Distinguished Teachers Honored, 357 Graduate

Dr. Josephine Cleveland, professor of English, Dr. Dorothy Wright, professor of French, and John T. McKinney, assistant professor of Bible and Biblical languages, received $1,000 cash awards as Distinguished Teachers for 1981 during Harding University's commencement ceremonies May 10, when 357 graduates received diplomas at Benson Auditorium.

Cleveland also received the Distinguished Teacher Award in 1972 and Wright in 1973. It was the first such honor for McKinney.

Cleveland joined the faculty in 1966 after receiving the master's degree from Michigan State. She completed the doctorate at the University of Mississippi in 1965.

Wright, whose husband, Winfred, is chairman of the department of modern foreign languages, holds the doctorate from the University of Toulouse in France. The Wrights joined the faculty in 1968.

McKinney, who holds the master's from Abilene Christian University, is a former missionary in Switzerland who joined the faculty in 1974.

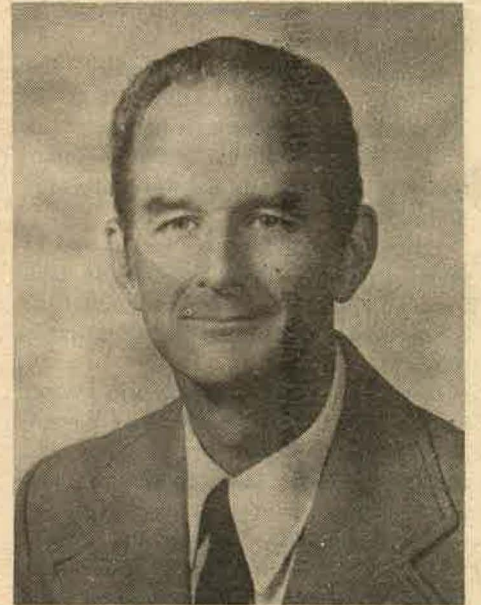

Texas Senator Ed Howard of Texarkana spoke to the graduates. Harding President Clifton L. Ganus Jr. conferred the degrees, including the bachelor of arts (174), bachelor of science (37), bachelor of business administration (82), bachelor of science in nursing (40), bachelor of social work (12), master of education (8) and associate of arts in secretarial science (4).

Other awards were made during the afternoon, with Jon Alan Sherrod of Belle Meade, N.J. receiving the Ray Kinslow Award as outstanding science student. He was presented a plaque and $100.

Walter R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Carroll Smith of Searcy, received the Charles R. Pitner Math Award, a plaque and $100.

Alpha Chi honor medals were presented to six students who achieved 4.0 grade point averages, including Sherrod, Darryl Bradley of Cincinnati, Ohio, Luanne Bukowich of Lawrence, Kan., Bill Hefley Jr., of Little Rock, Damon James of Ellington, Mo. and Jennifer Robison of Moundsville, W.Va.

The Duane Priest Memorial Scholarship Award, made to a premedical student, was given to Jeffrey McKinzie of Chester, Va.

Richard Teixeira of Auburn, Ind. received a gold watch with the M.E. Berryhill outstanding senior athlete award. For the highest grade point average of the year, $100 checks were presented to Michael Ishmael of Tulsa, Okla. and Catherine Davis of Morrilton, Ark. The awards were made by the Ganus family.

Presented for the first time was the Russell L. Simmons memorial award, a journalism scholarship. Recipients were Steve Awtry of St. Louis and James Brandon Bradley of Memphis.

The Mort Utley Awards were made to Debbie Ann Hooten of Amarillo, Texas and Roy Kirkland of Ward, Ark.

AIC commissioner Harry T. Hall presented the University with the All-Sports Award for highest number of points received from the eight competitive intercollegiate sports. Hall also presented to Ganus the conference championship trophies in cross country, track, golf and tennis.

Record Budget Adopted for Fiscal '81-'82

A record budget of $18,516,034 has been approved by the Harding University Board of Trustees for the 1981-82 fiscal year, according to President Clifton L. Ganus Jr.

The total represents a $2,058,569 increase over the 1980-81 budget and covers the Searcy undergraduate and Academy programs and the Graduate School of Religion in Memphis.

Of the total, $8.2 million is represented by financial aid which will be available to the more than 3,000 students expected this fall. The funds include federal, state and institutional plans in the forms of grants, loans, scholarships and work programs.

"At this time we are not sure as to what the government program will actually be, especially in the area of Guaranteed Student Loans," Lott R. Tucker, vice president for finance, said. "Be we believe that the necessary financial aid will be available to complete the programs of our returning students and to provide for those who will be entering Harding for the first time.

Tucker indicated Harding-sponsored scholarship funds available would exceed $900,000 for the coming year. These funds cover academic, athletic, departmental, endowed, missionary, orphan and foreign scholarships.

Cost increases in tuition, fees and room and board will be slightly more than 12 percent, or approximately $245 per student per semester.

Ganus announced good progress is being made on the construction of the J. E. Mabee Business Center since the official groundbreaking March 20.

In addition, Tucker said approximately $80,000 of energy conservation work is being done in the form of repiping and insulating pipes in the campus' steam tunnels.

"Half of the campus was reworked last year and we are completing the project this summer with the assistance of a matching grant from the Department of Energy," he said.

Harding continues to expand its energy-saving use of its JC80 computer program to offset rapidly-rising utility costs. "The computer program has paid for itself and more in savings," Tucker said. "We are now investigating ways to meet the energy needs, especially during peak periods of power usage. We have made significant advancement in the energy area."

58th Annual Bible Lectureship To Focus on Love October 14-17

The 58th Annual Harding University Bible Lectureship has been scheduled for Oct. 14-17 and will focus on the theme "Love One Another."

