April Programs Feature Lecturers Simon, Goldberg

William Simon, former United States Treasury Secretary, and Arthur Goldberg, former United States Supreme Court Justice, will be guest speakers on the campus this spring.

Simon, author of the currently popular book, A Time for Truth, will speak for the American Studies Lecture Series on April 9.

While secretary of the treasury, 1974-76, Simon administered the work of 125,000 employees in the Treasury Department, the office which collects taxes, pays bills, prints and issues currency and coins, manages the nation's accounts and debts, and has extensive law enforcement responsibilities.

Under President Gerald Ford, Simon was chairman of the Economic Policy Board and chief spokesman for the administration on economic issues. He was also chairman of the East-West Foreign Trade Board.

Prior to his job with the Treasury, Simon had served as Federal Energy Administration director, a job he had launched at the height of the 1973 oil embargo. He also chaired the president's Oil Policy Committee and was instrumental in revising the mandatory oil import program.

Goldberg will be on campus April 26 as part of The Searcy Symposia. The program is jointly sponsored by the Arkansas Endowment for the Humanities and the Harding American Studies Program.

The former justice also had distinguished careers as United States ambassador to the United Nations and secretary of labor.

Goldberg was general counsel of the Congress of Industrial Organizations from 1948-55, and United Steel Workers of America, 1948-61. He has served on the presidential committees of migratory labor, missile sites labor commission, youth employment, equal employment opportunity and others.

He is the author of articles in American legal publication and journals of opinion, and the author of several books, including AFL-CIO: Labor United, The Defenses of Freedom: The Public Papers of Arthur

Noted Spokeswoman Sings, Lectures At FLAG Seminar

Anita Bryant, popular entertainer and controversial leader of the "Protect Our Children" campaign in Miami, headlined a group of speakers for a Christian Awareness Seminar sponsored by Family, Life, America and God (F.L.A.G.) organization held at the college auditorium March 2-3.

The outspoken leader in the fight to prevent homosexuals from teaching in the Dade County schools, Miss Bryant appeared in concert before a large audience in the main auditorium.

Clutching a well-worn New Testament, Miss Bryant sang an array of popular and patriotic songs and told of her reliance on God in all situations. Following the performance, Miss Bryant was a guest at a reception in her honor in the Olen Hendrix Building.

The "Crisis in Morality" seminar was designed to increase the Christian's level of alertness and awareness concerning controversial issues that surround us, according to seminar coordinator Joanne McKinney.

Other speakers for the seminar and their topics were Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Searcy, "Who Shall Decide Your Children's Education?"; Ben Berry, Searcy, "Pornography — New Ideas to Fight It"; C. Brodie Harrell, Caruthersville, Mo., "Humanism — How Dangerous Is It?"; and Marilyn Kreitling, Searcy, "E.R.A. — Equal Rights for Whom?"

Dr. George S. Benson, Searcy, "Is the E.R.A. Extension Bill Legal?"; Dr. Jim Citty, Searcy, "Abortion and Euthanasia — Who Lives? Who Dies? Who Decides?"; and Marilyn Simmons, "F.L.A.G.".

Laverne Wade, Van Buren, "International Year of the Child — Why?"; Hank Tankersley, Memphis, Tenn., "Christian Involvement — Not the Wolfishness of the Wolves, but the Sheepishness of the Sheep"; U.S. Congressman Ed Bethune, Searcy, "Morality in Government" and Dr. Billy Ray Cox, Searcy, "Contemporary Christian Challenges."

Economics Center Awarded Medal

The Harding College Center for Private Enterprise Education was named the winner of a George Washington Honor Medal by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., February 21.

A winner in the division of economic education, the Center was recognized for the entry, "Free Enterprise: Let's Keep It in Business." The report included objectives, implementation, funding and results of the Center's year of work as well as a 200-page annotated supplement that elaborated 80 programs presented before civic, professional and educational groups in the Mid-South.

As a special project for the year, the Center aided in compiling a 150-page book for the community entitled

"Locating in Searcy, Arkansas; Facts for Business and Industry."

Presentation of the honor medal will be in April by a representative of the Freedoms Foundation.

Harding affiliates receiving awards were Harding President Emeritus George S. Benson and the Louver Manufacturing Company of Jacksonville.

Also in the field of economic education, Benson won the George Washington Honor Medal for the National Education Program.

