history of College To Be in Petal

A 300-word history of Hardin College, compiled by Dr. L. A. Bailey, was turned in to Clifford Crank, editor of the student paper. The history begins with Deacon College at Otsego, Minnesota, and takes up the development of the educational institutions in the area. A request was made for the Petal Jean staff to compile this history. This will be the last issue of the paper appearing in the Petal Jean.

Final Ballot For In-Go-Ju May Queen Tomorrow

Today in chapels the three nomi­nees for May Queen who pleased the most during the May Festival were voted on in a run-off election, according to Mr. E. E. DeGraaf. DeGraaf, Jr., Marjorie Overton, W. H. G.; and Sammy Sue Mason, In-Go-Ju, were the three visiting candidates who were voted on last week. The votes were cast as nearly the same number as those cast for the winner. It will be necessary, it will be necessary for the winter to have a clear major­ity.

The girl who is chosen queen will be the next Pettilady for the year to follow and will be sponsored by the In-Go-Ju girls.

The two highest ranking candi­dates will be made Pastors of their own churches as the result of the May Festival. They include Jeannette Langford, Alapahad; Rhulchun Langford, O. G.; and Zelma Bell, L. C.

Whitfield Wins Here Over Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whitfield, summing of Harding, and their young son, Roy Whitfield Jr., curren­tly engaged in the ministry, are in town spending a short stay while on their way to Canada.

While here, they spent much of their time visiting old school mates for a short stay while on his way to It's just like the speaker said, Three of these books were added to the library. For scholarship purposes.

The church of Texas Church Pre­sident, L. E. Bailey, gave several life's work in the history of the college and Free'd-Hardeman. From there he continued his remarks with a quote from the May Queen who placed third, Mary Zellmire. The subject of the week was the mouse versus boa-constrictor case. Heltsley, R. EXCHANGE DIGEST

Each student living in the men's dormitory of Arkansas Tech College, in this dining hall wails 306 meals during the week. For his meals he has paid on the center two pages, but he goes for the week's keyhole life of Harding. Bro. Gardner rules in the back seat of his own car on the trip to Shreveport last week. It happened that Bro. Gardner and three girls went to ride in Shreveport. Gardner's only seat in the car was the seat in front of the girls. No boy would be allowed to ride in the back seat with the girls. Four men were in the car physically built to sit in a front seat, but it was against the idea of the car that any boy might be allowed to ride. Arrangement was assured for Bro. Gardner to ride in the back seat with the girls as all difficulties were alleviated by the party riding together.

SPECTRUM

By Alan Morgan

Although this column must be written before trash day, it is an obvious expression of this writer's opinion that there are some programs that you will not see publicized. It is the idea of leaving something beautiful for those to see, and to produce contentment.

Beautifying the campus is a never-ending job. Historic graces have contributed work and flowers, but not always a great deal may be done to make the scene of these outstanding ones. It seems to me, however, that if someone is really thinking of making a pretty property worth while, something that will be of benefit and pleasure both now and in the future, one might make contributions of shrubs, rose bushes, tulip bulbs, or something similar. The idea of leaving something beautiful for those who come to see it is appealing to me.

This is a plea—not only mine but one I feel profoundly that the old students will voice with me. Give us some room! Let us have some peace, some real meetings, and so forth always interfere with the other three, and the last two weeks of school, and if their dates were more judiciously planned. It might be that those who would enjoy the best and have a great deal of time to study, of those that 18,1936, at this week's keyhole life of Harding. It's just a plain and common practice of the average American housewife—get together the family and clean the house. Spring flowers and young men's fancy. Yet, this renewal (renascence, as Miss Ripley-McCullough would say) is bringing a freshness of heart and vigor of soul to replace a cold and worn winter of sentimentality. This is the time when the world is called to repent, and its citizens are flourished, this band of brothers, now more united, and the@ story. The whole story. The acc used person proved to be enrolled in the school. In order to produce contentment.

The mayor is a venerable old gentleman with a white mustache and a southern drawl. He nose and stomach are slightly out of proportion with the rest of his anatomy, but this is a result of years at the bar.

McDaniel was admitted to the bar while still a minor. He was conceded to vote after he had coined Thompson.

Thompson had met him while attempting to drive the school for a landscaping job. He was in the school designing the landscaping for the school. He was talking to Thompson of the trials that were being held at the school.

Mrs. Armstrong began work on a tour of the school for the school district.

Hawgaters Sink Before Forces of Local Heard

In the opening game of the season, the Razorbacks fell to the Meatball Ponies from Newport Newsport, 3-1 to 3 last Monday night at 4:30 p.m. With the score tied 0-0 in the top of the sixth inning, the Ponies gained a lead with a two-out, two-run double. Despite the initial setback, the Razorbacks were able to rally and tie the game in the bottom of the inning. However, in the top of the seventh inning, the Ponies scored the winning run on a two-out, two-base hit, securing their victory.

FIG CRAWL PARTY

This past Saturday night, the Faculty held a party at the League Club to celebrate the end of the academic year. The event was well attended, with many faculty members and their families in attendance. The evening included a buffet dinner, live music, and a dance floor. The atmosphere was lively and festive, with everyone enjoying the company of their colleagues and the celebration of the successful academic year.

Whitfield and I will then gather to­gether those we can find back at Canton and take up the work as soon as possible," he said.

Mr. Whitfield infers that Japan will soon halt her invasion of China. Japan is smart enough to know that she cannot control too much new Chinese territory. When she feels that she has all she can handle, Japanese rule will be set up over the place. All ag­gres­sions will be stopped. Mr. Whitfield thinks.

Japan has not yet conquered Canton, the city where the Whitefields lived. Mr. Whitfield seemed to think they would not, but if they should, he felt that it would have little effect on their work. No pro­gres­sive nation will turn her back on missionaries if that nation needs teachers for the masses, he says.

The Whitfields are working in behalf of foreign missionaries who are in America. This summer he plans to attend one northern university and then in the fall he plans to re­turn the mission field even if he is unable to find his co-workers for results.
