grade average on at least 12 hours of history.

37 Seniors Selected for Who's Who

Thirty-seven seniors have been selected for entry in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities for the 1975-76 school year.

Students are recommended by the Student Association and voted by the faculty. Members are selected on scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the college and promise of future usefulness. Seniors must have a 2.5 cumulative grade average and juniors a 3.00.

Those selected are: Jackie Alston of Searcy, Richard Baither of Westbury, N.Y., Mary Whitten Blake of Bay Minette, Ala., Suzanne Burcham of Kennett, Mo., Jeff Burton of Victoria, Tex., Warren Casey of New Orleans, Jerry Chism of Childress, Tex., Carol Clarke of Cass City, Mich., Nancy Cochran of Hobbs, N.M., Charlie Coil of Florence, Ala.;

Business Professor Succumbs

Dr. James Acton Hedrick, 58, a professor of accounting and former chairman of the department of business, died December 6 in Sherman, Texas, where he had gone to attend the funeral of his only brother, Bill Hedrick. Dr. Hedrick suffered a massive heart attack while watching a television game.

A Certified Public Accountant, he joined the Harding faculty in 1952 and served as chairman of the department until last year when he resigned because of poor health.

Because of a heart attack many years ago, he had a regular program of exercise and for many years was a familiar figure as he jogged around the campus. He was running with Dr. R. T. Clark when the Harding vice president suffered a fatal attack in 1966.

Dr. Hedrick was an elder at the College Church of Christ and was the current Governor of Ozark District of Civitan International. He was sponsor of Alpha Epsilon Chi men's club and was a member of several professional organizations. He was a veteran of five years in the Air Force and had been a member of the faculty at Arkansas Tech in Russellville five years before joining the Harding faculty.

Survivors include his wife, Sarah Millsap Hedrick, a son, Mike, of

James Hedrick

Memphis, three daughters, Mrs. Ann Jernigan of Arlington, Texas, and Mrs. Dianne LaRue and Miss Ruth Hedrick of Searcy, and three grandchildren, Monte and Jennifer Jernigan and Chris Hedrick.

President Clifton Ganus and James Woodroof paid tribute in funeral services at the College Church December 8 where a large gathering of friends and a large floral tribute bespoke of his esteem. The A Cappella Chorus sang hymns. Pall bearers were Erle Moore, Buford Tucker, Richard Walker, Bill R. Cox, Mike O'Neal, Charles Walker, Bob Kelly, Obert Henderson, David Burks, Don Diffine and Gary Bartholomew.

Burial was in White County Memorial Gardens.

The family has requested that memorials be made to the building fund of the College Church or to the business department of the College.

Nursing Prof's Paper Presented at Atlanta

Miss Louise Truex, a member of the nursing faculty, presented a paper in Atlanta at the American Congress of Rehabilitation Medicine meeting in November. She presented a paper "What Does The Patient Say?: A Different Approach to the Rehabilitation Needs of Spinal Cord Patients."

An assistant professor of nursing, Miss Truex joined the faculty during the summer from Detroit where she was employed at Harper Hospital. She was graduated with honors from Ohio State University and received the Master of Science in Nursing at Wayne State University.

Harding's symphony orchestra, organized this fall by music faculty member Travis Cox, was introduced to the campus and community with a winter concert December 6. Selections included Bach's Brandenburg Concerto and Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker Suite, which featured the first grade students of Harding Academy.

Governor's Art Show Has Campus Artists

Works of five Harding artists were among 45 pieces accepted for inclusion in the Governor's Award Exhibition at the Arkansas State Capitol rotunda. The display was hung in November with the selections made from 100 entries by artists who were either born in Arkansas or currently reside in the state.

Four faculty members and a student were represented in the show, with selections made by Anne Rorimer, associate curator of 20th century painting and sculpture at The Art Institute of Chicago, and William J. Brown, director of the Penland School of Crafts in Penland, North Carolina.

