College Considers Change to Harding University

"We believe that the title of university applies to Harding College as it is now," said President Clifton L. Ganus in a September chapel speech concerning the proposed name change for Harding.

A special committee was appointed by Ganus in September to investigate and study the educational and administrative implications of changing the name of Harding College to Harding University. The group is currently researching every area which the renaming might affect.

Serious consideration of the name change began last spring according to Ganus: "People had asked for years when we would decide to become a university and I would say 'When the time is right.'"

"But one day last spring," continued Ganus, "Roy Sawyer of Sardis, Mississippi, who is the chairman of our board, said the governor of Mississippi had asked him how his two-year college (Harding) was doing in Arkansas.

"We are taking this step now because we feel the time is right. The term university defines Harding better. We did not think of changing in earlier years because we did not want to be pretentious. But Harding is now large and strong enough and we offer quality education," said Ganus.

Major reasons Ganus listed for considering the change were:

1. It would be advantageous in recruiting and fund raising by presenting an accurate perspective of services provided.
2. The word college has come to mean a two-year institution or strictly a liberal arts school to many people. Harding, a four year school, offers professional training in several areas as well as a liberal arts education.
3. The university designation would also cover Harding's graduate programs in Memphis and the education program on the Searcy campus.
4. In education circles, more prestige is associated with the term university, whether it is justified or not.

From other college presidents who had changed names, Ganus said he had only favorable results.

"The only disadvantage possibly associated with university status," said Ganus, "may be that some people might think that the institution was getting too big in size was pretentious, and I don't feel like this is the case."

Committee members chosen to investigate the change and the areas they represent include: Richard Burt D.D.S., Harold Cogburn, M.D., James Cone (trustees); Dr. Don Brown, James Lamb D.D.S., Elray Wilson (development council); Annie Mae

The committee solicits the opinions of interested friends and alumni concerning a possible name change of the school.

Homecoming Events To Capture Memories

"The Magic of Memories" has been selected as the theme for 1978 Homecoming and several class reunions have been planned to aid in the remembering process for exes on campus during the November 3-4 weekend.

The 25-year-class, 1953, will be the honor class and a special reception is being planned with Harry Olree in charge.

A potluck dinner following the Saturday game will be the fare for the Class of 1968. Class members and families will meet at the Fellowship Room of the College Church of Christ. Alvin Fowler is handling details for the potluck.

Carroll Osburn of Memphis is making arrangements for the Class of 1963, and a reunion luncheon will be held Saturday. Further details will be announced.

The Class of '58 members are invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Cox, 9 Magnolia Drive (a block North of the football field) following the football game for refreshments.

Class members from 1948 will have a dutch-treat breakfast reunion Saturday, with participants going through the cafeteria line between 7:15 and 7:45 a.m. The reunion will be in the Heritage Room. Grace (Mrs. Henry) Farrar is in charge of the breakfast.

A class reunion luncheon will be served at the home of Dr. and Mrs.

Nursing Graduates Pass State Board Examinations

Graduates of the Harding Nursing Program have again earned excellent ratings with the results of the State Board of Nursing Examinations announced September 22.

Thirty-five students of the second graduating class of the college's department of nursing took the test. Thirty-four students passed, with one student passing four of the five sections of the exam. Four more students will sit for the exam in February.

"Added to the entire class of 46 nurses who took the test and passed it last year, our program now has produced 80 registered nurses," said Cathleen Smith, chairman of the department. "I think the individual scores of the students measure some of the excellent abilities of our nursing students," she commented.

In the state, a total of 520 students were tested. The percentage of passing grades was 75.8. Twenty-seven Harding students took the exam instate. The remaining students sat for exams in California, Maryland, Georgia, Ohio and Missouri. The percentage of Harding students passing the national board was 97.4

Given nationally July 11 and 12, the exam is a requirement for all registered nurses.

The college began the program in 1972 when Harding's Premedical

Enrollment Record Set; 2,879 Register

A total of 2,879 students have enrolled at Harding this fall, the largest group the college has ever recorded according to Virgil Beckett, registrar.

The number represents a 38-student increase over the previous record set the fall of '77.

From 47 states and 12 foreign countries, the students fill the nine residence halls to capacity. Additional housing is provided in the old and new married students apartments and in houses bordering the campus.

In both chapels, chairs continue to be set in the aisles of the auditorium to accommodate the overflow, but the administration is hopeful that the new 3,400-seat George Benson Auditorium will be ready for use next fall.

"We appreciate the manner in which our students have adjusted to the crowded conditions," said President Clifton L. Ganus Jr. "Next year, the new auditorium will, hopefully,

January Business Seminar To Feature Massey, Peter

The seventh annual Management Seminar for businessmen will be held January 26-27 at Harding according to Dr. Bill R. Cox, program director.

The event is sponsored by the Harding Department of Business and Economics, and the American Studies Program.

Featured lecturers for the seminar will be Dr. Morris Massey of the University of Colorado and Dr. Laurence Peter, psychologist, educator and author.

"The basic purpose of the seminar is to stimulate thinking with regard to values which exist in the business world today," said Dr. David Burks, coordinator of the seminar. "We also stress the organization aspect in management," he continued. "Dr. Massey is probably the most interesting speaker we have ever had for the seminar. He is recognized as an outstanding authority in the field and will have something vital to say to everyone in attendance. The second day, with Dr. Peter, will focus on organization," Burks commented.