Keynote lectures will include "The Value of Love" - Hugo McCord of Oklahoma City, Okla.; "The Virtues of Love" - Jimmy Allen of Searcy and "The Victory of Love" - Batsell Barrett Baxter of Nashville, Tenn.

Jimmy Adcox of Jonesboro, Ark. will speak during Thursday's chapel period on "Love and Sex." Friday's chapel will feature Joe Glenn of Little Rock, who will speak on "Love and Discipline."

The Lectureship program will begin on Wednesday evening with a concert by the Harding University Chorale, under the direction of Cliff Ganus III. The following three days will hold a full schedule of lectures, classes and special events for Lectureship guests.

Fifteen Bible teachers and preachers from Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana will present day lectures dealing with love in the home, in the church and in society. An additional 11 guest speakers will teach daily classes on topics ranging from Bible schools to Christian homes.

Special events scheduled during the week will include a coffee hosted for visiting women by the Associated Women for Harding, the 20th Century Christian Dinner, the Dr. Jack P. Lewis Tour Reunion Dinner and the Preachers, Elders and Deacons Dinner. Musical programs will be presented by the Harding Academy Chorus, under the direction of Craig Jones, and by the A Cappella Chorus, which is directed by Dr. Kenneth Davis. A guest appearance will be made by the Joyful Noise Singers, a Little Rock group composed of Harding alumni.

A display area will be set up in the American Heritage lobby. Space will be available for both commercial and non-commercial exhibits, including the latest church-related publications. Display space may be reserved through Neale Pryor before Oct. 1.

Further information about the Lectureship may be obtained by writing Neale T. Pryor, Lectureship Director, Box 767, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Harding to Host World Missions Program

More than 1,000 visitors are expected on campus when Harding hosts the 22nd Annual World Missions Workshop Oct. 23-25, as missionaries from virtually every continent share presentations in keeping with the weekend theme "Where in the World."

"The workshop is primarily for young people from our Christian colleges, Bible Chairs and preacher training schools," said Van Tate, assistant professor of sociology. The former missionary is chairman of the African missionary delegation which will participate in the workshop and is assisting with workshop arrangements while co-directors Don Shackelford and Carl Mitchell, both of Harding's Bible department, are abroad with student campaign groups.

The Missions Workshop is designed to encourage young Christians to participate in world evangelism and to help them decide where they would like to serve. The program will feature multi-media presentations on various mission fields and panel discussions on mission work.

Special classes will also be taught during the workshop, including "Medical Missions" - Henry Farrar of Searcy; "Mass Media Evangelism" - Phillip Slate of Memphis, Tenn.; "Anthropology and Cross-Cultural Communications" - Hilton Merritt of Kenya, Africa; "Leadership Training" - Ed Matthews of Abilene, Texas; "Team Missions" - Howard Norton of Oklahoma City; "Spiritual Life of the Missionary Family" - Bill Richardson of Jay, Okla.; "Women Missionaries" - Joyce Hardin of Lubbock, Texas, and "Vocational Missionaries" - Carl Mitchell of Searcy.

Further information is available from Bible Office, Box 939, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Rowan Named Assistant To Finance Administrator

Byron (Buddy) Rowan has been named assistant to the vice president for finance at Harding University.

Rowan's appointment, effective immediately, was announced by Lott R. Tucker, Jr., vice president for finance.

Since 1967 Rowan has served as comptroller of the University and will continue in that capacity.

"He has served effectively for the past 14 years," President Clifton L. Ganus, Jr. said, "and we appreciate his leadership and the contributions he has made to the University program."

In his new position Rowan will oversee business office activities including payroll, accounting, budget (preparation and control), student loan collections, and purchasing as well as general supervision of the personnel of the financial aid office.

Rowan joined Harding in 1967 after having served as business manager at Ohio Valley College in Parkersburg, W.Va. for one year. From 1963-66 he was an auditor for the U.S. Civil Service.

He is a 1959 graduate of Abilene Christian University (Texas) and served from 1960-63 in the U.S. Army.

A native of Paris, Texas, the 43-year-old Rowan is a member of the Searcy Chamber of Commerce and the Arkansas and National Associations of College and University Business Officers. He has attended the College Business Management

Buddy Rowan

Institute at the University of Kentucky.

Rowan is married to the former Shirley Williams of Elizabethton, Tenn. and the couple has two children.

Alumni Aid in Enlisting Teachers For African Educational Mission

Veteran missionaries Patti and Rees Bryant, both 1952 Harding graduates, have announced plans to return to the African mission field in December as a part of a new educational program of the Plateau State in Central Africa.

Currently residing in Searcy in full time work with the African Christian Hospitals Foundation, the Bryants are recruiting other Christian teachers for the mission work.

C. D. Damen, chairman of Teacher Service Commission of the Plateau State in Nigeria, contacted Bryant recently, advising of the effort to find 81 teachers of religious knowledge (Bible), as well as teachers in other academic disciplines in the secondary schools. The Plateau State government will provide round trip tickets to Nigeria plus a salary for beginning teachers of $6,300. Minimum contracts are for two years.

"We think this is an excellent opportunity for teachers to do missionary work," Bryant said. He further explained, "Mr. Damen wants Americans who have at least a B.A. in Bible. Those who serve will be teaching Bible to hundreds of eager young Nigerians on a day-to-day basis. Relationships will form with their students. Then the teachers will be able to go out and visit the families and the villages from which the students come and plant churches among various ethnic groups."

