Attention: J. W. Nichols

Dear Brother Nichols:

I wish to take a moment of your busy schedule to express my reflections on the value of your paper, now being sent into the homes of each member family here.

Since we started this project I have visited in the homes of several of the members. The unusual thing that I notice is the fact that in every home an unsolicited expression of gratitude and appreciation has been noticed in regard to the paper. I could term its effect upon the group here as a minor revolution.

Our last month's business meeting was almost completely consumed in discussing possible support of a full-time missionary. It was decided that as soon as our contributions reach the level of $650 a week we will fully support a foreign mission worker. I feel that this is the best and most sincere way to express my true feelings of just what the paper has already done in a few short weeks.

Would you please notify the proper person to send us a sample of the new "Five Day Vacation Bible School" material? We would appreciate receiving that as soon as possible.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
