JU-GO-JU CLUB PRESENT PROGRAM AT CHAPEL HOUR

Saturday Student Chapel
Programs Resumed
This Morning

To Follow Devotional

Schedule Being Arranged
So All Organizations
May Have Part

Following the custom of former years, Saturday chapel programs will be in charge of the students, according to a recent announcement made by President J. N. Armstrong to the student body.

The programs are to be so arranged as to be presented immediately following the devotional services and to be concluded by the regular hour, ten-thirty. A schedule of programs is being arranged so that the various clubs, classes, and other organizations may all be represented.

The first chapel program of the year was given this morning by the members of the Ju-Go-Ju Club. Carrying out the symbol of the club, this group of Japanese girls dressed themselves in beautiful kimonos and wore lovely chrysanthemums in their hair.

An announcement of the program was given by Miss Thelma Bradley of Morrilton, president, who told of the symbol of the club and gave an outline of the program that followed. As the curtain opened the group of Japanese maidens were found seated in the back center of the stage singing the theme song "The Japanese Natives" to the tune of "The Japanese Sandman." Miss Allene Mitchell of Ita Bena, Mississippi, accompanied as pianist.

Miss Lois Anderson of Blackwell, Oklahoma, a very talented musician of the Ju-Go-Ju Club, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Evans of Little Rock, gave a saxophone solo. This was followed by a medley of popular selections by Miss Allene Mitchell.

The feature event of the program followed when Miss Dona Pursley of Miami, Texas read "That Ole' Sweetheart O' Mine," by James Whitcomb Riley. Miss Lois Anderson accompanied her with soft strains of piano music while the reading was acted in pantomime carrying out the different periods and stages of life.

Then, as the concluding scene, the old father and mother appeared, gray and stooped from the burdens and cares of the past years.

Press Club Holds First Meeting

Press Club met Tuesday, October 2 to organize and discuss plans for the school year. Staff members are Herman Branton, editor, and Miss Eunice McNeelis, business manager. Mr. Branton has had two years experience on the Arkansas Gazette and six months publicity work, and is capable of handling his position. Miss McNeelis was advertising manager of the Bison last year and has already proven herself valuable to the paper.

Several old members of the Press Club are back to serve in their various positions on the staff. Many others have lettered.

Harding Academy Capably Organized

Professor R. N. Gardner
Is Principal of College
Prep School

The Academy of Harding College has been organized very efficiently. Because of crowded conditions at Morrilton, it was almost impossible to organize properly, but with the large amount of room available here this was speedily done.

Professor R. N. Gardner, a very able and experienced teacher, is principal of the Academy. Last year, Professor Gardner was principal of Greenleaf High School at Coldwater, Mississippi. He has been a teacher for many years and has the reputation of being a very capable school man. Professor Gardner is assisted by Professor L. E. Pryor, who was principal of the Academy last year.

Twenty-one and three-fourth units of standard high school work is being offered this year. These courses include two units in Latin, two in French, two in Home Economics, one in typing, one in shorthand, one in bookkeeping, one in algebra, one in plain geometry, four in English, four in history, and three-fourths unit in Bible.

Not only is there a great variety in the Academy courses, but also several very efficient teachers who will instruct the students. Professor Gardner teaches English, mathematics and Bible, assisted by Miss Martha Starnes and Mr. Billy Norris in English and Mr. Walden Gardner in mathematics. Professor S. A. Bell teaches biology and is assisted by Mr. Paul Sevedge in general science. Professor Ethel McClure is the teacher of home economics. Professor Pryor teaches history, assisted by Mr. Frank Rhodes and Mr. Henry Pierce. In the foreign language department, Mr. Leonard Johnson teaches Latin and Mr. S. P. Durran, French. Miss Constance Renfro is the teacher of the commercial subjects.

The Academy of Harding College is rated by the State Department of Education as equal to other schools in the state. Credits made in the Academy are valid wherever they are taken.

Enrollment Shows Decided Increase

More Than 400 Students Have Been Enrolled at Harding

Four hundred students enrolled in Harding College on Tuesday, September 25th, and the two succeeding days represents a substantial increase in the College departments and a small increase in the Academy. The Junior high school and intermediate grades show a slight decrease in enrollment and the primary department has a large decrease, only a few students entering compared with 43 last year. Seventy-six students have entered from Searcy and other White county communities. This is an increase of 117 per cent over the number of local students who attended Harding last year.

The formal opening of Harding College in Searcy was held on Wednesday morning, September 26, in the college auditorium. The program was opened with an invocation by Prof. B. F. Rhodes. Splendid addresses were delivered by President J. N. Armstrong, Judge Stephen Brundidge, Dr. F. E. Dodson, and Dr. G. C. Brewer. Three musical numbers were interspersed between the speeches. The benediction was pronounced by Prof. R. N. Gardner.

