Dean Sears Honored in Dormitory Dedication

Dean Emeritus L. C. Sears was honored with the naming of Harding's newest women's dormitory "L. C. Sears Hall" in ceremonies held on Campus April 27.

"The dorm was named after Dr. Sears because of his long time service to Christian education," said Harding President Clifton L. Ganus Jr. Sears, 85, taught for 45 years, also serving as Harding's dean and English department chairman.

Special guests were on hand for the dedication, including Sears' two sons, Jack Wood, chairman of Harding's department of biology, and Kern, a research chemist from St. Louis, and four of his grandchildren.

The honoree performed unveilings which revealed the lettering at the dormitory's north and east entrances. Inside the doorway he unveiled a wall plaque bearing the following inscription:

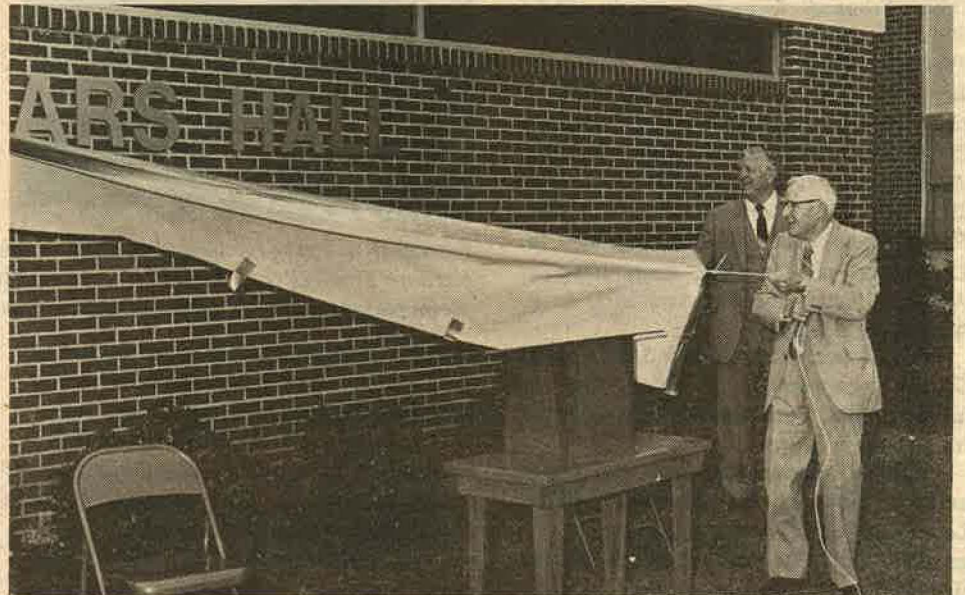

"Dr. Lloyd Cline Sears is a distinguished scholar and teacher, a minister and elder in the Lord's kingdom, an efficient college administrator, and a Christian gentleman. His life has been one of love and service to God and His creation, especially to young people through Christian education. He taught at Cordell Christian College from 1915 to 1918, at Harper College from 1918 to 1924 and at Harding College from 1924 until he retired in 1966. He also served as Dean of Harding College from 1924 until 1961. For his half century of excellent service and dedication to Christian education and for all that he has done for many thousands of Harding students this building is gratefully named and dedicated to 'Dean Sears.'"

Following the dedication, a banquet was held in Sears' honor. With Ganus acting as master of ceremonies, many friends and admirers of Sears shared their personal recollections of him and of his lifetime dedication to Christian education. Among those who gave brief testimonials were Jimmy Allen, Bob Helsten and Neale Pryor of the Bible department; J. D. Bales and Leslie Burke, former members of the Bible faculty; J. E. Pryor, vice president for academic affairs and a former student of Sears, and Dow Merritt, a former classmate of Sears and a retired missionary.

President Emeritus George S. Benson commented, "I believe that L. C. Sears was born to be a college dean."

Annie Mae Alston Lewis of Memphis, former student and colleague of Sears, expressed the sentiments of many well wishers, saying, "It is a paradox that language breaks down when we try to put into words something of the life of the man who is a master of the English language.

"Because he felt such a debt of gratitude to those who made possible a Christian education for him, he chose to spend his life passing along to others opportunities for study under Christian teachers.

"If ever a man followed the Apostle Paul's admonition to think about what is true, honorable, just pure, lovely and gracious, then Dean Sears is that man.

"Perhaps his unshakeable faith in the goodness of God may best be seen in the opening lines of the poem he taught for so many years, Browning's 'Rabbi Ben Ezra.' Grow old along with me! The best is yet to be, The last of life, for which the first was made: Our times are in his hand Who said 'A Whole I planned, Youth shows but half; trust God: see all, nor be afraid!'"

Sears was married to Pattie Armstrong, daughter of former Harding President J. N. Armstrong. Mrs. Sears died in 1977.

Sears is the author of What is Your Life?, an autobiography; For Freedom and The Eyes of Jehovah, biographies of J. N. Armstrong and James A. Harding, respectively; and Shakespeare's Philosophy of Evil. He is a resident of Searcy.

Economics Team Wins Regional Contest

Harding's Economics team has been named the winner of the Southwestern Regional "Students in Free Enterprise" competition in Dallas, defeating teams from 10 other colleges and universities from five states to take the championship. The team received a trophy and a check for $1,000 following competition April 12-13.

Co-sponsored by National Leadership Institute, an Austin, Texas-based management training organization, and Southwestern Life Insurance Company, the competition began in October with the program theme of "Creative Capitalism." The project goal was to offer solutions to problems confronting the American economic system. Participating institutions were challenged through formal intercollegiate competition to design and implement free enterprise programs suited for their particular campuses and communities.

Harding's entry, entitled "Free Enterprise - The Great American Bargain," included a report and a 12 x 15 foot multimedia display that elaborated on a variety of 60 projects and programs which have been presented to civic, professional and educational groups in the Mid-South.

Projects included printing free enterprise messages for billboards, bumper stickers and newspapers and writing enlightening spots for radio and television broadcast. The team also conducted free market workshops for adults, presented a "Little Red Hen" puppet show for children and participated in the New Orleans Youth Forum on "Americanism, Freedom and You."

Other participating institutions in the contest included New Mexico State University, 2nd; Oklahoma Christian College, 3rd; Cedar Valley College and College of the Southwest, in a tie for 4th; University of Texas at El Paso; Grambling State University; East Texas State University; Hardin-Simmons University, Louisiana Technical University; McMurry College; Stephen F. Austin State University.

Through the only volunteer student-staffed Center for Private Enterprise Education in the country, the Economics Team works to support a system in which one is "free" to be anything he wants, if he has the "enterprise" to do it. "The competition results, combined with first place finishes in five of the last six years, firmly establish Harding's Center as one of the premier organizations in the country effectively promoting economic enlightenment," Diffine said.

Harding's team will now participate in the national finals held in New York City July 19-22. Last year the Harding team defeated college and university teams from 10 regions to become national co-champions of the contest.

The presentation in Dallas climaxed competition which began a year earlier with nearly 200 colleges and 6,000 students from around the country.

Harding to Host National Conference For Christian Schools June 18-20

The 4th Annual National Conference for Christian Schools, to be held on the Harding campus, has been rescheduled for June 18-20.

