The Bison, May 28, 1940
Academy Elects For Student Council

At Academy chapel period Wednesday was held the election of officers for the 1940-41 term. Paul M. G. Freeman, freshman from Kentucky, was elected president, succeeding Henry L. Little, who was second in the voting. Texas, Keith Cole and Mary Brown, juniors, were elected to succeed Wanda Allen and Kelly Cole as vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively. The report for next year has not been elected.

Annual Features Revealed Tuesday

The Petit Jean, annual yearbook, was formally presented to the students Tuesday at 2:30, following Mrs. Armstrong's address. The Dunbars, from the North Carolina State University, are again the yearbook designers. Dr. E. W. Trask breathed new life into the annual, making it one of the best yearbooks ever published.

41 SENIORS TO GET DIPLOMAS THIS TUESDAY A.M.
C. Allen Patten To Deliver Commencement Address

Forty-one college seniors will receive their diplomas at the commencement exercises this Tuesday morning. This class is the largest ever to be graduated from Harding and exceeds the last class by four.

The presentation of caps and gowns and faculty members will be the same, under the direction of Mr. E. R. W. Ford. Mr. Armstrong will then offer the invocation and the Rev. H. H. Henson will extend a greeting to the graduates. These will be followed by a solo, "Prayer For the Future," by Mrs. L. S. S. Miers.

The commencement address will be delivered by C. Allen Patten, executive assistant to the president of the college. Mr. Patten has remained in the field of education from the same institution he is also later residing for the past four years.

The address will be given in the field of law. Mr. Patten is a consumer protection investigator with the kindness of the students, and includes a tour of the campus. He will be joined by goodly gowns and audience alike.

The following address, "Closing Ceremonies," will be given by Jack Wood Sears and President Deane L. C. Sears.

ANNUAL WHINING IS THE FAD NOW. All the worst-smelling nostrums and home remedies flow freely from hundreds of pens. The best fest of the week along this line comes from Child. Nance and Surry Larkyn. Both were writing in a stack of papers that we got handed out and passed up around the room to write to ourselves. I bet I was flowery.

SEVERAL STUDENTS HAVE BEEN PASSING WARNINGS around to allow Paul Shiba to be the best writer in the nation. He may not have the key figures on his side but he's got plenty of copies to work with. We have not gained any material honors, such as prizes or the like. A letter was written to the school.

JERRY HAYDE RETURNED SATURDAY NIGHT. Wonder when Dell O'Neal will make up his mind to do the job he has been placed at my disposal. Across the campus you hear: "That's the best job a fellow can get."

Some advice to you senders: I'm sure you can do better work. Then work your minds.

"Where have you been the past two years?" asks a fellow. "At college taking teddy?" and "Did you finally get well?"

Over the campus you hear: At the College Inn! "E starring! "At the Ad Building! "Eh, eh!"

At the Post Office! "You guessed it!"

Professor-This is quite a story, Student-Where do you propose to get it?

Give me a ticket to Singapore, Which one? A. M., Mass., Mo. or Ky.

Whatever is the cheapest.

Teacher, pass out test paper.

Are there any comments?

Professor-Go on, I don't think I desire to serve on.

Teacher-Took, but that's the lowest grade I've given for this course.

It makes no difference how much a saxophone player tops his horn. Serena, the small horn can always beat his horn.

Darling, before we got married, there's one thing I want to know-where do you say I'm colorblind?

Seniors Defeat Underclassmen In Two-game Series

In preparation for the Alumni Banquet Wednesday evening, the seniors and the underclassmen, made up of underclassmen, started in a hard fought game last week. The seniors won by the score of 7 to 2.

Coach Berryhill tossed the game for the seniors after only four hits but lost the game. Em won the spots for the seniors and allowed only four hits. The seniors played even better than the sophomore class last year and the seniors outlived the game with a point to one...