The works included "Arkansas I and II Defined," a watercolor by senior David Edwards; and "Wheelthrown Multiple Form," a stoneware piece by Paul Pitt; "Robertson House," an acrylic by Don Robinson; "Sun Rising," a fiber hanging by Dr. Faye Doran; and "Athens Jail," a watercolor by Arni Anderson, were also chosen.

The art department also sponsored a booth at the Arts, Crafts and Design Fair at the Convention Center in Little Rock in November which proved highly successful. Arkansas Governor David Pryor and other dignitaries visited the booth where works of five faculty members and three students were displayed.

Harding faculty members and several students displayed wares in a booth at the Arkansas Arts, Crafts and Design Fair in Little Rock last month. This was the first year Harding had maintained a booth but the art department personnel indicated the practice will continue. Manning the booth are Ron Doran and Ruby Shock.

Hammon Scholarships Awarded for Fall Semester

Recipients of the Charles K. Hammon scholarships for the fall semester have been announced by Billy Ray Cox, vice president.

The awards are given each semester by Mrs. C. K. Hammon of Gainesville, Fla., to the outstanding student in the departments of journalism, history, business and American Studies.

Recipients are graded by professors in their departments on basis of attitude, potential, moral standing, dependability and leadership ability.

Scholarship winners are Bill Peterson of Cahokia, Ill., Sheila O'Keefe of St. Louis, Mo., Ben Hight Wiles of Pine Bluff, and Cecil Wilson of Garfield.

Peterson is a senior journalism major who is a member of the Bison newspaper staff. He is a transfer student from Southern Illinois University.

Miss O'Keefe, a junior majoring in social science, is a member of the American Studies Program, Kappa Phi social club and Phi Alpha Theta history honor society.

Wiles is a senior accounting major and a member of TNT men's club, Alpha Chi honor society, the American Studies Program and Delta Mu Delta business administration fraternity.

Wilson, a senior majoring in accounting, was recognized as the outstanding student in the American Studies Program. He is vice president of the Student Association and is president of Alpha Omega social club and Delta Mu Delta.

'75 Alumnus Reads Paper in N.C.

A spring graduate of Harding was asked to present a paper at a conference on Undergraduate Mathematics at Guilford College in Greensboro, North Carolina last month. Jerry Lewis, son of Dr. Jack P. Lewis of Memphis and the late Mrs. Lewis, read "The Two Parts of the Fundamental Theories of Calculus." He obtained the results in this paper in an independent study course while at Harding last year. The paper has also been accepted for the publication the Journal of Undergraduate Mathematics.

"This is quite an honor to be invited to participate in this conference," Dr. Dean Priest, chairman of Harding's math department, said.

Lewis received the Charles Pitner Mathematics Award for 1975 at graduation last spring. He is currently enrolled at Iowa State University working toward the doctorate in statistics.

Also at Harding he was a member of the A Cappella Chorus and Recording Chorus. He earned membership in Alpha Chi honor scholarship society and served as president of the Science Club. Also, he was a member of Chi Sigma Alpha men's social club.

Other speakers at the conference were from University of Michigan, Pembroke State University, Ottawa University, Boston University and Hendrix College.

Education Society Inducts 35

The Nu Lambda chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society in education, has gained 35 new members for the fall term.

Those inducted were Jan Aly, Sue Baker, Tonja Basinger, Ellen Brennenman, MaryLee Burcham, Suzanne Burcham, Roberta Carns, Marla Finlay, Leah Formby.

Joyce Gibbons, Helen Hall, Linda

Hare, Blanche Harris, Barbara Hoffman, Randy Holloway, Marilyn Horsman, Karene Huey, Patricia Klemm, James Lange,

Osburn, Geer Attend England Conference

Dr. Carroll D. Osburn, Assistant Professor of New Testament at the Harding Graduate School of Religion, was a participant in the Seventh International Conference on Patristic Studies at Oxford University in England, Sept. 8-12.