"Some of the participating consultants were having schedule conflicts," stated Richard Duke, a member of Harding's education faculty and coordinator of the event, "so we moved the conference a week earlier."

According to Duke, the program has two basic things to accomplish. "We have plans to begin a resource center for Christian education on the Harding campus, but we haven't yet done anything in a formal way. During the conference, we will discuss the proposal for the center and determine the objectives, goals and purposes of the center."

Six expert practitioners of education will be present during the three-day conference to serve as consultants, including Jesse Long, president of Greater Atlanta Christian School; Marvin Crouch, chairman of the Bible department at David Lipscomb High School; Dr. Harold Bowie, superintendent at Harding Academy in Memphis; Dr. Joe Hacker, president of Ouachita Christian Schools; Bob Diles, superintendent of Central Arkansas Christian School, and Dr. Don Gardner, president of Christian Schools of Greater Houston. These experts will monitor discussion as more than 100 Christian school administrators participate in brainstorming sessions concerning difficulties in Christian education.

Ford Lauds Reagan in American Studies Address

Greeted by a standing ovation and interrupted by frequent applause, former U. S. President Gerald R. Ford spoke to an over-capacity crowd in the Benson Auditorium April 23.

Ford's address closed the spring lecture series sponsored by Harding's American Studies Program, and many distinguished guests were present for the occasion. Accompanied by his son, Steve, Ford attended a dinner in his honor, joining at the head table Arkansas Governor Frank White, President and Mrs. Clifton L. Ganus Jr., President Emeritus and Mrs. George S. Benson and several sponsors and guests of the American Studies Program, including Del Belden of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bellamy of Pine Bluff, Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Capps of Searcy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carter of Bentonville, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gernert of Batesville, Scott Little of Ardmore, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Toland of Little Rock.

Perrin Jones, editor of the Searcy Daily Citizen, commented, "I think that in modern times, Ford was the first visitor of his stature in Searcy."

"Ford's appearance was definitely another 'plus' for the American Studies Lecture Series. Without the sponsorship of a program like that, I don't think a city the size of Searcy would be able to attract someone like Ford."

Before an audience of approximately 3,600, Ford began his address by declaring himself a "long admirer" of Benson, "of the things that he's stood for and of the accomplishments of his lifetime." He also lauded private institutions of higher learning, stating, "Competition is good for everyone." With competition between public and private education, he said, "The net result is the teaching is better, the classes are better, the students are better and we all are better educated."

The bulk of Ford's lecture concerned his impressions of the first 90 days of the Reagan administration, with regard to Reagan's economics plan, his proposal to strengthen U. S. military capabilities and his redirection of U. S. foreign policy.

Recently home from a 29-day visit abroad, Ford said he had observed that our allies are "supportive" of Reagan's policies. Though most heads of state are economic "traditionalists," he said, they are "most anxious that President Reagan's program

Academic Aid To Be Increased

The Harding administration has approved a $400 increase in academic scholarships for the 1981-82 school year, it was announced by President Clifton L. Ganus Jr.

The scholarships, awarded to incoming freshmen on the basis of American College Test (ACT) scores, or to transfer students of the basis of cumulative grade point average on college credits, will be increased $100 per year, or $50 per semester, according to Lott R. Tucker, vice president for finance.

Students achieving a score of 29 or higher on the ACT or carrying at least a 3.82 grade point average in college courses formerly received $175 in scholarship aid each semester and will now be awarded $225. Those having scores of 25-28 on the ACT or holding grade averages of 3.2-3.82 were given $125 in the past but will now get $175 per semester.

"Scholarships were given high priority in budgeting this year to make available these increases," Tucker said.

Former U. S. President Gerald R. Ford candidly displays various aspects of his personality during a press conference held in the American Heritage Trophy Room. Reporters' questions prompt Ford to make grave comments about the national economic outlook, to explain his stand for increased military security and to joke about his golf scores.

succeed because the success or failure of their own economy is so dependent on how well we're doing here in the United States.

"Our allies very definitely support the build-up of U.S. military capabilities," he continued, adding, "The reaction of the Soviet Union is very, very interesting." Since the new administration took office, said Ford, "the Soviet Union has pushed arms limitations... Secondly, they have sought to improve relations between the Soviet Union and Japan." Also, he said, the Russians have shown a distinct interest in resuming negotiations, including SALT II.

According to Ford, "The Russian foreign policy is being met head-on by President Reagan's strong statements and the build-up of our military security. I think the new administration will make the Russians think twice before they undertake new aggression or new adventure anyplace in the world. The Reagan administration actions and attitudes are good for the free people around the globe."

Ford reviewed the economic situation which Reagan inherited and briefly described Reagan's economic package, which he said he supported "100 percent... period."

During a question and answer session, Ford fielded inquiries into current issues, such as personal safety of public figures, criminal justice, regulating importation of automobiles and others.

In closing the program, Ganus presented to Ford a "Distinguished American Citizen" certificate which expressed "appreciation for lifelong, constructive support of American ideals, as evidenced by his outstanding accomplishments, his dynamic world leadership, his great interest in our American Heritage and his service to mankind."

After Ford's departure to attend a reception in his honor, the younger Ford took the floor and informally related to the students the lighter side of life in the first family.

"This has been one of the most successful years ever for the American Studies Program," Ganus said. In addition to Ford, the spring roster included guest lecturers Richard C. Hottel, CBS News correspondent, and Bill Waugh, owner of Casa Bonita, a Mexican food chain with 54 restaurants in four states. The fall lecture series featured Malcolm Toon, former ambassador to Russia; James B. Stockdale, retired president of the Citadel; Alexander Ginzburg, a Russian human rights activist; Will Sampson, an American Indian actor and artist, and Arkansas Congressman Ed Bethune.

Distinguished Service Awards Presented at Banquet

Four Harding employees were honored for outstanding service in various capacities during the annual Faculty-Staff Banquet April 10.

Receiving the Distinguished Staff Awards and accompanying $1,000 checks were Merle Elliott and William Bridges of the University, Lois Lawson of the Academy in Searcy and Bill Flatt of the Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis.

Bridges, manager of the bookstore, graduated from Harding in 1965 and was employed by the finance office. He later became bookstore assistant, assuming the managerial position upon the retirement of John Lee Dykes in 1976.

Elliott is manager of the store room, where he has worked in shipping and receiving for 18 years.

Mrs. Lawson, third grade teacher, earned the M.A.T. from Harding in 1959 and has taught at the Academy for 25 years.

Flatt, HGSR registrar and associate professor of counseling, has been with Harding for 16 years.

Also recognized during the evening were 41 faculty and staff members who have rendered a cumulative 710 years of service to Harding. Heading the list was Dr. Clifton L. Ganus Jr., president, who received a 35-year pin. Joining the group along with Ganus in 1946 were Annie May Alston Lewis, librarian at the Graduate School, and Elizabeth Mason, professor and former chairman of the art department.

Recipients of 30-year recognition were G. E. Baggett, music department, and Lott R. Tucker Jr., vice president for finance.

The 25-year presentations were made to Johnnie Ballard, maintenance; Mildred Bell, home economics; Pat Young, cashier, and Louis Green, Board of Trustees.