Massey is a member of Morris Massey Associates, a consulting firm specializing in value programming analysis presentations, seminars and educational programs. His presentation, "What You Are Is Where You Were When," will open the seminar Friday night. The copyrighted program has been presented to hundreds of audiences in recent years.

Massey has been associate dean of undergraduate studies at the University of Colorado College of Business in Boulder. Since coming to the University in 1957, he has received three University teaching excellence awards.

Among the many groups and companies to which he has presented programs are: the United States Chamber of Commerce, Dow Chemical USA, American Bankers Association and the Royal Bank of Canada.

Peter, originator of the "Peter Principle," has written articles for such magazines as Psychology Today, This Week Magazine, West Magazine of the Los Angeles Times, and the I.B.M. company publication, Think. He has also authored several books.

Peter has taught at clinics, universities, and in the British Columbia Prison Department. He has worked with the Association for Retarded Children, the Mental Health Association and the Big Brothers

Advisory Council recommended the initiation of a nursing education program. A pre-nursing program had been conducted for 25 years.

After a program director was employed and a general education-nursing major curriculum had been developed, the Arkansas State Board of Nursing approved in November 1974 Harding's baccalaureate degree program. Classes for the two-year program began in the fall of 1975. Currently, there are 56 juniors and 43 seniors in the program.

A self-study report of the nursing program is now being prepared to complete the application for accreditation by the National League.

State Science Group Elects Brown, Wilson

Two Harding personnel have been elected to executive posts of the Arkansas Collegiate Academy of Science.

Frank Wayne Brown, a junior biochemistry major is serving as president-elect during this school year. He will be president in 1979-80.

Elected as co-sponsor for 1978-80 was Dr. Ed Wilson, associate professor of physical science.

The Collegiate Academy is open to all science undergraduates in the state. The group offers opportunity for scholarly papers to be presented and judged before the Arkansas Academy of Science.

Clifton Ganus Jr. following Alumni Chapel. Virgil Bentley and Dr. Ganus are organizing the luncheon.

The Alumni Office is coordinating a program for the 50-year-reunion class of 1928. Several members of the class are expected to be on hand for the celebration.

The 1978 homecoming queen will be crowned on Thursday night, November 2, a change from the traditional halftime crowning ceremony in previous years.

The Alumni Homecoming Breakfast hours have been announced as 7:45 to 9 a.m. in the Hammon Student Center.

"Brigadoon" will be presented at 8:15 p.m. November 1-4 in the main auditorium, the Alumni Chapel and business meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Heritage Auditorium Saturday, a parade through downtown Searcy will be held Saturday beginning at 11 a.m., the football game between the Bisons and Southern Arkansas University will begin at 2 p.m. at Alumni Field and two showings of "Blackout '78" variety show will round out the weekend festivities.

A new feature for Homecoming guests this year will be an auction sponsored by Associated Women for Harding with some special valuable items on the block.

While spectators await the Homecoming parade Saturday morning, Col. Ivan Quattlebaum of Searcy will handle the bidding for such items as a muzzle loading rifle made by Chuck Joiner of the psychology faculty, a large porcelain doll, an arrangement of silk flowers and a large autographed Bison.

Mrs. Walter Porter, AWH chairman, said the sale will start following Alumni Chapel at a site to be announced.

For information on club reunions, see Alumnotes section.

alleviate the problem of two chapels and the student body will be united in one assembly."

As for statistics, the breakdowns for the classes are as follows: freshman, 936; sophomore, 704; junior, 566; senior, 613; graduate, 28; post graduate, 22; and special, 10.

There are 1,394 men and 1,485 women. New students, including freshmen and transfers, total 934. Married students total 204.

The business area continues to be the most popular field of study with 604 students enrolled in the department.

Faculty Promotions Given; Music Staff Adds Two

Several changes in the faculty were initiated with the fall semester, according to Dr. Joseph Pryor, academic dean of the college.

Fifteen faculty members received promotions in rank. Announcements were made during the pre-session conference at Camp Tahkodah in August.

Advanced to full professorship were Bobby L. Coker, education; Allan L. Isom, Bible; James E. Mackey, physics; Bill W. Oldham, mathematics; Walter L. Porter, psychology; W. Bryce Roberson and George W. Woodruff, biology.

New associate professors include

Faye M. Doran, art; Robert J. Kelly, business education; Duane McCampbell, English; Betty Work Watson, elementary education and Edward White, English.

Named as assistant professors were J. Thomas Eddins and Joe Dale Jones, Bible; C. Mark VanRheenen, accounting; Frank D. Hayes, Joe E. McReynolds and Suzanne Spurrier, library.

Faculty members on leave for doctoral study during the 1978-79 year include Rodger Lee Brewer, University of Missouri; Kenneth Johnson, Louisiana Polytechnic University; Robert McKelvin, Texas A&M University; Lewis L. Moore, University of Nebraska and Paul Pollard, Baylor University.

In addition to the 16 new faculty members that were previously announced, Steve and Martha Campbell will teach in the music department as associate instructors.

Mr. Campbell earned his bachelor's degree in music from Memphis State University in 1974 and Mrs. Campbell is a 1976 graduate from the same school with a degree in music education. The Campbells also attended music institutions in Vienna, Austria.

The Harding faculty now totals 180, the largest group to ever teach at the institution.

Yearbook Executives Chosen for 1979-80

Searcian Charles Murphy, a junior biology major, has been elected editor of the Harding College yearbook, the Petit Jean, for 1980. Hal E. West, a sophomore accounting major from Nashville, Tenn., was elected business manager of the publication.