Bryant met with the chairman and other Nigerian ministers of education in Boston to discuss the proposal. He has developed some material with more detailed information and questions for interested persons. Several couples in Searcy are making plans to join the group. Bryant has application forms available, also. Further information may be obtained from him at 40 Dalewood, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

HGSR Awards Degrees to 46

Forty-six degrees were awarded during commencement exercises at the Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis May 16. It was the school's 23rd graduating class since the founding of the Memphis campus in 1958.

Degrees awarded during the ceremony included the master of theology (22), the master of arts in religion (19) and the master of arts (4). Carl Mills, local minister for the West Dyersburg (Tenn.) Church of Christ, received the doctor of ministry degree. The class of 1981 is among 705 HGSR alumni.

Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter, commencement speaker, challenged the graduates to become dedicated servants. Class members have plans to move to 18 states and at least two foreign countries, where they will serve as local preachers (19), campus ministers (5), Christian college teachers (4), counselors (4) and missionaries (3). Four graduates will pursue doctorates.

Students Place in National Poetry Contest

Two Harding students, Tony Bono of Alton, Ill. and Clay Wilkerson of North Little Rock, recently won second place in poetry in the Conference on Christianity in Literature (CCL) national contest.

The pair was awarded $30 worth of books, and their winning poem is to be published in Eerdman's poetry section. CCL contest director wrote to Bono and Wilkerson of their accomplishment, "This speaks well both of your commitment to the craft of writing and to the expression of your Christian convictions."

Bono, a junior journalism major, and Wilkerson, a senior religious education major, have been writing poetry together since they became roommates a year ago. Each of their works deals with some aspect of Christianity.

"We try to keep our poems short and make one meaningful statement," Bono said.

Patty Barrett

Barrett to Serve As Acting Dean

Patty Barrett, formerly assistant director of housing, has been named acting dean of women, according to President Clifton L. Ganus Jr.

"We're happy to have Patty to serve as acting dean of women in the absence of Maribeth Downing. She has done an excellent job for Harding in the area of housing," Ganus said.

"Since Patty has been working with our young people in student housing, she comes to the position of acting dean with some experience and knowledge in dealing with our young ladies, and we know she will do a fine job."

As acting dean, Mrs. Barrett will take responsibility for the discipline of Harding coeds and will work closely with the women's dormitory managers, also counseling and supervising the resident assistants, according to Dr. Ted Altman, vice president for student affairs.

Mrs. Barrett, a native of Elgin, Ill., joined the Harding staff in 1976 and has continued her education at Harding, receiving the B.A. degree May 10. She is the mother of two teen-aged daughters.

Miss Downing, during a leave of 15 months, will be working toward the doctorate degree in family relations at the University of Nebraska.

Moore to Be Counseling Director

An associate professor of psychology, Moore has served as assistant director of counseling since 1975. He succeeds Dr. Jack Thomas, who will continue as chairman of the psychology department.

Moore will oversee the University's Counseling Center and direct the seven-member staff in the counseling of students. Specific areas of student service include personal, academic, vocational and pre-marital counseling.

"We are very fortunate to have a man on our staff with Dr. Moore's credentials," said Dr. Ted Altman, vice president for student affairs. "His educational experience and training are especially suited to meet our needs."

Moore, 38, is a native of Corning, Ark. and is a 1969 alumnus of Harding. He received the M.A.T. degree in 1970 and joined the faculty in 1971. He pursued doctoral studies at the University of Nebraska - Lincoln and was awarded the Ph.D. degree in 1979. His dissertation was on "Divorce - A Study of Coping Behaviors and their Relatedness to Religiosity, Loneliness and Well Being."

Moore is a licensed professional counselor in Arkansas and has been granted clinical status with the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy. He also holds membership in the Arkansas Psychology Association and the National Council on Family Relationships.

Moore is married to the former Sue Jackson, also of Corning, and they are the parents of two children, Michael and Justin.

Summer Enrollment Peaks, Special Classes Offered

Summer enrollment at Harding has reached a record high this year. A total of 550 students have registered for classes during the first summer session, according to Virgil Beckett, registrar.

During the May intersession, 513 students completed two-week short-courses, earning a total of 1,605 credit hours. That enrollment exceeds last year's figure, 370, by nearly 13 percent.

Regular 1980 summer sessions accommodated a total of 989 students, 481 during the first session and 508 during the second. Pre-registration figures indicate that the trend toward a larger second-session enrollment will continue this year, Beckett said.

"It certainly is gratifying to see so many students participating in the summer sessions," said Dr. Jimmy Carr, director of the summer session. "We're constantly looking for innovative ways to upgrade our summer programs in order to best meet our students' needs. It's good that they're taking advantage of the opportunity for summer study."

The second summer session, scheduled to begin July 13, will offer nearly 100 different courses in various fields. Special classes will include "Principles of Casework with Children," which will begin with a Children in Crisis Seminar for teachers, social workers, day care workers and parents. The eight-day course may be taken for three hours of graduate or undergraduate credit in social work. A "Kindergarten Methods and Materials" class will be conducted July 13-29. Also a three-hour course, it will consist of objectives, materials and methods of kindergarten teaching.

Further information about summer programs is available from Dr. Jimmy Carr, Director of Summer Session, Box 1224, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Bison Paper Is All-American

Harding's student newspaper, the Bison, has received an All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press for the fall semester issues, achieving four marks of distinction for the paper.

The weekly publication by the student staff was edited by Beth Parker, a senior English and journalism major from Monroe, Ga. and Sue Baj, a senior journalism major from Agawam, Mass.

The paper was cited for excellence in the categories of "Coverage and Content," "Writing and Editing," "Design and Photography," "Art" and "Graphics."