In the area of advertising, LoManCo of Jacksonville was awarded the George Washington Honor Medal for "America's Wheel of Economics Progress" painted on the back of a tractor trailer rig. The painting was done by Harding economics students.

Winning principal national awards this year were Joseph Maxwell Cleland, administrator of Veterans Affairs; Mrs. Mamie Doud Eisenhower, former first lady; the later Senator Hubert H. Humphrey; Barbara C. Jordan, former Texas congresswoman; John W. Marriott Sr., hotel owner, and Captain TANSTAAFL means "There Ain't No Such Thing as a Free Lunch" according to the Harding Economics Team. As part of its new economics project, the group presented Searcy businessmen E. D. Yancey, standing second from left, and Perrin Jones, standing second from right, with TANSTAAFL shirts and Rogers Yarnell with an Economic Enlightenment Certificate. Team members are, seated, Dan Holt, Rhonda Been, Jake Jensen and standing, Ted Thompson, Doug Sanders and Dr. Don Diffine, faculty sponsor. The team staffs the Center for Private Enterprise Education on the campus.

Eugene B. McDaniel, USN, Vietnam prisoner of war.

Selection of the Freedoms Foundation award recipients was made from nominations submitted by the general public. An independent panel of justices of state supreme courts and representatives of national, veteran, service and patriotic organizations. Chairman of the 1978 Awards Jury was the Hon. Charles A. Pomeroy, justice, Supreme Judicial Court, Maine.

The Foundation is a nonprofit education organization funded by a broad base of contributors. It receives no governmental funds and has no principal supporter.

June Conference Set For Christian Schools

The Second National Conference for Christian Schools will be held on the Harding Campus June 24-26 for those interested in establishing Christian schools as well as those wanting to improve existing schools.

Conducted primarily for elementary and secondary schools, the conference will also cover kindergarten programs this year.

"We need more information on existing Christian preschool and kindergarten programs and ask those interested in these areas for input so that we may make the program as effective as possible," said Dr. Bobby Coker, seminar director.

The seminar will cover fundamental aspects of development, deferred giving, public relations, facilities and recruitment of students. Special topics for spouses will also be included.

"The program is currently being planned and we would welcome any suggestions so that we can tailor the conference to meet the needs of all participants," said Coker.

Correspondence should be addressed to Dr. Bobby L. Coker, Education Department, Harding College, Searcy, AR 72143.

Evangelistic Campaign Efforts Planned for 12 Communities

May Campaigns, a week-long evangelistic program sponsored by the College Church of Christ, will send teams of workers to 12 areas in Arkansas May 13-18 to encourage local congregations, assist in organizing home Bible studies, and bolster nightly worship services in the towns involved.

The project is designed partly for students and others who desire to do mission or campaign work but do not have an entire summer to give to the effort. "In this way," Jim Woodroof, College Church minister, explained, "students can go directly from college and spend a week in this work, and still get home in time to get a job for the summer."

Past efforts from the four previous May Campaigns have proved worthwhile, especially for the congregations involved. Church leaders and members are equally enthusiastic about having the students come to their areas. The workers stay in homes of members and spend the days knocking doors, inviting residents to the services and teaching the Bible whenever the opportunity arises.

Preparations began for the 1979 campaigns early in January with leaders from each congregation meeting together for planning. A minister is assigned to each place, and volunteers are solicited to form the various groups. Once a group is formed, a host family is selected and the group meets at the host's home once each week to work out details for the campaign.

This year's site, evangelist and host family are listed as follows: Ash Flat — Carroll Fletcher, Lorene Barnett;

ON THE COVER — Well-known singer and nationally-known entertainer Anita Bryant was on campus March 2 as part of the Christian Awareness Seminar sponsored by FLAG (Family, Life, America and God). Mrs. Bryant provided an hour-long program of singing and speaking for a capacity audience.

Three old volumes, recent acquisitions of the Beaumont Library, are examined by juniors Pam Harmon of Batesville, Ark., and Mitch Hamric of Huntsville, Ala.

Rare Books Given to Library

by Librarians Winnie Bell and Joe McReynolds

Helen Hendrex Sargent ('58) of Beverly Hills, Calif., recently presented the Beaumont Memorial Library with a three-volume, 1641 edition of John Foxe's Book of Martyrs. The set was appraised by John F. Fleming, Inc. of New York City at $750.