On the following Thursday afternoon the students and faculty members were guests of the citizens of Searcy on an automobile ride. This ride included trips over Searcy and to nearby towns. Raymond Young and Claude Click visited in Little Rock last Monday. They visited Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Click, Claude's parents, who are there on business. Mr. and Mrs. Click brought the boys back, paying a return visit to Harding.

Even Monkeys At a Zoo Cannot Compare With Harding Boys

Feed the monkeys and watch them eat. That seemed to be the main line of thought at the football game between Searcy and Walnut Ridge last Friday afternoon—at least among Harding College students and the junior high school girls. The boys, or monkeys, sat in the stands, the girls threw candy to them, and a grand free-for-all ensued. It was rumored, however, that said boys were not monkeys, but instead belonged to the more foolish of the human race. Incidentally, one of the leaders in this catch-as-catch-can is supposed to be engaged to a girl in Oklahoma City. What power do these Searcy girls have over these college men?

Then, it is rumored that Walnut Ridge has a most beautiful pep leader. In fact, she was so beautiful that several college men missed a whole half of the game trying to get in the pep squad. It is also said that one boy in particular was in a mood to test his lungs in that organization.

Well, anyhow, here's to a bigger and better five cent candy bar, more foolish college students, and, especially, more beautiful pep leaders. You see, even a reorter might be one of those who missed half of the game.

Harding Faculty Is Strengthened

Addition of Thirteen
Teachers Will Improve
College Teaching Staff.

The faculty of Harding College has been strengthened this fall by the addition of thirteen teachers.

Mr. Weldon Lacy replaces Mr. J. C. Andrews in the Business Administration department. Mr. Lacy is a graduate of Texas Christian University and completed his master's degree at the University of Texas.

Miss Elna Browning, head of the department of Mathematics, attended Freed-Hardeman College. Later she received her B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Tennessee, graduating with high honors.

Dr. S. J. Carpenter is head of the Biological department. He holds two degrees, a B.S. degree from Mellidan College and an M.S. degree from the University of Ohio, and has also completed residence work on his Ph.D.

Miss Elizabeth Nash is teaching in the position of Dean L. C. Sears, while he is on leave of absence. The fine arts department has three new professors: Mr. T. H. Hughes, voice instructor; Miss Lois Albright, piano and violin instructor; and Mr. Earnest M. Wright, instructor in art.

Two former teachers are again with the faculty this year. They are Mr. R. N. Gardner and Dr. Callie Mae Coons. Mr. Gardner has been teaching in Mississippi. Mr. L. J. Ballard is coach of athletics. Mr. Ballard has had much experience in coaching and promises that all forms of athletics will be offered at Harding.

Miss Catherine Score is librarian of the College. She has studied in Trondheim, Norway and has held many reputable positions as librarian in this state.

Now We Believe Love Is Both Blind and Deaf

Learned men of all races have told us that love is minus the very desirable sense of sight but I, only a poor, uneducated scribe, am forced to believe and declare to you that it is also deaf.

As evidence of that fact let me cite the case of King George and Harriet. It seems that Harriet was saving King George a chair at one of the tables nearest the door, and that he not only walked past her without seeing her, but also went on down to the opposite end of the

SOPHS, JUNIORS AND PREPS LEAD IN BISON SALES

Leaders Have 1,245 Point
Margin Over Fresh-
Senior Team

Wednesday Last Day

Winners In Contest Will Be Given Moonlight
Picnic

After trailing the first day, the Sophomore, Junior and Academy team forged into the lead in The Bison subscription contest, and has held a substantial margin ever since. Yesterday they led the Senior-Freshman team by 1245 points.

The contest which opened last week is based on the number of subscriptions obtained by each team. On the first day of the contest any subscription turned in counted 150 points in the contest. On the second day the count decreases ten votes, and each succeeding day of the contest the count drops ten more votes. However, any out-of-town subscription, or any subscription obtained from residents of Searcy who have no children in the College, will count 150 votes at any time they are turned in.

Today any subscription turned in will count 70 points. The contest will be closed next Wednesday, and votes on the final day will count only 40 points.

The contest has been in charge of the Press Club, working through a committee in each class. These committees are soliciting the members of their respective classes, and are urging that each student write home for an out-of-town subscription.

Members of the committee are as follows: Freshmen — Herman Branton, Sam Peebles, Miss Ama Lou Murphree and Owen Pearce; Sophomores—Miss Mildred Majors, George Ford and Charles Pitner; Juniors—Miss Dona Pursley, Miss Eunice McNeelis and O. P. Baird; Seniors — Frank Rhodes, Albert Hawkins and Miss Eva Lee Bradley.

Miss Murphree, freshman committee member, leads in individual subscriptions, with $27.00. Second in the individual race is Charles Pitner, who has turned in 18.50 worth of subscriptions.