The Bison also received first place in the general excellence competition of the Arkansas College Publications Association earlier this spring. Several staff members received individual honors, including senior Jeff Nixon of Morrilton, Ark., junior Gwen Crownover of North Little Rock, junior Van Rickard of Montgomery, Ala., junior Laura Brown of Bridgeport, Ohio and junior Sheila Choate of Winona, Miss.

Dell Joins Harding Admissions Staff

Chris Dell has joined the Harding University admissions staff as admissions counselor.

"We're delighted to have Chris serve on our admissions team," said Harding President Clifton L. Ganus Jr. "He has been a fine student and he relates well with Harding's staff and students. We feel that, with his dedication and drive, he will do a good job in helping young people with their

Mrs. James Cone of Little Rock presents a limited edition print of James Bama's "Portrait of a Sioux" to Stan Green, director of public relations, for Harding's permanent art collection.

Gift Presentations Launch Program To Expand Harding Art Collection

Two limited edition prints have been donated to Harding University by Mrs. James Cone of Little Rock to begin a new program to benefit the fine arts.

The prints are "Portrait of a Sioux" by James Bama and "Run for the River" by Russ Vickers. Both are signed and numbered prints.

The program is designed for the art department to acquire original and limited edition art to expand its permanent collection.

"The gift of these limited edition prints is extremely generous and timely," chairman Don Robinson said. "It is our hope they will be the beginning of an outstanding collection, both in quality and in value."

Mrs. Cone made the presentation of the art pieces to Stan Green, director of public relations at the University, at the meeting of the Little Rock chapter of the Associated Women for Harding, May 21.

decision to come to Harding and in working with them while they are here."

Dell will be responsible for the recruitment of students in the states of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota and Montana, according to Admissions Director Durward McGaha. He will also have some responsibility in working with the Time of Day.

Benson Receives Honor Medal At Horatio Alger Awards Dinner

Culminating more than 40 years of promoting free enterprise and Christian education, Dr. George S. Benson was presented an honor medal as one of the 19 inductees in the Horatio Alger Association of Distinguished Americans program.

The 34th annual Horatio Alger Awards Dinner was held in Hershey, Pa., May 15.

ON THE COVER — Surrounded by delegates to the Youth Citizenship Seminar, Sergeant Steven Kirtley of Little Rock signs autographs and answers questions about his experiences as an Iranian hostage. Kirtley was one of 52 Americans held captive for 444 days after the takeover of the U. S. Embassy in Tehran November 4, 1979.

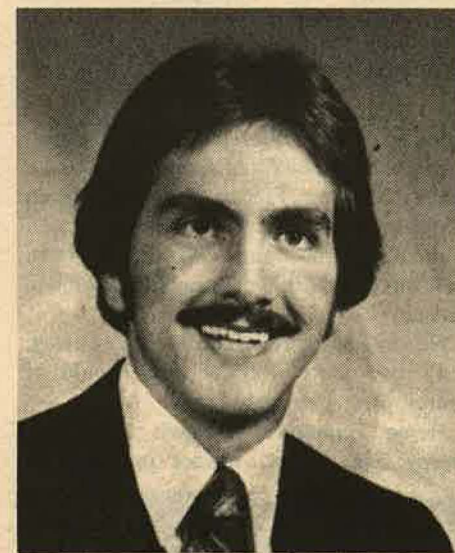

Benson, president of the National Education Program and president emeritus of Harding University, was presented the Alger Medal by Woodrow W. Clements, chairman and chief executive officer of Dr. Pepper Company.

The Horatio Alger Award was conceived in 1947 by Dr. Kenneth V. Beebe of the American Schools and Colleges Association to encourage young people to realize that success in the country can be achieved by any man or woman.

In his acceptance, the 83 year old Benson said, "Today I am striving to preserve in the hearts of our American youth a genuine faith in the fundamental principles upon which America was built and which brought her to first place among the countries of the world. I believe these fundamental principles to be: faith in God, faith in Constitutional government and faith in private enterprise."

In addition to the awards ceremony, Dr. Benson participated in a program on free enterprise for more than 1,000 Hershey high school students and at a seminar for more than 300 teachers.

It was also announced that Dr. Benson would be included in the Horatio Alger Memorial Program which means his name will be engraved on a memorial plaque housed in the headquarter offices. A special continuing Horatio Alger Library Section will be made available in his honor to the Harding University Library.

Chris Dell

"Chris' vast experience and talent in music will be a great asset to Harding's Time of Day program, and his past accomplishments should be very beneficial in his recruitment efforts for Harding University," McGaha said. "We feel very fortunate to acquire the services of a person of Chris' caliber."

Dell, a native of Freeport, Ill., will receive the B.A. degree from Harding in August, with a major in psychology and minors in Bible and music.

As an undergraduate, Dell has been active in dramatics and choral groups, also performing as Spring Sing host during his junior and senior years. Consistently named to the Dean's List, he is a member of Alpha Chi honor society and has been listed among "Who's Who."

Managers Selected

For KHCA Radio

An experienced staff of students will direct campus radio station KHCA beginning in the fall, with all positions being filled by returnees from the current staff, faculty advisor Billy G. Brant has announced.

Bryan Black of Valdosta, Ga., will assume the duties of station manager. Tom Dockery of Fayetteville, Ark., will be program director and Mike Childs of Escondido, Calif., will serve as sales manager.

Other student directors will be Brent Childress of Broken Arrow, Okla., news director; Julie Coble of Wanamaker, Ind., music director, and Rick Alexander, Louisville, Ky., production department head.

KHCA will resume operation on the first day of fall semester classes, Aug. 27.

Social Work Society Taps Honor Students

Three Harding social work majors, Madonna Pratt of Judsonia, Ark., Susan Quillen of Dover, Del. and Marlene Richards of Florence, Ala., were inducted into the Beta Lambda chapter of Alpha Delta Mu national social work honor society, during the spring semester.

