$8,000 Grant From Kellogg To Improve Library Services

Harding College has received a grant of $8,000 from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich. under the Foundation's National Library Demonstration Program. The funds will be used for purchase of terminal equipment from the Ohio College Library Center and for training of library personnel.

The new system will speed up the cataloging of materials and facilitate placing books on shelves to serve patrons. The system will extend holdings of the library for a sharing of resources. Ten other colleges in Arkansas already use the method, which is a help in interlibrary loans and in the use of periodicals.

Miss Winnie Bell, Harding librarian, said, "Our most immediate joyful contemplation of the terminal is the speed with which we will be able to place new books on the shelves ready for use." The Library head explained that the new terminal will permit books to be on the shelves within two weeks after the book is received. With the addition of about 6,000 volumes annually to the Harding Beaumont Library, the terminal can be a great help, she noted.

Harding President Clifton L. Ganus Jr. expressed appreciation for the grant. "The library is one of the fundamental strengths of a college," he said. "We feel this will greatly extend our capacity to serve."

Dr. Russell G. Mawby, Kellogg Foundation President, explained that "the grant to Harding is one of approximately 300 similar grants being made to small, private liberal arts colleges throughout the United States as part of the Foundation's continuing program of support for improved college library services. In 1962 the Foundation provided a total of $2,500,000 to 250 colleges to augment their teacher preparation library holdings. Three years later the Foundation made grants totaling $495,000 to 33 historically black colleges for library improvements and in 1971 Foundation grants totaling $1,500,000 were made to 300 small, private liberal arts colleges for increased library resources in the environmental area. The new grant program brings the Foundation's support of college library services to a total of nearly $7 million.

"Past Foundation support was concerned with the augmentation of holdings by libraries. It is now appropriate that selected colleges receive support to improve their library service through the application of modern technological advancements in the retrieval of information. Access to a computerized library network should provide each of the college libraries with increased productivity, decreased unit costs and improved services to library users."

105 Seniors Receive Diplomas In First Winter Graduation

One-hundred and five seniors received degrees in the college's first winter commencement exercises Dec. 17 in the main auditorium. The graduates heard an address by John D. Gipson, minister of the Sixth & Izard Church of Christ in Little Rock.

Gipson challenged the graduates to have a dream, but urged them to maintain a willingness to adapt. He cited John Philip Sousa as an example, noting that Sousa's ambition was to be a composer of opera. His fame has come, however, through his incomparable and still popular marches.

Dr. Clifton L. Ganus Jr. conferred the baccalaureate degrees. He noted that the ceremony was also an official phasing out of the upholstered seats and the stage curtains in the main auditorium. The cushions, after 24 years of constant use, were replaced during the holiday recess.

Honor graduates included Calvin Dale Cherry of Phoenix, Charles Philip Elam of Hot Springs and Donna Turner of Searcy as summa cum laude students. David Farrar of Searcy, Barbara Hoffman of Parker, Colo., Karyn Sue Phillips of St. Louis and Kris Siem of Concord, Calif. graduated magna cum laude.

Israeli Hero, CBS Correspondent To Highlight Spring Lecture Series

Former Israeli Minister of Defense Moshe Dayan will highlight the spring semester schedule of the Searcy and Memphis Lecture Series portions of the American Studies Program sponsored by Harding College.

The 1977 Searcy program begins with a presentation by Robert McCord, editor of the Arkansas Democrat and national president of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity. McCord will be on campus for two days speaking to an assembly of the entire student body and to the American Studies members and guests Jan. 20.

Two highly successful business management consultants, Dr. Philip Gramm and Dr. M. Scott Myers, will be on campus Jan. 28-29 for a management seminar co-sponsored by the American Studies Program and Harding's Department of Business and Economics. Gramm, currently working as an economic analyst with Texas A&M University, and Myers, director of the Center for Applied Management in Coral Gables, Fla., will also keynote sessions open to American Studies members.

General Dayan, still a popular military hero in Israel because of his efforts in the nation's strong showing in the 1967 Six-Day War with Egypt, will consider "Mideast Perspectives" in his Feb. 7 lecture in Harding's main auditorium. Currently a member of the Middle East state's parliament, the Knesset, Dayan is on a speaking tour in the United States.

CBS news correspondent Douglas Edwards will follow Dayan on the spring schedule. A broadcaster with more than 35 years television and radio experience, Edwards will discuss "Washington Today" Feb. 17. Presently anchorman of the CBS Mid-Day News on CBS Television Network, he has anchored a daily television news broadcast on the network without interruption for 27 years.

Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly, an outspoken opponent of the Equal Rights Amendment, will speak about the women's liberation movement March 24. An author of several books, she has testified before most of the state legislatures which defeated the ERA bill. Mrs. Schlafly is the co-author with Admiral Chester Ward of five books on defense and foreign policy: Ambush at Vladivostok (1976) and Kissinger on the Couch (1975) covering the Kissinger years, and The Gravediggers (1964), Strike From Space (1965) and The Betrayers (1968) covering the McNamara years.

