Speaker Will Once Governor of Arkansas and University of California President

Dr. Charles Hillman Brough, former governor of Arkansas, and University of California president, will speak before the assembly Tuesday evening, May 17. Dr. Brough is a man of wide ranging experience. Sonitus will be given at the assembly by one of the prominent educators of the nation. Dr. Brough will speak on the story of the homeless pigeon, a subject that has an almost limitless degree, under any conditions. He will speak on the subject from Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. He will tell of his home in girl scouts, his work as a missionary, and his personal travel over oceans, and little pleasant entertainment.

Good Prospect For Track Next Year

Another state track meet has passed with no contests from Harding University. Harding is the only college in the state in the Athletic Association which has not sent contestants to the state at one time or the other. With the all of the athletic teams and the students of the state, the university has a good record for the past season. The students of the university are watching our progress in the coming year with great interest. The students of the university are watching our progress in the coming year with great interest.

I'm the Gink

I'm the Gink who takes a great delight in tearing rounds against the tennis court rain or shine. When I was a 19 year old, I used to sling good mud on fresh painted walls and the same in- famelary practices has been sub- liminalized. Now I draw up my feet prints out there on the court where nobody can wonder whose they are. A few days ago I stopped the damages and to top it all, I was near enough when they discovered it to hear "em call me names.

But I'm young when nobody is looking my nub and I play in vagrant places. It is too bad to have such a bright time to hunt all over the town, it is not worth the while. What do we care about the things we are not aware of when boys working through this the same time the events is ships all the time. I don't pretend to find anyone for anybody, either I'm the Gink. —The Boywestern.

BISON BELLOWS

FRANK B. PORTER

What party does your husband belong to? What party do you belong to? It seemed the fountains of the great northern stream were open; the windows of heaven were open; air was upon the earth for several hours.

The crossfelled and despairing reporter, having decided that all hope for any news event had vanished for the day, trudged wearily down the sidewalk of the Ad building dreaming the miserable walk home through the rain. As he approached the west door of the Ad building learning order to the girl's dormitory he heard a weary sigh in a feminine voice, "Oh, dear.

Looking up he saw Miss Alta Exton, in a very possible and disgusted mood.

"Miss Exton! Do you intend to involve the residence hall if you desire to escape from the Ad building before the kilts have been turned in?"

Again he made his "Dear" from the same feminine voice.

"No, I mean that I was so brightened up for he knew his character was playing a success of a kind in view of the great opportunity that he started an interview by. For twenty years he had been a student at the university."

"Oh, dear," said Miss Exton in a tone of Gayle. "Oh dear!" in such a tone of voice suelty must be confessed the important part of the day.

"Ruby—No, he caught me with another boy.

"Otto. I have been reading some articles here—everything I breathe a man down.

Fiends Who Leave

One of the most striking activities of the W. H. C. Club this year was the Friday morning of an eight-thirty when a formal breakfast was held at the President's Club house. The table was beautifully arranged, having candles for lighting which shed a soft and mellow glow. The breakfast was served at Presley'swhich shed a soft and mellow glow. The new ties was performed the girls which added further to the surroundings. Anybody who visited the breakfast in the room in a house.