Murphy served as editor of the high school section of the 1976 volume and has worked on the staff while in college. He has achieved membership in Alpha Chi national honor scholarship society with a grade point average of 3.95 and he serves as a student assistant in the college public relations office. He is a member of Galaxy men's club.

West is treasurer of the Society of Collegiate Journalists and secretary of Kappa Sigma Kappa men's club. He has worked in the advertisement section of the Petit Jean. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold West of Nashville.

The 1979 Petit Jean, edited by Miss Kay Williams, is currently being compiled to be ready for distribution next spring. The book has received All-American ratings for the last 18 consecutive years. Dr. J. E. Pryor serves as faculty advisor.

Powell Named Priest Scholarship Winner

Andrew Powell

Andrew J. Powell, a senior chemistry major from Las Vegas, Nev., has been chosen to receive the Duane Priest Premedical Memorial Scholarship for the 1978-79 school year.

The announcement was recently made by Dr. Don England, chairman of the premedical advisory committee at Harding.

Powell is an active participant in the campus premedical club and the Alpha Omega men's social club.

The Priest scholarship was established in 1970 by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Priest of Memphis whose son was fatally injured in a car accident.

Class Leaders Chosen On September Ballots

In class elections held the last week in September, 18 students were chosen as officers for 1978-79.

Elected freshman president was Gary McClanahan, a prelaw major from Ardmore, Okla. Other officers included: vice president, Jim Robertson, a medical technology major from New Boston, Texas; secretary, Mandy Risinger, a general business major from Tuscumbia, Ala.; treasurer, Patty Miller, a home economics major from Pasadena, Texas; Student Association representatives, Shari Lee, a French major from Alexandria, La. and Steve Stamatis of Dalhart, Texas.

Sophomore officers are: president, J. D. Yingling, a physical education major from Searcy; vice president, Dal Narramore of Winfield, Texas; secretary-treasurer, George Willis, an elementary education major from Pasadena, Texas and Student Association representative, Jay Justus, a Bible major from Magnolia.

David Gilliam, a chemistry major from Agoura, Calif., will serve as junior class president. Others are: vice president, Jo Ann Dykes, a chemistry major from Houston, Texas; secretary, Connie Cloer, an elementary education major from Prescott, and treasurer, Mark Gastelum, a music major from El Centro, Calif.

In the senior class, Jeff Peden, economics major from Louisville, Ky., is president; Cheryl Browning, special education major from Arlington, Texas, is vice president; Summer Smith, elementary education major from Calhoun, Ga., is secretary and Paula Carter, home economics major from Baton Rouge, La., is treasurer.

Symphony Orchestra Announces Officers

Kevin Dalafave, a senior math major from Marianna, Fla., has been elected president of the Harding Symphony Orchestra for 1978-79.

Other officers are Hank Farrar of Searcy, vice president; Elizabeth Roach of Taylors, S.C., secretary; Sheila Hackman of Searcy, treasurer; Joan Hackman of Searcy, librarian, and Geoff Hodges of Stephenville, Texas, student conductor and publicity chairman.

Travis Cox, assistant professor of music at Harding, is director of the Orchestra and Steve Campbell, associate instructor in music, is the assistant director. Membership in the group is open to anyone in the community.

Earlier Deadline Set For Fall Applications

The new cutoff date for acceptance of applications to Harding is June 1, 1979.

According to Fred Alexander, director of admissions, the earlier deadline will aid the admissions office in processing all the application materials and having them ready to go in the fall. "We are trying to get everything taken care of earlier this year," said Alexander. "It would be good to start getting all of the necessary application materials in by December before entering school."

For applications or more information, contact the Admissions Office, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas 72143, or telephone 501-268-6161, ext. 407.

Arkansas, Harding Honor Kellogg Foundation

In recognition of the $1,335,363 contributions of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to educational institutions in Arkansas, Friday, September 22 was proclaimed "W. K. Kellogg Foundation Day" in Arkansas by Governor David Pryor.

The proclamation stated:

Whereas the shortage of qualified registered nurses in Arkansas reached crisis proportions during the last decade; and

Whereas the state's need for delivered health care to rural areas became acute in the last decade; and

Whereas the faculty and administration of Harding College has responded to these needs by establishing a baccalaureate nursing program; and

Whereas the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Michigan, made a grant of $401,325 to Harding College to build and strengthen its program; and

Whereas all 48 of the first graduates of Harding's Nursing School passed the registered nurses examination on their first attempt indicating superior academic training, dedication, and commitment to the profession; and

Whereas most of the students attending the Harding School of Nursing came from outside this state but have decided to remain in Arkansas to help meet our critical nursing shortage; and

Whereas the interest, time, and direction afforded by Miss Barbara Lee and others of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation have been of inestimable value in meeting the needs of our state;

I, David Pryor, Governor of the State of Arkansas, proclaim Friday, September 22, 1978, as "W. K. Kellogg Foundation Day" in Arkansas and ask the citizens of Arkansas to express their appreciation to them for their outstanding contributions and assistance to our state in meeting our need for registered nurses and increasing our standards of delivered health care to those in rural areas.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Arkansas to be affixed at Little Rock, the capitol, this 14th day of August in the year of our Lord 1978.

Miss Barbara Lee, program director of the Foundation, came to the state to receive the proclamation for the Foundation and to receive a plaque from the Harding College President's Development Council for her direction, sponsorship and support of the grants made in Arkansas. She was honored at a dinner meeting of the President's Development Council on the campus.