Dr. Osburn read a paper entitled "The Epistle of Jude and Heresiological Tradition," in which he argued against the theory of a late date, pseudonymity, and no historical background to the epistle of Jude recently advocated by a Tübingen scholar.

Thomas C. Geer, a graduate student, read a paper entitled "The Text of Luke-Acts in Epiphanius of Salamis: A Critique of Methodology in the Recovery and Analysis of Patristic Citations," which grew out of his research on his M.A. thesis "The Text of Acts in Epiphanius of Salamis" under Dr. Osburn's supervision.

Students, Teachers Join Sigma Tau Delta

Eight upperclassmen and six faculty members were inducted into Sigma Tau Delta honor English society by Dr. Gary Elliott, chairman of the department of English, this semester.

Students included Ellen Brennenman of Spartanburg, South Carolina, Linda Campbell and Bonnie Ulrey of Searcy, Linda Daugherty of Nashville, Kent Johnson of Oxnard, Calif., Sherry McFadden of Geneva, New York, Bill Peterson of Cahokia, Ill., and Karyn Phillips of St. Louis.

Members of the English faculty joining the society were Dr. Jo Cleveland, Rod Brewer, Mrs. Elizabeth Dykes, Mrs. Alice Jewell, Duane McCampbell and Edward White.

Harding's Pi Mu chapter is one of 125 of the organization which has a membership of more than 25,000.

Miss Madonna Ann Wallace, junior vocational home economics major from Star City, was crowned the 1975 "Bison-ennial" Homecoming Queen Nov. 8. Queen attendants were Misses Bernice Hester of Memphis and Becky Sides of Nashville.

Searcy Surgeon Named 1975 Alumnus of the Year

Henry Farrar, the 1975 Alumnus of the Year, has distinguished himself not only in the Harding family, but on another continent where he served as a medical missionary. The 48-year-old Searcy surgeon, who proclaims Christianity first in all of his endeavors, helped establish the Nigerian Christian Hospital while practicing medicine daily and preaching at every opportunity.

He was honored during Homecoming '75 with a plaque presented by Alumni Association President Harry Ofree at the Black and Gold Banquet. The citation read, "In recognition of his many years of service to humanity as both a minister of the gospel and a skilled surgeon, for his leadership as an elder of the church, for his unselfish devotion to his family, to his friends and to Harding College, and for his dedication and Christian character that have ended him to countless thousands, the Alumni Association has selected as Alumnus of the Year and presents this plaque, November 7, 1975, to Henry C. Farrar, M.D."

His honors from Africa have come in many forms, some of which were displayed in a recent collection of African art on display at Stevens Art Gallery on the campus. Among the articles from his ventures in Africa was a walking stick presented to men as a mark of prominence.

Currently practicing at the Searcy Medical Center, he usually spends his "vacation" from the clinic in Nigeria to assist at the Nigerian Christian Hospital at Aba. The 50-bed facility was ravaged during the civil war in that country, a war which forced the Farrars to evacuate on short notice. He has since returned to re-build and furnish the hospital and plans another jaunt next spring. During the 30-day period he will likely perform 150 major surgical procedures and see many hundreds of persons in the out-patient clinic.

Dr. Farrar entered Harding in 1944 but transferred to the University of Tennessee at Knoxville. He received the medical degree in 1954 and was awarded the Verstandig honor as the graduate considered most deserving of the degree.

Mrs. Farrar is the former Grace Johnson, a 1948 Harding graduate and a registered nurse. Their six children are also a part of the Harding family. Paul, a 1973 honor graduate, is in doctoral study in oceanography at Texas A & M. Martha, who attended Harding two years, is a student at the University of Tennessee School of Nursing in Memphis. David is currently a senior biology major. Two other sons, Hank and Lee, are in the 12th and 10th grades, respectively, at Harding Academy. Samantha attends Harding Elementary School.