The national organization recognizes academic achievements, leadership qualities and potential of students in the field of social work. Mary Shock and Charles Joiner, both of the Harding social work faculty, are sponsors of the group.

The Harding chapter was founded this year. Charter officers are Chris Jones of Middletown, Ohio, president; Al Durgin of Augusta, Maine, vice president; Ann Pearson of Melbourne, Ark., secretary, and Mary Ann Ingram of Jasper, Ala., treasurer.

Three Speakers Receive Awards In Thornton Speech Competition

Three Harding University students have received cash awards in the R. H. Thornton

Sr. Speech Competition on Christian Communication. Introduced this year by the family and friends of the late Arkansas educator and school administrator, the contest will be an annual event for Harding students.

Jonathan I. Cloud, a senior Bible major from Winston-Salem, N.C., received $150 as the winner for a speech entitled "Christian Communication in a Post Christian Society." Second place and $100 was presented to Joy Hogge, a junior psychology major from Ft. Collins, Colo., and third place and $50 went to Greg York, a senior Bible major from Louisville, Ky.

The contest was started as a memorial to Thornton, retired supervisor of schools in Grant County (Ark.), who died in 1979. His entire family has been long involved in education. Mrs. Thornton, who resides in Sheridan, Ark., is a retired mathematics teacher at Sheridan High School. Thornton's daughter, Betty Ulrey, is a member of the English faculty at Harding, and her husband, Evan, is chairman of Harding's speech department. R. H. Thornton Jr., a past chairman of Harding's President's Development Council, is president of Arkansas State University in Jonesboro.

Kindergarten Program To Start at Academy

Beginning in the fall, Harding Academy will operate a kindergarten and day care program for five-year-olds at the Academy's new facilities.

The program, available for full or half-day sessions, will be accredited by the Arkansas Department of Education with emphasis on academic development, Academy Superintendent Ed Higginbotham said.

Harding has operated a morning kindergarten in recent years as a part of the University's department of home economics. The department will no longer sponsor the kindergarten, but will continue to operate the child development lab in the Olen Hendrix building.

Higginbotham said that the kindergarten will offer concentrated training in reading, with a strong emphasis on phonics, and mathematics. Other classes will include science, social studies, music, art, physical education and environmental education. A daily Bible class will be held for all participants in the program.

Harding's Alumni Office Seeks Out Lost Alumni

by David Crouch
Director of Alumni Relations

The most attractive and most informative newsletters and bulletins are almost totally worthless if they fail to reach the persons for whom they are intended. In fact, correct addresses are essential to any alumni program.

Unfortunately, many alumni never realize how important a correct address can be. Consequently many alumni unknowingly end up on our "lost alumni" list. For anyone working in the alumni field, finding the "lost" alumnus is one of the greatest challenges.

In the Harding Alumni Office a secretary and two student workers spend almost all of their time trying to maintain accurate records on the 20,000 Harding alumni. Because of their efforts, we have accurate mailing addresses on 16,777 of these alumni.

Our search begins as soon as the first piece of mail is returned by the Post Office. Since it costs money to have undeliverable mail returned from the Post Office and since we do not want additional pieces of mail going to the wrong address, the alumnus' name is immediately removed from the active mailing list and the task of finding that individual begins.

Tracers (form postcards) are used and sent by first class mail. The first tracer goes to the parents' address, which is in the alumnus' master computer file.

About 30 per cent of the tracers are returned and contain the new addresses of the missing alumnus. Often these tracers will even contain additional information about the alumnus.

Other tracers are returned to us as undeliverable and some are not returned at all. The task of finding these "lost" alumni then becomes a bit more difficult. We next check the alumnus' personal file. Each Harding alumnus has a personal file in addition to the computerized information that is maintained. The file includes clippings from newspapers on weddings, births and even job promotions. It also contains questionnaires that have been completed by the alumnus.

From this file we find the individual to whom the next tracer will be sent. Often this is another relative or possibly a former roommate, or a member of the same social club, or in some cases just a close personal friend.

If this second tracer is returned as undeliverable or is not returned to us, then we resort to our last means of locating the "lost" alumnus. We use the printed word in tracing lost alumni. Periodically the Harding Bulletin publishes a list of "lost alumni," urging readers to contact the Alumni Office if they know of a correct address for any of the individuals.

Last year we made 6,929 address changes. That is corrections on approximately 36 per cent of our mailing list. Less than half of those address changes resulted from alumni informing us of the change. Because of the volume of address changes, our list is obviously never completely up-to-date, but this does not mean that we ever give up trying to keep our list of lost alumni down to an absolute minimum. We strive for the highest accuracy possible at all times.

The personnel of the Alumni Office have a vital interest in the aims of Harding and in the alumni as individuals. The record-keeping process itself demands attention to detail. It cannot be over emphasized that an accurate list of addresses just doesn't happen. It is the result of much hard work and patience by a very dedicated staff.

Obviously, you are not a missing alumnus — because you received this Harding Bulletin. Hopefully this explanation of how we search for lost alumni will impress upon you the importance of letting us know the next time you move. By doing so, you will help us to maintain an accurate mailing list and keep your name off the missing list. We don't like to have any vanishing alumni.

Committee Accepting Nominations For 1981 Distinguished Alumnus

Nominations for the 1981 Distinguished Alumnus Award have been requested by the Harding Alumni Association Executive Committee. Nominations must be submitted by September 1, 1981.

The Distinguished Alumnus will be honored during Homecoming '81 festivities Oct. 30-31. The Executive Committee of the Association will select the honoree from submitted nominations.

