Holiday Awaits Senior Class

One day's exemption from classes having not promised to change but go 160 per cent in buying pictures and supplies, 38 freshmen who hail from 12 states have entered a rally to reach that goal. McAleer Denny McNair, yearbook editor, announced in chapels Friday that the senior class has been offered an opportunity to win a $1000 scholarship to some of the students who had already won a shelter.

The junior class consists of all fourth-year students. Accepting bids for the junior class, the senior class admires a rally to win a $1000 scholarship to some of the students who had already won a shelter.

Preachers Appearing Here

George Emptage

J. Harvey Dykes

Piano and Organ Recital

Riley Henry

Granville Tyler

Music Department

Entertains Guests Thanksgiving Day

Piano and Organ Recital

J. Harvey Dykes

Riley Henry

Granville Tyler

Thanksgiving Day Concert

J. Harvey Dykes

Riley Henry

Granville Tyler

Lecture Program Continues; Large Crowds Expected

Armstrong To Deliver Thanksgiving Address

J. E. Armstrong will deliver his usual message on "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," Wednesday morning, which will be presented at 8:30.

Empath, Dykes, Ijams, Morris, Hockaday, To Speak

Lectures on the Thanksgiving program will continue this afternoon and tonight by the appearance of George Emptage, J. Harvey Dykes, and Leon Burns. This afternoon's remarks will be made by George Emptage, as announced by Mr. Emptage and Dr. Dykes.

Tonight, George Emptage will speak on the subject of his choice, followed by Leon Burns, who will discuss "Christ and Life in Africa.

The lecture series began Sunday with a short remarks on the subject of his choice, followed by Leon Burns, who will discuss "Christ and Life in Africa.

The lecture series began Sunday with a short remarks on the subject of his choice, followed by Leon Burns, who will discuss "Christ and Life in Africa.

The lecture series began Sunday with a short remarks on the subject of his choice, followed by Leon Burns, who will discuss "Christ and Life in Africa.

The lecture series began Sunday with a short remarks on the subject of his choice, followed by Leon Burns, who will discuss "Christ and Life in Africa.
THANKFULNESS-AFORGOTTENIDEAL

Twenty centuries ago the world was being re-created under the leadership of a man whose divinity and conquering power was revealed in his teachings and the consecration to sovereignty and immortality. Jesus of Nazareth was the moving force that brought salvation from the spiritual pain and self-salvation from physical death, and salvation from spiritual death.

The spirit of the Man of Galilee was essentially one of love and thankfulness. He knew the undertones of loneliness and the depth that the world has ever seen. And through the teachings given in a thanksgiving spirit, he has brought enough to touch the heart of the most hardened and ungrateful.

His was not a life of ease and worldly pleasure. It was filled with poverty, fatigue, hardship, suffering, persecution, shame and despair, in contrast with the heavenly joys and exalted positions which were the crown of his Father. Yet in one of the darkest and most painful moments of his life, when he was seeking to save his father's life, when he was about to sacrifice his life for a cause that was dear to him and make his life a sacrifice to the cause of his Father, he was not content to leave the cause to the man who had taken his Father's life.

Once the Son of God brought the spirit of thankfulness to the world and imparted it to those who were to follow, many, many years have come and gone. And with the passing of time, there has been an ever-increasing degree of thanksgiving in the hearts of men. Have we forgotten that idea that renewed the thanksgiving spirit in the hearts of men? Are we not to be the last ones to remember it?

Since the Son of God brought the spirit of thankfulness to the world and imparted it to those who were to follow, many, many years have come and gone. And with the passing of time, there has been an ever-increasing degree of thanksgiving in the hearts of men. Have we forgotten that idea that renewed the thanksgiving spirit in the hearts of men? Are we not to be the last ones to remember it?

Today, more than at any other time, the opportunity is there for each of us to bring about a renewal of the spirit of thankfulness. This is a time when the dignity of men has been influenced by the principles of the divine, and we are striving to fight the old idea of being independent of other people in the world. We are not to be the last ones to remember it.

Today, more than at any other time, the opportunity is there for each of us to bring about a renewal of the spirit of thankfulness. This is a time when the dignity of men has been influenced by the principles of the divine, and we are striving to fight the old idea of being independent of other people in the world. We are not to be the last ones to remember it.

We are not to be the last ones to remember it.
SOCIAL NEWS

Ju Go Ju’s Honored With Banquet In Home Economics Dining Room As Contest Winners

As a reward for winning the brown ticket selling contest, Ju Go Ju Cli and their data were entertained as guests of the club at a formal banquet Saturday night in the home economics dining room. Due to the illness of Mrs. G. Bisson, her place was taken by Mrs. H. A. Bell served as host and hostess.

