Footnotes: Ministers & Movies

Bob Turner
Harding School of Theology

Recommended Citation

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Harding School of Theology at Scholar Works at Harding. It has been accepted for inclusion in Footnotes: Curated Resources for Ministers by an authorized administrator of Scholar Works at Harding. For more information, please contact scholarworks@harding.edu.
Colossians as a counter-cultural body the way early Christians would have done

Marianne Meye Thompson

Richard Oster, for his interest in Paul’s letters. (John Knox Press, 2008). The best, most-accessible work for getting in the text.

The books I’ve found most useful:

- The book of Colossians in a series: From Colossae to Memphis. Here are some of

Preaching Colossians
5.

60% of America. Here are a few more of my takeaways:

BT: Do you watch the credits?

BT: Is Netflix killing the communal movie-watching experience?

BT: What movie clip have you found most impactful when used in movies in churches.

Pixar,

women about women, so it can do nothing but widen our vision for leadership

DC:

BT: What are some films that every minister should watch?

BT: What are the top five movies ever?

DC: More liberally. And along with all sorts of other outside aids. Movies are, in churches.

from

Bob Turner · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA