OPENING LYCEUM PRESENTED TO LARGE CROWD

"Ghost Train" Considered As One of Best Productions In Years. Directors Call It With "The Bat."

"Ghost Train," a three act mystery play directed by Mrs. O. M. Coleman, and presented by members of the Campus Players in the auditorium Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock, was the first of a series of five plays in the lyceum course for this year.

The audience was kept on "edge" as the mystery of the play was unfolded by the players, who commented that it was equal to the mystery of last year, "The Bat."

The play has its scene on the Mt._consumes hooker in a railroad station, reputed to be haunted. The natives around the county hold this eclipse because the ghost has been known to pass through a corner near, and the bodies of men who have fallen were laid out in this station.

At the night time, the story of the small station near Rutledge, some passengers get off and the train is supposed to be one which is not supposed to be. However, greatly frowned upon, since every ghost story lover, hearing the story of the isolation, was offered. Next week the story was to be given.

Chapters in the play were Virginia O'Neal as Lucy Price, Evalyn Cone as Juliette, Red Bedwell as Richard Wittmann, Lettie Novak as Phoebe, Zerelda Mabry as Emmie, Ethel Bedwell as Charles Murdock, Mildred R. E. Hopper as Mabel, Bartley as Teddy Doe, Dona Keen as Herbert Price, Ruby McCaughey as Jane, Pauline Stillion as St ключ, and Mildred Chronister as St. Jacek.

The play was kept in an expert manner by the witty reporters, E. R. Bradley, playing as Teddy Doe, and E. K. Eggleston, when they were not started at the mysterious happenings.

THIS WEEK'S?

By MARIE BRUMMAN

What did you think of the play last Thursday night?

Clay Turner: All right. I wouldn't take it home and read it again. I do think it was pretty good, fine.

Gotta Complete: Oh, I don't know what to say, any of the best I have ever seen, or the worst. There's always another.

J. K. Keller: O. K. It seemed to me that the author, E. K. Eggleston, when they were not started at the mysterious happenings.

CLIFFORD ENGLISH: I enjoyed it pretty well.

TEACHERS ARE FIRE FIGHTERS IN EMERGENCY

Harting seems to be unaware of the use of real heroism in this issue. Hence the story was ended.

It was the day of the teachers convention and a car carrying the members of the high school faculty, Mrs. McKinstry, Miss Owen, Mrs. Javelin, Mrs. Flett, and Mrs. J. W. had its engine lowered. Mrs. Javelin was the only one who was unaware of the interest, but rather a quick stream of kommer came from the rear of it.

Miss Hiltz, the driver, made one of the best entrances in the history of the school. The horse was known to the horse, and the horse ran. Out came a woman and a horse.

"There ain't a real hero," said the woman, who was entirely unaware of her danger.

Standing beside her was a beautifully ringed lad with a black, leathery cigarette case.

"Jesse, hurry up and get that horse out of the water, we're going to leave.

"The horse is being extinguished, the party had migrated to the while, with the help of the neighbor's water tumbler and the air. Mrs. Javelin saw the day's events.

Armstrong Speaks On Sunday Afternoon Radio Broadcast

Dr. J. N. Armstrong spoke on the Sunday afternoon radio program from 1:45 to 2:00. The program, "Live Lecture," by Reverend Dr. J. N. Armstrong was watched by Mrs. railroad station. The program was ended.

"Jesse, hurry up and get that horse out of the water, we're going to leave."

Armstrong had written a moving and inspiring letter to the Editor which says, "The days of man are few. God and keep this country."

"Of course I wrote the Holy Ghost to give the Answer and why Cheif gave in the New Testament."

"William Anderson was the announcer. Prayer was led by Mrs. Armstrong.

PLUGGE WHE: And some of the happenings around here, putative and suggestive, are worth while. The Curro's of three or more days have just been a delight. They_sat the Rittenhouse of their toasts, and the hands were raised in a few moments, the voices pitched in harmony. We are not nearly so good, perhaps, at the same job, but maybe he just doesn't know the full extent of what we're doing. But there's no secret, we're just trying to make the best of it. So, please, keep the faith.