Those earning 20-year pins were Rheba Berryhill, library; Doyle Graham, Pattie Cobb Cafeteria; Bill Oldham, mathematics; John H. Ryan, speech, and Marjorie Ryan, physical education.

Honorees having 15 years of service were Dewey Butler, custodian; Jo Cleveland, English; Jean Cox, nurse; Minnie Gardner, Pattie Cobb Cafeteria; William Hollaway, music; Floyd Humes, Camp Tahkodah; Jerry Jones, Bible; Christa Layden, Heritage

Cafeteria; Bryce Roberson, biology; Willie Rowe, Heritage Cafeteria; Roy Sawyer and Nina Warnock, Board of Trustees; George Woodruff, biology; Winfred Wright, modern foreign languages, and Mattie Young, Heritage Cafeteria.

Youth Citizenship Program To Be Conducted June 7-13

Eight outstanding speakers will be featured during the 25th Annual Youth Citizenship Seminar for high school students June 7-13 on the Harding campus.

Sponsored by the Arkansas and Tennessee Farm Bureaus, Civitan International and the Harding American Studies Program, the Americanism program involved more than 360 participants last summer.

Highlighting this year's schedule will be former Dallas Cowboy footballer Cliff Harris. A graduate of Ouachita Baptist University, Harris was a four-time All-Pro selection and played in five Pro Bowls. He is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame.

Former Minnesota congressman Dr. Walter H. Judd will return to the seminar. Judd was a medical missionary in South China and is now a contributing editor for Reader's Digest. He lectures at many colleges and universities throughout the country.

Conference

In one phase of discussion, Duke said, participants will examine the most pressing problems confronting Christian education. Later, the group will examine ideal solutions and current answers to top priority problems, finally making practical assessments of how to deal with them.

Visiting administrators will be invited to share problems which may be unique to their respective schools. There will also be individual conference periods to allow administrators of young, striving Christian schools to benefit from the knowledge and experience of the consultants.

Sessions will begin at noon on June 18 and conclude at 10 a.m. June 20. Housing will be available in the American Heritage Building at $12 per night. There is no registration fee for conference participants.

Further information may be obtained from National Conference for Christian Schools, Box 752, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

ON THE COVER — Former President Gerald R. Ford speaks to a crowd of approximately 3,600 in the George S. Benson Auditorium. Ford, accompanied by his son Steve, appeared on campus April 23 as the final speaker for the spring lecture series sponsored by Harding's American Studies Program.

Having served as the 38th chief executive of the U.S., Ford drew from his own personal experiences to evaluate the success of the Reagan administration during its first 90 days.

The Harding Bulletin (USPS 235-240) is published monthly by Harding University, Searcy, Arkansas. Second class postage paid at Searcy, Arkansas. Change of address notices and correspondence should be addressed to the Office of Publications, Harding University, Box 759, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Dr. Clifton Ganus Jr., president of Harding, has traveled extensively in Europe, making studies of European socialism. The history professor was also one of 30 higher education administrators selected to tour the People's Republic of Red China in 1979. His address, "Our American Heritage," received the Freedoms Foundation Award.

Miss Lori Cox, a student at Arizona State University, is a Freedoms Foundation Award recipient for outstanding address by a teen-ager. She has been instrumental in promoting a congressional bill to establish a National Patriotism Week.

Making his fifth appearance at the seminar, Commander Stephen Harris will include his experiences in the U.S. Pueblo incident in his presentation. A prisoner of war for 11 months, he was responsible for organizing and encouraging religious activities of the American prisoners. He is the author of a book, My Anchor Held, and is currently director of the Navy Drug Abuse Counselor School in San Diego, Calif.

Vo Thanh Duc, a refugee from Vietnam, will also return to the seminar this year. He will tell of the turmoil in his country prior to the Communist takeover and the circumstances leading to refuge in the United States for his family.

Dr. Don Diffine is director of the Harding University Center for Private Enterprise Education and editor of the center's newsletter, the Entrepreneur. Both Diffine and the Entrepreneur will be honored by the Freedoms Foundation in May. Dr. David Burks, dean of Harding's School of Business, conducts management and computer seminars for business executives and educators. He frequently speaks on time management, communication and business ethics.

Outstanding student leaders from high schools in Tennessee, Arkansas, Florida, Alabama and Georgia will participate in the week-long event.

Counseling, Leadership Seminars Scheduled by Bible Department

Two Bible programs scheduled during the month of June have been announced by Bible department chairman Jerry Jones. The Counseling Workshop will be held June 15-17, with a Church Leadership Seminar following June 18-20.

The Counseling Workshop, co-sponsored by the Harding Bible and psychology departments, will help individuals to develop skills in communication and counseling, to recognize behavioral problems, to develop specificity of content in counseling sessions and to prepare for confrontation in one-to-one relationships.

A $50 fee for the workshop covers the cost of two required textbooks, The Skilled Helper and Essential Interviewing. Both books will be sent to registrants and should be read prior to the workshop.

The program will be limited to 30 participants. Each application must be accompanied by the registration fee.

The opening session of the workshop, entitled "Facilitative Conditions," will provide a Biblical look at empathy, positive regard, genuineness and specificity of content, all important factors in counseling. Other first-day lessons will concern physical attending. During evening library sessions, participants will have the opportunity to examine recommended literature and supplementary materials on counseling.

The remaining hours of the workshop will

Taken by surprise, yearbook dedicatee Dr. Jimmy Carr accepts the first copy of the 1981 Petit Jean from editor Melanie McMillen.

Seniors Honor Carr in Dedication Of 1981 Petit Jean Yearbook

Dr. Jimmy Carr, assistant to the president, received the first copy of the 1981 Petit Jean as the yearbook was dedicated to him during the chapel period April 28. The student body joined in a standing ovation as Carr accepted his book from editor Melanie McMillen of Monroe, La.

Carr joined the Harding staff in 1970 and has since served as assistant to the president and director of summer session. A graduate of East Carolina University, Carr holds the master of arts degree from Peabody College. He also has a master of science degree from Indiana University, where he earned the Ed.D. in 1955, with majors in guidance and counseling and minors in higher education administration and geography.

Among his many activities are coordinating the efforts of the Associated Women for Harding and working with the Bison Booster Club. He was instrumental in beginning the early orientation program for new students. In addition to his work for the University and for the church, Carr is involved in numerous community organizations.

The second copy of the Petit Jean was presented to Harding President Clifton Ganus.

Dr. J. E. Pryor, yearbook sponsor, pronounced Belinda Segraves Petit Jean Queen, and the crowning was performed by the queen's mother, Mrs. Joe Segraves, the former Shirley Fort, who reigned as Petit Jean Queen in 1957.

Miss Segraves is a senior home economics major from Searcy. A member of Zeta Rho social club, she represented King's Men. Her attendants were Janet Kirby, a senior nursing major from Jackson, Tenn. and queen of Titans, and Cheri Conolty, a senior elementary education major from New Fairfield, Conn. and Chi Sigma Alpha queen.

Following the dedication and crowning ceremonies was the presentation of the Regina Spirit Award to Steve Awtrey. The annual award, sponsored by Regina social club, is bestowed by the seniors on the class member who best exemplifies the attitudes and ideals of the Harding student. The award was presented by Susan Pryor of Searcy, president of Regina and editor of the 1982 Petit Jean.