The goal the teams have to shoot at is an outing to be given the winning team by the losers. It will be given on the first bright, moonlight night after the contest has closed.

This year The Bison has been expanded from a five column to a six column paper, thus allowing a much greater variety of makeup, and the carrying of more news.

Large Attendance At Choral Club Meeting

The first meeting of the Choral Club was held last night at seven o'clock in the auditorium with a splendid number attending.

Professor Thomas Francis Hughes has the work well outlined for the year and is interested especially in getting Searcy people to help with this work. He has talked to several town people and has been greatly encouraged. The outstanding work planned for this club is the rendering of as many selections as possible from "The Messiah."

Fine Talk Given Students by Dykes

His Subject, "The Bible," Is Handled In Interesting Manner

A fine talk was given by Harvey Dykes of Oklahoma City in chapel Thursday morning, Oct. 4. His subject was "The Bible" and he handled it in a very unique and interesting manner. He showed that it is "The Book of Books" in two ways, namely in that it contains 66 books in one volume, and that it is the outstanding book of all ages, which shall stand ever after all other books have passed away. He also gave some paradoxes about the Bible. For example: It is the most hated, yet most loved; it is divine, yet it is human.

It is good to have a number of the student preachers of last year back and to have several new recruits added to the group. They are expected to turn out and to do a great work in this state. There are any number of small towns near Searcy which have no church congregation, but in a short while they will be evangelized and the Kingdom established.

A new class, Christian Education, has been formed, and is meeting at 9:00 a. m. each day. The purpose of the class is to train and develop teachers, who not only proclaim publicly, but also especially nurture and cultivate the spiritual side of man in the church. This is a splendid class for ladies as well as for young preachers.

Club Organizes To Study the Drama

The Campus Players, College Dramatic Club, to Enter State Meet

On the evening of Saturday, Oct. 6, Harding's dramatic club, The Campus Players, assembled for the purpose of organization for the study and production of the drama. The club convened for the first regular meeting Tuesday, Oct. 9.

The fee for membership is small and includes a free lyceum ticket for the entire scholastic year, all make-up materials, and other incidentals. Anyone interested in dramatics cannot find better dramatic training than can be obtained with The Campus Players, and for such a small sum the cost is negligible in comparison with the benefit derived.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 23 the first presentation of the club will be given, consisting of three one act plays. During the year each member will be required to take a prominent part in at least one three act play and one short play. Last year the players presented eight three act plays and fifteen one act plays. Mrs. Armstrong, the director, one of the most outstanding dramatic directors in the state, hopes to at least equal last year's accomplishment in the number of plays produced.

"The club expects," Mrs. Armstrong said, "to enter the state Little Theatre tournament again this year with at least one play."

The Campus Players is the only organization of its kind in the state which is allowed as many as three plays in the tournament. They can enter one play each for the college, the academy, and the city of Searcy. Citizens of Searcy will be admitted into the club, and greatest success of the club can be attained only through the thorough co-operation of the people of the town.

Harding College is proud of the dramatic club. It provides for the students a type of entertainment which is unsurpassed, and give them an appreciation of the best in the field of the drama. Besides this possibly no other one thing gives Harding more publicity in and out of the state of Arkansas than the splendid work of The Campus Players.

The T. N. T. Club, a boys' social organization, plan to have a sunrise breakfast Monday morning.

He has been a member of the Debating Team, the Dramatic Club, and is a member of the Press Club this year for the first time. Last year Mr. Norris coached the baseball team, and in 1931 he was a member of the football team. He will serve as business manager of the Petit Jean, Harding College annual, until the return of Carroll Trent, who is ill. All four years Mr. Norris has been a member of the Sub T-16 Club. Mr. Norris, who is studying the drama, has been a very outstanding student.

Mr. Graham entered Harding in 1931 as a freshman, attended David Lipscomb College in 1932, and returned to Harding last year. He is a member of the Dramatic Club, and is studying for the ministry. Mr. Graham is also a member of the Sub T-16 Club.

Last year she served as secretary-treasurer of the Junior class, and she is also secretary-treasurer of the Ju-Go-Ju Club. Miss Bradley has been an active member of the Press Club since 1932. She has also been secretary to Deah L. C. Sears for the past three years.

Junior Class Elects.
Miss Gertrude Paine, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paine of Atlanta, Ga., and the niece of Mrs. J. N. Armstrong, was selected to serve as president of the Junior class. Miss Paine was honor student of Harding College in 1932 and '33. She is president of the W. H. C. Club, and has been an active member of the Press Club for the past three years.

A day student, Mr. J. T. Gilliam, son of Mrs. Dora Armspugh of Searcy, won the election for vice-president of the class. Mr. Gilliam is a transfer student from Oklahoma Baptist University, and is expected to take a leading part in campus activities.

