SPEAKS ABOUT EDISON AND ENGLAND
Constitutional Crises of England Listed and Discussed

Speaker Is Author
Many Interesting Things Reviewed
T. A. Edison

Mr. T. A. Edison, from Hartford, spoke to the college assembly favorably about the club for Mr. Minko, a graduate of Calvin College, and he may be a greater part of his life in England.

On Tuesday he spoke about the constitutional crises in England. Beginning with the events which resulted in the formation of the House of Commons and the signing of the Magna Carta, Mr. Minko spoke for four and one half hours, and the entire audience was very attentive. Mr. Minko was then named as the best speaker of the day and was presented with a large book on the subject.

Next, Mr. Minko gave his opinion on the members of the club and the assembly.

He stated that the assembly was a very interesting place to be and the students were very open-minded and receptive. He also stated that the club was a great place to meet new people and to learn about different cultures.

The Life of Edison

Mr. Minko spoke, perhaps surprisingly, about the life of Thomas A. Edison. He discussed his early life, his education, and his many inventions. Mr. Minko stated that Edison was a very intelligent man who made many important contributions to the world. He also mentioned that Edison was very hardworking and that he spent many long hours in the laboratory.

Scoop! Writer A Girl On Honor Roll

There’s being and walking, and there’s being a girl on honor roll.

But back in what I'm going to do, somebody else, you have to think of it as a girl and don't just think of it as a name. What do you think of when you think of your name? I think of your name as well.

Get your name right now, and think of it as a girl. Eileen Greenway.

Your name is very significant to your identity. It's the first thing people think of when they meet you. Your name is a part of who you are. It's a part of your history.

No Questions But Caps and Gowns Remain

After reading articles in several newspapers and magazines, I asked Mr. Park about caps and gowns. He said that caps and gowns are a tradition that has been around for centuries and that they are a symbol of academic achievement.

Mr. Park explained that the cap and gown are a symbol of the student's hard work and dedication. He said that the caps and gowns are an occasion for the students to reflect on their achievements and to think about their future.

Mr. Park also mentioned that the caps and gowns are a symbol of the student's success and that they are a part of the student's identity.

I asked Mr. Park if he thought that the caps and gowns were important. He said that he thought that the caps and gowns were very important and that they were a symbol of the student's hard work and dedication.

"Mineralization" is as near as possible to its literal meaning, that the earth is made up of minerals. There is not much of this kind of mineralization in the world, and if there is, its presence in the country is generally recognized.

To many people in what situation is not only and confidence in what they are doing, but also a creative spirit, is absolutely necessary.

What you have to do is just the same as what you did yesterday, but with one difference: you have to be more careful, more patient, more persistent.

It is not easy to find the right kind of work, but it is not impossible. You may have to try several different jobs before you find the one that is right for you.

The Kingdom of Earth

The kingdom of earth is a place where we live and work. It is the place where we grow food, build houses, and make things. It is the place where we find the things we need to live.

Among the things we find in the kingdom of earth are: the air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat, the clothes we wear, the houses we live in, the cars we drive, the books we read, the music we listen to, the movies we watch.

The land that is the source of all this is very important to us. It is a precious resource that we must use wisely.

It is not enough to simply know that the land is important. We must also take care of it. We must use it wisely and protect it.

The land helps us to live, to grow, and to learn. It is a gift from God, and we have a responsibility to care for it.

The land is the source of all life. It is the home of all living things. It is the place where we find the things we need to survive.

We must cherish the land and use it wisely. We must be good stewards of the land and protect it for future generations.

The world is in need of a new understanding of the land. We must learn to value it and respect it. We must use it wisely and protect it.

The world is in need of a new understanding of the land. We must learn to value it and respect it. We must use it wisely and protect it.

Let's Do Away With The Wild Weathermen!

Dear Editor:

In some parts of the country, straight-from-the-shoulder, no-nonsense farmers and citizens, who will have to be given bread, bandages, and a bit of water and rest, are struggling against the United States authorities to prevent any interference from our air force. Our men are being trained to destroy any obstacles that may prove to be in our path.

Most people, I think, are just as interested in weathermen as they are in the birds of the air, if they are to have an excuse to go out. There are probably 100,000 families who are already in the path of our air force, and we urge you to inform them that we can be anything but water-weathermen.

Sincerely,

U. S. Rainmaker

A trio composed of Frank White, Louis Hamblin, and Virginia Madison; place, time, and date will be announced in due course. The program will be presented to the public free of charge.

Merritt Speaks At Missionary Forum

Dear Merritt, missionary from Arkansas, speaks on the problems of a missionary with the WPAs of the world at the meeting of the Missionary Forum last Thursday night. He said that he was able to go is must be good, must have a message.

In vague fields, the work is difficult to explain and to accept. The missionary must be able to act in the midst of the most difficult conditions, to be a good friend of mankind.

5,700 NYA Workers Drafted for Duty

Arkansas Puts 1,100 Into Plus of a College for The State

The number of NYA workers drafted into service is steadily increasing with the need for food and materials in the Ohio and Mississippi Valley areas. It is estimated that more than 5,700 workers have been drafted into service from the college. It is reported that a large number of the workers are women.

Saluting a new drug in a victory over the Bisons by 25 points, we are on our way to the next in the series of half games while the Bisons were vacationing for one free toss at the end of the victory.

Although Hendrix took a commanding lead in the opening minutes of the game, building up a 10-point advantage at one time, the Hoyas slowly worked themselves back into the contest and played on even terms most of the first three periods.

After Leslee, Harding guard, had tied the score at 28 with only 37 seconds left in the first quarter, Hendrix forward, switched with a shot from the floor a few minutes later to put the Bisons in front, and they were never in danger of being taken down, 30 to 26.

In the second period, every one of those boys was out playing all of the time and when I say all of them, I mean all of them played so steadily and we were only that "Hendrix job" that beat us.

Hendrix forward, who had been awarded the basketball scholarship, had almost two, and they hit the Bisons one after another, until all of the time was gone. I mean all of them played and steadily and it was only that Hendrix job that beat us.

Wilkens, Hendrix forward, who had been awarded the basketball scholarship, had almost two, and they hit the Bisons one after another, until all of the time was gone. I mean all of them played and steadily and it was only that Hendrix job that beat us.

In the third quarter, the Bisons missed a couple of opportunities, but the Hoyas were able to score and the Hoyas took the lead back up to 23 points.

In the fourth quarter, the Hoyas continued to dominate the game, with Hendrix forward scoring a basket to give them the lead back up to 30 points. The Bisons made a few attempts to come back, but the Hoyas were able to hold on and secure the victory.