Foxe, an English protestant clergyman, was born in Boston, Lincolnshire, and was graduated from Oxford University in 1537. After his marriage, he supported himself as a private tutor and was one of the first deacons ordained with the English service in 1550.

During the reign of Queen Mary, Foxe took refuge abroad. His Latin history of protestant martyrs was published in Strasbourg in 1554. After the death of Queen Elizabeth, he was ordained to the priesthood in 1560.

Foxe's Book of Martyrs contains full accounts of English protestant martyrs, particularly those of Queen Mary's reign. For detailed information, Foxe had been allowed access to official records.

The value of the book lies within the documents and narratives it contains. In the controversial work, Foxe's protestant sympathies are undisguised, but he seems to be guilty of no worse historical fault than occasional carelessness. Foxe held Puritan principles gently as well as firmly, and advocated moderation in dealing with all religious dissent. The Queen rewarded publication of the Book of Martyrs by giving Foxe a clerical post as Salisbury.

The abridged version of the book was in the saddle bag of many an American frontier preacher and on the parlor table with the Bible in many Protestant homes. The book had a great impact on "the war of ideas" of the second half of the sixteenth century. Foxe used church history as a tool for the propagation of the propagandizing of the Word.

William Haller, in his book The Elect Nation, has written of the meaning and relevance of Foxe's Book of Martyrs, and has included much of the history of various editions. A copy of Haller's work is in the Library.

The 1641 edition of Foxe's Book of Martyrs is now on display in the Senior Reading Room display case of the Beaumont Library.

Spring Initiation Held By Kappa Delta Pi

The Nu Lambda Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi initiated 13 new members at spring ceremonies held March 5. The announcement was made by Ed Sewell, sponsor of the organization.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary group for juniors and seniors who plan a career in education.

Inductees included junior Janet Arnold of San Clemente, Calif., senior Jane Baylis of Beamsville, Canada; senior Judy Braddock of Mesquite, Texas; junior Kathleen Cannon of Searcy; senior Susan Cloninger of Yorktown, Ind.; senior Beth Gordan of Mobile, Ala.; senior Robin Hankins of Bloomington, Ind.; senior Patti Lovell of Birmingham, Ala.; senior Linda McKinney of Searcy; junior Renee Sigman of Glenwood, Ark.; junior Stan Smith of Clinton, Ark., and post graduate Howard Morris of Searcy.

New officers elected for 1979-80 were president David McDonald, a senior from Doctor's Inlet, Fla.; vice president, Smith; secretary, Miss Braddock, and treasurer, Glenita Hale, a junior from Searcy.

In a dramatic scene from the Speech Department's production of Shakespeare's "Othello," Jonathan Cloud (Othello) (right) of Atlanta, and Karl Wendt (Iago) of Shreveport, express intense feelings over Desdemona. The play was staged in the Little Theatre February 12-17.

Four Part Bible Workshop Planned for August 7-9

More than 16 hours of practical classroom instruction will be offered to each participant in the 4-in-1 Workshop sponsored by the Harding College Bible Department August 7-9, 1979.

The 4-in-1 Workshop is actually four workshops occurring at the same time, with individual seminars designed for Christian women, elders, preachers, and workers in the prison ministry.

The workshop will feature the individual workshops during the day and an all-together program in the evening. Lawrence Anderson of Gary, Ind., Clyde Thompson of Lubbock, Texas, and Jim Woodroof of Searcy will be the featured speakers for the all-together programs.

"We want to emphasize the practical aspects of each ministry in the workshop," Dr. Jerry Jones, chairman of the Bible department, said. "Each workshop is designed to aid Christians in developing their ministry unto the Lord."

The workshop faculty includes 36 men and women, with each individual delivering lectures in his field. Lectures by women will be limited to a female audience.

Focused on Christian women, the women's workshop will discuss security in Christ, facing tragedy, being a Christian wife, personal discipline, and raising preacher's children.

Leadership, church discipline and counseling teens head the list of topics to be discussed in the elders' workshop.

The preachers' workshop will include lectures on I and II Thessalonians, church growth, preaching from II Kings and Esther, counseling, Christian evidences and the preacher and community.

In the prison ministry workshop, the topics will include almost every aspect of the work from counseling to the jail chaplain to working with the inmates.