Awtrey, a Bible and journalism major from St. Louis, has been active in several evangelistic campaigns, including a summer program he helped to organize in Tabernacle, N.J. A leader in the Big Buddy program, he has also been a resident dormitory assistant, an intramural all-star and a staff member for the Bison newspaper and for KHCA radio. Awtrey is named on the Dean's List and in Who's Who.

The 1981 Petit Jean is built on the theme "The Story Continues." The 400-page volume has a white cover with silver lettering and, in the lower righthand corner, a simulation of turning pages. Inside, the book features "Life," "Scholars," "Individuals," "Intertwining," "Athletes" and "Academy" sections.

"The book has a tough standard to live up to," Pryor said. "In the past we've had 21 consecutive All-American books, and, if you ask me the quality of the 1981 book is just as good."

AWH Holds Nationwide Meeting, Chapters Make Record Donations

More than 120 chapter and at-large members of Associated Women for Harding were present for a nationwide meeting of the organization on the Harding University campus April 24.

"It was the largest meeting the AWH has had in many years," stated Dr. Jimmy Carr, who coordinates AWH activities with the University. "The program was very well received, and we had a very profitable meeting."

Fifteen chapters of the fund-raising organization were represented at the meeting. Outstanding AWH members were recognized during the day and new leaders were elected.

Mrs. Glenda Burris, a charter member of the AWH in Little Rock, was selected by fellow AWH members to receive the first annual "Associated Women for Harding University National Volunteer Service Award" for her efforts in supporting Harding.

A special certificate of recognition and appreciation was drafted for Mrs. Nina Warnock of Magnolia and, in her absence due to illness, was presented to her granddaughter, Amy Harsh of Magnolia.

Elected chairman of next year's National Council was Mrs. Mary Jolly of Cabot. Brenda McClain of Little Rock was named chairman for the general meeting. Both officers will assume their duties in September.

The gathering presented to Carr a set of bookends, in appreciation for his help in coordinating AWH activities throughout the year.

Chapter representatives presented to Harding President Clifton Ganus checks to the University totalling $29,587.

"This will be our biggest year ever," Carr said. "Some of the chapters which could not be represented at the national meeting will be sending their checks also."

National Council certificates were given to 15 members of the National Council for AWH, including Mrs. Sarah Ard of Richardson, Texas, Mrs. Mary Ann Arnett of Searcy, Mrs. Marka Bennett and Mrs. Jan Burt of Dallas, Mrs. Mattie Dale of Russellville, Mrs. Ann Dixon of Mountain Home, Mrs. Louis Ganus of Searcy, Mrs. Johnice Hearn of Harrison, Mrs. Ann Hewitt of Mabelvale, Mrs. Mary Jolly of Cabot, Mrs. Dee Kernodle of Jonesboro, Miss Brenda McClain of Little Rock, Mrs. Claudia Petty of Hot Springs, Mrs. Kay Reiboldt of Shreveport, La. and Mrs. Sue Roper of Bartlesville, Okla.

Members of the National Council who were not able to attend the meeting are Mrs. Inez Brooker of Gainesville, Fla., Mrs. Karen Chamblee of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Mary Henley of Dumas, Mrs. Sarah Jouett of Little Rock, Mrs. Jane Mitchell of Texarkana, Mrs. Joyous Mounts of Hope, Mrs. Nikki Sadler of Huntsville, Ala., Mrs. Deanna Smith of Memphis and Mrs. Kay Sunderland of Conway.

College Classes Open To High Schoolers

Two special programs for high school students will be included in Harding's summer sessions set for June 8-July 10 and July 13-Aug. 14.

A Developmental Program is provided for a limited number of incoming freshmen who desire to attend college but have deficient academic backgrounds. The program helps students to strengthen their academic skills in preparation for college study.

A maximum of 20 students may participate in the course. Areas of instruction will include English composition and literature, mathematics, Bible and physical education.

Instructors in the classes are selected because of their special interest in helping students overcome educational weaknesses.

A second program, the Advanced Studies Program, is designed for qualified high school students who wish to get a head start on college education.

To enroll, a student must have at least 12 academic units of high school credit with an overall average of B or higher.

Credit earned in the program may be counted toward a degree at Harding or may be accepted as transfer credits at some other accredited school. Successful work in the advanced courses may also enable the student to be admitted to college without completing the senior year of high school.

The program will include courses in art, Bible, biology, chemistry, economics, English, French, history, mathematics, music, physical education, physical science, physics, political science, psychology and speech.

Scholarships of $100 each are awarded to full-time students who attend both sessions in advanced studies. For those who participate in only one five-week session, $50 scholarships are available.

For further information, write Dr. Jimmy Carr, Director of Summer Session, Box 1224, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Fall Plans Announced For Harding in Florence

With the spring semester completed and Harding's 27 transplanted students back in the States, the focus of Harding University's International Studies Program is on summer tours and fall semester plans.

There are still openings for students for the 1981 fall semester, according to Dr. Don Shackelford, director of the program. Applications will be considered as late as 15, but early preparation is recommended.

The International Studies Program, designed for upper-level college students, involves one or more semesters of study, conducted at Harding's branch campus in Florence, Italy. The curriculum and the faculty vary from semester to semester, and students may earn as many as 16 hours of credit during each study tour.

Faculty for the Florence campus this year will be Dr. Bobby Coker, dean of the School of Education, and L. V. Pfeifer, associate professor of Bible.

Coker, a 1956 Harding graduate, joined the education faculty in 1968, having previously taught in public school systems and having served as superintendent of Lynn Public Schools.

Pfeifer, a graduate of Abilene Christian University, served as a missionary in Italy for six years helping to establish churches, including the congregation in Florence. He joined the Harding faculty in 1973.

This fall, the International Studies curriculum will include education and Bible courses, in addition to the Italian classes taught each semester by Gianfranco Sciotti, business consultant for the Florence program. Highlighting the semester will be a five-day tour of Greece, where the students will visit Athens, Corinth, Mycanea and Delphi.

During the summer sessions, art and business students will make use of the Florence campus. Led by Elizabeth Mason, a Harding art professor who has traveled and lectured extensively in Europe, the art students will tour museums and art galleries in more than a dozen cities, including Munich, Vienna, Rome, London and Paris. Business students will be guided by David Tucker, assistant professor of economics. During their five weeks abroad, the group will visit banks, businesses and government organizations in Rome, Venice, Pisa and Milan, in addition to the NATO headquarters in Brussels.

Further information about the International Studies Program may be obtained by writing Dr. Don Shackelford, Box 754, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143 or calling (501) 268-6161, extension 448.

Orientation Set For Freshmen

Two early orientation sessions will be held for new students on the Harding campus this summer, June 21-23 and July 16-18. All students entering the University in the fall, both freshmen and transfer students, are encouraged to attend one of the sessions.

Campus tours will help newcomers to get acquainted with their new surroundings, and special activities will provide the chance to meet future classmates. There will also be opportunities to meet with teachers and administrators to plan classes for the fall.

CLEP (College Level Examination Program) tests will be given in conjunction with each orientation, on June 20 and July 16. Cheerleader tryouts will be held during the second session only. According to cheerleader sponsor Kathryn Campbell, two Bison cheerleaders will be selected from among the freshmen and transfers.