Last Nov. 7, Jimmy Allen was honored as the 1980 Distinguished Alumnus. Allen, associate professor of Bible at Harding and a gospel preacher, has spoken in more than half the states and in many foreign countries during the last 30 years.

Four additional annual awards were introduced last year, honoring alumni from various divisions of the University, including the Schools of Business and Education, the College of Arts and Sciences and the Department of Bible and Religion. Honorees will be nominated by the respective heads of each division, but nominee suggestions will be welcomed.

All candidates must meet the following qualifications: (1) Must be an active supporter of Harding (2) Life must be consistent with the ideals of Harding (3) Must have achieved a degree of excellence and recognition in his or her chosen field of activity and (4) Must strive to advance academically and spiritually to serve God.

Detailed information about the nominee should be included with each nomination and should be mailed to Harding Alumni Association, Box 768, Harding University, Searcy, Ark. 72143. Suggestions for division honorees should be addressed to Dr. David Burks, dean of the School of Business; Dr. Bobby Coker, dean of the School of Education; Dr. J. E. Pryor, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, or Dr. Jerry Jones, chairman of the Bible department.

NOTICE TO ALUMNI

At the annual business meeting of the Harding University Alumni Association during Alumni Chapel on October 31, 1981, the officers of the Association and the executive committee of the Association will present proposed amendments to the Association's constitution. At that time the proposed amendments will be distributed for the consideration of all attending the business meeting. The proposed amendments will then be voted upon. A majority vote of those present will be necessary to approve the amendments.

Alumnus 'Hooked' on Surprise Career

by Linda Hilburn

Six years ago Jerome Browning planned to go to dental school. Today he occupies the school superintendent's office at Pangburn.

Never intending to be an educator, Browning was asked to teach science at Pangburn in 1974. Browning said he agreed to take the job, but only for one year, as he was planning to enter dental school.

"I got hooked on it," he said regarding his first year in education. "I liked the kids and decided I wanted to stay."

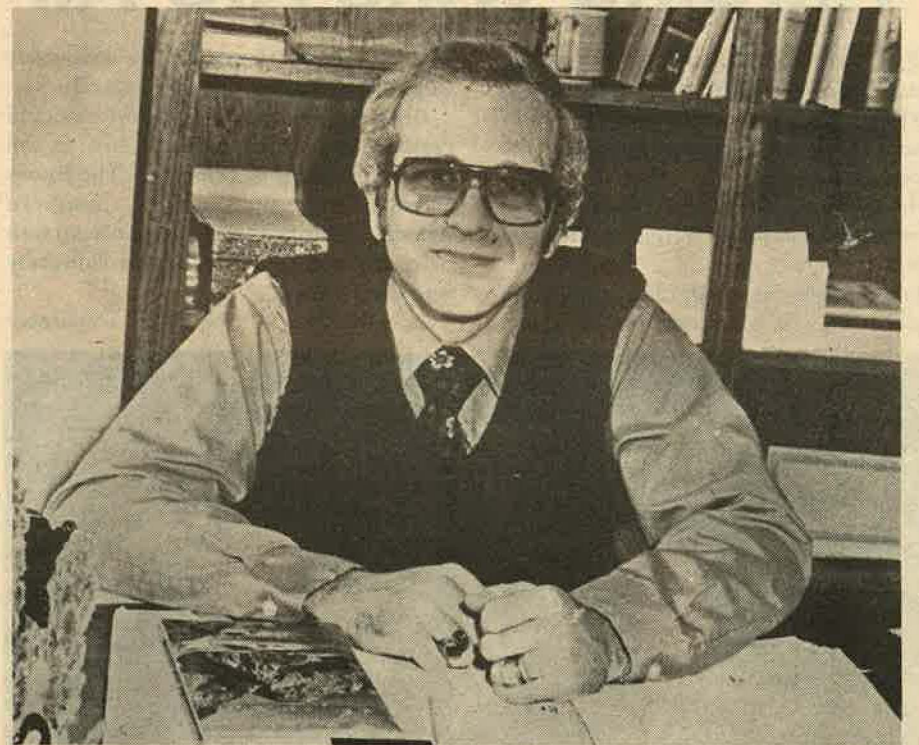

A graduate of Harding, Browning returned to gain certification and in 1976 was offered the high school principal's job after then-principal David Burnley became superintendent.

Today he is still following in Burnley's footsteps.

"I like being associated with the students," the Judsonia native stated. "I enjoy seeing one of them achieve a goal in life. It makes you feel like you possibly helped."

Although he's still getting his feet wet, Browning says he does have a goal to establish a Community Education Program at the high school next year. An Educational Linkage Program whereby students are allowed to work outside the classroom for nine weeks a semester will begin in January.

Asked if he was aware he was being considered for the job, Browning said he was told the morning of May 4 that Burnley had resigned and the job was open. He was then appointed that night.

"I think they knew I was interested," the 33-year old educator said. "I had gotten my superintendent's certificate and my master's degree in January.

"I like working with people," he concluded. "This is the biggest challenge I've ever had."

Harding Wins AIC All-Sports Championship

With a whirlwind finish in the spring sports, Harding University captured the 1980-81 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference All-Sports Championship for the second time.

Harding won its first All-Sports title for its overall performance during the 1975-76 year.

In a ceremony at the Harding graduation exercises May 10, AIC Commissioner Harry Hall presented the prestigious conference trophy to President Clifton Ganus Jr.

Bison athletic teams won outright titles in cross country, track, golf and tennis, as well as a second place in swimming. The Bisons finished with 66.5 points; Southern Arkansas University was the runner-up with 57 points, and Ouachita Baptist University was third with 50.