President Clifton Ganus presented a Distinguished Service Award to Miss Lee on behalf of the college.

Dr. Bill Cox, vice president of Harding, said, "All Arkansans share a sense of pride and appreciation in the assistance provided by the Kellogg Foundation. We at Harding are overwhelmed and appreciative of the great response of the Kellogg Foundation and its assistance in alleviating the state's need for delivered health care to rural areas particularly. We were delighted to have Miss Lee on our campus to recognize her for the consultation, direction and assistance that she has rendered to our program."

The Battle Creek, Michigan-based Foundation has made grants to six of the state's universities and colleges and also to the Arkansas State Department of Education and the Fort Smith Sparks Regional Medical Center.

The grants and their totals are as follows: Arkansas State Department of Education, Statewide Practical Nurse Education Program and a copy of the film "Schoolhouse in the Red," $104,227; University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, Graduate Program in Educational Administration and Student Loan Scholarship Funds in Medicine and Medical Technology, $79,311; University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, Strengthening Curricular Programs in Mathematics and Natural Sciences, $670,000; Fort Smith Sparks Regional Medical Center, Improvement of Techniques for the Training of Hospital Personnel, $24,000;

Harding College, Library Resources for Environmental Studies, Baccalaureate Curriculum to Prepare Registered Nurses for Family Practice and Affiliation with a Computerized National Library Network, $414,325; Hendrix College, Library Resources for Environmental Studies and for Teacher Preparation, $15,000; John Brown University, Library Resources for Environmental Studies and Affiliation with a Computerized National Library Network, $13,000; and Philander Smith those in rural areas.

Harding received a $401,325 grant in 1976 for the development of upper level curriculum for preparation of nurses for family practice. The college had inaugurated its nursing program in 1975 and the first graduating class of 48 successfully completed the registered nurses examination on the first attempt, which the proclamation cited as "... indicating superior academic training, dedication and commitment to the profession."

Miss Lee, who has served as coordinator for the Foundation in the state, received the baccalaureate degree in nursing from Skidmore College and earned a Master of Public Health with a major in hospital administration from Yale University. Her nursing experiences include public health, maternal and child care, and psychiatry.

For five years she was chief of nursing services at the Veterans Administration Hospital in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Following completion of her hospital administration studies in 1953, she was successively administrative assistant at Mountainside Hospital in Montclair, N. J., and assistant administrator at the University of Arkansas Medical Center. In 1961 she was appointed a research associate in Hospital Administration at Yale University, becoming an assistant professor in 1963.

Prior to joining the Foundation staff in 1968, she participated in numerous projects in the long term care field and co-authored two papers on hospital research.

Miss Lee's program responsibilities are in nursing education and practice, health promotion and the long term care field.

Timothy Club Series To Host Fall Lectures

Three speakers remain in the fall series of lectures for the Timothy Club and World Evangelism Forum sponsored by the Bible department.

The three include Carl Mitchell, chairman of the Bible department at Pepperdine University; David Powers, a full-time evangelist-elder who is also president of Williamstown (W. Va.) Bible College, and G. P. Holt, an evangelist to the inner city of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mitchell, who served for many years as a missionary in Italy, will speak October 24-25 to meetings of the Timothy Club and World Evangelism Forum. His topics will be "Spiritual and Psychological Aspects of Preacher Failure" and "The Missing Factors of World Evangelism," respectively.

Powers will speak November 7 on the subject of "Developing Soul-Saving Churches." He has been one of the main leaders in bus evangelism.

A dynamic evangelist, Holt has assisted in building one of the great churches in the inner city of Indianapolis. He will speak November 28-29 on the subjects of "Gloom and Glow of the Ministry" and "Inner City Evangelism," respectively.

The Timothy Club and World Evangelism Forums are designed for all who are interested in preaching and evangelism and not just for the students majoring in Bible and missions.

A seminar on prayer will also be conducted November 9-10 with Albert Lemmons of Nashville, Tenn., providing the insights.

For more information, contact the Bible department, phone (501) 268-6161, ext. 448.

Five Summer Workshops Planned by Bible Faculty

Five summer Bible workshops will be sponsored by Harding College in 1979, according to Dr. Jerry Jones, chairman of the Bible department.

Opening the summer schedule will be a Church Leadership Development Seminar, coordinated by the Bible, business and education departments. Planned for June 10-12, the purpose of the workshop is to help church leaders develop and enhance leadership skills.

An experimental, participant-involved workshop approach will be used with simulations, case studies and individual exercises playing a major role in the learning experiences of the participants.

Placing an emphasis on counseling and communication, the College will host a Counseling Workshop on June 19-21. Directed by the Bible and psychology departments, the workshop will emphasize communication skills, recognition of behavioral problems, counseling skills and specificity of content and confrontation in the one-to-one counseling relationship.

A Preachers' Workshop is set for July

After a successful evangelistic effort, the Venezuelan campaigners gathered for a photograph before returning to the United States.

Students Campaign Worldwide for Christ

Spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ to citizens of 12 foreign nations and 19 states including the District of Columbia, more than 500 students from Harding College were involved in organized campaign efforts this year.

Eight faculty members and 106 students were responsible for leading over 90 people to Christ this summer in the countries of Australia, Brazil, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Holland, Poland, Yugoslavia, England, Scotland, Wales and Venezuela under the auspices of International Campaigns, Austrian Campaigns and Venezuelan Campaigns.