The family first went to Nigeria in 1964 and worked until they were forced to leave in 1967. Dr. Farrar came to Searcy to practice medicine. After the conflict ended in 1970, he returned to head a medical team selected to reactivate the Post Harcourt Hospital which had also been destroyed during the war.

In 1971 he transferred to the Nigerian Christian Hospital, reopening the facility to serve a primitive area which had a population estimated at Henry Farrar, M.D., was the 16th recipient of the College's Alumnus of the Year award. Alumni President Harry Ofree presented the plaque at the Black and Gold Banquet during Homecoming Nov. 7. The 48-year-old Searcy surgeon is a former medical missionary to Nigeria.

100,000 persons. He made an average of 4,500 to 5,000 outpatient visits monthly, performing about 125 surgical procedures per month.

Dr. Farrar is an elder at the College Church of Christ and is a member of the President's Development Council. He is a member of the American Board of Surgery and is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He continues to serve as a charter member of the African Christian Hospitals Foundation.

Honors are not new to Henry Farrar, nor has the last of them likely been bestowed. But one thing is fairly certain. The accolades will not deter his dedication, his desire to serve his ministry for the Master or his happy, pleasing disposition to everyone he meets. "I believe Paul was the best tentmaker in Corinth," he says, "but he was first a Christian. That's what I try to be."

Harding has recognized a distinguished alumnus annually since 1960. The first was L. O. Sanderson, and other recipients have been R. T. Clark, J. Dow Merritt, George S. Benson, Jim Bill McInteer, Alvin Hobby, L. C. Sears, F. W. Mattox, Miss Annie Mae Alston, Jule Miller, Dale Larsen, Louis Green, E. Lamar Baker, C. L. Ganus, Richard Burt and Joseph E. Pryor.

'Hymns from Harding' Still Recording After 25 Years

Harding College has gained recognition through many avenues, not the least of which is the music from the voices of her students. "At Harding We Sing" is an old motto from the college's past, but it nevertheless represents a sentiment and a practice that still are very much alive on the Searcy campus. The rich heritage of vocal music in the Church echoes daily in chapel services and after sweeps across the campus in evening devotionals around the lily pool. And it brings together each year outstanding student voices to comprise the Harding A Cappella Chorus, a group whose reputation is known across the country, in small rural churches and in metropolitan congregations.

"Hymns from Harding" is a 15-minute radio program produced on campus utilizing the voices of the A Cappella Chorus to spread Harding's name over the nation. The program has been a service of the college for more than 25 years and has been aired in every state on numerous stations. The program continues to be available, and alumni or interested friends can advertise Harding by arranging for radio stations to schedule the production. (See coupon at bottom of page)

The brainchild of Andy T. Ritchie, Jr., now retired from the Bible faculty, the program has grown into a somewhat more sophisticated production that what was possible when the program was aired live from the ill-equipped Choral Studio of the notorious Godden Hall.

"Our network then was the KARK studio in Little Rock, which phoned the music to WHBQ in Memphis," chuckled Ritchie, who in those days selected the hymns, wrote the script, chose the scripture, announced the program and directed the chorus — all the while grimacing at the youthful and energetic chorus members whose every move on the well-experienced risers resounded with a "squeak" into the microphones.

The limited facilities did not deter the plans for the production, though, as Dr. Neil B. Cope, chairman of the journalism department, and Dr. Joseph E. Pryor, dean and vice-president for academic affairs, assisted.

Ritchie, who retired from teaching in 1974, used the hymn "When Days Shadows Lengthen" as the introductory theme. "I considered it great musically and the beautiful words fit in the spirit of singing hymns in the evening, which is the time we used when doing it live," he said. The opening theme continues to be the one used, but the overall themes for the programs do not necessarily reflect an evening pattern.

As the program became familiar in the Arkansas and west Tennessee area, other stations and persons began inquiring for expansion. Gradually advance taping began.

Today quite an opposite situation exists with tapes being produced in the college's modern Recording Studio where Jimmy Jones, a veteran of 32 years in radio work, handles the entire job, including mailing tapes to waiting stations.