Douglas Edwards

On April 4, James J. Kilpatrick, one of America's most respected newspapermen, will lecture on "Washington Wonderland." Kilpatrick's syndicated column, "A Conservative View," now appears in 320 American newspapers. A regular commentator for CBS and its Washington, D.C. affiliate, he is a contributing editor of National Review and a regular essayist for Nation's Business. He has written or edited five books and is at work on another.

Memphis programs will be keynoted by Gramm, Jan. 27; Dayan, Feb. 8; Mrs. Schlafly, March 25, and Kilpatrick, April 5. The Memphis lectures will be held in the O.O. Emmons Auditorium on the Harding Academy campus.

For further details or tickets for the Searcy programs, write Dr. Bill R. Cox, Director, American Studies Program, Harding College, Searcy, AR 72143.

Smith to Keynote 13th Youth Forum

"Resurrection Power" will be the theme for Harding's 13th annual Youth Forum April 8-9 with Terry Smith of Searcy as featured speaker.

Smith, associate minister for the College Church of Christ, will speak on the topics "Power of the Man," "Power Available to Us" and "Power Shared," focusing on the Biblical scripture Philippians 3:10.

The fourth annual Spring Sing, involving more than 700 Harding students, will be a highlight of entertainment, with other activities planned by the Belles and Beaux, "Time of Day" and the A Cappella Chorus.

More than 3,500 high school students from 27 states and two foreign countries were on hand for last year's Youth Forum and heard Joe Barnett of Lubbock, Tex. who spoke at three sessions. According to Forum coordinator Steve Tucker, this year's crowd is expected to exceed last year's record turnout.

Due to the anticipated large number of visitors, attendants will again be expected to provide for their own meals. Pattie Cobb and American Heritage cafeterias and the College Inn snack room offer food services, and numerous eating establishments are located in Searcy.

Visitors will also need to follow the previous pattern of planning in advance to stay in the dormitory room of a friend on campus. Although no advance housing requests will be handled by the Admissions Office, housing will be provided for those unable to make arrangements. Assignments for those requiring accommodations will be made upon registration. All visitors should bring bedding and towels for the weekend.

Spring Sing tickets are on sale now and may be purchased through the college Business Office. Forum guests are encouraged to attend the Friday night program. (Coupon on page 8.)

The Youth Forum was established in 1965 to provide prospective students an opportunity to visit the Harding Campus, stay in college housing and participate in spiritually rewarding programs while here.

For a schedule of the Forum activities and additional details, contact Admissions Office, Box 762, Harding College, Searcy,

Duane McCampbell

Professor to Chair Philosophy Meeting

Duane McCampbell, assistant professor of English, has been elected vice president of the Arkansas Philosophical Association.

McCampbell, who joined the Harding faculty in 1969, also holds the title of assistant professor in the Department of Bible, Religion and Philosophy.

A native of Oklahoma City, he will serve the state's professional philosophers' organization as program chairman for the 1977 meeting. McCampbell has read papers at previous meetings of the group.

He has also recently completed an article, entitled "John Dewey's Ethical Philosophy," to be published in a spring edition of Restoration Quarterly.

Student Musicians to Host Fourth Annual Spring Sing

Hosts and hostesses for the Fourth Annual Spring Sing set for April 7-9 have been announced following auditions by Dr. John H. Ryan, director of the show.

Ken Dowdy, a senior biology and music major of Meridianville, Ala., won the nod to repeat the position he also held last year. He will be joined by Tim Woodroof, a junior psychology and Bible major from Searcy as hosts for the musical. Both singers are former members of the Time of Day, Dowdy performing with the group in 1971-72 and Woodroof in 1974-76.

Misses Carol Curtis and Katrina Wilson have been named hostesses. A sophomore Wilson, a junior from Springhill, La., who is majoring in foreign languages, is a member of the A Cappella Chorus.

The revue, one of the college's most popular student productions, involves variety acts by the men's and women's social clubs as well as individual solos by the hosts and hostesses. Harding's Stage Band provides accompaniment and interlude music for the shows.

Added this year is a matinee performance for 3 p.m. Saturday in addition to the three p.m. shows on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. All seats for the shows are $1.50 and may be ordered through the Harding Business Office. All requests should be accompanied by payment and a stamped,

Dr. Joseph E. Pryor, dean of the college, serves as national secretary-treasurer of the organization. Dr. Don England, Dr. Neale Pryor and Dr. Pryor, sponsors of Harding's Arkansas Eta chapter, conducted the installation ceremony.

Showalter to Direct Financial Aids Group

Russell Showalter, director of Student Financial Aids, has been elected president of the Southwest Association of Student Financial Aids Administrators. He will assume office in July. The Southwest Association serves the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Showalter served the organization as president-elect and program director in recent years. During his tenure he will attend each state's meeting and will represent the Southwest district on national council issues concerning financial aid. The association serves as the governing board national federal aids programs.

