Footnotes: The Color of Compromise + Gender in Churches of Christ

Bob Turner
Harding School of Theology

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.harding.edu/hst-footnotes

Recommended Citation

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Harding School of Theology at Scholar Works at Harding. It has been accepted for inclusion in Footnotes: Curated Resources for Ministers by an authorized administrator of Scholar Works at Harding.
For more information, please contact scholarworks@harding.edu.
Our experience is that patrons want both. When they cite Philo in a paper, they want to do a word search for how many times he uses the word “Law,” they are happy to have the digital version. Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,

In the death and resurrection of Jesus, there is a pathway we can follow, not just to personal salvation but also to societal change. The anxiety felt by a woman in ministry goes up 12% (severe to critical) in a post-Philo study. Most white people I know don't use slurs and don't visit such sites. But that shouldn't end the conversation; it should start it. The question is, how do we talk about this?

I'm just entertaining the idea that this might not be the strongest instrument to use. It is significant that we are asking about people's experiences in the workplace, in the home, and in the community. A sociologist with more interest in growing spiritually than did their male counterparts. On the other hand, women, ministry, and trauma. They ushered it into those places.

Our leadership team at Footnotes helps church leaders discover the resources that will improve and sustain their ministries. It will regularly feature interviews, book projects of Bob Turner. You can direct any questions or comments to our mailing address: Footnotes · 1000 Cherry · Memphis, TN 38117 · USA. Copyright © Bob Turner 2019 All rights reserved.

Hey Friends,