Burks to Succeed Ganus as President in 1987

Dr. David B. Burks, Dean of the School of Business, has been named to succeed President Clifton L. Ganus, Jr. when Dr. Ganus retires in May, 1987.

The announcement of Dr. Burk's selection was made at a special faculty meeting May 9 by James H. Cone, chairman of the Harding University Board of Trustees.

Cone was chairman of a seven-member search committee, made up of board members, chosen to find a successor to Dr. Ganus.

"The committee feels Dr. David Burks more nearly fits the criteria developed by the Board than any other of the many candidates considered," Cone said. "Dr. Burks received a unanimous recommendation of the search committee and unanimous approval by the Board. He is a man we can unite behind to carry on the great traditions of Harding University.

"I believe Dr. Burks is a man of vision and has the ability to lead us in the same fine way his predecessors have led us. The Board is very enthusiastic in its announcement of him as the next president of Harding University."

President Ganus, who has been president of Harding since 1965, said, "I appreciate the diligent search the committee of the Board has made, and feel they have made a wise choice. I have known and worked with Dr. Burks for many years and believe that he will serve in a very fine and effective way as the next president of Harding University."

Lipscomb College in Nashville, said, "From a personal point of view, I came to know David when my son majored in accounting. He impressed me with his knowledge and expertise and his obvious interest in the students. I have participated on programs with him and have been impressed with the characteristics and traits of leadership that he possesses. He is an excellent choice, a serving kind of human being, and I believe he will be able to lead Harding to even greater vistas of service."

Burks, 43, entered Harding as a freshman in 1961 after graduating from Hot Springs High School in Truth or Consequences, N.M. As a senior at Harding in 1964-65, he served as president of the Student Association.

He received his bachelor's degree in business and accounting from Harding, and was awarded a teaching assistantship at the University of Texas at Austin, where he received a master's degree in business administration in 1966.

He joined the auditing division of Exxon, Inc., in Houston, but after a year returned to Harding as an instructor of accounting and director of placement.

Dr. Burks taught until 1971, when he left to attend Florida State University in Tallahassee, Fla. He was awarded the Ph.D. in 1972, the title of his doctoral dissertation being "A Proposed Model Faculty Recruitment and Retention Program for Senior Colleges Supported by churches of Christ." He returned to Harding that fall.

The recipient of the Harding University Distinguished Teacher Award in 1975 and 1986, Dr. Burks served for several years as the sponsor of the Harding Business Team, which won national championships in competition with colleges and universities across the nation.

When Harding advanced to University status in 1979, Dr. Burks was named dean of the School of Business, and in 1982 was appointed director of the American Studies Program.

He has authored two books, The Christian Alternative for Business and Strategic Management Simulation, and co-authored Servant Leadership with Dr. Bobby Coker.

He has served as president of the Searcy Kiwanis Club and was a member of Camp Wyldewood Board of Directors. He holds membership in several professional organizations such as Beta Alpha Psi, Phi Delta Kappa, and Delta Mu Delta. He is a deacon at the College Church of Christ.

In 1965, Burks was married to the former Leah Gentry, who is also a Harding graduate. They have three children, Bryan, a freshman at Harding; Stephen, 15; and Marleah, 13. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Basil Burks of Truth or Consequences, N.M.

Dr. Burks will be the fourth person to hold the presidency of Harding since it was founded as a four-year school in 1924. J. N. Armstrong served from 1924-36 and Dr. George S. Benson was president from 1936 until 1965 when Dr. Ganus assumed the office.

Ganus Endowed Scholarship Established

The Harding University Board of Trustees in its annual spring meeting May 9 announced a campaign to establish a $1 million endowed academic scholarship fund to honor Dr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Ganus Jr.

Ganus, who has announced his retirement from the presidency at the conclusion of the 1986-87 school year, will have served 22 years as the institution's chief executive officer.

In making the announcement for the members of the board, James Cone, chairman, also announced that six members have pledged or given $143,500 to date, to launch the scholarship program.

The "Clifton L. and Louise Ganus Scholarship Fund" will be the largest endowed scholarship fund in the school's history. Interest earned on the principal of the fund will annually provide scholarship assistance to at least 100 more students when fully funded.

"Members of the board voted unanimously to honor this couple who has given so unselfishly of themselves to Harding. We didn't want to wait until his actual retirement to announce this tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Ganus," said Cone.

"Thousands of their friends, classmates, co-workers and alumni will want to share in the funding of this special project. It is appropriate that we make this announcement now at the beginning of the last year of his presidency."

An alumnus of Harding, Ganus joined the faculty in 1946 in the Department of History and Social Sciences. He has served as department chairman, dean of the School of American Studies and as vice president.

Mrs. Ganus, in addition to her many responsibilities as Harding's first lady, has been actively involved in the Associated Women for Harding. She has served as president of the Searcy chapter and on the AWH National Council since its beginning seven years ago.