The new president, along with the past president and the president-elect, will serve as representatives to Region 6.

In the five-state area are 296 colleges and universities which are represented by the organization.

Micro-teaching Aids Education Program

Innovative methods designed to improve the future educator's teaching skills are constantly producing positive results. One of these techniques, called micro-teaching, was offered for the first time at Harding College during the past semester in a Seminar for Student Teachers.

Micro-teaching involves presenting a short concept to a small group of students. By videotaping a lesson, the preservice student can review a tape and evaluate his strengths and faults. Harding's Christian Communication Program facilities provide the two color videotaping cameras, audio equipment, closed circuit systems and recording equipment used in the Seminar.

Nancy Blackwell, a senior music education major, said of micro-teaching, "It's hard to explain an idea to someone else. Micro-teaching made me plan a lesson which put into practice what I've been learning in my block courses. I had practiced in front of a mirror, but on tape I could go back and see areas that needed improvement. I think this will help me plan better so that things will go more smoothly, without hesitation."

Jerry Joslin, a physical education major, taught a micro lesson to the defensive secondary of a football team. "On that tape, I could see my own faults, even better than anyone else can. It helped me become aware of bad speech habits."

Joni Voss transported a portion of the Harding Academy second grade class to the studio to teach her musical concept of high and low pitch. "Micro-teaching helped me to organize. The lesson was condensed so that one can get the important points across in a short time."

In 1977-78, about 50 per cent of Harding's active teaching force for that timespan will be in Arkansas school systems. Keeping up with current methods such as micro-teaching is an aid in obtaining confident and efficient teachers for the state's schools.

Hugh Groover

Dr. Harry Olree

Olree Succeeds Groover As Director of Athletics

Hugh Groover, athletic director at Harding, has resigned and Dr. Harry Olree has been named as his successor, according to an announcement by President Clifton Ganus. The appointment became effective Ian. 1

Olree, the chairman of the department of physical education, health and recreation, previously served as the school's athletic director from 1960-69.

A member of the Harding faculty for 25 years, Groover will be assuming full-time responsibilities as director of Camp Wyldewood, a Christian youth camp near Searcy. He has directed the camp on a part-time basis for eight years.

"Developing a year-round program for Wyldewood is an exciting opportunity. The need is there and I'm looking forward to being able to concentrate on a single area. The program has grown from a summertime activity to a year-round program and it is a challenging opportunity."

A 46-year-old native of Hayti, Mo., Olree is a 1953 graduate of Harding. He joined the college faculty in 1957 and was appointed departmental chairman and athletic director in 1960. In 1966 Olree was named Director of Research to administer projects related to physical fitness sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Groover joined the college staff in 1957 as basketball coach after five years as basketball coach at Harding Academy. In his final season in 1968-69 he directed the Bisons to a 17-10 record and advanced to the NAIA District 17 tournament. In 1969 he was named to the athletic director's post. His tenure was highlighted by Harding winning the 1975-76 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference All-Sports Trophy competition.

Olree received his doctor's degree in 1961 from George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. He is currently the chairman of the NAIA Medical Aspects of Sports committee and former chairman of the Research Section of the Arkansas Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

He is married to the former Joy Edwards of Hayti, and the couple has five children.

Nursing Group Adds 16

Sixteen nursing majors at Harding College have been inducted into the Harding College Honor Society in Nursing, a recognition of their achievements as undergraduates.

Included were Nancy Baither, Westbury, N.Y., Becky Betts, Tokyo, Charlene Dabbs, Jefferson City, Mo., Jana Devore, Ironton, Mo., Elizabeth Lee, Potts Camp, Miss., Lyn McCarty, Springdale, Billie Malone, Old Hickory, Tenn., DeAnn Martin, Bartlesville, Okla.,

Marcia Murphy, Jefferson City, Mo., Paula Myers, Columbus, Ohio, Mike Niswander, Kensett, Miriam Pitts, Alexandria, Va., Suzy Priddy, Shreveport, La., Dorcas Riffle, Winter Garden, Fla., Sara Starling, Coral Gables, Fla., and Lou Ann Watson, Austin.

Economics Team to Defend Regional Title

An economics team, composed of four students and a faculty sponsor, will defend Harding's 1976 champsionship in the second annual Mid-South Regional Private Enterprise Education competition in Oklahoma City.

Senior Dickie Isom of Shreveport, La., and juniors Marsha Bender of Alamagordo, N.M., Merrill Klemm of Philadelphia and Doug Sanders of Antioch, Tenn., will be assisted by Dr. Don Diffine, assistant professor of economics, in the contest, which began Oct. 22.

The group attended a two-day workshop in October to establish guidelines for the competition. The workshop, sponsored by segments of the business community in cooperation with the American Citizenship Center at Oklahoma Christian College, was an effort to initiate action to reverse the apparent anti-business bias emanating from many college campuses today.