Quality programs result through the use of the college's modern high speed duplicating machines. The studio has all new duplicating equipment, a Magnavox common mandrel high speed reel to reel duplicator, and a Telex high speed cassette duplicator, to handle the output.

Jones explained the operation. "There is no cost to the station. We sent tapes in reversible boxes at least 10 days prior to the time they are to be aired. When the tape is played, it can be placed in the inverted box, which has postage already attached, for returning to Searcy. The tapes are 'recycled' for economic use of materials.

Formats of the programs remain the same though the methods for arriving at such are vastly different. Jones now has a large library of tapes available of literally hundreds of hymns. Each program has a theme, selected scripture readings and related songs produced without comment to a 14-1/2 minute timing.

"Alumni or interested friends could expand our circulation," Jones said, "and there is almost no limit as to the number of studios we could serve." Persons could contact local stations or use the enclosed coupon to acquire a sample tape. Samples will be sent on request.

Harding's studios serve in other capacities for the college also. The studio makes master tapes for records made by Harding music groups. Audition tapes for the Chorale, Band and other groups are handled by Jones. Recitals of student music majors are recorded. Major productions, dramatic or musical, are recorded and the tapes are available for purchase. Speeches lecturers or other special programs on campus are recorded.

The studio offers a wedding service, popular with brides who wish to use Harding voices. Custom tapes are prepared from a large selection of available wedding music.

Please send a sample tape of "Hymns From Harding" to:

The 14-1/2 minute tape will be sent postpaid in a reversible box which may be returned to the studio.

Graduate School Reaches Milestone with Phonothon

The development program at Harding's Graduate School of Religion reached a milestone in October with the completion of its first annual Alumni Phonothon.

Members of the faculty had challenged the alumni to match the contribution of the faculty. Each of the 12 members of the faculty had pledged to raise $500 annually for five years.

During the Phonothon $86,470 was pledged by the school's alumni. Each alumnus called was asked to raise $500 in support for the Graduate School by December 15, 1975, and 181 responded affirmatively.

The faculty's challenge gift totalled $30,000. Pledges made by the Graduate School's alumni surpassed that figure by more than $56,000.

During the seven nights of the Phonothon 312 alumni were contacted by telephone and 58 per cent (181) accepted the challenge. An additional 91 indicated they could not raise $500, but they would help secure funds for the project.

Inspired by the results of the Phonothon on the Searcy campus, Glendol Grimes, director of development for the Graduate School, coordinated the project on the Memphis campus. Twenty-five alumni and students manned the phones during Phonothon.

Grimes assumed his present position in October, 1973. He received his M.A. degree from Harding's Graduate School of Religion in 1970 and served as president of the alumni association of the Graduate School from 1973-75.

He has served as director of development at Michigan Christian College. He has also been the minister for congregations in Pikeville, Mount Airy and Memphis, Tenn., Rochester, N.Y., Houston and San Antonio, Tex., and Royal Oak, Mich.

The other half of the Memphis development team is Hoyt White, a special representative for the Memphis area. His responsibilities include development projects for the undergraduate program, the graduate program and the Memphis Academy.

White has worked in Harding's Memphis development program since 1971. He received the M.A. from the Graduate School of Religion in 1970. He is a native of Union City, Tenn.

He has preached for congregations in Orlinda and Memphis, Tenn., Naples, Fla., and Greenville, Miss. He is a member of the Memphis Civitan Club and chairman pro tempore of the Memphis Board of Review.

The development program for Harding's Graduate School of Religion is designed to raise funds for operational supplementation, endowment and capital improvements. If the school continues to grow at its present rate, $1.25 million in operational supplementation, $3 million in endowment, and $750,000 in new facilities will be necessary over the next four years.

The cost of providing graduate Bible education for one student for a single year is $2,700. Of this amount the student pays only $1,200. The remaining $1,500 per student must be raised each year in gifts and grants.