Harding has experienced an unparalleled growth during the Ganus presidency. The enrollment has grown from 1,472 to a peak enrollment of 3,084. Also during his presidency more than $35 million has been raised in gifts and

Waltons Recognized With 1986 Trustee Award

Sam and Helen Walton were presented the Harding University Trustee Award for 1986 at a luncheon in their honor April 12 in Bentonville, where Walton is chairman and chief executive officer of Wal-Mart Stores Inc.

Making the presentation was Harding President Clifton L. Ganus, who stated, "I have known the Waltons for many years and am grateful for their helpfulness to Harding. I believe the trustees made a fine selection in Sam and Helen."

The Trustee Award was established in 1974 to recognize individuals who have contributed significantly in his or her chosen field of endeavor, and whose values are consistent with the principles of Harding. Nominations and final selections are made by the Harding Board of Trustees.

Walton is a 1940 graduate of the University of Missouri with an AB degree in economics. After serving in the Army Intelligence Corps during World War II, he was discharged with the rank of captain in August 1945.

The founder of Wal-Mart, Walton opened his first Ben Franklin variety store in Newport, Ark., in 1945. The first Wal-Mart Discount City store followed in 1962, with the initial store established in Rogers, Ark.

Today, the company is recognized as a leader in the retail discount department store industry with more than 700 stores in a 13-state area.

Last May, Walton contributed $3.6 million for use by Central American students to Harding and two other independent Arkansas colleges. The United States Agency for International Development matched this contribution, thus gifting Harding with $2.2 million for the scholarship fund.

Walton has received many honors during his career; however, in 1978, he was doubly-honored by his colleagues in the retail industry when they voted him the Discounter of the Year and the Retail Man of the Year, making him the first person ever to receive both honors.

In March 1980, he was selected in Financial World's "Annual Competition to Honor America's Top Executives" as the most outstanding chief executive officer in the retail industry by a panel of 50 leading security analysts.

Walton also uses his talents beyond the Wal-Mart chain, engaging in activities including service as director and chairman of the Board of the Bank of Bentonville, the Bank of Pea Ridge and the First National Bank in Rogers, Ark. He has served as director of the state Chamber of Commerce, an elder of the First United Presbyterian Church of Bentonville, and is past president of the Chambers of Commerce of Bentonville and Newport, Ark. He was also the 1984 recipient of the Horatio Alger Award.

Mrs. Walton is the former Helen Robson of Claremore, Okla., and is a leader in education and community affairs in Arkansas.

She received the BS degree in finance from the University of Oklahoma School of Business in Norman and also attended the Christian College for Women at Columbia, Mo. Mrs. Walton also received an honorary doctorate in humanities from the College of the Ozarks in Clarksville, Ark.

Involved in a vast array of community and educational services, Mrs. Walton is also a past chairperson and permanent honorary member of the Board of Trustees of the College of the Ozarks and is general chairperson of the successful $3 million Phase II-150 fund Capital Campaign.

grants for capital and operational needs of the school.

"For 40 years Cliff and Louise Ganus have been serving the students at Harding. When the board was trying to decide just how we could recognize this couple, it became obvious to each member that we could best honor them by creating a fund that would help more students attend Harding," said Cone.

"Four decades of service and involvement in Christian education is a mighty tribute to the commitment of this couple. Their work is not only appreciated on the campus, but by literally thousands of alumni, parents and friends of the institution.

"I think the board's appreciation of their efforts is self evident. We are pleased to be able to create this endowed scholarship fund. I know I'm speaking for every member of the board when I say that we are even more pleased that we can initiate this project," explained Cone.

Members of the board and staff members in Harding's Development Office have already begun contacting the school's various constituencies seeking support for this scholarship fund. Individuals, corporations and foundations are being asked to make a special contribution to this project above what they may have already pledged on other current programs.

"An effort is being made to contact as many individuals, corporations and foundations as possible and to secure their gifts by Dec. 31," said Floyd Daniel, vice president for university relations.

"We are trying to secure as much of the $1 million as possible by the end of 1986, but I'm sure that we'll still have some contacts to make in early 1987. We will announce our results at the May, 1987 commencement exercises which will mark the conclusion of Dr. Ganus' presidency.

"I know of no other couple over the last 21 years who has given more of themselves to advance Harding than Cliff and Louise Ganus. This scholarship fund is such an excellent way for all of us to say 'thank you' to these two wonderful people."

Cone indicated that the board and the development staff are using both personal visits and mail appeals to contact those interested in helping to honor the retiring president and his wife.

Bobby Davidson, a print journalism major from Judsonia, has been named editor of the University student newspaper, The Bison, for 1986-87. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Smith, Rt. 3, Judsonia.

A junior, Davidson has worked on the Bison staff as sports editor, and has worked as a student assistant in sports coverage for the Harding Public Relations Office. He recently completed an internship in journalism.

SIFE Team Is Second in Nation

The Harding University Economics Team was awarded a check for $3,500 and a national runner-up trophy at the International Exposition of Students in Free Enterprise competition in Memphis, Tenn.

