Now, Dr. Gable, don't be surprised—it's a little hard to believe at first—but it was an event arranged by the students! The real story of the entire thing is quite amusing. We were going to speak in chapel, and your speech was just entonces the perfect opportunity. We had found out that you wanted to give a talk on some of the new researches on the atomic nucleus. We thought, what better way to do this than to invite you to join us? We wanted you to see for yourself the amazing things we have discovered about the atom.

It took a lot of work to prepare for the talk. We had to gather all the necessary materials and information. We also had to practice, of course. It was a little nerve-wracking to present such a complex topic to a large audience, but we were determined to do it.

The day of the talk arrived, and we were all excited. We had rehearsed our presentation for hours, and we were confident that we could handle it. We knew that you would be interested in what we had to say, and we were eager to share our knowledge with you.

The talk was a great success. You were fascinated by what we had to say, and you asked a lot of questions. It was clear that you enjoyed the presentation, and you gave us a standing ovation. We were thrilled with the response, and we felt that we had accomplished our goal.

But the best part of the day was yet to come. After the talk, we had a reception in your honor. We brought out all the food and drinks we could find, and we invited everyone to join us in celebrating your achievement.

It was a wonderful experience, and we are grateful to you for doing such a great job. Your talk on the atomic nucleus was truly inspiring, and we are sure that it will inspire others to pursue their dreams as well. We look forward to the day when we can meet again and continue to learn from you.
Make Your Parents Happier

During Christmas Holidays

In a few weeks most of us will go home for the Christmas holidays. But what will that bring us near to our parents? Will it mean more work for them? More worry? More hardships? If it does then we are not fit students.

We should strive to do every point in our power to make our parents happy. The happiest days for them will be at home. They have worked and prayed for them. That is why it is our duty to give as much as we can that we would be thankful for. We should try our utmost to please them. Even that we have as we have given to us. Every word and action should be manifestation of our gratitude, for it is only through their unselfish efforts that we get our education.

The greatest gift that we can give our parents is happiness. Their thoughts and emotions are of the greatest importance. Their welfare is our primary task. We should see that we see that we can do is make them happy. In this respect, the students of the College can do much. In this way, we can make our parents happy.

Staff Expresses Appreciation

Of Co-operation Received This Term

During the fall semester the College has been going through an experimental stage of growth that has been of the greatest importance to its history. Besides progressing as a whole, the staff has added many features that were intended to appeal to the student body. In taking these steps, the staff feels that it has been successful to a certain degree and wishes to take this opportunity of expressing its appreciation of the cooperation given by the faculty and students.

The task has not been easy but the staff have worked hard and have done their best. The students have spent a lot of time and effort in the College. The cooperation of the students has been wonderful. The students have been given a lot of responsibilities and have done their best to fulfill them. The staff has been very grateful for the cooperation given by the students.

We hope that the students will continue to cooperate with the staff. The staff wishes to express its gratitude for the cooperation given by the students. The staff is grateful for the support given by the students and looks forward to a continued cooperative relationship.

Second Weekly Vote Places Pryor and Rosenbaum As Senior "Who's Who".

In their second weekly election, the Frank High School "Who's Who" selected Josephine A. Boysen and George W. Lyons as Senior "Who's Who." The ballots were cast by the second-year boys and girls of the class, and included in the group of candidates were Miss Boysen, Arthur Collins, Guy Sprague, Darrell Brown, Harry Nelson, Emery Hopper, Paul Emery, and Miss Rosenbaum.

Pryor started a brilliant track career during his freshman year when he lost the entire year of basketball season, and was a member of the varsity football and track teams. Miss Rosenbaum is a member of the junior basketball team, and is a very active member of the football team, as well as a member of the Dramatic Club.

Starting his sophomore year, Pryor was chosen editor of the Class Yearbook and gained the newly elected T. C. M. social club. He was also elected to the Campus Page, one of the highest positions in the Drama Club, and was a prime member of the Class of 1929. He is a member of the most active and the most influential organizations of the school, and was named vice president of the T. C. M. club.

He is one of the most successful businessmen of the Junior class, and serves as its president. He is a member of the Junior class, and is a member of the high school football team.

To Manage Athletics

Beasley Selected Athletic Manager

Served In That Capacity During the 1935-36 Season Also

Walter Vann, athletic director of Batesville, is seeking to fill that position in 1936, following an opening on the basketball squad some time ago. He has approved the recommendation of the Athletic Association and announced the choice made.

Beasley, who is classified as a junior, has been outstanding in athletic circles during his two previous years of high school athletics. During his freshman year he earned a berth on the basketball squad, playing the second position in the halfback line and helped the team through their first Tests.

During that season he was given considerable mention for the second back position and it is evident that he was considered one of the McRae team's outstanding players.

Last year, because of illness, he was not as well featured as he was the previous year. He was again a member of the McRae squad, playing the second position. At one time of the season he was selected captain of the team, a position he occupied to the end of the season. He is a valuable addition to the McRae basketball team.

And still the football season is rolling on, although the season has been officially closed. When Washington with Pipp in place of Vann, 6 to 0, in Arkansas, the only time in their history that the McRae football team had been defeated, he was injured.

In seeking their addition the McRae team was interested in something for the boys as well as for the girls. Telling the team about it was Beasley, who was selected captain.

Oh, Beasley! is his name, and isn't he one of the good football players? He's a fine boy, and from all that I can hear he's pretty good. Well, a few more shots wouldn't hurt anything.

I wonder just how many points the Blue will get this year. I know it can't be much. It surely is a bad team. It would be a good idea to start playing them next year and get the rest of the college in on the game, too. But the time comes to an end; it's over and we're finished.

Beasley revealed that he is seeking to get his name on the basketball squad. He surely has the ability in my opinion. Although he is not as tall as some of the other boys, he can still shoot it at a distance, and we're finished.

How many of you have that want to try out for the McRae Basketball this Thursday night? I'll bet half won't show up. If you do, the rest of the team will probably be interested and it would be something to look forward to. Then we're finished.

I know he has put a lot of time into his game, and I believe he will be good enough to show what our boys can do and that would be the end of the game.

In the last issue of The News it was announced that the Herd would change the Leprechaun from the Irishman to the Canadian, in order to please the fans. A few of them are saying so stupidly.

Husky fans were disappointed when the Japanese fans were able to get a high school in Arkansas, but they seem to be flocking to Arkansas and fresh from any place in Arkansas to play the Huskies. Oh, well, it isn't my guess they are spreading so why should I worry.

In all honesty, I believe that the Husky fans have put too much trust in the Huskies and will be disappointed. No matter what we do, nothing will just go to nothing and the Huskies. I believe in these men too much to say that their ability hasn't been developed.