Competition will conclude April 2, 1977, at which time each competing institution will send a faculty sponsor and two student representatives to present their program before a panel of judges. A written presentation, along with supporting data describing the team's efforts, will be submitted for judging March 25.

A grant of $1,500 will be awarded the winning institution and a $750 grant will go to the runner-up school.

Last year "FREE ENTERPRISE: The Greatest Story Never Told (Until Now)," a 200-page product of last year's Harding economics team, swept a 13-college field of competition to win the first annual Mid-South Regional event.

Economics team members for 1976-77 include, seated, Dr. Don Diffine, advisor, Marsha Bender, standing, Dickie Isom, Merrill Klemm and Doug Sanders. The group is competing in the second annual Mid-South Regional Private Enterprise Education Competition. Harding is the defending champion.

Staff Member Succumbs In Struggle With Leukemia

by Alice Ann Kellar

It's hard to say goodbye. Especially to a friend. But goodbyes are always made a little easier with anticipation of reunion.

I've recently said goodbye to one of the dearest friends I ever had — Robyn Smith Hunter. But because of her, I know a little better what a reward Heaven's going to be and how much more I look forward to getting there.

A member of the staff of the Public Relations Office at Harding, Robyn, age 23, died of leukemia Oct. 8 in a Tulsa hospital where she had spent five weeks in a desperate fight.

In a sense, every reader of this Bulletin has lost a friend, because she has been a vital part of the publication for the past two years — through writing, editing and proofing.

I don't even remember when we met. I do

I don't even remember when we met. I do remember when I first heard she had leukemia. She was a sophomore, the spring of 1972, and everyone was quite concerned. We prayed for her recovery. But she was more a name and a face then; she was just a casual friend.

Treatment brought her leukemia to remission and she came back to college in full force that fall. She wrote for The Bison, was one of the three finalists in the May Fete, then won the bid for editor of The Bison for her senior year.

There's a natural bond between the publicity office and The Bison editor — and during her editorship I came to admire her more.

Her editions were eagerly awaited. She had a wit that was reflected in a weekly column. She worked hard to make the paper a good one.

Following graduation she forfeited entrance to graduate school in journalism at the University of Missouri where she had been accepted. She elected to wait for graduation of her fiance, Ray Hunter of San Antonio. In the fall of 1974 she started work in the Public Relations Office as editorial associate.

Then it happened. She came to be a day-to-day, or moreso an hour-to-hour part of my life. We planned her wedding to Ray, an event of Nov. 30, 1974. We sat to talk, we exchanged ideas, we griped, we counted our blessings. She knew in whom she believed, and she trusted her all to Him. She never gave giving up a thought. She fought her disease with all her being.

Mrs. Robyn Smith Hunter

She didn't feel well much of the time but she never admitted it. She spread joy with her comments, her wit, her cleverness in choice of words. She was a legacy of love, and loving her was easy.

Last fall she started another semester with us; Ray enrolled for classes. But soon the pain was too great and she went to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, in Tulsa. Ray withdrew from classes and was with her there.

The leukemia was active again and the doctors were unable to get it under control.

In addition to her husband and parents, she is survived by two brothers, Zane Smith and Covey Smith, and a sister, Mrs. Wista Waldroop. Funeral services were held in Tulsa Oct. 11. The family suggested memorials be made to the leukemia society or Harding College Memorial Fund.

She added so much to the office that it's hard to realize she's not still here.

But while we writhe in grief, we can also spontaneously laugh at her antics. We had laughed so much, sung so much, appeased irate critics, cried over mistakes.

She accepted her illness with such dignity that she taught all of us better how to cope.

God put Robyn's spirit in a body destined to last only slightly less than 24 years. But he allowed her to leave an inspirational history for us to emulate. She was the epitome of beauty. She was just Robyn, all the time, and we eagerly await that great reunion as we say a final goodbye here to Robyn — our special little friend.

Black Wins Berth on NAIA All-America Team

Mike Black, Harding's 242-lb. senior offensive tackle, has been selected to the 1976 NAIA Division I Football All-America first team, according to an announcement by Dr. Harry Fritz, executive secretary of the NAIA in Kansas City.

Two other Bison seniors, tailback-receiver Joe David Smith of Newport and defensive end Adrian Hickmon of Searcy, were named to the All-America honorable mention unit.

For Black, a 21-year-old native of Dallas, Tex., the honor capped an outstanding season in which Harding shared its second Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference title and won a post-season berth in the San Jacinto Shrine Bowl in Pasadena, Tex.

Black thus joins a growing list of Bison gridders who have gained All-America recognition. Previous first team selectees were quarterback Tom Ed Gooden of Carlisle in 1973 and guard Jerry Cook of Clarksville in 1971. Others receiving second team honors were tackle Barney Crawford of Mountain Home in 1974, tackle Edd Eason of Fort Worth in 1972, tackle Jim Duncan of Searcy in 1969, noseguard Don Sinquefield of Senatobia, Miss. in 1968 and Cook in 1970.

