THE LIFESTYLE OF JESUS

According to the Gospel of Mark

"Walking Life's Path in the Footprints of Jesus"

Harding University's 65th Annual
Bible Lectureship
October 2-5, 1988

The historic mission of Harding University has been the true integration of faith, learning and living. We place a deep emphasis on spiritual development which permeates every aspect of life at Harding. The annual Bible Lectureship is one of the ways we demonstrate this emphasis on spiritual development.

The 65th Annual Bible Lectureship, "The Lifestyle of Jesus," will highlight the Gospel of Mark. The lectures and classes will present the imperative need for "walking life's path in the footprints of Jesus."

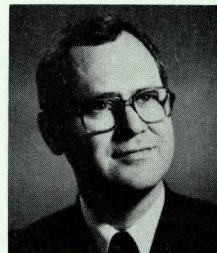

David B. Burks
President

In a real sense the 1988 Bible Lectureship reflects what churches of Christ ideally aspire to be and what the College of Bible and Religion seeks to produce—biblically-rooted thought and action. The focus of this Lectureship is the Gospel of Mark, which has as its centerpiece a Savior who was faithful to His Father.

The speakers and teachers in this series seek to lay bare the essential message of the Gospel. It is hoped that their efforts will please God.

C. Philip Slate, Dean
College of Bible and Religion

What greater study could arrest and hold our attention for three days than this year's Lectureship theme, "The Lifestyle of Jesus According to Mark." Such a theme as this takes us in two directions: in the direction of scholarship and in the direction of service. Both directions are vital and necessary for balance in the pursuit of genuine Christianity.

May Harding University's 65th annual Bible Lectureship lead us all to follow the teachings of the text and the ideal of the Servant of men.

Eddie Cloer
Lectureship Director

— HARDING —

We think you'll like it . . .

Some people think a college education is just another step to adulthood and a career. At Harding University we think it's supposed to be a whole lot more—it's a time to learn, to grow spiritually, to discover who you are in God's creation.

Harding is committed to a strong liberal arts program which provides a solid academic foundation and classes from a variety of disciplines. The skills of critical thinking, writing, making choices and judgments, and analyzing and integrating information are crucial, and Harding emphasizes these accordingly.

With students from 48 states and 28 foreign countries, the diversity of our student body allows you to discover the world in which we live in the best way possible, one on one, friend to friend. Yes, there's freedom to learn, freedom to grow. Emphasis is placed on assisting each student to grow as an individual and to achieve his or her greatest academic potential. At Harding we put the emphasis on you.

Harding Profile . . .

FINANCIAL AID: more than 80 per cent of Harding students receive some form of financial aid. The Student Financial Services Office exists to help students and their families plan the financing of a college education. To initiate the aid process all applicants must complete the Family Financial Statement (FFS), which can be obtained from the Student Financial Services Office. Write or call the Director of Student Financial Services for further information.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: Fifteen (15) high school units with a minimum of three (3) units in English and nine (9) units from other academic courses such as mathematics, science, social studies, and foreign language are required. A "C" average or better is required and a score of 17 on the ACT or 750 on the SAT is recommended. Transfer students need to have an overall "C" average or better on all work attempted at other colleges or universities.

SCHOLARSHIPS: Each year Harding selects from among its most outstanding applicant candidates for academic scholarships. Included are:

Harding Academic Scholarships — Students must send the ACT or SAT test results to Harding. Those with ACT scores of 20-23 or SAT scores of 840-970, or above, will receive scholarships.

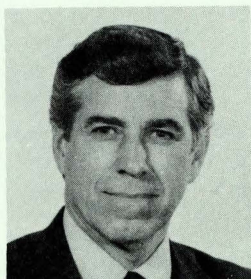

Valedictorian or Salutatorian Scholarships — Students must have their high school officially notify the Harding Director of Admissions of their award to be considered.

Trustee Scholarships — Students earning 30 or above on the ACT or 1260 or above on the SAT qualify. Contact the Admission Services Office for information concerning the guidelines which apply. Substantial scholarships will be offered.

AFRICAN CHRISTIAN HOSPITALS FOUNDATION

PROMOTING MEDICAL MISSION WORK

Glenn Boyd

Dear Friends,

We can be thankful for the medical mission work being done in Nigeria and Ghana, West Africa, that is supported by churches of Christ in this country. These are areas of the world presently very receptive to the gospel of Christ and, at the same time, greatly in need of medical help.

The medical programs in these two countries alone will care for more than 40,000 patients in one year and will minister to their spiritual needs as well.

The African Christian Hospitals Foundation is a non-profit organization made up of 56 active members of the Lord's church, whose purpose is to promote mission work through the use of medicine administered by Christian doctors and nurses.

The ACHF:

avoids being a missionary society by insisting that all missionaries be sent by a sponsoring church.

has as its goal to present Christ in every phase of its work.

receives and distributes funds, medical supplies and equipment, recruits doctors and nurses, and seeks churches of Christ to assume their oversight and support.

is currently involved in two works—the Nigerian Christian Hospital and the Kumasi, Ghana, health care center.

endeavors to serve as a resource center for Christians interested in any of the medical works of our brotherhood.

takes seriously the judgment scene of Matthew 25, "Inasmuch as you did it unto the least of these, my brethren, you did it unto me."

In order to carry on this work we need your assistance.

- Send us names of Christian medical professionals in your congregation.
- Send monthly contributions to help purchase medicine and supplies.
- Talk with elders and missions committee about your congregation becoming involved in this program.
- Pray for the missionaries who are faithfully serving in these places, healing the sick, exposing themselves to all kinds of diseases, depriving themselves of many of the luxuries which we enjoy daily, in order to demonstrate the compassion of Christ.

A week-long Bible camp on the Harding University campus for young people entering 8th grade or above.

Harding University

College of Bible and Religion

The Harding University College of Bible and Religion serves all students through the required Bible courses in the liberal arts curriculum.

Many students are served more specifically by this academic division as they major in biblical areas of study and participate in student groups that are a part of the College of Bible and Religion.

The College of Bible and Religion seeks to equip each student with a knowledge of the Bible so that the student's life will be firmly founded upon a personal Christian faith. It seeks to help the student integrate biblical truth and life experience in whatever field of study he has chosen.

The twenty faculty members include a visiting professor of missions who comes directly from a mission area to share his experience and firsthand knowledge with students. Many students participate in mission campaigns each year.

Harding University confers the Bachelor of Arts degree of the Bachelor of Science degree on students who complete the required curriculum in Bible. During the 1987-88 school year, 131 students declared majors in Bible and biblical languages.

The School of Biblical Studies, located on the Harding campus, is an intense program designed to train men who are over twenty-one years of age in the field of preaching and missions. Students range from high school graduates to those holding graduate degrees. A diploma is conferred upon successful completion of this two-year program.

The Graduate School of Bible and Religion in Memphis, Tennessee, confers the following degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Arts in Religion, Master of Theology, and Doctor of Ministry. Its 1988 graduates include thirty-four who are working in the United States and one foreign country.