The competition, which was hosted by the National Free Enterprise Center in Bolivar, Mo., involved 170 colleges and universities and some 4,000 students during 1985-86. The Harding program entry was "Capitalism Is Innovative — It Made America." The economics team presentation described 68 projects and programs with 14 on-campus and 44 civic, professional and educational groups in the mid-south.

The 1986 team is composed of Stephanie Carter, co-captain from Bentonville, Ark., Kevin Thompson, co-captain from San Diego, Calif., Melissa Breeman of Spartanburg, S.C., Bruce Picker of Searcy, Ark., Joel Reed of New Haven, Ind., and their sponsor, Dr. Don Diffine, professor of economics and director of the student-staffed Belden Center for Private Enterprise Education.

The national SIFE competition brought 27 regional winners together for two days of intensive competition. Fifty judges from business and industry across the United States evaluated each collegiate finalist.

The overall quality of the teams was the strongest we've faced," said Diffine. "The actual competition was the keenest I've ever seen. Our major concern coming into the nationals was our past success. We felt to win we would have to win big, or a close vote would tip the balance toward the nearest competitor."

Harding economics team projects receiving special mention included "Capital Day" launched to salute entrepreneurs; an "Important Economic Trivia" prototype game; the "Free Market Calendar"; "All American Economics — Made in the U.S.A.," a salute to Wal-Mart's 'Buy American' program; "Images in Free Enterprise" contest in visual arts; and "What Does Johnny's Dad Do?" project.

The University economics teams have previously won first place nine times at the regionals and five times at the nationals which were started in 1978. Harding teams, the winningest in the country to date, were national runners-up in 1978 and 1983. Findlay College of Ohio was this year's national champion.

The efforts of the student-staffed Belden Center have received national recognition, not only in the economic games, but also from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. Since 1976, Diffine, the economics teams and their projects have received 15 awards in the category of private enterprise education, advertising and public affairs, non-profit publication and platform addresses.

Rebecca Oldroyd Weaver

Rebecca Weaver — Assistant Professor of Communication, B.A. (1973), Harding University; M.C.D. (1974) University of Mississippi.

Rebecca Oldroyd Weaver wanted a career in the field of communications, but she wasn't particularly interested in the performing aspect of it.

In a required course for her major during her years as a student at Harding, she hit upon speech correction, and found that it was an area she really enjoyed.

Now she has attained license as a speech pathologist, and also has been granted a Certificate of Clinical Competence, the zenith of the field.

She talks enthusiastically about the area of speech and hearing correction, a profession she feels is on the rise. She is excited that the educational system has incorporated into schools ways of helping the handicapped. She's glad to be directing people to a career in which they can, in turn, help others.

Listening to her explain her job, one is quickly convinced that she's sincere as she speaks. "I love working with college students. They are so neat."

Beckie entered Harding after graduation from high school in her native Corsicana, Texas. During her college years she was active in Gata and worked at Camp Wyldewood

At graduation, she went to Ole Miss for her master's, returning to Harding a year later to teach.

During that year she married Gene Weaver, a Harding graduate who had returned for advance work in his field of teacher and coach. The two had been in undergraduate work at the same time, but were barely acquainted.

In the next eight years they taught in Texas, returning to Searcy ("This is our third time around.") in 1984, with their eight-year-old daughter, Reagan.

The expansion of Harding's recently reorganized communication department has also meant added equipment and facilities. Interest is growing as well, with more students choosing the major and upperclassmen switching to the field. All to Beckie's delight.

Since the majors work directly with clients, Beckie is very much involved in the one-on-one teaching. In this vein she feels truly fulfilled. "These students are the cream of the crop, and I'm happy I'm working in a helping profession."

The service is used widely, with students of all ages coming to the clinic.

With Beckie's effervescence, and with the caring assistance she teaches, many will likely be benefitted for years to come.

Gifted and Talented Given State Grant

The College of Arts and Sciences has received a $45,824 grant from the Arkansas State Department of Education for a summer program for 80 gifted and talented students in the state.

The Academic Enrichment for the Gifted/Talented in Summer (AEGIS) program is designed to provide rising high school students the opportunity for academic enrichment during the summer months.

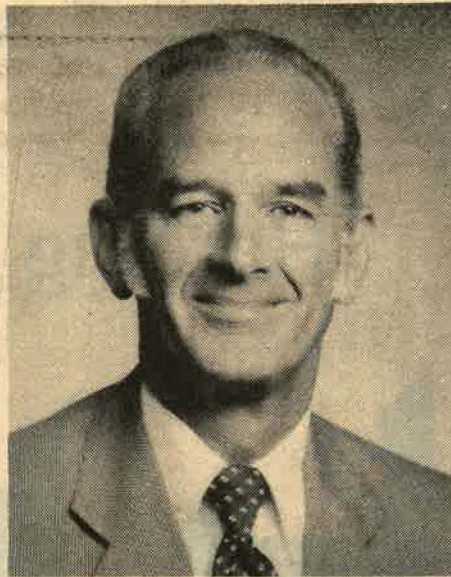

"We are extremely excited about this program," Dr. Dean Priest, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said. "We were delighted to be selected by the Department of Education and we intend to promote the intent of the grant to the fullest. We want to provide the highest quality of education for these students."

