Student Conduct in Chapel Should Be Coordinated

The conduct of the student body at chapel exercises has often been commented on, but little was ever done to correct the evils that have so far existed in the present system. It was noted that the student body was conducting itself very poorly during the exercises, and that the present system of conducting chapels was not effective in accomplishing the objects that were sought to be attained.

In the first place, the most noticeable defect in the manner of conducting chapels was the lack of cooperation that existed between the students and the faculty. The faculty had been trying to enforce the rules of the chapel, but they were not willing to co-operate in carrying them out.

In the second place, chapel exercises have a tendency to become monotonous as a large part of the students seem to be facing the wall instead of being faced by the preacher. The students who face the wall are not willing to be co-operative in carrying out the rules of the chapel.

What is meant by cooperation is that each student body should be willing to help the faculty carry out the rules of the chapel. The students who face the wall are not willing to cooperate in carrying out the rules of the chapel.

Believing that an unforbearance of impromptu is existing through our neglect of the proper con- duct in chapel, and wishing for the existence of real cooperation, I am writing to ask for the privilege of being on the committee to the above suggestion, so you may be fore wasn't before being discussed.

Why Have the Clubs Not Functioned Together This Year?

Cooperating in all things which come of being a member of our student organization, it is important for the student body to have a sense of belonging to the club. The clubs should be able to function together as a whole.

A club's existence is being threatened by the lack of cooperation and the failure to function together. This is a situation that should be improved by the student body.

The reason for this lack of cooperation is that the student body has not been trained to function together. The student body has not been trained to function as a whole.

The student body should be trained to function together as a whole. This would improve the cooperation and the functioning of the clubs.

What's on the Menu This Week?

We have the plan to conduct services in the chapel, and we believe that the plan will be successful in accomplishing the objects that were sought to be attained.

Believing that the plan of conducting services in the chapel is a good one, I am writing to ask for the privilege of being on the committee to the above suggestion, so you may be fore wasn't before being discussed, if the plan is successful.

Why Not a Banquet for the Graduating Class This Month?

During the past year our basketball team has failed to meet the expectations of the coaches. This has been due to the fact that the players have not been able to work together as a team. It is important that the players work together as a team.

The problem of working together as a team is one that should be discussed by the student body. It is important that the players work together as a team.

What we depend on as teams is what we look for.