Dr. Don Shackelford serves as the campus coordinator of International Campaigns at Harding and assisting him in the directorship of the campaigns in 1978 were faculty members L. V. Pfeifer, Paul Pollard, Jack McKinney, Dr. Clifton Ganus III, Craig Jones, Dr. Ken Davis, and Priscilla Hardin. Ava and Bill Conley were the sponsors of the Venezuelan Campaigns.

Overseen by the elders of the College Church of Christ, International Campaigns' workers distributed over half a million pieces of literature, knocked on 22,000 doors, conducted 100 home Bible studies, and boxed over 245,000 letters.

"We work together in groups of 12 to 15," Shackelford said, "with an adult leader who is either a faculty member or someone approved by the elders of the College Church. We don't have an International Campaigns format as far as our work overseas is concerned, but rather the local congregation decides the best way that we can serve the Lord. We do what they want us to do."

Each group worked from two to three weeks in a specific city with food and lodging being supplied by the local congregation. Cities campaigned included Cardiff, Wales; Sydney, Australia; Adelaide, Australia; Hannover, Germany; Rotterdam, Holland; Nuremburg, Germany; Edinburgh, Scotland; Skelmerdale, England; Augsburg, Germany; Belo Horizonte, Brazil, and Sao Paulo, Brazil.

"The congregations invited us to come," Shackelford said. "One of my main reasons for working with International Campaigns is that I can see it meeting a great need for evangelism. It is preparing our students to go into the world and preach the Gospel."

Venezuelan Campaigns emphasized personal and home Bible studies in Spanish among the residents of Caracas, a city of three million people, according to Mrs. Conley. Each participant was required to have completed at least two years of high school Spanish or one year on the college level.

"Our group delivered Bible Correspondence Courses and explained the use of the course," she said, "and we also made a personal contact and invitation to the meeting. During the meeting, daytime hours were spent in Bible studies in Spanish with visitors to the meeting. We had an average of 20 new visitors nightly."

The Venezuelan Campaign group baptized over 40 people into Christ. "The exciting part of the follow-up was that during this period, we were able to see the converts from the meeting begin to teach and assist in the conversion of others," she commented.

Devoting their spring break to campaign work, 215 students were involved in Spring Break campaigns in the states of Virginia, Arkansas, Iowa, Indiana, Texas, Kansas, District of Columbia, West Virginia, Tennessee and Missouri.

The 10 Austrian campaigners spent most of their time in the cities of Vienna, Wiener, Neustadt and Graz but also did short periods of work in Poland and Yugoslavia.

Campaigning the week after spring graduation ceremonies, 160 students worked with seven congregations in Memphis, Tenn., in a city-wide evangelistic effort. Jim Woodroof, minister of the College Church of Christ, coordinates the May Campaigns.

Seeking to reach the citizens of New York, Connecticut, Maryland, Ohio, New Jersey, Maine, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, 25 students were involved in Northeast Campaign efforts this summer under the direction of Owen Olbricht.

Sponsored by the Downtown Church of Christ, 40 students campaigned this summer in Washington with former Harding faculty member Dr. Obert Henderson coordinating their efforts in five Washington cities.

Retired General Delineates Weaknesses in U.S. Defense

by Tommy Jackson
Managing Editor
Searcy Daily Citizen

"I only retired," said Maj. Gen. John Singlaub; "I didn't surrender," and those six words perhaps best sum up the tone of a sobering address by the recently retired general who was the third ranking officer in the U.S. only slightly more than a year ago.

That year, though, has completely changed the life of the 57-year-old California native who first joined the military service in 1943.

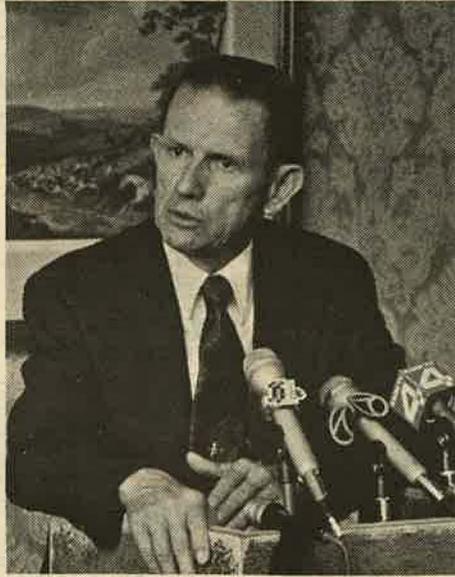

Singlaub was on the Harding campus October 10 to speak for the American Studies Lecture Series.

Singlaub's distinguished military career includes a multitude of awards and medals. His duties were varied, ranging from training Chinese guerrillas to serving as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Drug and Alcohol Abuse.

It was while serving as Chief of Staff of the U.S. forces in Korea that the UCLA graduate gained international notoriety.

Speaking in what he said he thought was an "off the record" manner to a Washington Post reporter in May of 1977, Singlaub stated that a rapid withdrawal of U.S. forces could lead to an invasion by North Korea. He was basing his thoughts, not on a hunch but on an intelligence report (which Washington also had) and was called on the White House carpet, removed from his overseas command, and reassigned to Ft. McPherson, Georgia.

Less than a year later, he was again

Gen. Singlaub faced a busy schedule on his visit which included a press conference in Little Rock.

back in the headlines and again it came about in an "off the record" situation that didn't turn out to be.