A $10 registration fee for the orientation includes housing in the dormitories. Meals may be purchased in campus cafeterias.

A special orientation fee for parents of new students will be scheduled during each session. Information will be presented on college procedures and questions will be answered. For parents, there will be a $3 registration fee and housing will be provided in the residence halls for $4 per night.

For more information, contact Dr. Jimmy Carr, Director of Summer Session, Box 1224, Harding University, Searcy, Ark.

Atlanta, Ga., "Never Behind the Ears," 3rd. Fiction — Laura Brown, Bridgeport, Ohio, "Nothing Before You, Nothing Behind," 1st; Teresa Young, Scott AFB, Ariz., "Going Home," 2nd; David Henderson, Searcy, "Sissy," 3rd.

Hymn Lyrics — Paul Perkins, Rochester, N. Y., "Prayer for Wisdom," 1st and Jerry "Boo" Mitchell, Texarkana, Texas, "The Lord Provides," 2nd.

Harding Hosts Art Meeting

Art teachers from throughout Arkansas gathered for the annual meeting of the Arkansas Art Education Association at Harding's Stevens Art Center April 24.

Registered participants attended a lecture on "Artistic Thinking" by Don Robinson, chairman of the Harding art department. An AAEA business session was also conducted.

The day's schedule was highlighted by three artistic demonstrations. Faye Doran, a member of the Harding art faculty, displayed and demonstrated inkle weaving. Jim LaRue, also of the Harding art department, held a raku workshop. Julie Sink, a 1980 alumnus, showed samples and techniques of stained glass work.

An afternoon session featured "Starry, Starry Nite," an audiovisual presentation on Vincent Van Gogh, which was arranged by Kay Berkley, art teacher for Woodland Junior High School in Fayetteville.

The program concluded with a "skull session," during which the AAEA members had the opportunity to examine materials from the national art teachers' organization and share some of their own ideas and classroom experiences in discussion groups.

The day's activities were coordinated by Elizabeth Mason, professor of art, who is a member of both the Arkansas and National Art Education Associations.

Psychology Symposium Held on Campus

Harding's department of psychology hosted a symposium entitled "Psychology in Business and Industry" April 24. The program was designed to demonstrate the contributions of psychology and psychologists to the areas of industrial design, leadership in business organizations and other aspects of behavior in industrial settings.

Dr. Dennis Seal, a design engineer at Henry Dreyfus and Company of New York, and David Osborne, a Harding alumnus currently in the doctoral program at the University of Tennessee, were the guest speakers.

Seal, a graduate of Texas A & M, demonstrated the human engineering design process and described the educational and employment opportunities in human engineering.

Osborne discussed the employment opportunities in industrial organization psychology.

Social Work Seminar Presented by Students

Senior social work majors presented a seminar on "Human Sexuality: Understanding the Sexes" on campus April 10.

Coffee and donuts were served to seminar participants preceding the first lecture, which was presented by Billy Watson of the Levy Church of Christ in Little Rock. His lesson was "The Biblical View of Sex."

Other guest speakers and their topics were "Campus Relationships" - Joe McReynolds, professor of library science at Harding; "Sexual Dysfunctions and How to Deal with Them" - Dr. Bill Flatt of Harding Graduate School in Memphis and "Equal, but Different: The Sexes' Changing Roles" - Avon Malone, assistant professor of Bible. Mike Ireland, minister at the West Side church in Searcy, and his wife, Debbie, spoke on "Fulfilling the Emotional Needs of the Opposite Sex."

Mary Shock, assistant professor of social work, said in reference to the student-organized workshop, "This is very good experience for the students. Educating the public is an important part of the social work profession."

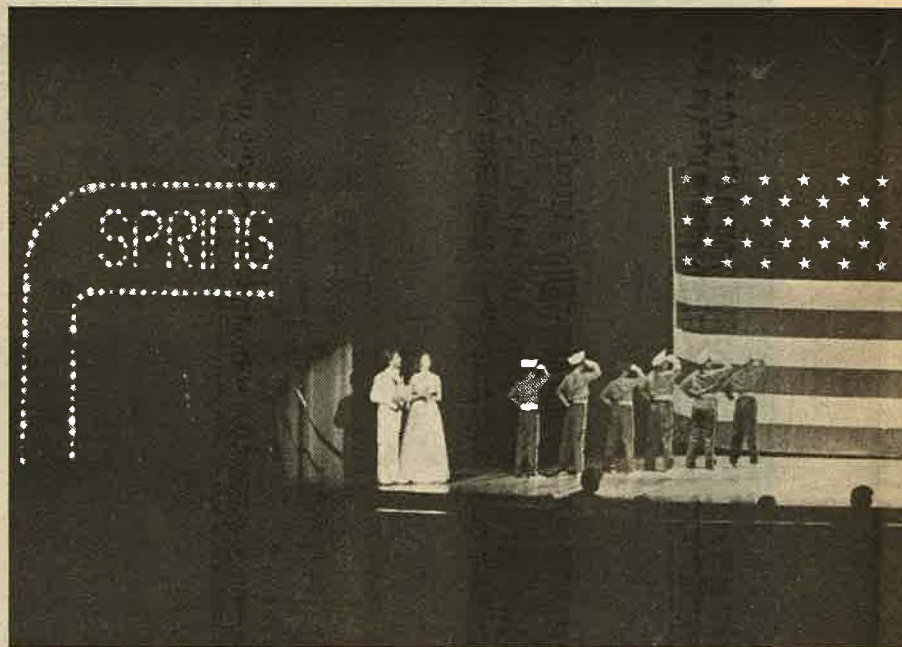

Youth Forum speaker Eddie Cloer, a Harding Bible teacher who expresses special interest in young Christians, maps out "Paths to Perfection" for his audience.

Harding Swing Finds Distant Home

by Alice Ann Kellar

So what's different about a snow and frost covered Harding swing? Nothing, except that close examination will reveal this one isn't on the Searcy campus. Rather, this one is on the campus of "Universal Harding," being located at Western Christian College in Weyburn, Saskatchewan in Canada. The photograph was taken in early February.

The swing, long recognized as a Searcy landmark, is not the only representative of Harding University at the Canadian school. At least four Harding alumni are instrumental in the progress of WCC.

