SUMMER TERM TO BE TAUGHT BY PROFESSORS

Regular College Courses Will Be Included

In Schedule

Carpenter Is Head

Session Will Be Helpful for Students

To boost the summer sessions at Harding College, several members of the faculty and some students were on campus on Friday morning, April 21. J. D. Carpenter, director of the summer school, was on campus for the opening.

These faculty were Dr. W. B. Byers, Professor of Economics; Dr. Thomas Jones, Dean of the College; Dr. J. E. Karren, and Dr. Carpenter. Their presence at the opening of the summer school for the first time is not without significance, for it will indicate the interest of these professors in the work of the school.

Classes will begin June 8 and will close August 15. Students who desire to attend Harding College each week for four weeks, instead of five and to concentrate their studies in the latter part of the term, find in the summer school an excellent opportunity to do so.

As many of the courses which are given during the regular school year will be taught during the summer, students will be able to advance their studies.

In a letter to the students, Dr. Carpenter said:

"Students, save Time at the Summer Session"

At General Meetings of Assembly

Amnesty Committee of the Arkansas College Editors Association has been made at the Mountain Eagle, published at Mountain Home, and at Arkansas State Teachers College.

The convention of the editors was held in Conway last week. The convention was attended by about 120 students from the various schools of the state.

Following the registration of the representatives a special meeting was made.

In this meeting the convention adjourned, in order to complete the usual business. The convention then adjourned for a general meeting.

The meeting adjourned in the evening, and then the convention adjourned for a general meeting. The meeting adjourned in the evening, and the convention then adjourned.

We have, no doubt, noticed the additions of new magazines to the library. Particularly, the science sections of most of these magazines. Miss Stevens notes that there should be absolutely nothing made of this matter. There is, of course, no reason for this decision except students' curiosities or lack of training.

Miss Stevens states that these magazines, if not defeated by having pages torn out by, markings, and other such matters, are to be bound in volumes. The administration has acted wisely in utilizing these magazines so that we may do better work. Let us give our recreation in keeping with the library like freshmen.

Local Merchants Should Be Given First Choice By Colleagues

A lack of appreciation for those who do things for us, sometimes almost indispensable things, is characteristic of our generation. We would like to again call attention to the faithful feelings and diligence of Charles Wire, owner of the Herald in our community.

Mr. Wire has been before us, as the merchants of this town may make possible. We are grateful for this advertising and for their cooperation in this particular. Are we, then, expressing our gratitude this way? Perhaps by shopping around in search of our favor? I think it possible!

Let us remember that Circuitis Wire's competitors are not like us and considerate of us. It is almost certain that we who shop around are not finding them as much as we would be.

Cathcart Reveals Need of Brake School for Grading Fountain

Mrs. Phurse Catheart, head of the primary department of the Harding Training School, re- ceived and filed in the present interview the need of a drinking fountain for the elementary children.

The training school work is an outstanding contribution to the service of the College. Mrs. Catheart, whose fountain has served in a capacity for the faculty and students for the past few years, has made an excellent effort at the fountain.

Some of the work being done is definitely required of the faculty. We must call attention to this work in this manner. They are on the ball, and this is an indication of the way in which they are working.

I wonder why Think and Don't are on our table. And I'm just the guy who ought to do it. And thank you for your good work on mine, waiting for you to get through.

"Lady on the Floor" anybody? Well, anybody, or for our shadow. What would a lady be doing up there?

Our idea is of a society of major proportions which would not be before Ada Lee Jones do.

The following is an announcement which was re- ceived in the Dean's office a short time ago:

"May 3rd, 1936"

"Dear Dr. Foster,"

"I have been busy all day at my work in the office and wish to take the opportunity to express my gratitude for the service of James Madison, who has been working in my office since the beginning of the semester. His help has been invaluable in the conduct of our business."

"I wish to extend my thanks for the courtesy extended to me during the past year, and to express my appreciation for the service rendered by Mr. Madison."

The above is a sample of the many letters received by President Foster during the past year.
