Uncle Jack, Aunt Woodson, and I have quite a calling for celebration on Jan. 6.

Dr. Jack and Woodson Arm-strong hardly use January first as a beginning of the year. They rather look on January six for that day three anniversary for their marriage. Dr. Armstrong was born on January 6, 1870. However, Dr. Jack Armstrong was teaching in Nashville, Tennessee, at David Lipscomb Col-lege, that is not Woodson. He was teaching Greek, and Mrs. Arm-strong was one of his students. And a very brilliant stud-ent, who really seemed to be interested and had a very bright mind. She received the eighteen years later because of her glee. Though from June, the two were married, all be-cause of January 6, 1879 and 1879, for that is the day they married. And so, January six make us.

The view and makes the first three worthwhile, in the prospective glasses.

We have seen where we have, what we have, and we have to do. We are capable of, the question now: Where are we going, and how do we get there? Before we go to work, we will see continuously until the illusion is no longer possible.

There will be panoramic views. How do we get to the training school, and success, and streams of happiness.

ith our-our, our own ideas and our own goals into our picture, and to express our 'heart' to the outside of the human realities.

Everyone seems to be busy this time of year, doing down. From the Christmas holidays to the end of the school year, it is work wherever it was kept before Christmas. For this reason, we are actually doing much, though most people enjoy spending time in the warmest time.

All of us know, for instance, that living in a gold club, but most of us haven't spoken much about the work of gold club, either. (Organized by Mrs. Jewell about the middle of the fall term, the group is something of Wawisel's stations. Though this is not so large a number as it might be, the club has, as you will see, according to the director, a good snow.)

I haven't heard the high school girls since yet, though I hope to hear the boys. They plan to give a program at the training school chapel, and the date is imminent now, somewhere in the next few weeks.

The program for the winter season, let's--"and the other girls are so busy now, but if there is anything that is interesting, and all of us can do something.

Girls vs Elect Officials For Winter Term At Meetings

L. A. M. I. S.

A meeting of the L. A. M. I. S. was held last week at the home of Lois Wilson on East Park Street. The officers were elected for the winter term include Mary Adams, president; Margaret Forbes, vice-president; and Mildred Johnson, secretary-treasurer. The meeting was moved to February to give winter the best possible exposure.

FAITHS

The regular meeting of the F. A. H. S. was held last week to select officers for the winter term. Officers were elected: Dorothy Bayne, president; Edith Roberts, vice-president; and Mary Adams, secretary-treasurer. The meeting was held in the principal’s office.

Girls Plan Basketball Program

After a very successful season of bowling, the girls have organized two teams. Last week was a week for the girls to practice and organize their teams. Forty-three were present for the first practice session, which signifies a great deal of interest and enthusiasm. The captains have been chosen and the first match game will be held on January 1st at 4:30.

BASKETBALL

Now that vacation time is over, the basketball teams are back, and try to over the coming months more fully than I have in the past. One of the first things I have realized is that the holidays didn't seem to have much effect upon the team. One of the best games played to date was the game between the Sophs and Seniors last week with the Sophs coming out victorious. There has been much individual and team work in the past week and somewhat more than before the holidays. The things we are doing are adjusting to the new roster and the Sophs and Juniors are beginning to develop some chemistry. They have been playing quite well and the Sophs have some good players. The game between the Sophs and Juniors was quite competitive and the Sophs came out on top.

FOREIGN BASKETBALL PLAYER

Roy "Nubbin" Roe left last week to enter school at Arkansas College. The Sophs will have to play "basketball" next time on the Sophs' basketball team for the past year and last year was selected on the third All State team. Among the things they have been doing is getting into some good practices on the basketball court. They are working every day. I have two things to say: first, Arkansas College is getting a very good player and we wish Roy good luck in the world for a fine season of basketball.

ROE AND TIGE CARROLL

Roy "Nubbin" Roe and Junior "Tige" Carroll, two of the players on last year's basketball squad, are now enrolled at Arkansas College so that they might continue their basketball career.

Last year both were among the high scorers in the state. "Tige" made the All State team and "Nubbin" was selected on the third team. At the time of the selection "Tige" was a freshman and was the only freshman to gain this honor. "Tige" came within two points in one game last year in losing the state record. "Nubbin" was one of the main men on the team, considered by many to be the best heaver. Again with basketball both took in basketball, "Nubbin" played in left field for the Nubbin with the exception of two games last year that he pitched and won. "Tige" scored on the second year first and took over and started behind the half last year.

SOPHS AND JUNIORS IN FIRST PLACE

Senior Drop After Loss of Two Players

Opening the current intramural basketball season for boys, the Sophs defeated the Seniors 47 to 23 Wednesday, December 15 in a pre-holiday game.

"Nubbin" Roe was the outstanding offensive man for the Sophs, while Jack Lay was the leader for the Seniors. The Seniors had built a 22 to 15 lead at the half.

Juniors vs. Sophs

Coming from behind, the Juniors defeated the favored Sophs Friday evening by a score of 20 to 18. The Seniors led throughout most of the game having a 10 to 8 lead at the half. Consistency playing and teamwork proved to be the main factors for the Juniors.

SOPHS SMOTHER FROSH

"Nubbin" Roe ran wild and the Sophs defeated the Junior Frosh 46 to 19 Saturday, December 16.

Roy scored 24 points to set a new high for individual scoring thus far in the intramural. Captain Coggins and points guard. Coggins was practically the whole show for the Sophs and with great play from the game in his usual manner coming out.

Roy led the Sophs with 17, 13, 14, 10, 5 in his last five strategic shots. Roy played as he never had, hitting on 13 of 15 shots and pacing out the game. Roy won the game and had a great showing.