Registration fee for the workshop is $7.50, which includes the cost of instruction and a syllabus. An unlimited number of persons from one congregation will be accepted for a group rate of $100.

A supervised program will be provided for the children of those attending the workshop.

Housing is available on campus for those wishing to stay in the dormitories at a minimal cost.

For more information, contact the Bible Department, Harding College, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Workshops, New England Tour Offered This Summer

Four special summer workshops and a study tour will be offered in the 1979 academic summer program.

In the Graduate Teacher Education field, credit may be earned in three courses which will apply toward the master of education degree.

The "Diagnosis and Correction of Reading Disability" workshop will be held June 4-20. The workshop will discuss extensive diagnostic testing of individual students and a follow-up plan for correction and remediation. Participants will work with students from grades 1-9 with reading disabilities. Three hours of credit is given in Education 415G.

A workshop in "Clinical Reading" June 21-July 6 will emphasize laboratory practice in reading improvement. Participants will practice the remediation plans developed for specific students with reading disabilities. Three hours of credit are given in Education 415G.

Three hours of credit will be offered in either upper division education or for graduate credit for the workshop, "Principles of Behavior Management," to be held July 9-25. The course will place special emphasis on behavior modification. Attention will be given to the planning of individualized educational programs for each child. Credit is given in Education 407 or 407G.

Graduate Studies Director Wyatt Jones, Harding College, Searcy, Ark. 72143, may be contacted for further information.

A flexible-time workshop, "Children in Crisis," will give credit in Sociology 401G or social work 401 for two or three hours of credit. The first two days will be a self-contained workshop designed to fit the needs of child care workers and others who are unable to participate in an extended course. Two hours of credit will be granted to those who enroll July 9-13, and three hours of credit will be given to those who attend July 9-18.

For details, contact Dr. Billy Verkler, Box 656, Harding College, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

A study tour of several New England states will be available for three hours of credit in English 271 or 403-405.

The group will tour places of interest relative to the study of Hawthorne, Thoreau, Emerson, Melville, Irving and Dickinson. Cities visited will include Concord, N.H.; Salem, Mass.; Boston-Cambridge, Mass.; Plymouth, Mass.; New Bedford, Mass.; Newport, R. I.; Stratford, Conn.; Tarrytown, N. Y.; Hartford, Conn.; Amherst, N. Y., and Pittsfield, Pa.

For additional information, contact Dr. Gary Elliott, Department of English, Harding College, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

The two regular summer sessions will be held June 4-July 6 and July 9-August 10. More than 150 selected courses will be offered in areas of accounting, art, business, Bible, biology, chemistry, English, economics, education, Greek, finance, history, mathematics, music, physics, physical education, psychology, social work, speech, journalism, political science, physical science, sociology, computing and nursing.

The two week short course Intersession will begin summer activities May 14-30. Up to four hours of credit may be earned, and 16 courses will be offered.

A developmental program for incoming freshmen will be offered concurrently with the regular sessions. The program assists students in strengthening their academic skills and preparing for college work.

For outstanding high school students, an advanced studies program will be conducted June 4-August 10. To participate, a student must have at least 12 academic units of high school credit with an overall B average or better. Credit may be used toward a college degree. Students may earn up to 13 hours credit.

Any questions on regular summer programs may be addressed to Dr. James Carr, Box 1224, Harding College, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

'79 Program and Goals Set By Alumni Association

The Harding Alumni Association has announced its record setting goals for 1979 according to David Crouch, director of alumni relations.

During 1979 the Alumni Association will be conducting a program to increase the "grass roots" financial support of alumni. The program has three primary goals.

The first goal is to significantly increase the percentage of alumni donors. "For the past three years the percentage of alumni participation has remained fairly constant at 26 to 27 percent," said Crouch. "Our goal is to reach at least the 30 percent level and to hopefully even surpass the 35 percent mark. The record is 34.9 percent of the alumni constituency making a contribution."

A second goal is similar in nature to the first goal. There will be an effort to elicit the support of a record number of donors. The record is 4,191. The 1978 total of 3,991 donors was the second highest total in the school's history.

The Alumni Association's third goal for 1979 is to generate a record total in contributions from alumni. The record is $528,056 which was set in 1977. "In 1978 contributions from alumni were just $38,000 short of the record total, and we feel confident that in 1979 alumni will be able to surpass the 1977 total," said Crouch.