To help students with the costs of graduate Bible training, the Harding Graduate School of Religion also provides scholarships for students with outstanding undergraduate academic records. Approximately 60 per cent of the students receive scholarships.

Each year the annual budgeted operating deficit at the Graduate School is in excess of $250,000. To help raise the operational supplementation an active annual giving program is being developed.

In the past 18 months Grimes and White have spoken in 175 congregations of the Church of Christ. They have asked individuals to contribute $1 per week to the school. Thus far 900 people are contributing $4,000 monthly to this annual giving project.

The Memphis development personnel are also contacting congregations seeking support for the school. During 1976 ten large congregations will be asked to sponsor a professor and 40 smaller congregations will be asked to sponsor students.

"The Harding development personnel on the Searcy campus do not solicit funds from congregations. The Graduate School of Religion does ask for congregational support because every course taught is a Bible or Bible-related course. We believe that congregations want to help prepare men for a greater service as ministers of God's Word," said Grimes.

The Graduate School of Religion has more than 1,500 alumni. Seventy-seven per cent of these are gospel preachers and 17 per cent are teaching in Christian colleges, preacher training schools and Bible chairs at colleges and universities. Alumni are serving in 40 states and 20 foreign countries.

Commenting on the development program in Memphis, Floyd Daniel, vice president for development, said,

"The basic goal of the program is to raise gifts to balance the operating deficit. For many years this phase of the development work was directed from the Searcy campus. We are extremely pleased that we now have two men who can assume this responsibility.

"In addition to his efforts in annual giving campaigns, Glendol will be spending more of his time identifying and soliciting capital prospects for the Graduate School of Religion.

"We are pleased with the outstanding job of planning, implementation and followup that Glendol has developed for the Graduate School of Religion. Within a few years we anticipate the budgeted deficit to be offset by the development program established by Glendol.

"Hoyt has done an outstanding job in the development program. He initially was responsible for both the Graduate School's and Academy's fund-raising projects, and now he is working primarily with Harding's undergraduate program. His versatility has been a big asset to the program.

"Harding is extremely fortunate to have these men working to help assure the continued growth and success of our Christian education program. The board of trustees and the administration of the college anticipate even greater service from these men."

Glendol Grimes and Hoyt White, in charge of development for the Graduate school of Religion, review Phonothon results.

Fall Lectureship Recap Indicates Successful Series

Visitors from 32 states and Germany, Canada, the Netherlands and Zambia gathered here October 8-11 for Harding College's 52nd annual Lectureship series, "They Being Dead Yet Speak."

Neale Pryor, Lectureship coordinator, said, "The quality of the lectures was as good as ever. In fact, some were among the best we've had."

Kenneth Reed, minister of the University Church of Christ in Tuscaloosa, Ala., received the Christian Journalist of the Year award by the 20th Century Christian magazine at the annual dinner of the publication October 9 during Lectureship activities.

Of the 37 lecturers participating in theme forums, lectures and classes, many spoke on "the influence of the righteous dead on those now living," as quoted by Jimmy Allen of Searcy in his keynote lecture. Allen's speech, "They Being Dead Yet Speak," centered around the influence of both the living and the dead.

In "Moses, A Successful Failure," Warren Wilcox of Denver said: "Let us keep Moses as an example of one, who like us made mistakes but was seeking to do God's will most of all and was, because of that, a successful failure."

Lecture guests heard Dale Foster of Wichita Falls, Tex., in his speech "John, Son of Thunder and Apostle of Love;" "... the very point of John's whole life is the change Jesus Christ wrought in him whereby the Son of Thunder became the Apostle of Love. That is the kind of change that Christ can make in any individual."

"We are indebted to Abraham for his courage, faith and example in moving by God's orders. His sojourn was not in vain. We are moving toward that heavenly city because of our spiritual relationship with Abraham, that kindred spirit of faith," said John Whitley of Cleveland, Ohio, in his lecture, "Abraham, Faith in Action."