"I had no idea I had a shot at making All-America," Black said after being notified of his berth. "This is tremendous, one of those things I've always hoped for."

"Mike is an outstanding football player," head coach John Prock said. "He's enthusiastic and highly competitive and has been a real team leader this year. He has the temperament to rise to the occasion. The tougher his opponent in front of him, the better Mike performed."

Prock's comments were underscored by offensive line coach Dick Johnson. "Mike got better every game, every year. He's an exceptionally strong blocker with excellent quickness. You don't have to worry about Mike giving his top effort. He puts it all on the line, every game."

Since coming to Harding in 1973, "Big Mike" has started 34 consecutive games for the Bisons. He suffered a dislocated elbow early in his freshman year and saw service only in the final two games. A graduate of Bryan Adams High School in Dallas, Tex., he is a two-time All-AIC and All-NAIA District 17 selection. He was an NAIA All-America honorable mention honoree last year.

In the four years Black competed for the Bisons, Harding has recorded a 24-18-3 record. Mike is one of 18 seniors who will be graduating from this year's championship squad.

Footbail is a family affair for Black, whose wife, the former Debra Kay Hampton of Garland, Tex., is a former cheerleader.

"She gets as excited about the games as I do," Black said.

Summing it up, Mike said, "This has been a tremendous year in every way. As a team the real key to our success was the unity and dedication. In my book our whole team is All-America."

Any way you look at it, big number 78 will leave some big shoes to fill.

Bison Mentor Earns Honor As District 'Coach of Year'

For the third time in his career, Harding football coach John Prock has been named "Coach of the Year" in District 17 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The announcement was made by District Chairman Duke Wells of Henderson State University.

Selection is determined by ballot of the area coaches. Currently the dean of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference with 13 years as head coach, Prock was also named Coach of the Year in 1969 and 1972.

Rebounding from a dismal 4-6 season in 1975, Prock guided the Bisons to a 7-5 record and a share of the AIC championship with the University of Central Arkansas. Harding's first AIC title came in 1972 when it shared the crown with Southern Arkansas University.

Prock-directed teams have achieved significant success nationally. In 1972 and again in 1976 the Bisons participated in post-season bowl games. In 1972 the Bisons were ranked sixth in the final NAIA rankings. Eight of his athletes have been named to the NAIA All-American first or second teams.

John Prock

Prock joined Harding in 1960 and took over as head coach in 1964. He is a graduate of Southwestern State College (Okla.). His overall coaching record is 68-60-3. The 47-year-old coach is a native of Hollis, Okla.

Swimmers Prep to Defend AIC Title At League Competition in February

The Bison tank men will defend their 1976 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Swimming and Diving Championship when the league contenders collide in the 1977 title affair Feb. 18-19 in Conway.

Last year Harding unseated perennial state power Hendrix College from its 10-year championship reign, as the Water Buffaloes climaxed an undefeated season in AIC dual competition with the conference crown.

This year's field of AIC schools appears to be stronger with more teams figuring into the competition for the top spot, according to Bison coach Arnold Pylkas.

"Hendrix, Harding and the University of Central Arkansas will be the favorites with Southern Arkansas University holding dark horse status," the former All-American swimmer said. "But the quality of swimming and diving competition in the AIC is improving rapidly, and more schools are beginning to show increased interest in water sports programs."

With six of last year's top performers lost to graduation, including four-time diving champ Mark Trotter, depth has become the key factor in Pylkas' team-rebuilding strategy. More than 30 athletes comprise the swimming and diving roster, and more than half of those are first-year men.

Seniors Wendell Cave of Gainesville, Fla. and Dale Linge of Bellevue, Wash. and sophomore Norman Kahla of Deer Park, Tex. are expected to continue providing team leadership. All have broken and set school records and have numerous first-place finishes to their credits. Cave is an experienced relay team veteran and a short distance sprinter. Linge, a three-year letterman, specializes in the freestyle and butterfly competitions, while Kahla is the conference's defending high-point man, with AIC wins in the 100-, 200- and 500-yard freestyle events.

Other key freestylers include freshman Tim Boyd of Detroit, Mich. and sophomore Scott Smith of Dearborn, Mich. Sophomore Steve Pylkas of Searcy will team with Linge to give Harding a strong entry in the butterfly races, and sophomore Steve North of Orlando, Fla. returns as the top backstroke artist.

"We are always looking for more talent," Pylkas added. "We're hoping that some mid-term transfers and new students, or any students interested in intercollegiate swimming, will consider joining the team."

Academy Climaxes Perfect Season By Clinching State Class B Crown

With 20 seniors to lead the way, Harding Academy recorded a perfect 12-0 record and won the 1976 Arkansas Class B football championship.

Playoff victories over Bauxite, Bradley and Mountain Pine nailed down the number one ranking in the state for Coach Bill Barden's Wildcats.

