The orchestra department, under the direction of Miss Aldred, debuted last Sunday night in the auditorium giving an excellent rendering of "The Drakes of the Desert." The orchestra was composed of various students and was under the supervision of Miss Aldred. The program was well received by the audience and was considered a great success by the musicians involved.

The orchestra was well-prepared and performed with great enthusiasm. The repertoire was carefully selected to showcase the talent and skills of the musicians. The performance received enthusiastic applause from the audience, indicating a positive reception of the orchestral performance.

The next concert is scheduled for next week, and the audience can expect a similar level of excellence and musicality. The orchestra's dedication and hard work are evident in their performance, and they continue to improve with each rehearsal.

The orchestra's future performances are highly anticipated, with many looking forward to their upcoming concert. Students, parents, and the community alike are encouraged to support and attend these events, as they continue to grow and develop their musical abilities.
In recognition of the institution received by Coach Van to enter Harding's football team in the annual A. A. C. finals, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Coach Van and his outstanding team.

Birds are bitin' mad today. I, the editor of this bird, am going to go to the trees to tell you something of importance.

There are few things in life that are more important to you than this. The average bird can't make it longer than a week without getting on a tree and nailing a nest. This is essential to the bird's happiness. If this is not done, the bird will suffer and die. The average bird can't make it more than a week. This is why it is so important to you to learn about this subject.