Speaking to an ROTC class at Georgia Tech, the general saw his remarks opposing many of the current administration's national security policies end up in print and decided to retire, later noting, "I was forced to leave the service of the country because I dared to express my concern about the declining state of America's military preparedness."

As he stated to a round of applause, "I chose retirement to speak freely without Pentagon or White House censorship," and indicated at the outset, "I realize tonight my remarks are ON the record."

Singlaub listed three specific examples of "serious erosion" in the military today under the Carter administration.

The first was in the area of professional education which the Carter government has cut the time by one-half, according to Singlaub.

The second dealt with the changing political makeup of the armed services, which Singlaub said were formerly non-political. He said ranking officers are now told to support the administration's defense policies or "you'll be Singlauded" ("How'd you like having your name changed to a nasty verb?" he quipped.)

The third area of erosion according to Singlaub, deals with integrity. "Officers are told to say they support the administration's policies and proposals when they go before a congressional committee, even though they may strongly disapprove them, and this is, in effect, forcing them to lie."

The heart of his approximately 50-minute talk, though, dealt with unilateral disarmament which he said is carried out behind the disguise labeled detente.

Singlaub said the U.S. is currently inferior to the Soviets in military superiority, trailing in quality and quantity of weapons, as well as personnel.

Singlaub said that for over a decade, official Washington has been unilaterally disarming the U.S. In the past 12 years, the U.S. has deliberately cut back its Air Force from 935 strategic bombers to 415 . . . has reduced its Navy from 300 combat surface ships to 169 . . . has frozen its strategic missile strength at the 1967 level . . . has scrapped all its missile defenses against both bombers and ICBMs.

"Washington took this risk," he noted, "with the hope that the Soviets would follow our example of restraint and would then enter into verifiable arms limitation agreement. The time has come, though, for us to realize the Soviets are not interested in detente and cooperation with the U.S."

He said he expects the Soviets to continue working the "soft spots" of the world, the places not so obvious to the American people.

Next, citing some frightening computerized statistics, the general said 110,000,000 Americans would die in a nuclear attack while Russia's casualty list would number far below at 6,000,000.

The reason?

"Give them the first strike," he said. "We can survive it, but it's going downhill."

Singlaub touched upon a number of interesting topics during a question and answer session.

Some of the highlights:

On the political profile of Congress "What we need this November is a massive 'dove shoot' at the polls."

On women being drafted, should ERA pass — "Legally we will have to send an equal number of women into combat under ERA, and that's only one reason that makes it absurd."

On the neutron warhead — "It is not a bomb as it is commonly referred to. It was designed to stop masses of enemy tanks where our allies in Western Europe are outnumbered 5-1 by Russian tanks."

On the Carter defense policy — "Europeans are absolutely baffled by the zig-zag policy of the administration."

About his own role presently — He is serving as Educational Field Director for the American Security Council Education Foundation, part of the Coalition for Peace through Strength.

On Salt II — "You're going to see incredible Madison Avenue techniques used to sell Salt II."

The general, introduced by Dr. Bill Cox, director of the American Studies Program, was presented an Arkansas Traveler Certificate by retired Gen. Peyton Campbell of Searcy, representing Gov. David Pryor.

Admissions Meeting Hosted in September

The ninth Christian College Admissions Conference was hosted by Harding College September 17-18.

Worth.

A program highlight was the surprise birthday cake presented by cafeteria director Bill Curry.

Obviously enjoying the birthday honors, Dr. and Mrs. Benson shared the anniversary cake with all those present.

Dr. Benson's 80th Celebration Raises $131,466 for Auditorium

Gala was the mood, warm were the wishes, complimentary were the expressions and $131,466 was the net result of the 80th birthday party complimenting Dr. George S. Benson September 26 at the American Heritage Charles White Cafeteria.

More than 425 well-wishers from across the country paid $80 a plate for the dinner, and a member of the college's board of trustees matched the amount raised, the total going toward building costs of the $2.6 million, 3,400-seat George S. Benson auditorium now under construction on the campus.

The hall was decorated in keeping with two major facets of Benson's life — Americanism and Harding College. A large floral arrangement in red, white and blue, accented with American flags, was prepared by Mrs. Corinne Hart for the speaker's table. A portrait of the honoree by artist Lee Watts of Searcy was on display and patriotic banners together with Harding's colors of black and gold were in predominance. At the back of the podium were renderings of the proposed auditorium and a composite line drawing by Jerry Palmer depicting highlights in Dr. Benson's life.

Special guests for the party included several family members. Mrs. Ruth Crowder and Mrs. Lois McEuen, the honorees' daughters, and their families; Mrs. Bertha Hayes, sister of Dr. Benson, Mr. Hayes and their son Don; and Mrs. Joe Hacker, a niece, attended.

Dr. J. E. Pryor, academic dean of Harding, and Judge Allen Highers of Memphis led prayers. Speakers included Dr. L. C. Sears, dean emeritus of Harding, whose association with Dr. Benson extends over 50 years; Bill Walton, vice chairman of Holiday Inns and a member of the Freedoms Foundation Board; Batsell Barrett Baxter, chairman of the Bible department at David Lipscomb College and well-known minister among Churches of Christ; Bill R. Cox, vice president of Harding; and Perry S. Mason, long-time associate of Dr. Benson.

State Rep. Bobby Glover of Carlisle represented the Governor in presenting honor certificates and a recorded message from Ronald Reagan was played.