Two senior members of the team, quarterback Kevin Webb and tight end Randy Kiihnl, were named to the Class B All-State first team. Three other Wildcats, back Ponder Wright, defensive end Jon David Yingling and offensive tackle Steaven Miller were named to the honorable mention team.

Enroute to the Wildcats' first state title,

Webb rushed for 425 yards, completed 17 of 33 passes for 395 yards and scored eight touchdowns. He averaged 20 yards on 11 punt returns including a 70-yard return for a touchdown. A two-way performer, he played safety on defense.

Kiihnl, also a two-way standout, had nine receptions for 215 yards and five touchdowns.

The Wildcats dominated the Grand Prairie Conference all-star team. Named to the all-district offensive unit were Webb, Kiinhl, Miller, Wright and guard Ron Rainwater.

Defensively, Yingling, tackles Eric Schol and Max Hughes and noseguard Bobby Thornton received all-district recognition.

Footballers Capture AIC Co-Championship

A dramatic 16-13 victory over the University of Central Arkansas climaxed a banner year as the Harding Bisons won a share of the college's second Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championship.

Opening the season unrated as a contender after 1975's discouraging 4-6 record, the Bisons surprised pollsters and opposing teams by upstaging the league's top-ranked teams and posting a 5-1 mark in the AIC. The co-championship is Harding's second; the 1972 Bisons also finished 5-1 and tied for the conference's top spot.

An extra bonus for the Bisons was the 1976 post-season San Jacinto Shrine Bowl game, in which Harding represented the Arkansas conference by right of the win over the other co-champ, Central Arkansas. The Bisons dropped a 22-12 Shrine Bowl decision to nationally ranked Abilene Christian University, the Texas Lone Star Conference representative, in the Pasadena, Tex. Memorial Stadium Dec. 4.

Harding athletes dominated the AIC statistical charts all season and were the top yardage-producing team in the intrastate league. Using a balanced I formation with two tight ends, coach John Prock's Bisons averaged 334 yards per game, with 177 coming on land and 157 through the air.

Tailback Joe David Smith of Newport, a co-captain of the squad, led the AIC in rushing, receiving and scoring. The first athlete in conference history to lead the league in both rushing and receiving, the 5-8, 175-lb. senior finished with 999 yards rushing on 209 carries, 596 yards receiving on 44 passes caught and 13 touchdowns for 78 points. He also completed four of four passing attempts for 59 yards to lift his total offense mark over 1,000 yards.

Teammate Jeff Smith, senior quarterback from Calhoun, Ga., was the league's leading passer and total offense back. Smith broke the school's single season record by connecting on 129 of 256 passes for 1,711 yards and added 57 on the ground for a total 1,768 yards. His passing total for 1976 fell just five yards short of the AIC record of 1,716 yards. The two Smiths were the only two athletes in the AIC to break 1,000 yards this season.

Also high in the stats was fullback Allen Grieb on Oklahoma City, one of the top four rushers in Arkansas, with 747 yards. The bruising 6-1, 205-pounder also hauled in eight passes for 113 yards.

Senior right end Eric Whitley of Lithonia, Ga. and his 27 pass receptions and 517 receiving yards were in the state's top four in that category, followed closely by teammates Bob Winston, a senior wide receiver from South Fulton, Tenn., with 24 receptions and 313 yards, and Max Ellzey, a sophomore flanker from Osceola, with 24 catches and 181 yards.

Senior safeties Randy Tribble of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla. and Robert Akins of Holly Springs, Miss. were among the AIC's best in pass interceptions. The two defensive backs picked off six stray passes this year and tied the school record in career interceptions with their 11 aerial thefts.

Randy Jones, a junior from Ardmore, Okla., had the second best punting average in the conference. The versatile athlete, also a placekicker and tight end, recorded a 37.4-yard average on 57 punts.

Placekicker David Skelton was the Bisons' second leading scorer with 19 point-after-touchdown conversions and eight field goals. The senior from West Fork broke school records for field goals and kicking points in a single season.

Leading the Bison defensive effort was junior linebacker Mike Graul of Cahokia, Ill. The 5-10, 195-lb. defensive field general totaled 187 tackles for the season, an average of about 16 per game.

Five Bisons headlined the 1976 All-AIC and All-NAIA District 17 first teams, including the two Smiths, senior offensive tackle Mike Black of Dallas, Tribble and senior defensive end Adrian Hickmon of Searcy, the other team co-captain.

It was the second year for both Joe David Smith and Black, and Hickmon was one of two unanimous choices in the league and district coaches' balloting. Black, Hickmon and the two Smiths were also named to the NAIA and Associated Press Little All-America units. (See article on page 6.)

Selected to the all-conference and all-district honorable mention squad were Whitley, Grieb, Graul, Winston, offensive linemen Allen Jeter of Monticello, Ronnie Huckeba of Doraville, Ga. and Robert Baggett of Searcy, linebacker Tim Towns of Bethany, Okla., defensive linemen John Cooley of Memphis and David Cramblett of Searcy and defensive halfbacks David English of Milton, Fla. and Lanny Dauksch of Tamaroa, Ill.

