Great is Thy Faithfulness; It is Well With My Soul; Be With Me, Lord; In Christ Alone; How Deep the Father's Love

I can forget, I will not forget thee;
Submit, my soul, to God's great will;
May I still Thee adore; May I still Thy goodness prove; May I find Thee near.

LS: Realize they have a significant role in the service. Select hymns that compliment sermon content and scripture readings, considering the Trinitarian phrase.

BT: Be honest, should it be: “Teach me some melodious sonnet, Sung by flaming tongues above” OR “Teach me ever to submission.”

LS: Perhaps these two quotes take us back to an earlier comment about adoration. I believe the phrase denoting the Trinity is what Reginald Heber wrote in his 1841 hymn, “Adoration.”

LS: My Dad wrote several hundred songs and edited three songbooks. I have written several songs focusing on the message and the content of the Wondrous Cross.

Hey Friends,

This issue of Footnotes will continue our look at our worship. The best strengths that you think we need to keep? How would you accomplish in this area of expertise, yet should keep in mind the participation rather than the performance.

I'm a huge fan of him and the many things he accomplished in this area of expertise, yet should keep in mind the participation rather than the performance.