Harding's AEGIS seminar will be "Arkansas - An Abundance of Energy Resources," with Dr. Travis Thompson, associate professor of mathematics, as program director. Seminar sessions will center around the resources within the state of Arkansas, and field trips are planned to Murphy Oil Company in El Dorado, Nuclear One at Russellville, Greer's Ferry and Newark.

Students will be selected on a competitive basis for participation in the program, Dr. Thompson said. Those interested may contact Dr. Thompson at Box 934, Sta. A, or at 268-6161, ext. 464 for further information and details.

regulations that cost the consumers billions of dollars in terms of more expensive products, limited choice, and government bureaucracy, they (consumer advocates) should fight for international free trade that pays the consumers dividends in the form of high quality, low prices, and larger selection of products. Donations Reach Record Fund-Raising Year

A significant increase in the number of donors plus two large gifts enabled Harding to have a record fund-raising year in 1985 according to Floyd Daniel, vice president for university relations.

In 1985 gifts by individuals, corporations or other organizations reached a record $5,238,113. This total was a 43 percent increase over the $3,652,228 recorded in 1984.

Equally significant was the increase of 1,367 donors between the two years. The 1985 donations represent 5,387 different donors or donor units as is the case of a husband and wife who are both alumni.

During 1985 Harding was the recipient of a

$1.2 million gift from Sam and Helen Walton to establish the Walton Scholarship Program for Central America students. The school also received a $928,000 bequest from the estate of Kersey Kinsey.

There were 3,290 of these 1985 donors who qualified for membership in Harding's Donor Recognition Program. Participation in these seven gifts clubs accounted for $5.2 million in gifts.

The Donor Recognition Program includes the Founder's Fund in 1985. Their contributions Forum, Heritage Fund, University Fund, Century Club and Harding Friends.

Sixty-two donors were members of the Founder's Fund in 1984. Their contribution's totaled $3,735,154. Membership at this level is for individuals or organizations contributing $10,000 or more during the calendar year. In 1984 there were 52 members contributing $2,290,504.

The Trustees' Circle enrolled 49 donors during the year. This group contributed $292,088. In 1984 there were also 49 donors and they contributed $305,786. Membership in the Trustees' Circle requires gifts between $5,000 and $9,999 annually.

Membership in the President's Forum reached 363 in 1985. Donors in this group contributed between $1,000 and $4,999. In 1985 donors at this level contributed $629,295. In 1984 President's Forum members contributed $544,481.

Members of the Heritage Fund gave $163,241 during 1985. There were 266 donors at this level giving between $500 and $999. Donors giving between $200 and $499 were designated as members of the University Fund. Those in this gift club gave $219,771. There were 793 members in this club during 1985. In 1985 there were 987 participants at the Century Club level. Those giving between $100 and $199 are members of the Century Club. In 1985 this group contributed $115,347.

Harding Friends is the designation for those giving $50 to $99 annually. This group gave $45,573, and there were 770 members in 1985. In addition to the gift club members there were another 2,097 individuals or organizations in 1985 who contributed $37,644 in gifts between $1 and $49.

The purposes of the Donor Recognition Program are to encourage an active interest in the University by alumni and friends, to increase Harding's recognition of devoted financial supporters, and to maintain and to increase substantially the level of giving by alumni and friends.

Alumni Contributions Increase in 1985

Contributions by alumni during 1985 reached almost $1 million and the percentage of alumni donors increased significantly according to a report released by Floyd Daniel, vice president for university relations.

From January through December, 1985 alumni contributions totaled $969,515. The total was $106,000 more than was contributed in 1984.

For the fourth consecutive year gifts from alumni topped the $800,000 mark. In 1984 $862,889 was given, $892,691 in 1983 and $835,303 in 1982.

"For the last four years we have been aiming for the $1 million mark in alumni gifts. We came so close in 1985," said Daniel. "Our goal in 1986 is to reach and surpass $1 million."

Another important statistic in Daniel's report was the increase in the percentage of alumni donors. For the year, 22.4 percent of Harding's active alumni made a gift to their alma mater. In 1984 the percentage was only 19 percent.

During 1985 29.3 percent of all graduates contributed and 14.2 percent of all non-graduates made a gift. The average gift in 1985 was $216. There were 4,484 alumni donors in 1985.

"Alumni play such a significant role in the fiscal stability of the institution. Harding has operated on a balanced budget for 49 consecutive years, and alumni have had a major part in our ability to do this," Daniel explained.

He also noted that a large percentage of alumni donations are used in the general fund which pays for necessary services such as utilities and salaries. "This type of giving is extremely important to Harding," said Daniel.

Since 1979 there has been a special effort made to have 30 percent of the alumni in each class to contribute. In 1985 four classes met their goal. These honor-roll classes were the classes of '25, '30, '32 and '45.

In 1985 there were 11 other classes which topped the 25 percent mark. Included in this group were the classes of '33, '35, '36, '37, '38, '40, '41, '42, '46, '48 and '50.

Editor's Note: Each year a list of donors is published for the previous year. The following is a list of those who contributed to Harding University in 1985. Every effort has been made to ensure an accurate and complete listing. However, if for some reason your name has been excluded, please contact the Development Office, Station A, Box 932, Searcy, Ark. 72143.

Shores Knows What It Takes to Be Successful

By David Crouch

The men on Harding's Board of Trustees are busy and successful individuals, and Don Shores of Cave Springs, Ark., is no exception.

Shores directs a family owned and highly successful hardware and L-P gas business that serves one of the fastest growing areas of northwest Arkansas. Since 1930 the Shores' business has been a fixture in the Cave Springs community.

Business activities are not the only thing that consume his time. Since 1971 he has been an elder of the Cave Springs Church of Christ. He has served since 1965 on the board of Green Valley Bible Camp, including two terms as president of the board.

In one sense Shores' involvement with Harding came as naturally as watching his children grow up. In another sense his involvement is just carrying on a family tradition.

Don and Lois Shores encouraged all four of their children to attend Harding. Don, Jr. ('74) is now a teacher at Pepperdine University. Brenda (Mrs. David Sain, '76) is a homemaker in Germantown, Tenn.

Cherryll (Mrs. Tim Bassing, '78) is a minister's wife and homemaker in Leachville, Ark. Youngest son Gary ('79) is now back in Cave Springs working with his parents in the family's business.

Like most parents, Shores' active participation in the school began when eldest son Don enrolled in 1970. "I began to watch our children as they grew and matured in the Harding environment. They came to realize their place in society, but more importantly they began to see how they could express their Christian values to others. This is one of the greatest things they received from the Harding experience," he said.

Shores' father, Carl, was a member of the President's Development Council prior to a tragic automobile accident in 1971 that claimed his life as well as the life of his wife Mary. Later that same year Don Shores was asked to succeed his father on the Council.

Shores Chapel in the Hammon Student Center is a memorial to the interest and commitment in Christian education at Harding that Carl and Mary Shores had during their lifetime.

"I saw my father's interest in Harding and it wasn't long before my own involvement began to grow.

"One of my greatest desires is to see more and more parents encourage their children to attend a Christian school. In today's society it is so difficult to live amidst all the pressures, but the values that are taught at Harding help our children to cope with these pressures and influences. One thing I've come to realize is that parents just don't promote Christian education enough.

"I know what our children found at Harding and I know what we've found as parents. There is no comparison."

At the May 9 meeting of the board of trustees, Shores received a pin recognizing his ten years of service on the governing body. He serves on the board's committees on finance, development, student life and buildings and grounds. For the last 18 months he also served on the search committee which recommended Mr. David Burks to succeed Dr. Clifton L. Ganus as president in May, 1987.

Though he is busy with numerous activities, Shores takes his work on the board as a serious challenge. "My greatest desire is to help provide the necessary things so that a student at Harding University can have the very best possible Christian education."

Don Shores knows what it takes to be successful in business and these same qualities are important in making a successful university. He is helping to instill these qualities into Harding's leadership.

What's On The "Inside" of Russell Counts

By Tim Bruner

It may seem trite, but to a physician of internal medicine, it's definitely what's on the "inside" that counts.

And what's on the inside at Harding, according to Dr. Dan Russell, a Shreveport, La. internist and a member of the University's Board of Trustees, is a continuing dedication to excellence, with a spiritual priority.

Russell, in his role as a member of the Board's presidential search committee, has spent the last 18 months operating at the very core of Harding's workings, defining the quality of leadership necessary to direct the school in the next generation.

"This has been a busy time and our task time-consuming, but each of us on the committee feel as if we've benefited personally, perhaps more than the school we've served," Russell said. "Our work brought us closer to each other, closer to faculty and staff and closer to an actual realization of the tremendous responsibility required by those who direct the Harding administration."

Russell's most recent work with Harding, which culminated in May's announcement that Dr. David Burks, dean of the University's School of Business, will succeed Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, who will retire next May, is "just another example of how my getting closer to the inside of Harding has helped me spiritually."

Those examples first began more than 25 years ago when Russell was first introduced to Harding.

"I was a young Christian with a young family and a medical practice in Shreveport at the time," he said, "when one of the members in the congregation invited me to go with him to the Harding Lectureship.

"Being a new convert, I didn't know much about Harding, much less what a Lectureship was. But it sounded interesting, so I went. My life hasn't been the same since."