Miss Eunice McNeelis was elected secretary-treasurer of the class. She is the daughter of Mrs. Allie B. Meacham of Brunswick, Tenn. Miss McNeelis was president of the W. H. C. Club last year, and is still one of the most popular members. She has been a member of the Press Club for the last two years, holding the position of advertising manager for The Bison, student publication.

Reporter for the class is Miss Eloise Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Coleman of Springfield, Tenn. Miss Coleman attended David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn., for the past two years.

Miss Elna Browning, who was elected sponsor, comes to Harding this year as professor of mathematics, having served for the last three years as mathematics in-

THIS IS YOUR PAPER

We hope that YOU, the readers, and our supporters, will like this first issue of The Bison. We have worked under many difficulties in order that we might give you an excellent and an interesting paper, and we believe that we have succeeded.

The Bison is distinctly YOUR paper, and as such you should have a great interest in its welfare, and in the work it has done and is planning to do. Your strongest support in the subscription contest now underway will show the staff, who have labored diligently for your benefit, just how much you appreciate their efforts.

This year The Bison has enlarged its size to six columns. A much greater variety of make-up, and the carrying of more news, is thus made possible. The combining of several columns on the editorial page, and the addition of others, we believe will prove more interesting, and give you readers more pleasant reading than before.

An enlarged sport page should prove interesting to a number of our readers. Up-to-the-minute news, combined with timely remarks through a regular sport column, Horn and Hoof, should hold the attention of every sport fan.

Thus, you may see that we are doing everything possible to give you an interesting, "newsy" paper. We trust that you have enjoyed it, as we have enjoyed publishing it for you. We only solicit your sincere cooperation, and your whole-hearted support for The Bison, YOUR newspaper, during the coming year.

THE SEARCY WELCOME

On Thursday afternoon, September 27, the citizens of Searcy, decorating their automobiles in orange and black—darning's colors—donated their automobiles and their afternoon to taking the students of Harding on a "parade-tour" of Searcy and the adjoining communities.

This was one of the most gracious things which anyone has ever done for us. We were made to feel more than welcome to our newly-entered town by this kindness and thoughtfulness on their part. Since coming to Searcy, this spirit has been manifested toward us from all sides and this spirit of earnest co-operation has not been passed unnoticed.

SAVE A LIFE

In order to publish The Bison we must have money. That money comes from the advertisements that are secured from the business men of Searcy. Since they supply the necessary funds for this publication, we are under obligation to them.

As students of Harding College it is our duty to trade with the business houses that advertise in the paper.

If we do not do this, these people will lose faith in us and withdraw their support. Thus our paper fails, and we lose one of the greatest agencies of the school.

So students and faculty let's trade with our advertisers! What would you do if your life depended on doing a certain thing? You would do it, of course. The life of the Bison depends on your doing something. I wonder if you are willing to do it? It is your paper and consequently your duty to see that it lives.

The advertisements paid for by the business men of Searcy supply the funds to keep it going. Then your duty is to repay these men by trading with them.

Now is that too much for you to do? I think not. So then, let's all, students and faculty, trade with our advertisers.

HEAR AND THEIR

By Charles Paine and J. D. Bale

Unless Ama Lou "Take-Them-as-They-Come" Murphree slackens her pace she'll run out of boys before Christmas, but we do appreciate her willingness to give us all a chance.

Gene Pace seems to have the same attitude as Ama Lou. But beware, Gene, don't go too far.

"Alas! If all men were but wise
And would be good as well.
The earth would be a Paradise
Where now 'tis mostly hell."

That long period of time which passes between June and September has seemingly had no effect upon the affections of Mary Murphy and Walden Gardner.

Harriet Kelly in Christian Education, was telling what a fine field Hawaii was for missionaries. Perhaps she intends to take King George over there.

Someone said that they wished Frank Rhodes would cease casting his eyes in the same direction that theirs were already cast.

If you work on your criticisms instead of resting upon the praise which you receive, you will get farther in this glo world.

When some of the boys were wondering who was to be next in Ama Lou's line of attack Klingman Prentice remarked that it was not going to be him. How did he guess it!

If we had been in town all summer with Sam Bell we, too, might have had some candy thrown our way at the football game. Give us a chance, Sam.

We notice that the boys from "Big Stable" are matriculating among many different girls, at this stage of the game. Variety is the spice of life, fellows—that is, if you do not get too much spice.

We have also inherited, from the Galloway College, a vast army of 60 horse powered mosquitoes, which carry on incessant attacks nightly.

It looks as if Allene Mitchell and Avalyn Baucum will have to pine away, because Courtney Ryland has to work social hour nights. Tough break, Courtney! Perhaps you can find a substitute.

He who tendeth not his own business will not get it attended to properly.

Hereby, let it be known that that master fiend, Frank Rhodes, has released all responsibility for the scandal which appears in this Bison.

At last we have discovered the reason that the opening of the swimming pool has been delayed. The coach is learning how to swim. Daily he can manfully be seen struggling with this most noble art. Hurry up, Coach.