Sixteen school records were broken or equaled during the season. Single season team records fell in passing yardage, interceptions and field goals, and one-game records were rewritten in rushing defense and pass defense.

Significant victories in the 7-5 season included a 20-15 win over Henderson State University, a 17-0 shutout of Ouachita Baptist University and the 16-13 finale with Central Arkansas. All three were nationally ranked going into the games. Both Henderson and Central Arkansas finished the season in the NAIA's top ten.

At the holiday break, the Bison basketballers are sporting a 5-3 record with All-American Butch Gardner leading the way.

The Bisons have edged four nonconference foes in five intersectional outings and averaged 75 points per game to opposing teams' 66-point average. In the AIC the Bisons are 1-2, winning big over College of the Ozarks, 95-71, but dropping close ones to Ouachita University, 68-71, and Arkansas College, 76-77.

Gardner, a 6-4 forward from Searcy, has led the conference in early season scoring with his 19-plus point average. A senior with All-America second and third team credits from the past two seasons, he also paces the

All-America second-teamer Butch Gardner floats above Ouachita opponents to add another two points to his school scoring record.

A three-time All-AIC performer, Gardner has scored 1,903 points in his career and rewrites his own school record every time he sinks a basket.

A new dimension in the Bison offensive formation is 6-8 center David Baker of Havertown, Pa. An aggressive scorer near the basket, the junior college transfer leads the team in field goal percentage, hitting 38 of 63 shots from the floor. Baker is averaging 11.9 points and 7.1 rebounds.

Senior Jerry Morgan of Corning is the team assist leader with 53 through eight games. He is also the top free throw shooter, sinking 21 of 23 from the line. The 6-3 guard rounds out the team's double-figure scorers with his 10.9-point average.

The Bisons receive additional scoring and board strength from 6-6 junior James "Slim" Winston, a Memphis native who is making the transition from the post to a forward position to make room for the taller Baker. Winston brings down 9.5 rebounds per game while also pumping in 9.5 points each contest.

Stan Eckwood of Brinkley has taken over at the guard spot vacated by the graduated Tony Sneed, the sparkplug in last year's winning combination. The 6-4 Eckwood chips in 8.9 points and 6.8 rebounds per game for the Bisons.

Rounding out the top eight players on the roster are sophomore Monte Hazelbaker, a 6-3 guard from Danville, Ill., freshman Bruce Binkley, a 6-5 forward from Tulsa, and junior Jim Speer, a 6-7 center from Rector. Hazelbaker averages 7.1 points, Binkley 4.0 and Speer 3.2.

Through one-third of Harding's 24-game schedule for the 1976-77 season, the Bisons are shooting field goals at a .442 percentage and 68 per cent of their free throws.

In January the Bisons are slated to play eight consecutive AIC games before breaking for a non-conference contest, and then finish the year with seven more league tilts prior to the NAIA District 17 playoff tournament slated for Feb. 28-March 2.

Alumni Donors During Fiscal 1976

Contributions by alumni during 1976 reached a near-record high, according to the annual report submitted by David Crouch, executive secretary of the Harding Alumni Association.

Alumni contributions from January through December, 1976, totaled $395,715. The number of alumni contributing (3,738) was 26.5 per cent of the college's 14,056 active alumni. The number of alumni contributing during 1976 is the second highest in the college's history.

The 1976 donor list is only surpassed by the 1974-75 fiscal year list which contained the names of 4,191 donors who contributed $409,338. During fiscal 1974-75 an Alumni Phonothon was conducted which was responsible for the large numbers of donors contributing to the college.

There was a significant increase in the average gift made by an alumnus. During 1976 the average gift was $105 as compared to the 1974-75 fiscal year average of $97.

Crouch listed four reasons why 1976 was a near-record setting year for alumni contributions to the college. (1) Many alumni are completing payment of pledges made on Phase III of the Decade of Development. (2) The Senior Class Project continues to add a significant number of donors each year. (3) The alumni responded very significantly to direct mail fund raising appeals. (4) There was overwhelming response to President Clifton L. Ganus' appeal for alumni to provide funds to upholster the college's auditorium seats.

In January, 1976, the Alumni Association offices began the use of a computerized record keeping system. The switch to a computer record keeping system necessitated some changes in the way in which the Association recorded and reported gifts from alumni.

Prior to 1976, gifts were reported and recorded on a fiscal year calendar. In December, 1975, the decision was made to change the reporting of gifts from the fiscal year calendar to the more convenient calendar year reporting system.

In his report Crouch noted that a report of alumni contributions had not been made to members of the Alumni Association since July 1, 1975. His report actually contained two parts.