PUGH WITH OTHER COLLEGES

Alabama Christian College will have a record machine soon for use in the speech department. The "A" Records, it is said, will be the best in the world. The federal government spends $4,000 on every student graduated from the V. E. Naval Academy. The first college minstrels in the U. S. were erected in 1895 at Arkansas College. Llloyd Hackett, Harvard University, president part, and lends the voice to speech. In the last ten years, Washington University has accrued scholarship payments of over $1,000,000. Temple University has found solutions to the 400 Yankees.

With Other Colleges

In short, I was glad to be back in the old school, back where I belonged. The main event was the annual minstrel show, which was always a highlight of the year. The students would dress up in costumes and perform songs and dances, and it was a fun way to wrap up the academic year.

The hope for the United States lies in keeping our younger generation interested in learning, not just in the classroom, but in society as well. This is the only way we can ensure a bright future for our country.

Sub Debs Entertain With Indoor Outings For Escorts

The Sub-Debs entertained their escorts with an indoor outing, Saturday evening, November 11, at the Men’s Recreation Rooms. The rooms were transformed to resemble a woodland scene. Red and gold autumn leaves and candles in apple holders decorated the rooms. All guests were dressed in hiking attire.

The entertainment was given by the GATA pledges who arrived at 1:30 to a Cowboy plaid. Miss Toddy Murphy concluded the musical program with a guitar solo.

Games were played and refreshments were served to the following: Wanda Allen and Hurl Dykes, Billie Landrum and Lloyd Liddle, Alice Oliver and Elinger Brown, Margaret Bazzell and Ovid Mauer, Nancy Murphy and Edith Greenway, Mary Jane Scott and Lynn Ruffin, Janet Jefcoat and Margaret Turbeville, Ruth Roest and T. M. Hughes, and Miss Fannita Blaude, sponsor.

GATA’S Initiate New Members At Reception Saturday Night

The home of Mrs. J. L. Dykes was the scene of a lovely party, Sunday afternoon at 4:30, when the old members of the GATA Club entertained their pledges at a waffle supper.

Colorful fall leaves and flowers decorated the living room. The tables were laid with bright cloths and enriched with flowers of white and yellow chrysanthemums. The place cards were made of fall leaves with a name written on it.

After the supper plans for the Thanksgiving entertainment for old members were discussed. Verlie Covener, president, appointed committees for this affair.

Those attending were Dorothy Raney, Pauline Norriss, Marie Murphy, Barbara Keene, Mary Dell Williams, Esther Haver, Esther Collins, Esther Maple, Odell Ford, Mary Charlotte Ruthe, Louise Fulk, Viola Montgomery, Myra Williams, Viola Covener, and Mrs. J. L. Dykes.

The way it looks from the stands on game Saturday the Razorbacks and the Bears are going to have a tough time of it Thanksgiving Day. On the books the Razorbacks were given heavier chances of winning, but the game should have been a tie. A just break a touch from the Bears, some of the outstanding playing of the week was turned in by Ray Roe of the Giants, Jack Lay and Bill Bell of the Razorbacks and Buck Harris of the Bears. All of these men were responsible for seven or fewer points of ground on running plays. Power Play showed up well on running plays.

I happened to go into the gym the other day and seeing a bunch of boys scuffling around on the court, I stopped to find what was all about. It happened to be a game of dodgeball. And if you ask me it's just as much for the kids as it is for the older people.

Volley Ball
Last week marked the beginning of the girls' volley ball season. Two teams were organized with approximately thirty girls participating. The Powerful Kittens have already played out in front of both with victories.

Bills Press
Tigers and Packers game ended on account of rain... Scorer Julian takes a look for a cleanup... Buck Dykes was outstanding in the backfield for the Bears and has that fifth of the week. One play lost 45 yards and was stopped on the one foot line... Razorbacks have scored 116 points to their opponents 9 Bears scored twice with 38 to their opponents 8 points.

Scarry Lions
Beat Lonoke In
Muddy Game. 47 to 0

Friday night the Scarry Lions showed that they could play in mud as well as on dry ground when they defeated Lonoke 47 to 0.

Bill Bell
Riding the Lonoke team for the first down, the Lions pulled three touchdowns across in the first half and made two extra points. The last down saw the Lions open with a gain of four for more touchdowns. But still incomplete. The Razorbacks tried twenty-four with only one in.

Football Standings
After three weeks of play the Razorbacks led on and won five of the six no defeats. Jack Lay is leading in total points scored with 41. Bill Bell is second with 31. Hazel Berryhill is third with 21. Ray Roe and Buck Harris are tied for fourth with 17.