When Miss Lowery, in Press Club, asked if anyone had had any experience, someone chirped up and said, "Yes, but not with newspapers."

By the large number of students in the first year Greek class we have drawn the conclusion that the Freshmen are greener than usual.

And who is it that cannot be persuaded that Jess Anderson and Charles Paine are not twins as she supposes them to be.

It is rumored that Jim Harding has already promised undying affections for Ama (what a woman) Lou.

It is an honorable thing to go to Church when it is for other reasons than just to sit by some beautiful babe. (Or the fairest of fair.)

Whence came the groaning that came with the clamping down of the rules.

A clean mind in a sound body—the aspiration of every real man.

Why does Miss Conway take such a delight in ringing the bell which breaks up social hour?

For a while it looked as if Miss Lowery were popular with the boys but we now find that they are only turning in the number of hours which they have worked.

Edison may have been 98 per cent perspiration and 2 per cent genius but it is the 98 per cent which made Life Buoy Soap popular.

POT POURRI

By Frank Rhodes.

The difference between bragging and confidence in one's ability lies in the difference in results. A boast made good becomes merely an expression of confidence. For an example, we have the performance of "Dizzy" Dean. His boast that he and his brother would win forty-five games makes him a popular and colorful player since he fulfilled his promise. Moral: Make sure that you can "deliver the goods" before bragging.

Josephine Roche, if elected, will become the first woman governor of Colorado. This may be another example of woman's usefulness in public life, or may only show that Colorado, refused to profit by the example of Texas.

Since it has been proved that colored lights affect people's moods, maybe the romantic ideas connected with the moon aren't entirely a fable after all. Before long we may have blue light to cure boisterousness, rose colored bulbs to relieve melancholia, green lights to stimulate intellectual activity, etc.

Champions in all forms of sport and leaders in public life have some man to whom they owe, to a large extent, their success. Dempsey had his Kearns, Schmeling his Joe Jacobs, Henry IV his Richelieu, and Roosevelt has his "Loulie" Howe. This shows that there is a place for everybody. If you can't be the man in the headlines, perhaps you can be the one behind the scenes pushing and inspiring the champion to the heights. And yet who wouldn't rather be the champion?

Demosthenes, the great Greek orator, once stuttered; Glenn Cunningham, the "flying Kansan," has had legs weakened by burns when he was a small boy; and Bill Bonthorn, holder of the 1500 meter record has flat feet. Handicaps are only a spur to the truly great.

Thomas Edison's statement that ninety-eight per cent of the cause of his success was perspiration seems to be a contradiction of the well-known ad. But maybe he used Lifebuoy too.

A word to the people that think everything worth doing has already been done: "There will be more scientific progress in the next twenty-five years than there has been in the last thousand years."—Henry Ford.

Our idea of infinitesimal: "If you take a bar of steel an inch square and a foot long, and clamp one end of it in a vise, and a fly lights on the other end, the fly's weight will bend the bar about a millionth of an inch."—American Magazine.

Butter and Bread Must Be Dainty Morsel to Lois

It would not be a bad idea for the Self Help club to adopt the idea of rotation. Now let me tell you a little incident that happened in that club one day.

The two of them were at the table, side by side. Suddenly the boy leaned over and smiled, and then the girl pulled her chair over closer, looked up into his eyes, and after a while she smiled too. Oh, yes, lest you get the wrong impression—the boy, Le Roy Null, was feeding the girl, Lois Self, a piece of buttered bread. Now, they thought no one was looking, but I—the one that sees nothing and tells all—was there behind a bush, or something. Now, if something isn't done—and soon—Lois is going to go hog wild—about bread. She has already gained over five pounds and that hurts the pride of any of the fairer sex. As for Le Roy—well, I think he has lost some weight. Again I suggest that plan of rotation, if for nothing else but that all may have a fair chance at the food placed before them.

Charles Allen Love, an Academy graduate of last spring, is attending Jonesboro State Teachers College. He was here recently.

Feminine Fancies

By Mildred Majors

While this letter is primarily for the Freshmen women, it is what every coed should know. Of course, advice is seldom followed, but the giving of it affords the dispenser so much pleasure that this opportunity must not pass.

If you are here to enjoy the social life, be frank with yourself and get to work at it. Be friendly and be as attractive as you can. Study hard now to make a good impression on your professors so that you may drift on your reputation and pursue your social activities unhampered by your studies. If you do not succeed in making that good impression, study your professor before trying to "politic" them, for some teachers do not appreciate being "politicized."

If you have come to Harding to engage in school activities, be enthusiastic and attend all meetings to which you are eligible. Be a live wire and let the organizations know you can be depended upon. Get acquainted with the group leaders. They can give you the boost needed to win you a prominent position and to make you popular. Now don't try to be an activity leader and an A student, for that can be done by only a very few. Remember, the price for activity leadership is often low grades.

But then, you may be one of the select group which has come to college to study and make good grades. If so, then you must study the catalog, learn how to use the library, and search for students whose intellectual interests are akin to yours. Perhaps you have the least colorful career, but you will have learned how to make the insignificant important, a rare accomplishment which only the developed intellect is capable of attaining. You may still find a man. After all, the business of going ferent young women go to college for different reasons—but most of you will find your man.

Dean Sears To Chicago For Ph. D. Work.

Dean L. C. Sears has returned to Chicago, Ill., for completion of his Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago. He received his master degree at the University of Kansas. Dean Sears' course of study is Problems of Evil as Portrayed in Shakespeare's Works.

While in Chicago he is preaching for one of the north side congregations. He is expected to return to Harding and resume his duties at the end of the fall term.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Britt and son, James, moved to Searcy last Tuesday, and Mr. Britt and James were enrolled in school. Mr. Britt will prepare for the ministry and James will continue his work in the primary department.

Miss Fannie Marie Moody, former head of the music department, and teacher of piano in Harding College for the past nine years, is now teaching in her private studio in Morrilton.

Mrs. Florence M. Cathcart, primary instructor in the training school, continues to improve after an automobile accident in which both her arms were broken and other injuries sustained. She is in Wellington, Kansas, at a hospital to which she was taken after the accident in September.

Z. C. Thompson and Miss Florence Thompson were also injured in the wreck, but both have recovered and returned to their home. As soon as Mrs. Cathcart has improved sufficiently she will be taken to Harper, to the home of her brother-in-law, Z. C. Thompson.

Miss Willine Billingsley of Ash Flat came Wednesday to visit friends at Harding.

Eminent Scientists Turn to Football Athlete for Aid

Contentment mixed with a great deal of chagrin spread through the ranks of five notable scientists, Dr. Oleo Cranium Fossa, Dr. Hallucius Longus, Dr. Drosophelius Melanogastro, Dr. Hali Tosis, and Dr. Arterios Sclerosis, as they neared the completion of their great invention, the "Brain Tester." The curfew hour neared; all was ready for the tryout. The fruit of hours of deep thought and other mental acrobatics was about to be realized. But, alas and alack, not so easily was the victory to be won. The simplest sort of thing was needed—a balloon—but dire was the need.

Hardly was the problem realized than the learned ones, whose minds function with almost clock-like precision, chorused, "Search Searcy; the noble Bales and Rhodes to the rescue!" Searcy was searched, but not a balloon was to be found. So urgent was the need that neither time, money, nor energy was spared in the search. Judsonia and even Bald Knob gave no solution to the perplexing problem. What a town! What a country! Report was made to the wise ones and a wail went up. It ascended even to the top floor of the girls' dormitory, but no balloon was found.

At such times as this even great minds are prone to fail, but not to be conquered or undone were these prognosticators of science. The master minds went into a huddle. What was to be done? Efforts were again made to secure the balloon but these, likewise, proved futile. Again the huddle was formed. This time the doctors immersed in silence, but with widespread smiles. A football bladder was secured, the invention perfected, tested, and pronounced a remarkable success.

Great was the rejoicing in the ranks of the Sub Ts'.

Gardner Speaks To Congregation

The college congregation had the privilege of hearing two uplifting sermons on "The Love of God for Man" Sunday, Sept. 30. They were delivered by R. N. Gardner, a member of the faculty. He showed that man is entirely dependent upon sources of all love and the giver of all good things. He is reached through Christ by the medium of prayer.

REORGANIZATION OF SOCIAL CLUBS IS COMPLETED

Seven Groups Are Discussing and Voting on New Members

New Projects Planned

Ju-Go-Ju's Furnishing of Guest Room Is Example of Work

The seven social clubs of Harding have reorganized and are discussing and voting on new members to fill the vacancies left by students who graduated, or for other reasons could not return.

Under the able leadership of Billy Norris, skipper; Frank Rhodes, first mate; Cecil Davis, second mate; Arthur Graham, quartermaster; James Bales, chief gunner; Charles Pitner, chief engineer; Woodrow Whitten, chaplain; and Professor B. F. Rhodes, sponsor; the Sub T-16 are about ready to embark. All they need is a few deck hands and a good cook, and they will be ready to begin their eight month voyage in their sturdy submarine.

Twelve of the 1933-34 Ju-Go-Ju's are back and have been having regular weekly meetings, and attending to both old and new business. Officers are Thelma Bradley, president; Eva Lee Bradley, secretary-treasurer; Allene Mitchell, reporter; and Miss Elna Browning, sponsor. Other old members are Virginia Scott, Mildred Majors, Marjorie Hartzler, Helen Vickrey, Dona Pursley, Lois Anderson, Dorothy Evans, Frances Elliott, and Clarice Kelley.