Alumni will be receiving additional information about the Alumni Association's goals for 1979. The Harding Bulletin will also provide periodic reports to keep alumni informed about the progress of record-setting in 1979.

Speakers Scheduled For Bible Lectures

Two speakers are scheduled for April in the continuing series of lecturers appearing before the Timothy Club and World Evangelism Forum meetings.

Dick Weber of Atlanta, Ga., will speak to the group on April 10, and Ellis Long of Abilene, Texas, will be speaking on April 25.

Weber, a lieutenant in the Greater Atlanta Police Department, will speak on "Working With Troubled Youth." A frequent workshop speaker, Weber is a member of the Forest Park congregation in Atlanta where he teaches a 10th grade class and works with the bus ministry.

He has been on the narcotics squad of the Greater Atlanta Police Department and has done undercover work.

Long is a former missionary to Sao Paulo, Brazil, where he worked as part of a group mission effort for 16 years. He is currently recruiting groups for metropolitan areas in Brazil and South America.

Both lectures will take place in Room 100 of the Bible Building and are open to everyone.

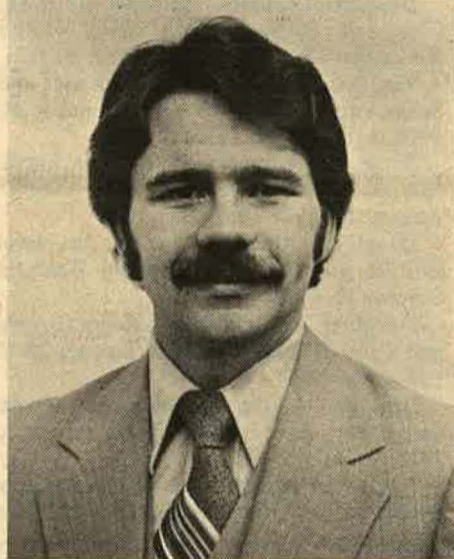

In announcing the goals of the Alumni Association, Crouch indicated some of the reasons for the special goals. "Alumni support of Christian education is essential. No other single group can have such an impact on the success of Christian education."

Inflation continues to place increasing pressure on every area of the college, including utilities, food costs, maintenance, and other services. Each year Harding is forced to raise significant sums of money in addition to tuition and fees paid by students.

He noted that Harding alumni through the years have always provided the resources that have allowed the school to achieve levels of academic excellence. "The need for Christian education demands that alumni support increase in both numbers of donors and in dollars contributed," he said.

Bisons' Rally Results In Playoff Berth

Behind a fierce second half comeback in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference race, the Harding Bisons pulled out of the AIC cellar and landed a spot in the NAIA District 17 basketball playoffs.

That second half drive, when the Bisons won five of their last eight games, also netted the squad a seventh place finish in the AIC with a 6-12 record. Overall, Harding finished the season with a 12-17 mark.

Henderson State University, nationally ranked and number one in the AIC, defeated Harding 96-80 in the first round of the playoffs.

One of the leaders in the Bisons' rally was Stan Eckwood, a 6-4, 171-pound senior who led the AIC in scoring, ranked among the top ten nationally with a 26.2 average, and earned All-America honorable mention honors.

Five records fell to the guard from Brinkley in his final season as a Bison.

He now holds the Harding records for most points scored in a single season (759), most free throws in a single game (16), most free throws in a single season (227), total field goals in a season (266), and the highest scoring average (26.2 points a game).

That senior season also put Eckwood in second place on Harding's All-Time Career Scoring lists with 1,579 points.

Recognizing Stan's achievements, Monday, February 26, 1979, was proclaimed "Stan Eckwood Day" by the mayors of both Brinkley, Ark., and Searcy. The night of February 26 was Stan's last home game as a Bison.

The two-time All-AIC and NAIA District 17 selection also ranked among the top three rebounders in the AIC with an average of 9.9 rebounds a game.

Two sophomores and a junior handled the guard play out front for the Bisons during the second half comeback — Bruce Baldwin of Jacksonville, Ill.; Tim Flatt of Memphis, Tenn., and junior Kenny Moorer of Bald Knob, Ark.

Flatt was the second leading scorer on the squad with an average of 15 points a game. Moorer led the team in assists with 143.