Lectureship and workshop programs kept Russell and his wife Susie coming back to campus for several years. Having two children, Dan Earl and Linda, attend increased the frequency, and the family began helping the school in a number of volunteer capacities.

Since then, the Russells have introduced several new families to Harding — "We want to share with others the excitement that we've found in our association with Harding."

After demonstrating excellence in volunteer leadership on the President's Development Council, Russell was asked in 1973 to serve at the Trustee level. Currently the chairperson of the development committee, he also serves on academic advisory committees for medicine and the sciences and for student life.

Another by-product of getting "inside" Harding, according to Russell, is the way he has been personally affected spiritually as a result of his association with the University through the years.

"From the first time I set foot on this campus, I began to be challenged to grow spiritually," he said. "And it continues with each visit and contact. It encourages me to serve more through Harding, through my family and through personal work in my home congregation. You just can't work closely with spiritually minded people, such as Jim Bill McTeer and my other fellow Trustees, and it not rub off on you."

As a physician knows his patient, Russell has come to know the inner workings of Harding. And with his interest in growing spiritually, Harding has the inside track on a man who possesses biblical qualities of leadership.

Trite or not, it's what's on the inside....

Outstanding Seniors Recognized, Mason, Collins Receive Awards

Harding University athletes Kenny Collins and Dawn Mason have been named the outstanding senior athletes for 1985-86.

The announcement was made by President Clifton Ganus during graduation ceremonies May 11.

Collins, an NAIA All-America, GTE Academic All-America and co-captain of the Bisons basketball team, was selected to receive the M.E. Berryhill Award. A two-time All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference and NAIA District 17 honoree, he is a native of Valley Springs, Ark.

He compiled a 3.53 grade point average while pursuing a premedical major.

Van der Kaaij Places in Nationals; Wins Fourth All-America Award

Harding senior Ed van der Kaaij earned his fourth All-America award in the NAIA national Track and Field Championships, but had to settle for fourth place in the pole vault competition.

Going into the national meet at Arkansas Tech May 24, van der Kaaij had a 16-6 vault to his credit but his best vault of the competition was 15-5. He won the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference meet May 3, with a 16-0 vault.

"I know Ed was disappointed," said Bison coach Ted Lloyd. "On his last jump he cleared the pole by a foot and a half but flicked the bar with his hand as he came down. He could just as easily have won the meet but things didn't break his way.

"Ed has had a tremendous collegiate career," Lloyd said, "and he's going to continue to improve. He's a genuine competitor."

A May graduate, van der Kaaij recorded a 3.89 grade point average while majoring in computer science. In addition to his three NAIA All-America awards, he was also a 1985 NAIA Academic All-American.

Six other Harding athletes competed in the NAIA national meet but did not place.

Junior Darryl Halbert of Lakewood, Colo., ran 3:53.46 in the prelims of the 1500-meter run to qualify for the finals but he did not place. Also competing were Al Bates of Nashville, Tenn., in the 1500, Doug Ogburn of Cousino, Mich., in the shot put and discus and Eddie Neal of Griffithville, Ark., in the 10,000 meter run.

For the first time coach Cliff Sharp had entries from his Lady Bisons' team. Beverly Gardner of Fort Worth, Texas, ran in the 3,000 meter run, Dawn Mason of Vincentown, N.J., competed in the 100 and 400-meter hurdles and Mindi Williams of Salado, Texas, participated in the triple jump.

Bisons Wins Second Straight NAIA District 17 Baseball Title

Harding University successfully defended its NAIA District 17 baseball title and qualified for the Area V tournament at Georgia College in Milledgeville, Ga., May 14-17.

Parlaying a combination of heady pitching and opportunistic hitting, the Bisons defeated Henderson State University 10-6 in the finals of the district tournament.

Finishing 20-18-1, coach Dick Johnson's team was runner-up in Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference play with a 13-7 record to qualify for the district playoff.

Sophomore left-hander Marty Spears of Searcy pitched his third consecutive shutout to defeat Central Arkansas 3-0 in the playoff opener. In the semifinals Searcy junior James Mayes and senior right-hander Randy Allman combined to pitch the Bisons to an 11-5 win over Henderson State.

Coming back through the loser's bracket Henderson claimed a 9-5 decision from Harding when Bison pitcher Steve Pilkington had to leave the game with a wrist injury. In the finals the Allman-Mayes combo again proved formidable and they led the Bisons to a berth in the region playoff.

A year ago Harding battled its way to within one game of a trip to the NAIA World Series before falling to a powerful, nationally ranked Georgia College team.

With six seniors on this year's squad having played a major role, Harding can boast of an AIC championship in 1984, and now back-to-back titles in the district.

"This has been a remarkable bunch of athletes," Johnson said. "We're not the most talented but we've got some kids who have a lot of heart and refuse to quit. They've worked hard and it's great to see them have the success we've had."