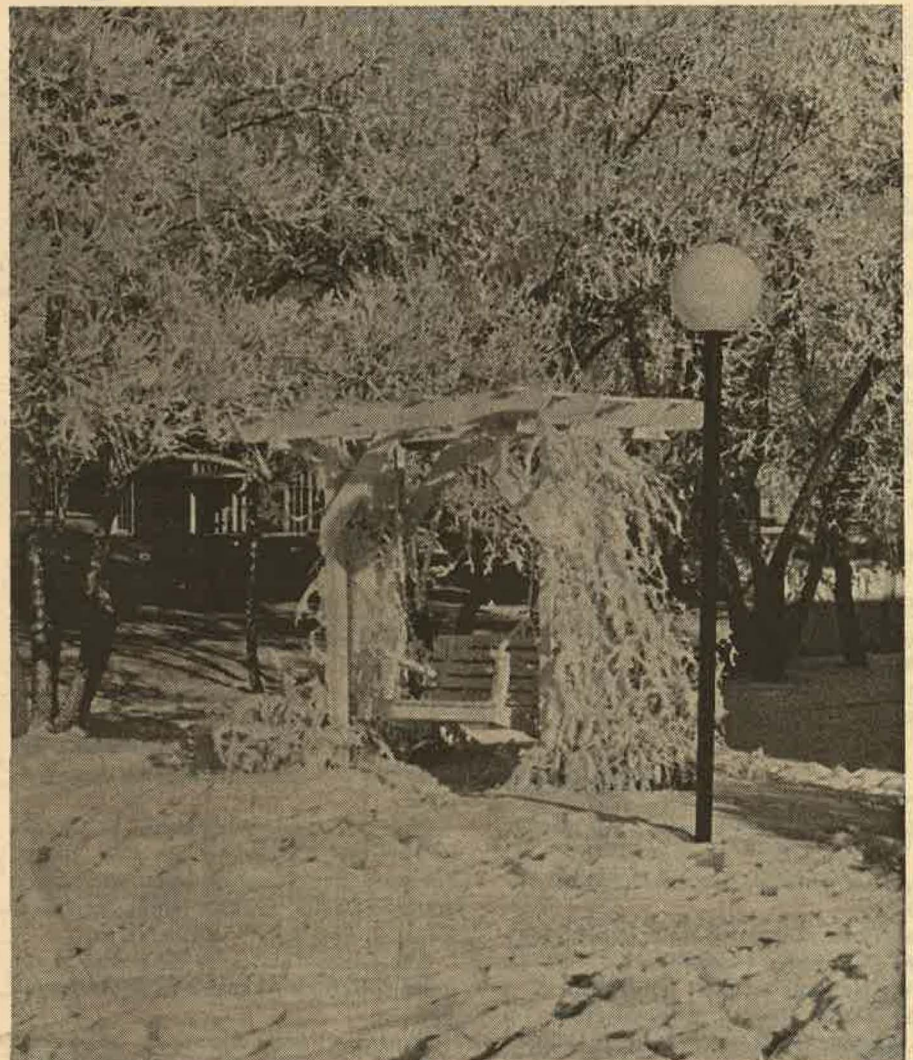

Max Mowrer (BA '50) is president of the college. He is married to the former Mildred Minor ('47). James Willett (BA '47) is assistant to the dean. His wife is the former Nina Mae Spears ('48).

Recently, at the services of the Weyburn Church of Christ, the administrators relived the days when they conducted services at Possum Grape near Searcy. As students, the duo took turns leading the singing and preaching a sermon. On March 8, 1981, Mowrer preached and Willett led singing in Weyburn, the pair reversing their roles for the evening service.

Since leaving Harding, Mowrer has earned a master's in education from Chapman College in California; Willett earned a master's in music education from West Texas State.

Detailed blueprints for constructing the swings are available for the asking from the Public Relations Office. Write Box 759, Harding University, for your copy. The patterns have been mailed to many parts of the United States already.

Wherever it is located, Harding's white framework swing creates a campus atmosphere. This swing, covered with "hoarfrost," is situated on the lawn of Western Christian College in Saskatchewan, Canada.

Harding Repeats as AIC Golf Champions

Harding clinched its second consecutive Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference golf championship and ran away with the NAIA District 17 playoff with an impressive two-day performance at the Cortez Country Club in Hot Springs May 2.

With a sweep of the top three places, Coach Phil Watkins' team used the medalist performance of Brent Taylor to outpoint second place Ouachita Baptist University and repeat as AIC champions.

The two days of competition counted as rounds five and six of AIC competition, and as the NAIA District 17 tournament. The double victory puts the Bisons in the NAIA national golf tournament in Huntsville, Texas June 2-6.

Taylor, a senior from Bartlesville, Okla., shot 76-74 to earn top individual honors for the tournament and a spot on the All-AIC and NAIA District 17 all-star team. Taylor also was an All-AIC selection in 1980.

"The boys may have peaked in the fifth round because we knew the pressure was on," said Watkins. "The last day we knew we could settle back and play our own game and be okay. They did a great job."

Bison sophomore Hubie Smith came back with a 73 round after shooting an 81 to post a 154 total for second place. Teammate David Padgett of North Little Rock was third with 74-81-155 and earned All-District honors along with Smith.

Rounding out the Bison scoring were senior Phil Garnett of Hereford, Texas with 81-85-166 and Collin LaFollette, a Carthage, Texas sophomore, at 74-86-170.

Taylor, Smith and Padgett were named to the 1981 All-AIC honor team.

In District 17 play, Harding recorded 312 on Friday and 313 Saturday for a total of 625. Ouachita was 334-305 for 639 and second place, followed by Henderson State (317-326-643) and Southern Arkansas (331-318-649).

Harding compiled 52 team points over the six rounds of conference play to dominate AIC play. Ouachita was second in overall AIC play with 46 points, followed by Southern Arkansas, 42, and Hendrix 34.5.

Other members of the championship team are Scott Fryer of North Little Rock; Jeff Hambrice of Richardson, Texas; John Hendricks of Shreveport, La.; Jeff Jones of Memphis; Alan Patton of Houston; Jack West of Jefferson City, Mo., and Randy Wooten of Turlock, Calif.

Randy Tribble

Tribble to Join Football Staff

Randy Tribble, head coach of Fort Worth (Texas) Christian High School has been named to the Harding football staff, according to Athletic Director Harry Olree.

A 1977 graduate of Harding, Tribble directed Fort Worth Christian to the state championship last fall in the Texas Independent Private Schools Conference. He has compiled a 19-5 career record since taking over the program in 1979.

"We are pleased and happy to be able to add someone with Randy's ability and background," Olree said. "He will be a real asset to our program."

Tribble, 26, was a standout defensive back for Harding and was selected to the All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference team in 1976. A native of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., Tribble was an all-conference performer for Choctawhatchee High School.

Tribble is married to the former Tina Reese of Arkadelphia, a 1977 Harding alumnus.

Tribble succeeds Tom Ed Gooden, who has assumed the head coaching position at Monticello (Ark.) High School.

Moody Earns AIC, All-District Honors

Harding catcher Mike Moody has been named to the All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference baseball team for the fourth time in his career, according to league commissioner Harry T. Hall.

A native of Wake Village, Texas, Moody has been a four-year standout for the Bison baseball team. In this, his senior year, the 6-1, 190 lb. Moody batted .343 to lead the Bison team for the season.

In addition to the All-AIC honors, Moody is a four-time selection on the NAIA All-District 17 team. In his career he batted .377 as a freshman, .348 as a sophomore, and .329 as a junior. His career average stands at .347 with 108 hits in 211 times at bat.

Moody is Harding's all-time home run leader with 17. During his junior season (1980) he hit 11 homeruns to set a single-season record.

Earning All-AIC honorable mention honors were infielders Steve Ashcraft of Crossett, Ark. and Marty Ninemire of Salem, Ark., outfielder Rieke Stewart of Des Arc, Ark., designated hitter Mark Kay of Tulsa, Okla. and pitchers Dave Payne of Cincinnati, Ohio and Stan Valentine of Searcy.

