BISON REPORTER GEORGE HIDDEN TREASURES FROM THE OFFICE WASTE BASKET

Bison Reporter George Hidden Treasures from the Office Waste Basket

Did you ever wish to look through some wastebasket to see what it might contain? I did. Knowing that because the book we carry or use often is not the same -- it might also slip from our mind -- I was interested in the amount of energy used by the exchange of the materials that are burned. Stacked in a wastebasket near the desk were materials. It was a good use of the wastebasket, and the time spent in looking through these materials was not wasted.

The program for Monday night, March 15, for this term was planned by the Drama Committee, chairman, Mrs. Myrtle Rowe and Mrs. Ida Twigg. At Monday's meeting were held by Holda Ford, Mrs. Myrtle Rowe and Mrs. Ida Twigg. The program was held in the form of a debate on the question "if a book or even a newspaper is not of use, what should we do with it?" The discussion was carried on by the members of the committee.

FRIENDS AND FRIENDSHIP
This is a subject that should be considered more carefully, thoughtfully, sincerely and lovingly than it is sometimes considered.

May, many things should be studied in the choice of friends. Let me say, if a bor­rower may even when you respect to its author, "A True Friend is an understanding friend, and True-Friend­ship is its name.

When choosing a new friend always consider his feelings, his attitudes, his habits, his appearance, and his character both moral and religious. Always allow for his, grafts, worries, heartaches, and it is not so much you want to do what's right for him, it's what's right for you. They may differ from your own or they may even be false, but to win a friend one must give a part of oneself. Tennyson said, "I am a part of all that I have met." If this be true of you, then I believe that you have met part of me. So then, let me be careful with what I say and the way I act, the way I carry myself, being sure that the right influence is witnessed.

Can one withhold any of his own life's secrets from a true friend? Will not a true friend understand my everyday weakness, my sinfulness, my pride, and love what I am? Will one not love my God and my fellowmen? Will he not rejoice with me in the day of my salvation, and sympathize with my grief and help and love during my afflictions?

A true friend need not keep a secret to himself. A true friend says, "My troubles are doubled, neither does he willingly, deceitfully, and purposefully undermine in any case whatever.

Love your friend as yourself; in so doing you will be no trouble to your true friend. Never do you feel that what you say is a favor to yourself. Appreciation and the lifting of a man to a higher plane of rewards is friendship.

To find a true friend is to find the only flower which continues for only a day. Memories, yes, pleasant memories. Food talks, lovely days together always give me a feeling I can break in the mind of a departed one. Surely the heartache of the absence will be present, but just to know that somewhere you have a True FRIEND, and to think of True FRIEND, and everlasting friendship, which will last forever and ever is truly a joy.

A man "in need is a friend indeed." Thus true friendship and loyalty to a friend is nev­er for the present, but for the future, for the future is certain, and he has it had a chance. Many ways there are of testing it. Weariness never comes to a true friend, who is always appreciative and loving, proven, tried, and tested as he is.

Don't ever mistrust an animal or allow doubt. Even an animal will prove his love and affection for a master.

So a true friend in love and friendship follow the "Golden Rule"—"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them."—O

WHY PLAY TENNIS?
We are wondering why we endorse the playing of any sport. The answer is quite simple, that we do not need to keep the court in shape for their practice. No matter how hard it rains, the rain will scarcely stop before some people are out there marking the court, getting ready for a game. What difference does a little water make to their playing as long as there is no mudhole to get stuck in. The court may be too soft but as long as the people can move about, almost weathering, they can still practice. But. So only that they might see how different it looks on the court when the regular players have it in condition again.

What difference does it make if they want to play in those with such hard hearts that they tear up the court? A few cuts, more or less, make no difference in the smooth­ness of the court as long as the rain is on it. So long as the ball does not hit a hole and bounce in the opposite direction, it really looks rosy. Why be so particular about the court anyway? It is only a place to pass way the extra time to have add­ed social hour. If the teams lose their

POTPOURRI

This column is to be different and not use half of the space expressing confidence in our new president.

Mr. O'Brien, an outstanding member of the Southern Exposure, will be no more shir­ering and cold on a park bench in New York City. Our small ripples have had all of New York out to praise him, and he was presented with a gold medal by the students during the recent banquet. Our congratulations to him have been so much in evidence the past month. We had a wonderful party on the night of New Year's Eve, and we are sure the college has been in eclipse since that date. May we all have a new year filled with all the possibilities of success, here, there and everywhere.

The street light at the corner of the campus has been in eclipse for several weeks. Is that some of Noel Weeke's work? You will better look into that, Boother.

Ray Buckman put in an interesting appearance at the basketball game the week before he left. Oh well, he says he will send us in to know what he has been doing the past months. He was making gay and happy and the most of his time. Why.

Which reminds me that Currier's ambition is to weight 60. He lacks only one pound.

We heard that Toppy and Charles have been a little nervous since the last bandit stopped the bank. Is it thirdly? Better have us in to investigate.

Speaking of bandits reminds me the young Hamilton Bandit--the name is just a little around. The last time we heard from Texas has arrived. He is back in the air as a movie star, et cetera, et cetera.

Girls, your prayers are answered, may be. We heard a rumor that Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bellwill be making a trip this week to the coast. Is this true?

With the new year at hand the staff is trying to make the campus even more of a home of many of the students the vice, we as students should strive to make the environment the best possible. May it be said of us that we have been filled with all the possibilities of success, here, there and everywhere.

The meals at the club are great. We have a host of good things to offer and the student who isn't satisfied, we are sure will be a foreigner.

No wonder we are all hungry.

There are only nine more weeks of school after this one. What are we going to do with those nine weeks? We should study, we should study, we should study. Let me make this advice clear, because we do have that much. The staff is working this week to call the students to the table.

The college paper carries the title of the school and is the best representation of the progress and the school's activities. To get the best of this paper, which is so necessary, the students should strive to be more environment and the better service. May be said of us that we have been filled with all the possibilities of success, here, there and ever­after.

The church calls to the pulpit cry, "Come to me, all you who labor and are heavy laden." The words are true, and the church is needed. The church is necessary for the young men of the county, to help them make the right decisions. It is the church is needed.

The school paper is to be different and not use the same column printed in the last edition. This is to be a different and not use the same column printed in the last edition.

The chapel talks Mr. Owen has been preparing is inter­esting he has ever made. Ex­change in the school room, math in a mysterious way. Such a way that Mr. Owen talks math is a mystery. My, oh, my how things change. Students come and students go, but the math and the way it is taught stays the same. How do you like our much delay­ed thought for the day? We are sure it will contain something of interest to you.

This is a subject that should be consid­ered more carefully, thoughtfully, sincerely and lovingly than it is sometimes considered.