The room was decorated in fall colors with the Thanksgiving theme being carried out. Centering the table was a large pine tree with fall leaves and yellow and red cymbidiums. Alternating with the cymbidiums placed the length of the tables were vases of pines with fall leaves and acorns. Place cards were leaves of many fall colors. Chocolate turkeys, iced corn from cut ears were served.

The invitation was given by Don Heath, Mr. Bell made the welcome address, which was responded to by Mary Alberta Ellis, president of the club.

As co toastmaster for the occasion, Louise Green introduced the program. The Ju Go Ju trio consisting of Roberta Walden, Mary Virginia Chambers and Doris Heath, Darce Clark and Miss Phyllis Mitchell, Iva Farris and Louise Green, Betty Florence and Harriett Stocks, Arlene Hewson and Henrietta Moore, Gladys McCluggage and Arthur Wooldridge, Sara Merritt and Nancy Haynes, Helen Perry and Gay Porter, Roberta Walden and Larry Buffaloe, Mary Alberta Ellis and Bob Crissom, Miss Mary McKittrick and Miss Fern Hollier, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Coleman, Mrs. L. C. Sears, Misses and Mrs. H. A. Bell served as the waitresses.

Debaters Enter Junior Tournament At Arkadelphia

Two teams of debaters and coach L. C. Sears attended the Junior Tournament held at the Arkansas Normal College at Arkansas City, Friday and Saturday. Forty-nine debate team members were present, representing colleges and universities in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Kansas.

Virgil Bentley and David Davenport were three of five debaters and scored twenty-five points. This qualified them for the A division of the tournament. Paul Kelly and Woodrow Wilson were three out of five debaters and scored twenty-one points, putting them in the B section of the experienced division. Both teams were eliminated early in the finals. Five Virgil Bollot had previous experience in college debating.

Academy News

By Eugene Stover

The Wednesday chapel program consisted of a gospel solo by Gracie Stover, two songs sung by Billie Linder and an announcement made by Mr. Jewell, a poem read by Eunice Stover, and two second place honors by Frances Fultz. This program was sponsored by the Red-Deb Club.

The Beta Club has chosen four new members. They are Charlotte M. Andrews, Elmer J. Maudie, and Robert Bishop.

Wednesday the Student Council made the final plans for the party Friday evening. The food committee and the entertainment committee were appointed by the president, Paul Hogan.

A harvest party, sponsored by the student council of the academy, was given Saturday evening in the main reception room for the students in the academy.

During the evening several numbers were played, and refreshments were served. Miss Maudie Rhodes was the chairperson.

New Scientific Club Organized

As a means of securing informed appreciation for current scientific literature, a new club is being organized under the direction of Dr. Cyril E. Abbott and Dr. C. C. Wilson, the first meeting being held November 19 at 4 p.m.

It was announced by the co-sponsors, Dr. Abbott and Dr. Brown, that all students majoring in either chemistry or biology will be required to take an active part in the club. Each member who is interested in new scientific data is also invited to become a member, they said.

Meetings of the club will be held each Thursday night at 8. In the biology recreation room. A number of scientific journals, periodicals, and books are being made available in the college library. From these sources the members will obtain information to be presented in the meetings. It is in the purpose of the club founders that this group will help scientists make a new, up-to-date knowledge of their chosen field.

Wooten Speaks (Continued from page 2)

Two New members, Lowell Farm-
Bears and Razorbacks Tie In Hard-Fought Season Up-Set

In one of the major upsets of the week, the Bears held the Razorbacks to a 13-13 tie. The Packers were slated to win the game without great difficulty. However, the Bears won the game with a recovery and they proved to be a tough nut for the Packers. It was a rough, tough game all the way through and both sides fought desperately for every inch they gained.

The Razorbacks started the scoring in the first quarter with a long touchdown pass from Jackson to Brog. They tried for extra point, however, and the Packers led the score of 6-0.

The Bruins could not be held in check for long and they soon rallied to tie the score. Wayne Sutherfield, left-end for the Bears, slipped past the Razorback secondary and amazed a pass in the end zone.

In the third quarter the Bears again scored on a short pass, however, and the Packers found themselves down 13-6. Then the Bruins, behind a good punt return and a 50-yard touchdown pass from Jackson to Brog, scored the tying touchdown.

The final attempt to score a field goal was stopped, however, and the Bears held the lead into the last period of play.

They were not to retain this lead for long, however, for hard-fought action by the Bears ended in favor of the Bruins. Jackson, Packer safety-man, intercepted a pass and dashed across the 50-yard line for an apparent score that would have given the Bruins the lead.

The final score was 13-13.