T. N. T. Well Represented.

The high explosive club—T. N. T.'s—are well represented this year. Carroll Trent, who is the president, but is ill, will be able to return in about a month to assume his duties. During his absence Robert B. Boyd, vice-president, is proving himself a very capable leader. Old members of the club are Charles Paine, Jess Anderson, Claude Chick, Glenn Trent, Walden Gardner, Arvil Smith, Horace Baker, and W. F. Anderson. Dr. R. R. Coons, who was elected sponsor last year, is back to look after these "dangerous" lads. Last year, the first year of this club's organization, they undertook a number of worthy deeds.

The W. H. C. Club has ten old members with which to start the year. They have had several call meetings and are making plans for a great year's work. The W. H. C.'s are a lively group of young ladies who are ready to do service when called upon. Miss Maurine Rhodes, who has sponsored this club for several years, is again sponsor. Officers and regular club members are: Gertrude Paine, president; Beaulious Binion, vice-president; Mary Murphy, secretary-treasurer; Eunice McNeelis, reporter; and Nola Capps, Harriett Kelley, Jeanette Jackson, Martha Starnes, Uzella and Mabel Dykes, and Constance Renfro.

Cavaliers Riding On.

The Cavaliers are riding on with Guy Dale McReynolds as captain; LeRoy Null, first lieutenant; S. P. Durrance Jr., second lieutenant; and Mr. Weldon Lacy, sponsor. The other horsemen are Courtney Ryland, Hubert McReynolds, Albert Hawkins, Henry Hoover, Jimmie Frazee, G. B. Siebold, Charles Coleman, and Eugene Pace. Every one knows the Cavaliers as a royal brigade.

The L. C.'s are few, but each one has a position, and within a few weeks several new girls will become Spanish señoritas and real companions (Las Companeros) to the following four: Alexine Hnkins, president; Helen Morgan, vice-president; Aubrey Hewen, secretary; Ethel Fowler, treasurer; and Miss Ethel McClure, sponsor.

The J. G. Club, which for the past two years has been composed chiefly of town members, has a small representation just now, but they will be well organized soon. Old members are Lois Bell, president; Dorothy Merwin, vice-president; Mildred Dunn, secretary; and Alvalyn Baucum, treasurer. Miss Ruby Lowery will again sponsor this group.

EX-STUDENT AT JONESBORO

Mr. Reginald Smith, who attended Harding from 1932 until last spring, is now enrolled in Jonesboro State Teachers College at Jonesboro. While at Harding Reginald was a member of the Sub T-16 Club.

EXCELLENT YEAR EXPECTED IN ALL HARDING SPORTS

Hiring of L. J. Ballard As Coach Expected to Boost Interest

Lettermen to Be Back

Four Basketball and Five Baseball Veterans Return This Year

By Gene Pace.

With the hiring of L. J. Ballard as Harding College coach for this year the basketball and baseball teams should show marked improvement.

In the first place, Coach Ballard will have more time to devote to the training of the squads, and will have nothing else on his mind other than the coming game. Secondly, Coach Ballard should command more respect from his men than a student coach, and, therefore, get more work from them.

Cage Prospects Good.

The basketball squad has four lettermen back this year—Sam Bell, Cecil Davis, Guy Dale McReynolds, and Glenn Trent. From the large freshmen class, it should be an easy matter to fill the vacant positions and to furnish a plentiful supply of reserves.

On the baseball team will be five of last year's lettermen, including McReynolds, Bell, Ralph Underwood, Davis, and Billy Norris. Although the prospects for baseball are not as bright as those for basketball, an exceptionally good season is expected.

New Tennis Coach.

The tennis department will have Eugene Boyce as student coach this year. Marked improvement should be seen, for this is the first time in over a year that Harding has had a tennis coach. There are several high ranking tennis players among the upper classmen, including Frank Rhodes and McReynolds, and several contenders in the freshman ranks. The women are not to be overlooked in this field, and matches will be scheduled for them among the state colleges, if they have teams of sufficient strength to warrant such action.

Neither is the Academy to be omitted in the sports field. Plans are being completed for their basketball team, and since they are not of sufficient number to form any other team except tennis, they will devote their entire time to these two sports. Their schedule will include games with high schools near Searcy, since they have no funds to make longer trips.

For the present the student body must be satisfied with the softball, volleyball, and basketball tournaments. Incidentally, this is the first year that volleyball has been offered at Harding, and much interest is being shown in it.

Swimming Is New Sport.

This year another athletic activity will be added to Harding which has never been possible before. This is swimming. Although it will be impossible to have inter-scholastic swimming matches, inter-mural matches will be arranged after the swimming classes are organized. Much interest is being shown in this phase of sports and it should prove highly successful. Clifford Huddleston will be swimming instructor for the boys, and Miss Margaret Toler for the girls.

