$30,000 Given To College For Higher Salaries

Donation Comes From Unveiled Source: Complete Object Of Higher Salaries For College Faculty Members

This was announced in chapel recently by President Benson that Haslam College has received a donation of $30,000 which will be paid in full, and in a year. The purpose of this donation is to supplement the budget for paying teachers' salaries. President Benson stated: "We are most grateful for this donation because it is in the mortgage Thanksgiving." He stated that this was the first time the campaign to solicit the indebtedness of the college was started and that it is a new era in the history of the college.

The person making this contribution has had requests from several institutions to make donations but had never been fulfilled until this year. This awareness of the problem is being worked toward securing an endowment for the institution which will give it more financial security.

College Students Assisted In Recital

Miss Margaret Pearson, head of the speech department of Sooner High School, presented Miss Harriet Russell in her senior recital rental Thursday evening at the Baptist Church. Miss Russell was assisted by Rufus Byler, Bill Dixon, and John Mollin, all of the church. Miss Pearson's collection included "Feches" by Frank, "Fairfield Hald" by Suggs, "Five Hands" by Suggs, and "Red Sun" by Davis.

First in the act was "Red Currants," by Bill Dixon, Miss Harriet Russell, Rufus Byler, and William Dudesen.

Hugh Rhodes Talks In Chapel

Hugh Rhodes, senior from Fredonia, Oklahoma, addressed the student body during the chapel service as the guest speaker. The subject was "Physical Education." His first part of his speech was devoted to a review of the history of the science.

HELP THE CENSUS TAKER

Ursula Sams is asking college students to write home to their families and suggest someone take the census. It has been Uncle Sam’s experience in 150 years of Census-taking that while absence may make the heart grow fonder, it also tends to make the mind forgetful. Census Bureau officials have good reason to believe that the accuracy of the count of students who happen to be away from home at the time of the Census will be improved.

College students, temporarily away from home but on vacation, are counted as members of the households in which they usually reside. Students in other situations are counted otherwise.

The query on which parents are most likely to cooperate is the one asking the respondent to supplement the Census for any students who are not enumerated.

Helff, it might be thought that parents would know everything about the student which would conflict against disclosure of private facts which are asked in 1940, however, are somewhat less complex than those of previous years, reflecting the need for facts bearing on the many activities which have arisen in the U. S. during the eventful decade just closing.

The queries on which parents are most likely to cooperate are the ones asking about the employment of the student during the year—especially appropriate to students of the graduating year—of contests and the like.

Number of weeks the student worked in 1939 (regular part-time only)
Number of hours he worked during the week of March 24-30, 1940.
Number of weeks he worked last occupation.
Number of factories, stores or other places of business.
Number of weeks worked full time or salary or weekly salary in private work (wage or salary).
Number of weeks worked part-time or salary or weekly salary in private work.
Whether he worked in a private or non-emergency government or military occupation.
Whether he was employed as a professional man or a non-professional man.
Whether he was unemployed for any reason.
Whether he was unemployed or on vacation or sick.
Whether he was employed as a factory worker.
Whether he was employed as a retail store worker.
Whether he was employed as a salesman or salaried worker in private work (wage or salary).

A group of Harding music-lovers went to Little Rock Monday night to hear a concert for the St. Louis Symphony in the Joseph F. Robinson Memorial Auditorium. The St. Louis Symphony is the second oldest symphonic organization in the United States. Its 97 players were directed by Vladimir Gouchnikoffs and its tours extensive, to European west and south during four weeks of its season. Based on the program last night were the following selections: "Missa in B Minor, Opus 23", "Tchaikovsky: Juliet's Dance from "Othello" or "Oregon", "Delius: A Song for Cambodia," and "Weber: Symphony No. 6 in B minor, Opus 76."

Two boys' clubs Elect Officers

Two boys' social clubs elected their officers who will preside over the clubs for the coming year. The Lambda Sigmas chose Louis Green, sophomore from Fort Smith, Arkansas, as president and Maurice Hinds, junior from Los Angeles, California, as vice-president. The Officers of Beauty, seniors from Searcy, Arkansas, were elected as president and vice-president, and William Venable, junior from Hot Springs, Arkansas, as treasurer. Arkansas Final Plant Project Tree

On the grassy plot of ground in front of the administration building may be seen a lovely young maple tree which will some day spread its branches over the remains of the members of the 39 Arkansas Club. It has just been planted on this year's president and vice-president, Bill Brox and Jack Wood Secure. The president of the club last year, the marble slab which marks it has the officers' and members' names carved on it. They are president, James McCallister; vice-president, Pender Fitzgerald; secretary-treasurer, Acuella Elliott; and member, L. C. Mears.

Competing for the men's activities,
the award winners, were the rimentos of Spencer Greenway for the heavyweight
title.

Some may only postsecondary spots.
In the middle weight division,
Jack Lay pinned Eiland Thomas at five minutes. After a hard and fast track for ten minutes "Blackie" Berryhull of White County would not throw so they flipped a coin for the decision and "Blackie" was the lucky man. There were the only two spots in the preliminaries.

In the final round every weight class, at least two men competed for titles. Dan Spencer was too heavy for Johnny Greenway and joined him in one minute and two seconds for the heavyweight

Red Cross Test
Passed by Three

Under the instructorship of Bill Stiles, local Red Cross water safety instructor, three boys passed the requirements for senior life-saving certificates in the local pool last week.

Those receiving appointments and
their grades are as follows:
Thomas Ward ................ 82.4
Bob Crews .................. 78.5
Very Stork, South Stanly, Virginia
Carrying on his instructions re ceived from Ralph D. Curn, ARC Board official, Stokes started his class at the beginning of the winter term and impressed his instruction throughout the term.
He said he had planned with the showing the boys made. They really bought their certificates." said
Stokes following the examination.
Stokes, Harris, chairman of life saving in White County, assisted in giving the tests.
"The boys had another chance
in life-saving which will continue through this term," added Stokes.

Students To Witness
Track and Field Day

Each year for the past six years
traditional track and field day
is held in April, with boys and girls sharing the participants. The students always look forward to this annual event with passing hearts, tense
muscles, and hopes of winning.
Everyone is anxious to show his Roman and Greek background on the traditional arena.

This is Harding's way of greeting
the coming of spring and for many years old mother nature has blessed his day with blue skies and warm weather. Loyalty, speed, sportsmanship and extremity are the chief distinctions of the day except for the sunburns that come as a result.
This one is worth the perusal, or perhaps,
but everyone is for the best man.

All of the games I think that the boys' basketball tournament caused more excitement among the spectators than any of the other events. The sports had a good team, but people thought they had their days after they played their first games which they lost to the seniors.

The boys had been good athletes
in basketball, in fact so good that they had to play the senior group before they were willing to go to some