Inside, the Bisons looked to 6-5 junior Bruce Binkley of Tulsa, Okla., and 6-5 sophomore Ricky Treadway of North Little Rock, Ark., for key rebounding play. Binkley was the second leading rebounder on the squad, behind Eckwood, with 6.2 a game.

Several players came off the bench to provide the Bisons with dependable play during the stretch drive. Among them were forwards Alan Pearson of Amory, Miss., and Keith Bailey of Potosi, Mo. Junior Phil Carter of Florissant, Mo., doubled as both a back-up center and back-up forward to aid the Bison cause.

Robert Goldstein

David Bangs

Gridders Vote Bangs, Goldstein Captains

Two seniors — David Bangs of Mountain View, Ark., and Robert Goldstein of Norcross, Ga. — have been named captains of the 1979 Bison football squad in voting by their teammates recently.

Bangs, a 5-11, 190-pounder, was the fourth back in the Bisons' "Fullhouse I" last fall, seeing action both as a pass receiver and a runner. He caught 10 passes for 111 yards last fall.

The two-year letterman is majoring in physical education.

A defensive tackle, Goldstein was one of the keys in the Bison defense last fall which allowed opponents only 130.6 yards rushing a game last fall. The 6-2, 215-pound Goldstein has earned three letters as a Bison.

He is majoring in physical education.

"These two men will be leaders," head coach John Prock commented. "I know they will do the job for us in 1979."

Tahkodah Boy's Camp Offers Summer Fun

Camp Tahkodah boys camp will offer a wide range of sports and activities for young men this summer.

Under the management of Ed Higginbotham, the camp will be held June 10-July 6 at the Tahkodah camp facility near Floral, Ark. Located in the Ozarks, the 1,300-acre campground includes a spring fed creek.

Training is offered in baseball, riflery, softball, archery, badminton, swimming, handicraft, boating, nature study, fishing, tennis, horseback riding, table tennis, motorcycle riding, skeet shooting and soccer.

The Camp is a member of the American Camping Association and meets the standards required by the organization.

If you are interested in further information concerning the program, would like to view the Camp Tahkodah movie, or talk with the camp manager, please write Camp Tahkodah, Box 703, Station A, Searcy, Ark. 72143, or call (501) 268-6161, Ext. 342.

Bisons Take SIBC Title, Finish Fifth in Divisionals

Bowling against the other divisional winners of the Southern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference, the Harding College Bisons placed fifth recently in the SIBC Divisional Tournament at Montgomery, Ala.

The Bisons, who won Division 7 of the SIBC, were led by David Mitchell of Garland, Texas; Mike Bedwell of Sikeston, Mo., and Danny Campbell of Searcy. All three bowlers averaged over 180 pins a game.

Appalachian State University of Boone, N.C., won the division championship of the SIBC.

Harding won Division 7 with a 10-5 match record. The leaders in the divisional bowling were Ron Wheeler of Ashtabula, Ohio, (188 pins a game), Mitchell (182 pins a game) and Mike Bedwell (181 pins a game).

Wheeler rolled the high game in divisional competition with a 245, and also the highest series with a 713-pin total in three games. David Mitchell was the individual match play champion with 25 victories to his credit.

Other members of Division 7 were NCAA schools Louisiana Tech University, Arkansas State University, and Northeast Louisiana State University.

Two Swimmers Place In Conference Meet

Two Bison athletes placed among the top six finishers recently in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Swimming and Diving Championships.

Steven Froelich of North Syracuse, N.Y., placed fifth in the 100-yard breaststroke with a 1:10.892 timing while teammate Scott Smith of Searcy finished sixth in the 50-yard freestyle with a 23.742.

In the relay events, the Bison team of Steve Pylkas of Searcy, Carl Waites of Dearborn, Mich., Wendell Cave of Gainesville, Fla., and Smith placed second in the competition with a 3:40.72 clocking.

The 400-yard medley quartet of Smith, Froelich, Pylkas and Cave placed fourth with a 4:14.157.

"Our results in the meet don't really show the improvement that the boys have made this year," first-year coach Jack Boustead said. "Their times in the AIC meet were considerably better than what they were swimming at the first of the year."

Harding placed fifth in the AIC championships as the Hendrix College Warriors captured the championship. Hendrix led the conference with 687 points, followed by Ouachita Baptist University with 248, Southern Arkansas University 247, Arkansas Tech University 193, Harding 134, Henderson State University 84 and Arkansas College 10.