Ashcraft, Stewart and Payne also received honorable mention recognition on the NAIA District 17 honor team.

Bison Tracksters Dominate Meet for Conference Trophy

Sweeping away the late challengers with almost complete domination of the 5,000-meter run, Harding won the 1981 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Track and Field championship at Arkadelphia May 5.

Taking five of six places in the 5,000 and two places in the triple jump, Harding had its first track title since 1966 secure even before the running of the final event.

"We knew pretty well what we could do with three events left," said Bison Coach Ted Lloyd, who was also named AIC Coach of the Year. "We've waited 15 years for this, and it's mighty sweet."

Harding finished with 116.5 points to 112 for runner-up Ouachita Baptist University. Central Arkansas followed with 87, Southern Arkansas was fourth with 66, and Hendrix was fifth with 48.5.

Randy Jackson of Springdale, Ark., doubling back after a second place in the 1,500-meter run, won the 5,000 in 15:13.44. He led teammates John McAlister of Temple Hills, Md., John Sills of Eads, Tenn., Joe O'Connor of Helter Island, N. Y. and Richard Teixeira of Auburn, Ind. across the line to garner 30 points for the Bisons.

At almost the same time, Bison triple jumper Kevin Granberg of Tacoma, Wash. won his specialty with a leap of 47-10.75 and the Bisons owned their third track championship in school history. Previous Harding track championships were won in 1965 and 1966.

Among the Bison accomplishments was a new pole vault record by NAIA All-American Mike Lynch. The Bivins, Texas native vaulted 16-3 and teammate Mike Spurlock of Searcy placed fourth with a 14-6 jump.

In the 800-meter run, Tomy Sitton of clocked 3:55.66 for first place and the durable Jackson was second in 3:56.02.

Freshman NAIA Indoor All-American

Harding's victorious track team, along with coaches, faculty and boosters, gather around the conference trophy to celebrate the Bisons' first AIC track title since 1966. Harding scored 116.5 points to win the conference meet in Arkadelphia, Ark. May 2.

Dwayne Allen of Harrisburg, Pa. continued his success in the hurdles with 14.34 in the 110-meter event. Senior Bill Duff of Bloomington, Ind. was fourth in 14.77.

Harding's overall team depth accounted for valuable points in the drive to the title.

Keith Herring of Anderson, Ind. placed fifth in the high jump with a 6-7 leap and sixth place in the long jump with a 22-0 jump.

In the 800-meter run, Tomy Sitton of Atlanta, Ga. placed third in 1:55.01 and Stan Burnette of Commerce, Ga. was fourth in 1:55.09.

Danny Flatt of Memphis, Tenn. placed fifth in the shot put with a 46-4.5 throw.

In the relays, Harding placed third in the 4x 100-meter event with a 42.29 and sixth place in the 4 x 400-meter relay.

As a result of their performances in the conference meet, eight Bison athletes were named to the All-AIC track team. They were: Allen, Gene Billingsley of Lemoore, Calif., Burnette, Granberg, Jackson, Lynch, McAlister and Sills.

Harding Takes AIC, District Titles, Redding, Malone Win Doubles

With an undefeated match record in league play, Harding won the 1981 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference tennis title and went on to win the NAIA District 17 tournament to qualify for national competition in Kansas City, Mo.

The conference title is the Bisons' second under the direction of Coach David Elliott and fifth tennis title overall. Previous championships came in 1976 and in 1968, 1969 and 1970.

The Bisons' perfect 8-0 record against conference opponents proved a solid base as Harding was victorious in the district playoff. Sophomore David Redding of Nevada, Mo. and freshman Nat Malone of Searcy led the way with a championship in the district number one doubles. They defeated Jimmy Carr and Marty Weaver of John Brown University in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

In team play, Harding came away with 19 points to outdistance John Brown University, second with 15 points. Ouachita Baptist University was a distant third with nine points.

Bison junior Tom Tabor of Tucker, Ga.

and freshman Richard Branam of Bentonville, Ark. won district division singles titles in positions five and six, respectively. Tabor defeated Keith Chance of Ouachita 7-5, 6-2. Branam downed Larry Briley of Central Arkansas 6-2, 6-3.

Two other Bison athletes were runners-up in their divisions. In position three, Eric Dawkins of Ketchikan, Alaska placed second as Terry King of John Brown was the winner with 6-0, 6-0. In position four competition, Malone fell to Dale Tommey of Ouachita by 6-7, 3-6.

In doubles play, the Redding-Malone victory was the Bison highlight of the day. The win means the Bison pair will be on the 1981 All-NAIA District 17 team.

The combo of Tabor-Branam was outpointed by Billy Nipper and Todd Haynes of UCA, losing 3-6, 6-1, 6-7. Dawkins and Rex Fowler of West Plains, Mo. finished as runners-up in division two doubles, dropping the final match 5-7, 2-6 to Billy Harte and Terry King of John Brown University.

The Harding team will compete in the NAIA national tournament in Kansas City.

Seven Bison Cheerleaders Named, Two to be Added at Orientation

Seven cheerleaders have been selected to support Bison teams during the 1981-82 seasons, according to Kathryn Campbell, associated professor of physical education, who will assume sponsorship of the cheerleaders this year.

Serving as co-captains will be Joy Gregg, a sophomore elementary education major from Columbia, Ohio, and Cindy Lawyer, a sophomore secretarial science major from Fort Gibson, Okla.

Returning to the squad are Lindi Williams, a sophomore elementary education major from Monroe, La., and Lisa Wilson, a freshman from North Little Rock.

First-year cheerleaders will be Sandy McKee, a sophomore business education major from Newport, Ark.; Andrea Bowen, a freshman from Little Rock, and Pam Torrey, a freshman business management major from Sarasota, Fla.

Rounding out the squad will be two incoming freshmen, who will be selected during the second early orientation session this summer.

The cheerleaders will attend a camp for one week in August, giving them an opportunity to learn more about cheering and to grow accustomed to working together. In addition, the girls will arrive on campus for scheduled practices one week before the fall semester begins. Throughout the football and basketball seasons, they will practice twice each week, said Mrs. Campbell.

"The girls are all energetic as well as beautiful," she said, "and I'm looking forward to working with them and getting to know them."

Summer Skill Camps Offered for Athletes

Summer sports camps will be offered at Harding for boys, grades 7-12, interested in running, track, football and basketball.

The camps offer intensive instruction in fundamentals and provide each participant with the opportunity to improve his ability, according to Coach Wilt Martin, director of the camps. Instruction is given in every phase of the sport and each boy receives individual attention. In addition to working on skills, video tapes, films and other teaching techniques are used.

Camp dates are: junior high basketball, July 12-17; senior high basketball, July 19-24; junior high football, July 19-24; senior high football, July 26-31; and running and track, July 26-31.