President Ganus, as master of ceremonies, presented the honoree a collection of letters, congratulatory messages and city and state proclamations, together with a check to be used for a trip for Dr. and Mrs. Benson.

Gifts were presented from the National Education Program, which Dr. Benson continues to serve as president. Dr. Kenneth Davis Jr. directed the A Cappella chorus in a program of songs that included "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Culminating the party was the presentation of an elaborately decorated birthday cake bearing 80 burning candles. The confection was served informally to the guests following formal dismissal.

State honors were accorded Dr. Benson in a presentation from State Representative Bobby Glover.

Sharing the celebration with their parents were daughters Lois McEuen of Little Rock and Ruth Crowder of McComb, Ill.

A Cappella Chorus Plans Tour of Poland

The A Cappella Chorus has received an invitation from the Polish government for an expense-paid tour to Poland. The chorus will take advantage of this show of hospitality by the Polish government for approximately two weeks in July, 1979.

A number of the present chorus members have expressed a desire to go on International Campaigns in the British Isles prior to the Polish tour. The plan is to divide into groups of approximately fifteen each to campaign in the British Isles from May 17 to June 22. The last week in June the groups will combine and revisit congregations where campaigns had been held. Programs will be given for the host Christians, their guests and those coordinating the tour.

The chorus will then cross the Channel into Holland for a concert in conjunction with one of the churches which had completed a campaign. Then the group will move on to Germany for a concert at one of the campaign cities and one in West Berlin. Berlin will be the last stop before going into Poland for the two week tour.

"Chorus alumni are welcome either to be a part of the campaigns from May 17-July 16 or else to join the group on June 20 for two days rehearsal, the tour of the British Isles, concerts in Holland and Germany, and the tour of Poland," Dr. Kenneth Davis Jr., director, said.

The cost of campaigns is $1,100.00. The cost of the tour of the British Isles, Holland and Germany will be approximately $20-$25 per day for transportation and lodging for 11 days.

"There might be a little extra for the ferry across the Channel also. The roundtrip plane fare from New York to West Berlin is $526.00 unless prices are changed in the spring," Dr. Davis said.

Any chorus alumni interested in making the trip either for the entire trip of campaigns and tour or the tour only should write immediately and send questions regarding costs, etc. to Dr. Davis, Box 531, Harding College.

"We hope those wishing to make the tour will be on hand for the chorus Homecoming November 4 after the football game in order to pick up music and to talk about plans," he urged.

Baker Memorial Fund Established

How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace and bring glad tidings of good things —

Romans 10:15

To encourage and assist Christian young men who plan to preach and teach God's word, a scholarship fund has been established in memory of Asa and Mary Ann Morton Baker, formerly of Williford and Imboden, Ark. This is a fitting memorial for a couple that served the Lord so faithfully. For information contact the Harding College Development Office, Searcy, Arkansas 72143.

Philanthropist Gives Support for Directory

The Harding Alumni Association has published the 1978 edition of the Alumni Directory, made possible by funds from Abram Minis Jr.

In addition to the new directory, mailed to alumni in October, Minis also sponsored the previous directory in 1974.

The philanthropic Minis received the bachelor's degree in chemistry and the master's degree in finance from Harvard University. He has worked for the First National Bank of Boston and is currently chairman of the board of Minis and Company, a company he has been with since 1931. Though not an alumnus of Harding, the Savannah, Ga., resident supports Harding because, in his words, "It is teaching a fundamental belief in religion, integrity and patriotism."

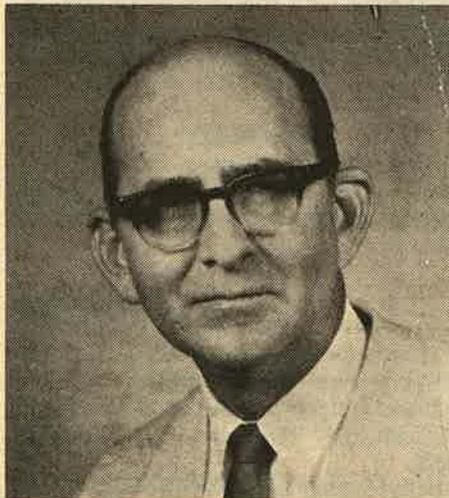

The director was printed from information stored in computerized alumni files as of June 1, 1978. "Because of the number of address changes made each month, some of the addresses may be incorrect by the time alumni receive the directory," said David Crouch, director of alumni relations. "We hope that alumni will inform us when they discover an inaccuracy in the directory. We want to correct and maintain accurate information."

Included in the directory are two sections, the first a geographical index and the second an alphabetical index. The alphabetical index contains the names, addresses, and in many cases, the occupation of alumni

Curry Succumbs October 10

William Floyd Curry, 56, manager of the American Heritage Cafeteria at Harding College since it opened in 1965, died October 10. A native of Georgia, he formerly worked with Morrison Cafeterias and A&G Cafeterias of New Orleans. He was a 32nd degree Mason, a member of Arkansas and national restaurant associations, and a member of the Bass Association.

Survivors include his wife, Jean; five sons, William F. Curry Jr. of Great Britain, Richard Daniel Curry of Georgetown, Colo., Julian Edward Curry of Birmingham, and Anthony Butler Curry and Philip DeWayne Curry of the home; four daughters, Constance Louise DeVaney and Deborah Louise Rhodes, both of Birmingham, Sandra Elizabeth Sparks of Austin, Texas and Pamela Lee Curry of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Kight and Mrs. Anice Boykin of Savannah, Ga., an aunt, Mrs. Jessie

William Curry

Mae Gilbert of Lyons, Ga., and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the College Church of Christ by Dr. Clifton Ganus Jr., Jimmy Allen and Lott R. Tucker. Burial was in White County Memorial Gardens by Daniel Funeral Service.