On the mound Mayes led the team and the AIC with a 7-2 record. Spears was 5-5 with a record string of 26 scoreless innings and Allman had a 4-3 mark. Pilkington, (2-3), was the fireman for the Bisons and recorded eight saves.

Leading the Bisons at the plate was sophomore outfielder Lyndel Price of Judsonia, Ark., with a .369 average, including six home runs. He also led the team with 37 runs batted in. Senior second baseman Greg Thompson, Co-District 17 Player of the Year for the second time, overcame a late season bout with a virus to bat .319 and provide leadership in a youth-filled infield.

NAIA DISTRICT CHAMPIONS — Savoring the come-from-behind spirit which brought Harding University its second straight NAIA District 17 baseball championship, the players and coaches gathered for a "victory" photograph after the finals of the tournament in Magnolia May 3.

Barry Jones, junior first baseman from Jonesboro, Ark., was a standout performer defensively while hitting a solid .345. Pilkington, the designated hitter in addition to his pitching, had a .308 average with 28 RBI's.

Two seniors, Bruce Brantley of Newport, Ark., and Jim Cooper of Melbourne, Ark., teamed with Price to make one of the finest outfield corps in Bison history. Cooper was a .282 hitter with 24 RBI's. Brantley, a fleet ballhawk in center field, batted .287 and led the team with 24 stolen bases.

Providing the field generalship behind the plate was Scott Finley, a senior from Searcy. Hitting .260, Finley was a defensive leader and a rifle-armed deterrent to opposing base runners.

Two freshmen, shortstop Larry Dickinson of Conroe, Texas, and third baseman Perry Parr of North Little Rock, stepped into the starting lineup and responded with journeymen performances.

Dickinson has a .299 batting average with some timely base hits and Parr made rapid late season development at third base while hitting .233. Teamwise, the Bisons hit for a solid .285 average.

"We've played in spots," Johnson said, "but the team put it all together at tournament time and that's when it counted. Different players have come through when we needed them and our reserves have stepped in and done a fine job for us."

The three year record of the Bison team might not qualify as a dynasty by any means but it would be safe to say they've definitely been "on a roll."

EDITOR'S NOTE — Harding was eliminated in the second round of the Region V Tournament in Milledgeville, Ga. Coach Dick Johnson was voted NAIA District 17 Coach of the Year and Finley, Mayes, Thompson and Pilkington were selected All-AIC.

Harding Second in AIC, District 17 Golf Play

After six closely contested rounds of play, coach Phil Watkins golf team finished as runnersup in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference race as well as in the NAIA District 17 playoff May 3-4.

Playing at the Cortez Country Club in Hot Springs, the Bisons were within a single point of Henderson State going into the final two rounds but were unable to overcome the hot-shooting Reddies. HSU finished league play with 45 points, followed by the Bisons with 41, Arkansas Tech with 38 and Central Arkansas Senior Didier Villard of Rayon, France, carded a 78 to pace the Bisons in round five. In the final round, sophomore John Beavers of Searcy and Kevin Wise of Pensacola, Fla., were low with 81's.

On their play through the six AIC rounds, Beavers and Wise earned All-AIC recognition. Beavers averaged 78.8 and Wise averaged an even 79.

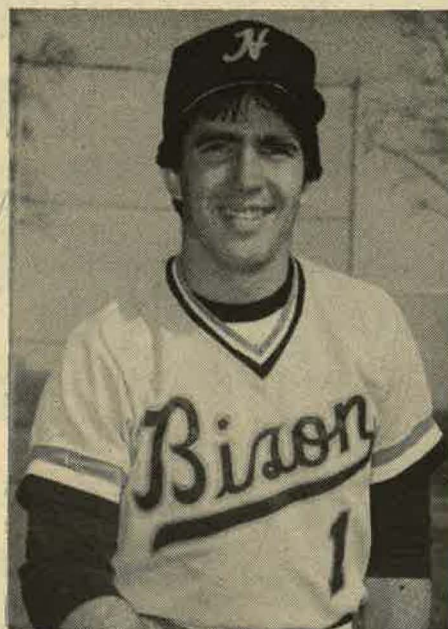

In the two rounds of play, which counted as the NAIA District 17 playoff, Harding was runnerup with a 651 team score to Henderson State's 629.

Five seniors completed their eligibility. They are Kevin Kowalski of Orchard Lake, Mich.; Bob Pittenger of Shawnee Mission, Kans.; Mike Saegert of Siloam Springs, Ark.; Villard and Wise.

By team vote, Villard was named the most valuable player, and Beavers was selected as the winner of the inspiration award.

Bisons Netters Runnersup In AIC, District 17 Tennis

Led by seniors Donnie Wallis and Jon Wood, Harding earned a second place finish in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference as well as the NAIA District 17 tournament in Conway, April 30-May 1.

All three athletes were named to the All-AIC tennis team.

