Alumni go to mission fields

Winfred Wright (BA '57) plans to sail on Oct. 28 for Liege, Belgium where he will assist J. Lee Roberts in the missionary work there. "Wimpy" majored in Bible and Biblical languages, and is now finishing work on his master's degree. He was president of the student body and selected "best-all-round" boy while in school here. He taught at Crowley's Ridge Academy in Paragould for one semester. His address will be c/o J. Lee Roberts, 48 Quai de Longdoz, Liege, Belgium. Mrs. Roberts is the former Margaret Clampitt (BS '48).

Jean, Joli, and Joe E. Gibbs, (MA '58) pictured above, are leaving for Rome, Italy, this fall to preach the gospel and to study at Waldensian University.

Joe and Jean met in Germany where he was an Air Force pilot and she was employed by the Air Force. After their marriage they returned to the United States to prepare themselves to serve as missionaries in Italy. They studied at Abilene Christian College for one year and then Joe took his Master's at Harding. His home congregation at Jonesboro is sponsoring their work.

President's Corner

By Evan Ulrey

You will be interested in the financial report for the year 1957-58 which is in this bulletin.

The percentage of alumni who contribute yearly to their alma mater is of growing interest to those who raise money for a college such as ours. Potential non-alumni contributors want to know "how many" of our own alumni gave "how much." This attitude has been clearly expressed in a publication of the American Alumni Council: "If a college's own alumni do not believe in the college and back up that belief with their gifts, why should business and industry be expected to contribute?"

The total contribution for this year is more than double that of last year. Yet the total number of alumni contributing was 66 less than last year and the percentage of alumni who gave fell 2.2%. Why is this? First, there were 324 more alumni on file this year than last. Second, the special drives for the Bible Development program and for the Memphis Academy netted $18,581.84 or considerably more than half of the total contributed. Also more than half of this $18,581.84 was contributed by board members who are associate alumni.

The realistic interpretation of the contributions therefore is that 799, or 14.2% of alumni contributed this year. Percentagewise there were 2.2% less alumni participants this year than last. Is this another testimony to the recession which struck our country?

Personally I have never felt that the percentage of our alumni who make gifts to Harding represents fairly the real interest and devotion of our alumni. The amount of a gift is important but it is second in importance to the number of alumni who show their continuing interest in their alma mater by making a contribution, however small it may be.

Year	Alumni on File	Contributors	Percent	Amount
1948-49				$ 2,035.00
1949-50				1,855.69
1950-51	3,501	455	13.0%	6,323.83
1951-52	3,832	282	7.3	15,321.24
1952-53	3,703	395	10.6	17,341.64
1953-54	3,762	642	17.0	13,907.69
1954-55	4,278	578	13.5	11,301.59
1955-56	4,420	500	11.3	11,787.71
1956-57	5,235	865	16.5	15,570.72
1957-58	5,559	779	14.3	32,598.10

Was your name omitted from the list of contributors? Please bear with us. Three or four separate fund drives have been conducted throughout this year. Records of contributions are being centralized, but records for this report were in several different locations, making it difficult to be entirely accurate. If your name was omitted, or if you know of someone whose name was omitted, please let us have the information and we will run a list of additions and corrections in the next bulletin.

Dr. Wade Ruby stars on TV

Dr. Wade Ruby, (BA '31), of Los Angeles, received nation-wide fame this summer by his series of successful appearances on the television quiz show "Twenty-One." After toppling several opponents and running his winnings to $67,000, Dr. Ruby withdrew from further competition to return to his duties in California.

In the summer of 1957 Dr. Ruby appeared on the television quiz show "High-Low" and withdrew after about three weeks of successful competition. He has also appeared on Groucho Marx's television show "You Bet Your Life" and Art Linkletter's television program "People Are Funny."

Dr. Ruby is Professor of English and Chairman of the Department at George Pepperdine College. He was a member of the first faculty at Pepperdine in the fall of 1937. To promote greater interest in literature he teaches a course in humorous literature at Pepperdine. He also preaches regularly for the Hollywood church of Christ.

After graduating from Harding, he received his M.A. degree from the University of California at Berkeley and his Ph.D. from the University of Southern California.

Dr. Ruby held the spring meeting for the college church in Searcy in 1944. The 1934 class asked him to deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

He served as president of the Harding Alumni Association 1932-34.

While a student at Harding, Dr. Ruby took part in intercollegiate football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and debate. He was also Honor Student in 1928 and Best All-Round in 1931. He was greatly influenced by J. N. Armstrong and B. F. Rhodes whose influence motivated him to devote his life to preaching and Christian education.

Immediately following his graduation, he married his college sweetheart, Pauline Greening, (BS '30), of Camden. Mrs. Ruby was a mathematics major and also made an outstanding record at Harding.

Prather receives award

Robert Huston Prather (BA '50) was honored by the Ohio Academy of Science as an outstanding teacher at its annual meeting last April at Bowling Green State College, Bowling Green, Ohio. Mr. Prather has taught ten years at Roosevelt High School.

In addition to his teaching duties, Mr. Prather is director of visual education at the high school and coordinator of the adult visual education program in town. He holds membership in the Ohio Science and Education Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the National Education Association.

After graduating from Harding, Prather received his M.S. degree at Miami University, Oxford, O.