In addition to the four conference championships, Harding teams placed sixth in football, tied for fifth and sixth in basketball and tied for seventh in baseball.

"We have a relatively short athletic tradition, since the school returned to Intercollegiate competition in 1957," said Athletic Director Harry Olree, "but winning the All-Sports Trophy competition has to rank as one of our most outstanding achievements."

The 1980-81 athletic competition produced some outstanding performances. The Bison cross country team, coached by Ted Lloyd, won its 16th AIC title, took its eighth NAIA District 17 trophy and went on to place 10th in the nation. Senior Richard Teixeira of Auburn, Ind. placed 25th and was named an NAIA All-American selection.

In indoor track, freshman two-miler Dwayne Allen of Harrisburg, Pa. earned All-American honors by winning the national hurdle championship.

Senior Brent Taylor of Bartlesville, Okla. earned All-American status when he shot a 221 to place fifth in the NAIA golf tournament. He led Harding to a 16th place team finish in the Bisons' first appearance in the national event.

Winning the All-Sports Championship came after a runner-up position in 1979-80.

Overall, Harding has compiled an enviable record for a well-rounded, solidly based athletic program. Since the competition began in 1964, Harding has finished first twice, second four times, third six times, fourth three times and seventh once.

Baseball Season Produces 17 Lettermen

Four-time all-conference and all-district selection Mike Moody headlines 17 Harding University baseball lettermen announced by coach Dick Johnson.

Moody, a native of Wake Village, Texas, led the Bisons in hitting with a .343 average and is one of four players to receive their fourth letter award.

Other four-year lettermen are Mike Claussen of Little Rock, Ark., Mark Kay of Tulsa, Okla. and Rieke Stewart of Des Arc, Ark. Kay was an All-AIC selection in 1980 and Stewart was an NAIA All-District 17 choice as a junior.

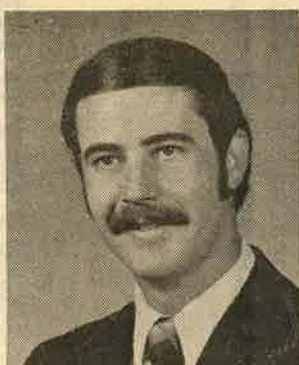

Three-year lettermen are Steve Ashcraft of Crossett, Ark.; Mike Galloway of Chesapeake, Ohio and John Gross of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Earning their first lettermen awards are Ken Ballew of Talking Rock, Ga.; Kenny Kinnear of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Steve Marrs of Tulsa, Okla.;

Matt Murray of Atlanta, Ga.; Marty Ninemire of Salem, Ark.; Rob Nossaman of Memphis, Tenn.; Dave Payne of Cincinnati, Ohio; and Stan Valentine of Searcy, Ark.

Bison Golfers Rank 16th In National Tournament

In its first appearance in the NAIA national golf competition, Harding's golf team placed 16th in a 33-team field and Brent Taylor earned All-America honors June 2-6 in Huntsville, Texas.

Coach Phil Watkins' team, with championship trophies from the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference and NAIA District 17, battled a week of rain and thunderstorms in the 54-hole tournament.

"Our kids played exceptionally well," Watkins said. "They had to play under the worst of conditions, stopping and starting because of the rain and still we finished higher than any other AIC team."

Taylor, the 1981 AIC and District 17 individual champion, placed fifth in the national standings with three-round totals of 74-75-72 for a 221. The Bartlesville, Okla. senior is the first Bison golfer ever to attain All-America honors.

"Brent shot remarkable golf, especially when you consider the playing conditions," Watkins explained. "There were times he'd only get to play a couple of holes, have to come in for 30 minutes to an hour because of the rain and then have to go back out and start all over again. All of the players did a great job."

Sophomore Hubie Smith of Memphis had a 237 total on rounds of 82-76-79. Phil Garnett, a senior from Hereford, Texas, had 82-83-82 for a 247, followed by North Little Rock junior David Padgett with 83-86-85-254 and Collin LaFollette of Carthage, Texas with 91-91-93-275.

Harding totaled 958, behind NAIA national champion Sam Houston University.

The most outstanding performance at the national meet capped Harding's most successful golf season. The Bisons successfully defended its AIC title, won the district for the first time and placed nationally.

Taylor, Smith and Padgett earned All-AIC and All-District 17 honors, in addition to Taylor's All-American achievement. Watkins was selected "Golf Coach of the Year" by both AIC and District 17 coaches.

Coach of the Year Awards To Watkins, Elliott, Lloyd

Three Harding coaches have been named "Coach of the Year" in golf, tennis and track in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference and NAIA District 17.

Selection of the Harding coaches was by ballot of the conference and area coaches.

Phil Watkins, who directed Harding to its second straight AIC golf championship and its first NAIA District 17 title, was selected "Golf Coach of the Year." Watkins' team took the lead in the early rounds of league competition and won the title decisively. The 32-year-old Colorado Springs, Colo. native also was Golf Coach of the Year in 1980.

Tennis coach David Elliott was awarded "Coach of the Year" recognition for leading Harding to AIC and NAIA District 17 championships. Under Elliott Harding had previously won the title in 1976. Elliott, 34, directed a young Bison team to a perfect 8-0 conference record. A native of Ft. Wayne, Ind., Elliott also was Tennis Coach of the Year in 1980.

Coach Ted Lloyd led the Harding track and field team to its first outdoor championship since 1966. The Bisons used team depth to defeat pre-season favorite Ouachita Baptist in the AIC meet. A past-president of the NAIA Track and Field Coaches Association, Lloyd also coached the Bisons to an AIC title in cross country last fall and his team placed tenth in the NAIA national meet. Lloyd, 46, is a native of Hillsdale, Kan.

