Baccalaureate Given Sunday

To the strains of "O Come All Ye Faithful," sung by the mixed chorus, the graduates marched out of the col­lege auditorium Sunday evening. May 20th, to hear the baccalaureate address.

Pastor the Rev. R. B. Bell, the congregation was directed by Donald Groce in singing "Holy, Holy, Holy." The first psalm was read by T. H. Bieroff. J. N. Armstrong, president of the class, read in Latin the benediction. No. A. B. Smith was the soloist. Various members of the faculty were presented with the baccalaureate address. The benedictio was sung by John Mason. Following the benediction by Prof. Evans the graduates would enter the field to receive the diplomas of the excursion, "March Baccalaureate," by the string ensemble under Mr. Moore.

APPRECIATION

Now that the end of the school year is drawing near, we, the students of Harding College, will soon be scattered to the "four winds." We have to realize that we are really looking for a day when our hearts will fill with appreciation to all that have been of service to us during the year.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to each member of the Press Club for their splendid cooperation during the year. Never have I had the pleasure to work with a more willing and cooperative group than this year's Press Club. As editor of this paper, I have come into this work as a new student and I have found it to be a splendid experience. Through this work I have had the opportunity to meet new people and to learn new skills.

SPECIAL MENTION will be given to a few who helped me get started in the work. Ralph Bell, sports editor, gets a vote of thanks for helping to get the school paper started and sending it out on time. All those who helped me with the organization of the work will be appreciated.

Then other are who deserve mention. The student body as a whole has been very considerate. Criticism this year has been mild, and we feel that in most cases it has been constructive. Much of this constructive criticism has come from the student's editor, Sam Peeble, who has been in contact with us throughout the year telling us of our weak points and how to remedy them.

The longer I write the more I think of the way the school paper has grown, and I realize that the business men in town have realized that it does pay to advertise with us, and we feel that the students of Harding College have been of service to us during the year.

Then other who deserve mention are the members of the school paper's staff. The school paper's staff has done a splendid job and I hope that the future year will be as successful as this year.

ANOTHER YEAR HAS PASSED
AND WE MUST SAY GOODBYE

The time is about here when we must say goodbye to our friends which we have made during the year. In all the gains and losses—experience, plans and patience, when one meets or meets the close of another it is happy and enjoyable.

Each of us look forward to the future. A bit of doubtfulness. We know that we desire a change, but we shall miss the people of the club. A large majority of us will be back next year, but the seniors have not this consolation.

The senior, who has reached another climax in life, is ready to launch into the real sea of living—making his own way. This typical senior looks forward to his new life with hope and expectation, perhaps tinged with a little doubt and uncertainty—like an actor about to make an entrance on the stage.

These last four years have meant much to him. He regrets to leave everyone goodbye and as all like-minded, he will never see one of his school associates again.

Things begin to happen fast toward the close of school. These days must be paid, term exams wound off, all things move in various directions toward that sudden bell which will be called June 3. Examinations wound a last chime and then we see that step march-

Goodbye to students and faculty of Harding College. It’s been a pleasure to know and serve you these four years.