Alumni Urged to Ask Companies For Matching Contribution Offers

Matching gifts by employers are giving opportunities sometimes overlooked, according to Director of Development Floyd Daniel.

"More than 400 companies across the United States are willing to match their employee's gifts to schools and colleges and it's an opportunity for our alumni to double and sometimes triple their gift," he said.

Daniel encouraged all alumni to inquire of their employers if it is a matching gift company. If the company has a matching gift program, obtain the necessary forms from the personnel department, fill out the necessary information and forward the material to the college.

"Everyone would like to be able to give more to the school," he said, "and this procedure is one of the easiest, most painless opportunities for giving."

Daniel indicated Harding received approximately $35,000 in matching funds last year. Approximately $30,000 has been received this year.

Footballers Upset A-Tech, Improve Record to 3-2

An enthusiastic Harding Bison squad upset Arkansas Tech, the NAIA's 12th ranked team, 17-10 and upped their record to 3-2 at the mid-way point of the 1978 season.

An inconsistent offensive attack had hampered the Bisons in early season intersectional play but the play against Tech indicates good things are on the way.

Coach John Prock's Bisons opened the campaign with a 24-9 victory in the Dad's Night game over Lane College of Jackson, Tenn. A disappointing trip to Durant, Okla., found the Bisons on the short end of a 30-8 contest with Southeast Oklahoma State.

Returning to their home territory, senior tailback Mike Vanlandingham rushed for 120 yards on 35 carries to lead a fired up Bison team to a solid 18-3 win over the strong Southwest Missouri State University Bears. Harding closed out the month of September on a 26-19 loss to Knoxville College in Knoxville, Tenn.

Vanlandingham leads Bison runners with 418 yards gained on 107 carries. The Seminole, Okla., standout also has scored five touchdowns. Senior quarterback Cam Prock has passed for 394 yards on 30 completions out of 72 attempts, despite missing the major portion of the opening game when he was shaken up.

Tim Towns

Co-captain Tim Towns of Bethany, Okla., has keynoted a stingy Bison defense which has picked off 12 enemy passes in five games. Junior safety Keith Dickey of Harrison and senior Steve Johnson of Jefferson City, Mo., each has nabbed four interceptions to rank nationally and freshman Perry Hampton of Milan, Tenn., has pulled down three.

Harding enjoyed an open date October 14 before hosting Henderson State University October 21. On November 4, the Bisons will host Southern Arkansas University in the 1978 Homecoming game. The final home game will be a night game November 18 against the University of Central Arkansas.

Speed to Keynote '78-'79 Bison Basketball Prospects

One of the fastest teams to run the basketball court of the Athletic-Physical Education Complex could well describe the 1978-79 Harding College Bisons' basketball squad.

"Our overall team speed is going to be good," head coach Jess Bucy said. "I believe that we have more team speed this year than any other team I've coached; we could have, depending on who plays."

With the speed that the coach feels is there, the Bisons are planning to run more offensively. And Bucy feels that he has the personnel who can score in that type of offense.

The only senior on the squad, senior Stan Eckwood of Brinkley, led the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference in scoring last season averaging 18.5 points per game. He also pulled down an average of 10 rebounds a game enroute to All-AIC and NAIA All-District 17 honors.

Another starter who averaged in double figures with 14.7 points, Tim Flatt of Memphis (6-0, 177), is returning. Joining Flatt and Eckwood will be Bruce Binkley of Tulsa, Okla., (6-5, 189), and Ricky Treadway of North Little Rock (6-5, 179).

"I know that we will be able to score," the coach said. "We expect to play a lot of people. Right now, I feel that we have 12 players on our squad who have a chance of starting if we were to play tonight. We're not going to be that big of a team, though."

The tenth-year head coach of the Bisons said his main concern was the lack of a big, physical center on his squad. "We might have to put a forward at post," he commented, and Phil Carter or Binkley could get that job. Carter (6-7) is our tallest letterman.

The coach indicated that he was not worried about the guard of forward positions. Other lettermen returning include guards Bruce Lowe of Collinsville, Okla., and Haze McClary of Rochester, N.Y., while Kenny Wilson of Judsonia is returning at forward. Eckwood and Treadway can plan either guard or forward.

"We're definitely going to be more experienced than we were a year ago," Bucy said. "Last year, we had the youngest squad of any that I've coached."

The Bisons pulled out a 9-19 record overall last season when confronted with the situation of having two freshmen in the starting line-up. The early roster this year lists one senior, four juniors, six sophomores and three freshmen.

"We'll play with a lot more finesse this year," the coach commented. "The players are going to be more familiar with the offense. We'll score, the team will be exciting, and there will be a lot more finesse on the court."

Among the Bisons' new faces are freshmen Alan Pearson of Amory,

Miss., (6-4½, 175), David Presley of Harrison (6-5, 169) and Jim Salings (6-8, 210) of Oakville, Mo. and junior college transfer Kenny Moorner (6-4, 200) of Bald Knob.

Assisting Bucy will be coach Wilt Martin and graduate assistant Butch Gardner.

All-NAIA District 17 and All-AIC senior Stan Eckwood returns to lead the Bison cagers.
