Dear Bro. and Sis. Garner:

If you have read the other letter in this envelope you probably are confused as to the descripency in the date of the letter. After three unsuccessful attempts at putting the correct amount of postage on the letter I was finally informed as to how much it would really take to get it to you.

Of course in the past few weeks we have come to appreciate the John Steals' even more than previously.

The last issue of the Christian Chronicle carried an encouraging story about the possibility of sending another family to aid you in the work there. It is our earnest prayer that the man and the money will become available immediately.

Please accept this letter as a sincere token of our appreciation for the self denial, sacrifice and work that you are doing in that field.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