McReynolds-Bell Lead Bison Cage Quintet

McReynolds Elected Captain and Bell Sub-Captain Of Harding Squad; Will Form Nucleus of Team

Guy Dale McReynolds.

Sam Bell.

Guy Dale "Topy" McReynolds, who was captain of last season's Bison basketball team will lead the quintet again this season. Topy started his basketball career while still a freshman in the Harding college academy and has been outstanding at the forward position ever since.

On the court McReynolds is very fast and has an uncanny eye for the basket, dropping in goals from all positions. Probably one of his greatest years was the season of 1932-33 when he scored a total of one hundred and ninety points in fifteen college games. During the season of 1933-34 his total score was slightly lower yet he scored one hundred and seventy-five points in fourteen games while leading his team to eight victories out of the fourteen contests.

Besides basketball, McReynolds is a member of the baseball team, having played on the varsity squad for the past two years at the third base position. He is also the number one ranking tennis player of the college and served as coach of that department during the season of 1932-33, putting out a winning squad that year.

Sam Bell, one of the outstanding members of Harding's basketball teams for the past three years, will act as sub-captain of this year's Bison quintet, having filled that same position last year. In 1932-33 Bell received honorable mention for all-state forward and again last season he received the same honor.

Bell played high school basketball at Harding academy for four years, graduating to varsity competition at the end of that time, and was a member of the varsity squad during his initial year in college.

For the season of 1932-33 Bell turned in a total score of one hundred and eighty one points for fifteen games. During the season of 1933-34 he piled up a total of one hundred and seventy-three points in fourteen games. He further distinguished himself during the last season by scoring thirty points in a single game. Sam was also individual high point man in three college games last season.

Sophomores Beat Juniors, 17 to 14

Hard Hitting Lower Classmen Pound Junior Hurler to Win

The Sophomores officially opened the annual softball tournament Saturday afternoon, winning the first game of the series from the Juniors by a score of 17 to 4.

Ford, Sophomore pitcher, held the Juniors scoreless for four innings of a scheduled six inning game, and allowed only seven hits while his team mates were collecting fifteen off Underwood, his mound opponent, for seventeen runs.

The Sophs bunched six hits in the second inning, one of them a home run by Davis, for five runs. In the sixth they made four runs off three hits, one of them a circuit clout by Anderson. Two errors by the Juniors aided in the scoring. They chalked up three in the first, three in the third, and two in the fifth for their other eight runs.

The Juniors started a rally in the last inning but it was cut short by the air-tight fielding of the Sophs and the pitching of Ford. Two hits coupled with two Sophomore errors produced three runs,

Seniors Coast to Easy 25 to 4 Win Over High School Team

The Seniors won the second game of a two game series of the softball tournament Saturday afternoon by trouncing the Academy, 25 to 4.

The Seniors coasted to an easy victory behind the excellent pitching of Sam Bell, after they had collected twenty-one runs in the first three innings. Bell allowed only two hits through the scheduled six inning game while his mates were collecting twenty hits off Capps, the Academy hurler. The Seniors big inning was the third when they combined eight hits with six Academy errors to score twelve runs. They scored five runs in the first inning, four in the fourth, and four in the fifth. They were held scoreless only in the fourth inning.

The Academy started a rally in the second inning but it was cut short after two runs were scored. They ran in one score in the fourth and another in the sixth inning.

New Equipment Is Ordered by Coach

Last year the basketball squad was furnished with sweat suits for the first time in the history of the school. Only ten suits were purchased and in view of the enlarged squad this year Coach Ballard has ordered several more suits. Included in this order was several other items, including three basketballs, and four nets.

"A Friend to Harding"

HORN AND HOOF

By Gene Pace

The H club of Harding is more than an honorary club—it is a symbol of accomplishment. With the limited field of athletics only a few of the better athletes are able to earn a letter, and, of course, it is an honor and an accomplishment to do so. But the fact that every one is able to buy a letter and wear it as he chooses tends to decrease the value of those letters that are earned. If every one wore a letter the H club would be so common and undesirable an organization that no one would care to be a member. Again, the wearing of foreign letters tends to decrease the value of the H club. There is only one way to conduct the H club and that is to limit the wearing of letters to those who honestly earn them. The H club has rules and regulations that are easily understood and easy to obey, and it is this writer's opinion that anyone caught wearing a letter that he did not earn at Harding should have same forcefully taken from him!

We Want a Track Team.

Why shouldn't Harding have a track team? That question has been asked your correspondent several times and so far he has found no reason why such a team should not be organized. There is a world of good material present and there seems to be quite a bit of interest in that sport. The only thing lacking is official approval, a track, and the necessary equipment. The track would be easy to construct and could be done at a very low cost. Several of the students will offer their services if work will be started on the track and in that way the labor cost can be held down to practically nothing. The other equipment could be had at a nominal cost. That question is repeated: why shouldn't Harding have a track team this year?