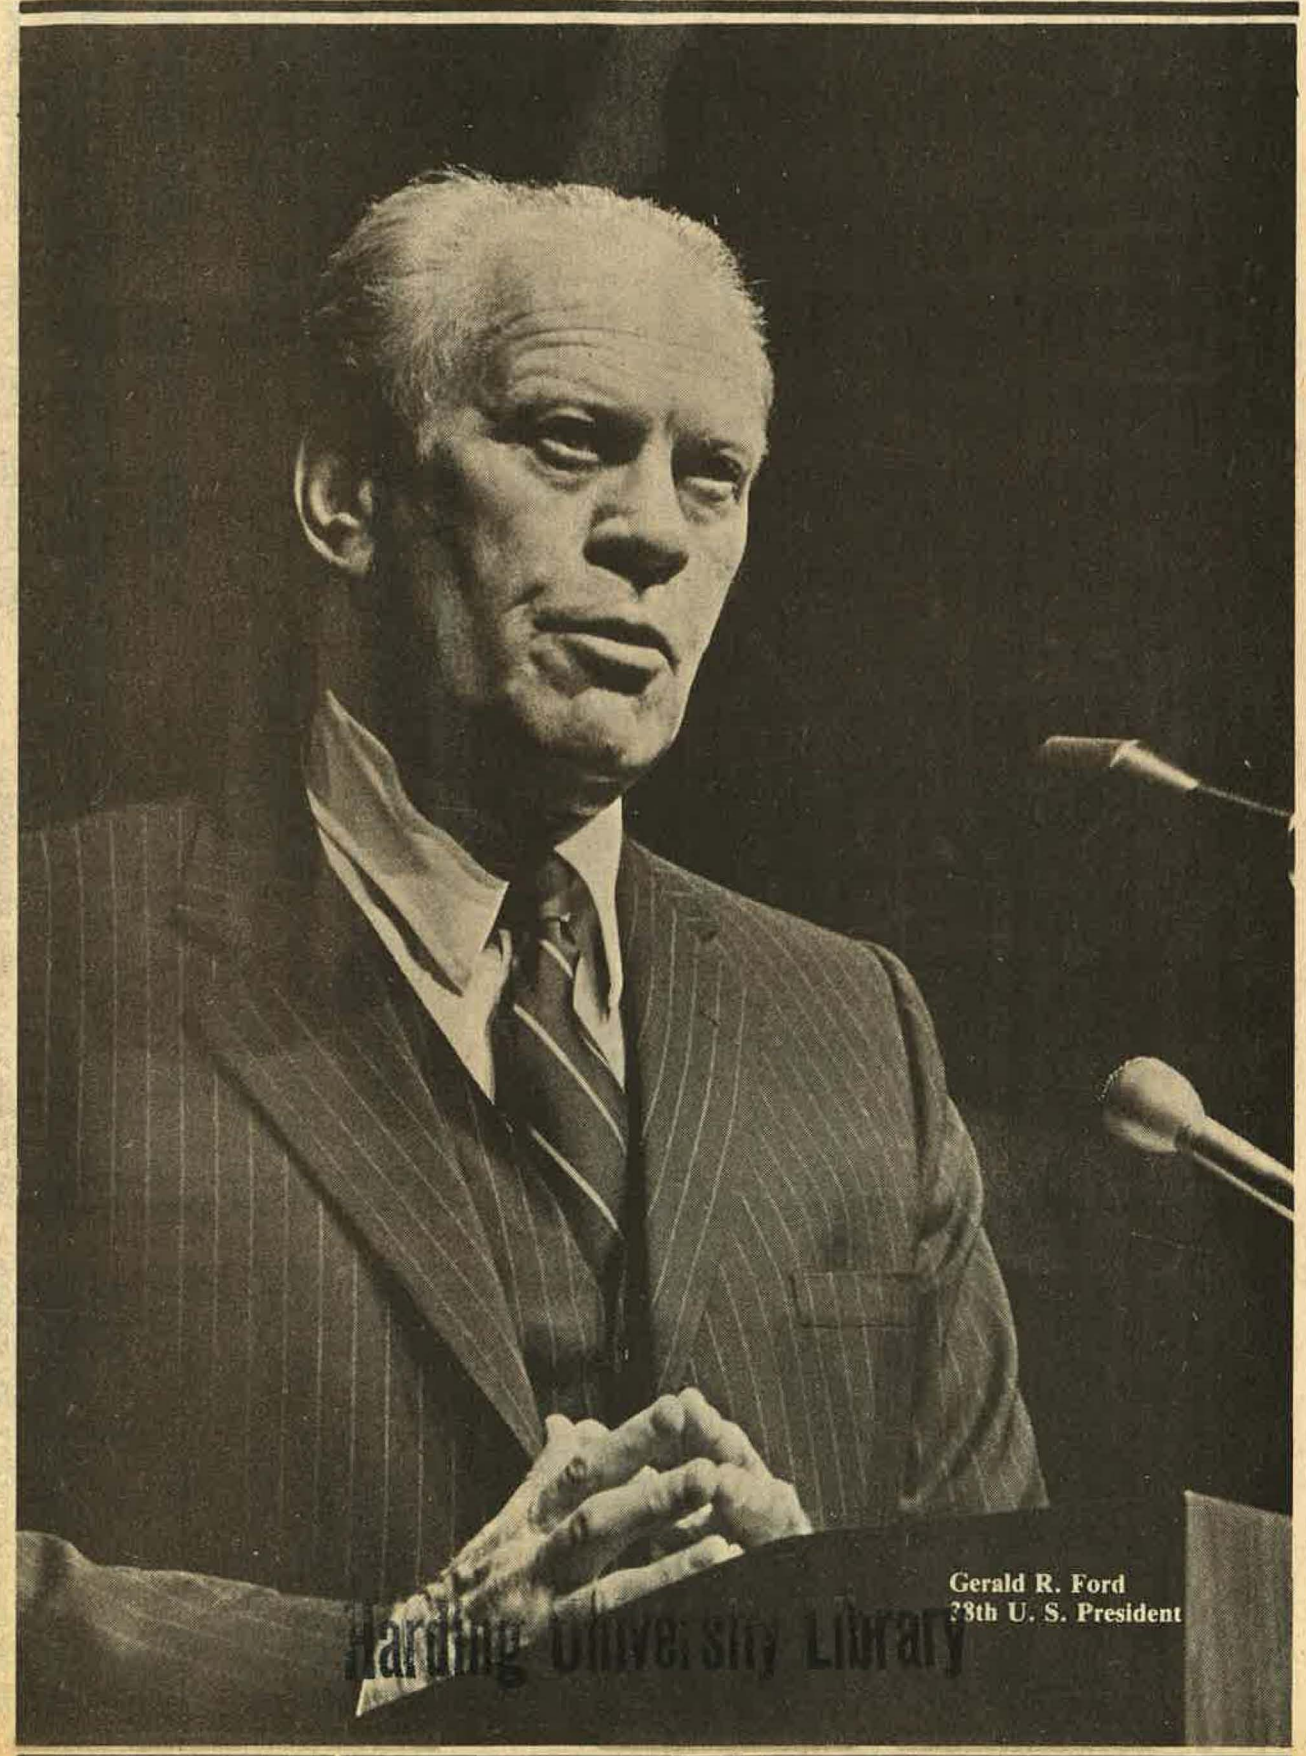

Instruction will take place on the Harding campus. The modern physical education-athletic complex provides a pro turf floor with two regulation size cross courts, an indoor track, swimming pool, gymnastics area, handball courts and weight room.

For more information, write Harding University Sports Camps, Box 765, Station A, Searcy, Ark. 72143.