In presenting "Esther, the Providence of God," Marvin Phillips of Tulsa, Okla., said: "The book of Esther is a thrilling story of the providence of God. There wasn't a time when the existence of the Jewish people was seriously threatened. The God who providently cared for his people then, does so today."

Attendants at the October 8 Student Day lectures heard Larry James of New Orleans speak on "God's Grace and Christian Morality:" "The reason Christians are people of high moral character is because they understand just how much God loves them. Christians are people with a never-dying gratitude in their hearts to God who gives them life."

Other Student Day speakers included Kenneth Reed of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Wally Wilkerson of Richardson, Tex., Eddie Cloer of Osceola, and Dale Smith of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Saturday, October 11, was designated as Parent's Day. Key lectures were presented by Waymon Miller of Tulsa and Wendell Winkler of Ft. Worth, Tex.

Performances by the Chorale, A Cappella chorus, the Belles and Beaux and the Bison Band highlighted the week. Also included were the Associated Women for Harding's annual Gift Fair, and various reunion receptions and dinners.

According to Dr. Neale Pryor, next year's theme for the 53rd annual event will be "Count It All Joy."

ALUMNOTES

TO ALUMNI:

We are always pleased when you inform us of your accomplishments and activities, and we appreciate your keeping us posted on changes of address (see coupon).

For economic reasons, Alumnotes are printed only in the tabloid version of the Bulletin, which is produced about four times each calendar year. News received each month is held for printing in the tabloid.

Spring Sing Planned April 15-17; Five Hosts, Hostesses Selected

Hosts and hostesses for the annual Spring Sing have been named after rigid auditions by almost 50 contestants. The five who will emcee the gala which will be staged April 15-17 are Miss Beverly Bucy of Searcy, Ken Dowdy of Huntsville, Alabama, Eric Manlove of Wichita, Kansas, Miss Pam Powers of Troy, Ohio and Miss Susan Seavers of Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. John H. Ryan, chairman of the show, said that preparation for the performances has been underway since soon after the start of the fall semester. Staged only two nights in the past, this year the production will be three nights to accommodate the crowds. The show is held during the weekend of the annual Youth Forum.

A junior elementary education major, Miss Bucy is a member of Gata women's club and is active in Student National Education Association. She sings with the A Cappella chorus also.

Dowdy, a junior biology major, sang with Harding's Time of Day before he joined the Army. He returned as a student last spring. Dowdy is a member of TNT men's club and is active in Campus Players.

A senior majoring in speech, Manlove has played roles in "My Fair Lady" and the recent "Annie Get Your Gun." He is a member of Chi Sigma Alpha and has achieved membership in Alpha Psi Omega national drama fraternity and Pi Kappa Delta speech fraternity. He was freshman dramatist of 1972-73 and was voted Best Male Backstage Worker in 1973-74.

Miss Powers is a senior majoring in music. She has sung four years with the Belles and Beaux and is a member of Shantih women's club.

A junior majoring in special education, Miss Seavers transferred to Harding this fall from Michigan Christian College where she was active in academic and extracurricular affairs. She was voted Miss Michigan Christian last spring.

Alumni Donors

We have attempted to have a correct listing of all alumni donors. If we have overlooked your name, we apologize. If your name is missing otherwise, won't you send your gift now?

In previous years new contributors have written asking why their names did not appear on the list for the year. The college fiscal year begins on July 1 and runs through June 30. Contributions made during any fiscal year must be made within those months in order to be listed for that particular year. Being accustomed to a regular calendar year — January through December — misunderstandings may arise when contributions are not listed for a given year. If your gift was made after June 30, your name will appear in the next annual report by Harding's Alumni Association.

If you have any questions regarding your con to the college, please contact the Alumni Association.

Bison Harriers Capture 5th Conference Crown

A fifth straight Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference capped another outstanding season for the Harding Bison cross country team.