The first section was a report of alumni contributions from July 1 through December 31, 1975 during which time alumni contributed $93,416. The second part of his report was the calendar year report covering the 12-month period January through December, 1976. During this period alumni contributed $395,715.

Recording Director Becomes Music Authority by Accident

It's not entirely by choice or the result of a New Year's resolution, but Jimmy Jones, director of Harding's Recording Services, is probably Arkansas' foremost authority on the state's composers of music.

Jones agreed to assist in producing a 13week series of radio programs honoring Arkansas musicians in a Bicentennial Parade of American Music planned through a grant from the Exxon Company. As the project developed, Jones became not only an assistant, but the chief researcher, collector, announcer, editor and complete producer of the series which was aired in selected strategic sections covering Arkansas.

'It's for sure we could never have done it without him," said Mrs. Floyd Chronister, a Searcian who is audio visuals chairman of the Arkansas Federation of Music Clubs. Jones returned complimentary expressions for Mrs. Chronister, who, according to Jones, "did much correspondence and was untiring in getting the music pulled together."

The rewards for their efforts is ready acceptance of the programs in music circles in the state. Also, the series may ultimately be filed in the Library of Congress.

With an aim toward exposing Arkansans and their products to a wider audience, Jones set about to collect information on artists from the state, some well known and many not known at all. Some of them had copyrighted their music, others had not.

Jones was modest in claiming credit for the series, "We had a lot of help," he noted. Michael Hudson, a teen-age prodigy on the piano from Conway, was helpful in assembling some of the music, he said. Most of the music was performed by the artists themselves, but in a variety of ways. When the composer had been a part of a college, the school usually had on file a tape of his works. However, some of the performers made tapes in their homes, some in professional studios. In the case of Dr. Francis McBeth, band director at Ouachita Baptist University in Arkadelphia, the music was performed by various groups and

Included in the artists honored were four from Harding, William Hollaway, Clifton Ganus III and Travis Cox, all currently members of the music department faculty, and L. O. Sanderson, well-known hymn writer whose works include the Harding Alma Mater.

Others included are John Cowell and Henry Toney of the University of Arkansas, Mrs. Norman Hynes of Little Rock, Alan and Biligene Pedigo who performed works of the late William Grant Still and Sam Bollinger, Dr. McBeth, Dr. Ervin J. Dunham of Arkansas State University, Jonesboro, Douglas Willis of Little Rock, Syd Goodwin, Thomas Long, Earl Davis Cobb, Dr. Jared Spears, Dale Millen, Dr. Bertrand Howard, Dr. John Hughes, Dr. Corliss Arnold, Hayes Biggs and Clifton Williams Ir.

Probably the most tedious part of the effort was actually accumulating the music itself, Jones related. Numerous letters and requests were necessary to get it all together.

Jimmy Jones

"We did have some discouraging moments," he admitted, "but once it all started falling together we wound up with enough music to make about four extra tapes.

The producer was well qualified for his task, having spent 32 years in radio work in his native Texas. However, the current series was by far the most ambitious undertaking he had tackled, he said.

A program consisted of opening music and concluding arias played by Dr. Hollaway. Jones introduced each artist with an explanation of his background and biography. The number of tunes varied, but each artist was afforded at least three

In addition to the three sets made for permanent keeping, Radio Station KLRE in Little Rock is using the series for educational radio programs in the Little Rock Public Schools. And a music club in Conway is planning to reproduce a part of the series during National Music Month.

So there's no doubt the 100-plus hours Jones spent on the project were not in vain.

NO DECAY HERE — Members of the Family Community Health class show students the proper methods of dental hygiene for elementary school children during a teaching project conducted by one group from the nursing department class. The students of Mrs. Cathie Smith, assistant professor of nursing, selected population groups in the community and developed instructional tools to further their ideas. "Part of nursing education is that students have an effect on the community," Mrs. Smith said, and this year's class executed projects on such topics as Common Childhood Diseases, Venereal Disease, Scoliosis Screening, Nutrition and Personal Hygiene, Diabetes and Introduction to Basic Nutrition. Conducting the dental demonstration are Winnie Walker of Stavanger, Norway and Billie Malone of Old Hickory, Tenn.

We have attempted to have a correct listing of all alumni donors. If we have overlooked your name we apologize. If your name is missing otherwise, won't you send your gift now in order to be included in the list of 1977 donors.

The list of donors includes those individuals who made contributions during the 12-month period January through December, 1976. The list does not include alumni who made contributions to the Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis.

If you have any questions regarding your contribution to the college, please contact the Alumni Association or the Harding Development

Winter at Harding... [clockwise from upper left]... The student body Christmas tree appears to be capped by the American flag waving in the background... At least one December graduate thinks receiving a degree in the cold season is better than waiting until May... A young couple pretend shoes are ice skates and slide down a sidewalk... Assistant professor of music Travis Cox conducts the second annual winter symphony orchestra program... Dr. Clifton L. Ganus Jr. presents one of the 100-plus degrees in the college's first mid-term commencement exercises.
