Do you want a Petit Jean?

Do you want a Petit Jean? That is an absurdity. Of course, everyone wants to remember their friends and all the happenings of a year. Everyone wants to keep a record of it.

Yet some will not get the Petit Jean. No matter how bad they want it, they can’t see any way to get it. It is necessary to realize that so many don’t get one is the lack of the necessary amount at that particular time. Not every college has money to spend 50 dollars an hour, even after they have paid the reservation fee for the book.

The Petit Jean is a student publication. The editor works as a student and the book is a yearbook. Everyone wants to remember his friends and all the happenings of the year. Everyone wants to keep a record of it. Yet some will not get the Petit Jean. No matter how bad they want it, they can’t see any way to get it.

One Who Knows Says We Should Learn To Use Library

Mr. Jo, the dominoes of some people—"T.C.K. and Freshmen"—are; there are some of our dig- nified 171 seniors, as well as sopho- more and Juniors, who still do not know how to use the library.

That inquired in the center of the reading room, to them, is just a word filled with circles, no two easily "ignore it as if it doesn't know it is there.

Not only do they ignore the cata- log and number of the books they want, but they don't even call for the book by name. They just want a book about a certain subject, or a book with a certain poem in it and think the librarian is incompetent if he cannot immediately find the book they want.

For example, one girl came in one night and wanted a "cook book with a real good recipes for dinner." Another guy came in and called for some material on the Trojan War. He didn't even know what he was after and I had a vivid idea that the Greeks were mixed up in it somewhere, as I went back and hunted up a Greek History book. When I tried to give him the book he wanted to know if what he wanted was in it and I regretted that I did not know he refused to take the book and wouldn't even bother to look at it.

And then we asked all sorts of questions, such as which magazine we have in the best and went about—what good books we read and would they like them—or, etc. It could go on in- definitely. All in a day's work with a librarian.

Do you want a book on how to teach spelling—well now let me.

After all we shouldn't expect you to look up the title and catalog number of the book you want. It is an awful lot of trouble and there are only a few thousand volumes back in the stock room and we have bought him a book, or a book on your subject—OH YEAH.

HERD TO OPPOSE STATE TEACHERS THERE TONIGHT

Variety Will Engage Hendrix Here Saturday

After suffering their third defeat of the year at the hands of Arkansas Tech and Winning over Blue Ridge, R. T. A. and R. C. B. D. Independent last week, the Bisons will go to Conway tonight to meet the strong State Teachers Bears.

The Bears, at the present, have the top rating team in the state. They have won several games so far this season. They hold the exclusive record of having won fifteen consecutive victories over college and independent teams in this state.

This will be the second meeting between the two teams. The Bears won Harding’s first defeat on January 14 by a close score of 81 to 74 here at Searcy.

Coach Voodoom’s Bears are top ranking and they are one of the best defensive teams in the state. All of them are potential scorers. They will have the advantages playing on their court.

The result of the last meeting indicates another such game when this year except for the AAU Tournament, which will be held at Conway, February 27, 28, and March 1.

Harding has a good chance in the tournament this year. There will be about seven good teams there and perhaps the Bisons can beat them all.

FOOTBALL PLAYER

Last Thursday, in the “Gator” game, the Indeependents of Arkansas defeated their high school football team. On this issue was a former Harding College football player, Joe Ginn who starred in Harding’s game in 1928.