Looking back over the recently completed season, head coach Ted Lloyd remarked, "I must say that we had one of our most consistent seasons in several years. We had the leadership from our front runners all season and always seemed to have the depth when we needed it, which is essential to have a successful season."

With only one senior on his championship squad, Lloyd has great reason for an optimistic outlook for his team's chances in '76. Kurt Wiederspan, senior from Ft. Morgan Colorado, will be the only harrier not returning next season.

Now that the 1975 AIC title has been secured, the Bisons stand just one year away from tying the conference consecutive championship record of six set by Harding teams from the 1964-1969 years. The Bisons won this year's meet with a comfortable 38-58 margin over runner-up Ouachita Baptist.

In addition, this season saw the Bisons annex their third straight NAIA District 17 championship. Sophomore Marshall Grate of Waterloo, Indiana, was Harding's first runner to win the NAIA District 17 individual title as he led the team to a low score of 25 points, ahead of second place Ouachita Baptist with 62.

Grate was also the AIC individual runner-up this year and was named to the All-AIC team, as well as teammates Phil Hostetler of Topeka, Indiana, Kent Johnson of Oxnard, Calif., and Mark Galeazzi of Merced Calif. The Bisons finished five men in the top ten of the NAIA District 17 meet, including Hostetler, Johnson, Galeazzi, Grate,

Wiederspan placed 12th and 15th in NAIA District 17 and AIC competition while sophomore Joe Shepherd finished 15th and 12th in the two meets to anchor the winning efforts.

Winning has become a tradition with the Bisons as they finished the season undefeated in dual matches and have not been defeated by a conference opponent since 1970.

Four Gridders Chosen All-AIC, All-District; New Records Set

A quartet of Harding College gridgers have been selected to the 1975 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference and NAIA-District 17 All-Star team as the Bisons closed out the year with a 4-6 record.

Co-captains Randy Miller, a linebacker from Atlanta, Tex., and Ted Walters, a fullback from Dallas, joined offensive tackle Mike Black of Dallas and tailback-receiver Joe David Smith of Newport, Ark., on the honor teams selected by the conference coaches. Miller and Walters are seniors, Black and Smith are juniors.

"We're especially proud of these boys and the recognition they've received," Bison head coach John Prock said. "Their contributions have been outstanding."

Prock had special praise for the 10 seniors on this year's squad, indicating that they had been instrumental in compiling a four-year record of 23-16-1.

Smith, a compact 5-8, 170 pounder, established a pair of records with a 284-yard rushing performance in the Bisons' 25-15 victory over the University of Arkansas at Monticello. Carrying the ball 39 times, he established single game records for yards gained rushing and total yards gained.

In addition to his rushing, which netted 579 total yards, Smith caught 18 passes for 282 yards, led the AIC in kickoff returns with 412 yards on 19 returns for a 21.7 yard average and added 81 more yards on punt returns for a standout season.

Teamwise, the Bison offense gained 429 yards on the ground to account for another school record.

Walters, a 5-11, 200-pounder, started every game of a four-year career which included performances in the 1972 Cowboy Bowl and a share of the AIC championship. A devastating blocker,

Joe David Smith

Walters was also adept at rushing as he compiled a career total of 1,481 yards. He ranks second on the Bison all-time scoring list with 136 points.

Throughout the season, Miller was top-ranked nationally among the NAIA Division I defensive performers. A 5-10, 220 lb. four-year letterman, he recorded 168 tackles this season, 87 of which were solo stops. He had a single game high of 25 tackles against Henderson State.

Seniors completing their career are four year lettermen Miller and Walters; three-year lettermen, defensive tackle David Cooke of Houston, Tex., defensive guard Ken Neller of Huntsville, Ala., offensive guard Jerry Chism of Childress, Tex., tailback Jackie Alston of Searcy, wide receiver Doug Owen of Holly Springs, Miss., split-end Perry Brown of Maud, Tex., and offensive guard-tackle Ricky Barnes of Garland, Tex.