Bison Gridders See Improvement In '81

Harding University football has a single goal in mind for 1981 — improvement.

Coming off a 3-8 season last year, Bison head coach John Prock is committed to making Harding a more competitive unit and he is hopeful the 26 returning lettermen will provide the necessary nucleus to do it.

To improve, a more productive offense is a necessity and spring drills gave new hope in that area. Of number one importance is that junior Kyle Blickenstaff of Boise, Idaho, a well proportioned 6-3, 195 pounder, is settled in at quarterback, where stability is vital.

In recent seasons Harding has suffered from a shortage of quality running backs. Prock appears to be in better condition than last year, with two junior college transfers, Damon White of Dallas, Texas and Tony McCoy of Texarkana, Texas, heading the list of tailback candidates. White is 5-11 and 190 lbs., whereas McCoy is a compact 5-8, 175. Both have speed the Bisons are not used to having available.

Sophomore James Joyce of Huntsville, Ala., stepped into the breach last year at fullback and responded with 442 yards on 91 carries for a solid 4.9 average per carry. Junior Pat Brown of Greenville, Texas was plagued all season with injuries but still finished with 303 yards on 67 carries.

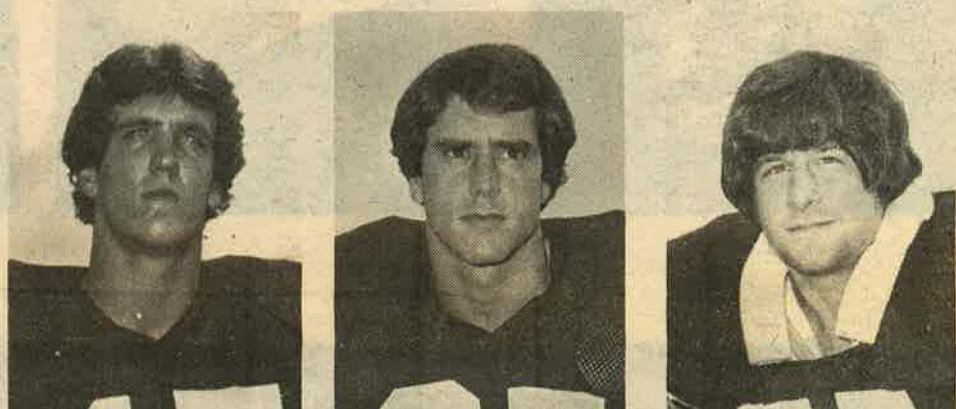

The slot back position went to junior wide receiver Mike Peacock of Searcy, a quick-footed 165 pounder. Last year he caught 16 passes for 132 yards as the Bisons' number two ranked receiver.

Up front there is quality at the tackle spots with seniors Roy Kirkland of Cabot (6-3, 250 lbs.) and Dain Clark of Pavo, Ga., (6-1, 250 lbs.) holding forth. Kirkland gained All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference honors last year as a center.

Lettermen Jerry Tucker (5-10, 185 lbs.) of Bethany, Okla., and Tom Martin (6-1, 212 lbs.) of Vincennes, Ind. are manning the guard positions and transfer Brett Frantz, a 6-1, 194 lb. sophomore from Dallas, is lined up at center.

Tight end Durwood Dry of Merritt Island, Fla., and sophomore Don Shumate of Sherwood, Ark. should prove to be quality assets to the passing of Blickenstaff.

A strong 6-2, 212 pounder, Dry led the Bisons with 23 receptions for 265 yards and

Kyle Blickenstaff

Lafe Caton

two touchdowns last year. Shumate, a good runner at 6-0, 175 lbs. caught 14 for 180 yards in 1980 despite a hand injury which limited his playing time.

Defensively, five starters return for the Bisons. They are Steve Jones, a 6-0, 216 lb. tackle from Creve Coeur, Mo.; Ron Kohlbrand, a 6-3, 205 lb. defensive end from Merritt Island, Fla.; Nicky Valls, a 5-11, 180 lb. cornerback from Corpus Christi, Texas, and safeties Bruce Baldwin of Jacksonville, Ill., and Lafe Caton of Inola, Okla. Baldwin is a 6-2, 195 pounder who pulled in three interceptions last year and Caton is a 5-9, 178 lb. all-purpose defender and returner who was an All-AIC return specialist in 1980.

Top hands at the other positions are co-captain Klay Barte (5-11, 200 lbs.) of Dallas, Texas at defensive end and his opposite, Kohlbrand. Charles Cross of Drayton Plains, Mich., at 6-1, 218 lbs., appears set at noseguard and John Tom Thompson, a sophomore in eligibility after a hardship ruling on the 1980 season, is the top contender at the other tackle spot. Thompson, of Nashville, Tenn., should be a big help with his 6-3, 225 lb. dimensions.

The defensive secondary, where experience is usually the determining factor in winning and losing, will be filled by athletes who have been there.

In addition to Caton and Baldwin, veterans return at the cornerback positions. Valls is a solid defender and will have a tough 5-5, 160 pounder in junior Scott LeDoux of Jennings, La. on the opposite side.

Letterman Randy Buttram of Windermere, Fla., a hard hitter at 5-11, 195 pounds is set for one linebacker slot and sophomore Greg Poston of Memphis, Tenn. is slated for the other. Poston was moved during spring drills from right end and will weigh in at 185 pounds for his 6-0 frame.

In summary, overall team speed should be improved and the offensive unit should be more productive. Defensively, a solid core of veterans return, which should make the Bisons as competitive as ever.

The schedule, which last year included three nationally ranked teams, remains the same.
