Dear Sirs:

Enclosed you will find a returned bill which shows a credit balance of $3.00. I am not sure as to the meaning of this statement. I do not believe it means I owe you $3.00 due to the following facts. Dec. 19, 1959, Check # 1410 for $3.00 was sent to you, Great Texts Vol. III. February 9, 1960, Check # 12, $3.00 was sent for Great Texts, Vol. IV. March 9, 1960, Check # 47 was sent for # $7.38, among which was payment for Great Texts, Vol V. March 16, 1960, Check # 52 for $3.00 was sent to you for Great Texts, Vol. VI.

I have Great Texts only through Vol. VI which I have paid for with check # 52. If this is a bill for $3.00 would you mind sending the name of the book for which I owe this amount.

I am concerned only because I want to be fair and I want to continue receiving the set, Great Texts. If this bill means you owe me $3.00 please disregard this letter and continue sending me the above-mentioned books.

Sincerely yours,

John Allen Chalk Chalk