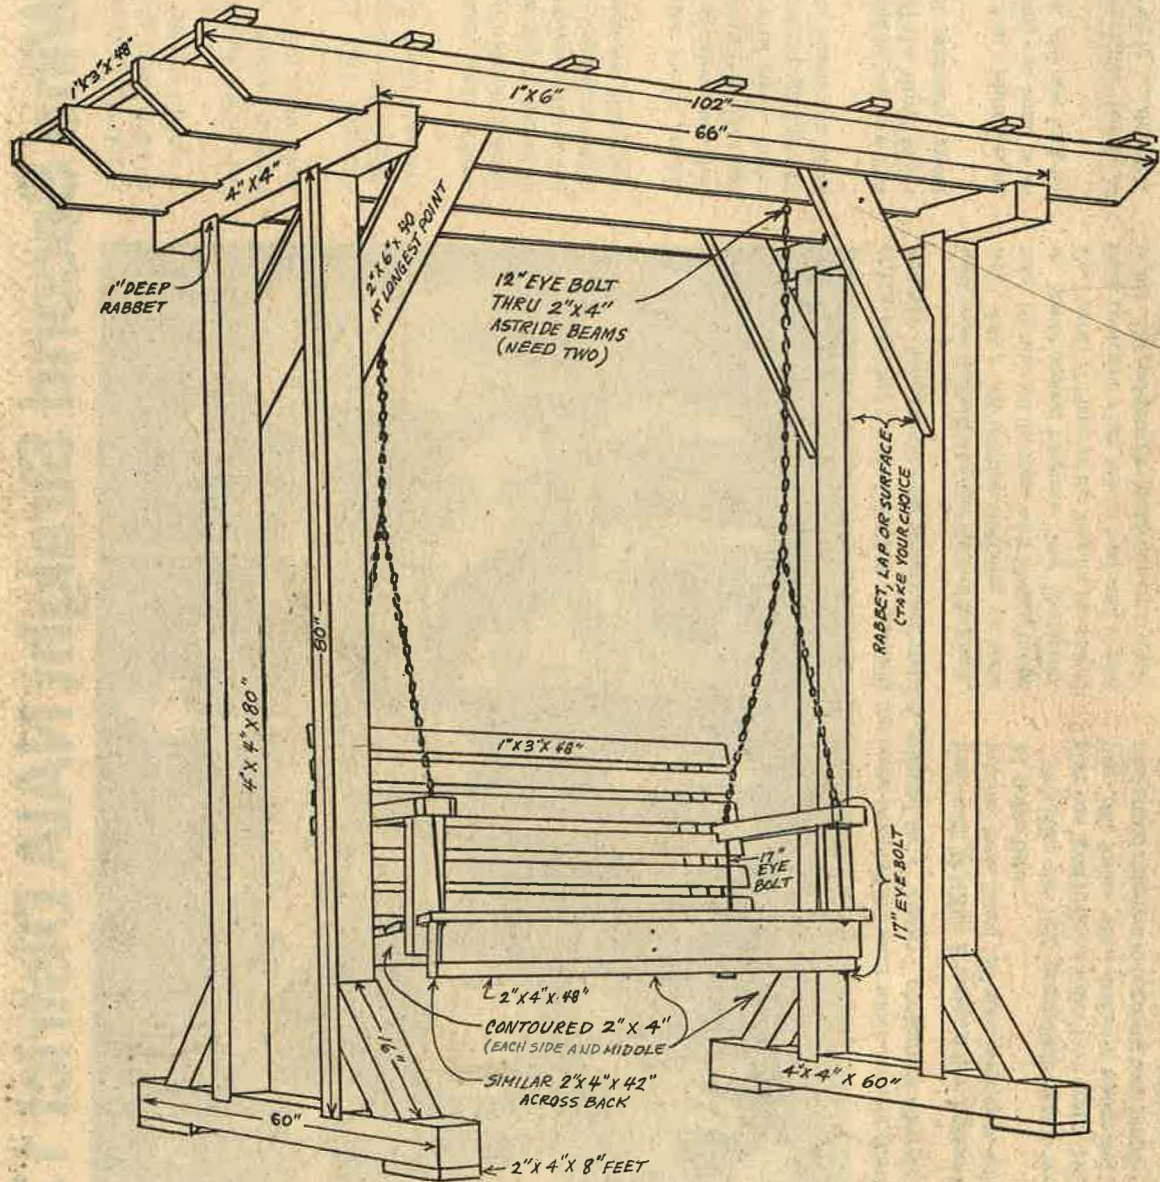

In the NAIA District 17 tournament Wallis defeated John Balderee of Southern Arkansas, 6-4, 6-0, to win the number three singles finale. Wood teamed with sophomore Jorge Woog to down Arkansas Tech's Colin Davis and Marc Harsdorf 7-5, 7-5 in the number two doubles.

In doubles play Harding had teams in all three finals but only Wood and Woog emerged as winner. Wallis and Jittimaporn fell to Arkansas Tech's Smith and Steve Beckley, 6-4, 6-7, 3-6 at number one.
