FORENSIC LEAGUE WILL SEND TEAM TO ARKADELPHIA
McDaniel, Warren, McHam, Leutner, Will Set For Tournament

Three debate teams will be entering the Arkansas Forensic League meet at Henderson State in Arkadelphia, Friday, according to present plans. McDaniel, Warren, McHam and Leutner will represent the Harding unit.

The college debaters, who won last year's tournament in Arkadelphia, will meet either composition or interpretation as they have previously announced. Teams from all the surrounding area will be invited to attend.

Gardening projects of the after school hours will be under the guidance of the Harding Office of Student Life. Students will be able to secure information from the office in order to start their own shrubbery and trees, according to Dr. Porter.

The college will provide the soil for the project and will be responsible for all the activities.

Since materials are already here it will be possible for the students to get started immediately. Only 12 books have been chosen for the present year's project.

FORTY-EIGHT BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY, MORE ORDERED

A shipment of forty-eight books and workbooks of old text books that were on display and appeared as a problem at the library last week have now arrived.

As a result the library has added two books: "Professor Parent" by Lewis, and "Seven Who Fled" by Booth.

The high book on the west side of the library will be a new one and the fence will be built further and the library if possible raised a few feet. This is a tentative plan to be followed and a few new books have been added down stairs but this plan is not yet definite.

Madame Vitale Chooses "Carmen" For Production Here This Spring

"Carmen," by Bizet, has been chosen as the spring presentation of Madame Vitale this spring for production here this spring. She expressed that she chose the opera because it is a story of the Spanish life.

We Look At Europe.

In this country we have a tradition behind us. We have numbers of them, true, but the tradition is a home- aged institution in spite of decades of propagation. The majority of the states in Europe today have a different tradition for this. They deserve our pity; our tears they receive, as well as our example, by every possible way to struggle are their ever present possession in the way of tradition. Oh, yes, they experience the same observed, and contemplated. But today are these worth- less because of the constant contradiction of the times on the part of the people who set up the traditions, among them, the permanent distortion of the values they set up.

The First Europeans who touched these shores were Spaniards. tradition certain and fair for us. (They didn’t know it to be sure, but individualism they had.) We were dealing with from our coming to show the world how a beautiful experiment in democracy was being worked out. Now how successful we and they have been is a problem worthy of our thought. We and they were right.

We and they have twisted the ideals and distorted true values to meet the emergencies—politically, socially, and sometimes, let it be whispered, spiritually.

Here let us watch our step. Europe has become a thing that we seem to be afraid of and one that we do not follow too closely in her steps. We, more than others, have been successful in preserving our own strength, from being poisoned out. Have been so much more successful, and in some respects, burned. In this country many of our enigmas and difficulties have come from a mistranslation of this great tradition. In other words, our freedom has often to be fought for.

Well, we say, what is there for us to do? We don’t make social trends, we do not intend to. We do, of course, collectively do that, is, we’re supposed to and perhaps do so, in instances where our tradition still exists. Anyways.

One thing is sure in this tradition called freedom. The ideal application of the Y.M.C.A. concept, working outside of the idea, comes in the individual. If we resolve this thing into a matter of personal liberty, we can better understand the function in it.

Proper control of our own lives as our ancestors had it is our freedom—and the only way to save our tradition of freedom. True democracy cannot exist without this.

The army is seeking more college boys than it has ever done in the past 20 years for service as flying cadets.

Judge Mills
Speaks to Students
On Security

Judge William D. Mills of Seattle, brought to the college by the Arkansas Club, spoke Monday morning on "Future Security for Arkansas."

After being introduced by James McClellan, president of the Arkansas Club, Judge Mills pointed out the problem of security and said that the state must solve the situation.

He reminded the student body that our predecessors had wasted the federal resources and had the pressing of those whose remains are important to our responsibility. In Arkansas, twelve counties have been swarmed by soil erosion and today the state is contributing to the ravaging of floods by its wastefulness. The federal government is establishing soil erosion camps throughout the state to attempting to educate farmers on how to fulfill and preserve his soil.

Judge Mills eliminated his speech by pointing out that these problems are not confined and must be avoided by us. We are obligated to be a leader of the things endowed to us.

Book Discussed
By Poetry Club

Pans were discussed for the annual Harding Book of Undergraduate Verse, which will be published next term, at the regular Poetry club meeting Thursday night.

Over 200 poems have been submitted, as an expected effort to be made to increase the book in size over last year's volumes. Also the possibility of club-sponsored ren- cts is being investigated.

HENDRIX DOWNS BISONS HERE BY SCORE OF 49-38

Clyde Watts Leads Herd In Scoring; Coleman High Point

Displaying a clever passing attack and accurate long shots, the Hendrix College Warriors defeated the Bisons last Friday afternoon, in the Searcy High School gymnasiums, 49 to 38.

Led by Captain "Boots" Coleman, Hendrix took an early lead on long shots and kept the entire game. Harding's defense under the Hendrix goal period the Warriors shot from outside the free throw line.

E. R. Ross scored the first half, scoring five points, and led Coleman in the delegates. Hendrix was in the lead at the end of the half, 28 to 19.

In the second half, the Bisons came within four points of tying the score, but the Warriors added their lead and were not in danger for the remainder of the game.

Individual scoring leaders went to Coleman with fifteen points. He was followed by his team mates, Watts, and eleven by Clyde Watts. Bison high, with ten points. The closer passing of the second half, Harding and Watts, enabled their team to gain. Captain Al Jameson played a good defensive game for the Bisons.

Clyde Watts Among State's Top Scorers

Clyde Watts, two years letter man, ranks third among the high scorers of the state so far this season.

Watts has scored a total of 127 points for 12 games. This is an average of 10.7 points per game. Bostroth, Trust team, in the Associated Press poll, has an average of 11.1 points per game and DeWolfe of Crowleva is second with 12 points.

Watts is among the five who have scored over 100 points this season.

Bisons to Play Jaycee Quartzet

Tonight in the Searcy High School gymnasium, the Bisons will play the Searcy Junior College quintet. The game will start at 8:00.

This will be the eighteenth game for the Searcy team. They have won three of them, one from Arkansas State Institute, and the other two against weak Independents teams.

Last year the H. S. R. defeated the Searcy 50 to 27 in the High School gymnasium. Both teams showed much improvement over last year's squad. According to pre-arrangement, the Bisons have made a very poor showing this year, but they have lost to the strongest teams in the state, some of the games ending in close scores. The Bisons have defeated some strong college teams with very little trouble.

Friday night, Coach Terry's Searcy quintet will re-enter the tournament between the Bisons on their home court.

The Scale AAA Basketball Tournament, starting February 28 and will probably continue for two or three days, Harding will be in no position except the visitors, and they should be met by no means. But what chance do they have to win? There will be all the strong teams to see in the tournament, both college and independent teams. We have played good games of these teams, but it is decided if the Bisons have played half of the teams that will be at the Tournament. Look out good teams or draw your own conclusions.
