Board Raised To Offset Cost, Benson States

Diners Will Pay Increase Of Fifty Cents A Month
To College Club For Eats

Because of the increase in prices of food, Dr. George S. Benson announced that boarding students would have to pay fifty cents more per month for the remaining terms this year.

The College Club is run on the cooperative plan and board is furnished at cost. Prices have been rising since school started but due to the planning of Mr. A. E. Clifton, director, students received their board until now for $81.75 per month, the same as last year.

Last summer Mrs. Chandler bought a large quantity of summer foods at low prices. The kitchen workers also canned more pears, tomatoes, tomato juice, berries, canned beans, jams, and preserves. Strawberries were obtainable for the first time in the school term there were 534 gallons of jam made.

In announcing this increase in board cost, Dr. Benson stated Harding students were still paying less than their board than most students at other colleges.

Film Shown In Auditorium
On Rubber Reclaming

"Rubber Reclame" was the title of the moving picture shown in the auditorium Thursday night by Mr. Edwin Hughes. The film was a continuation of the one shown on rubber before the holidays. Both sets were presented in the reclaiming of scrap rubber as from worn out tires—how the rubber is broken up, sieved, filtered, vulcanized and finally come out in sheets of rubber ready for use.

Dr. Abbott Lectures On "History Of Science"

Dr. C. E. Abbott, professor of Biological Science continued his lecture on "The History of Science" in the Journal Club meeting Wednesday night.

Earth worms and egg cocoons of which some were hatched were shown to the members of the club.

Morton Praises Benson's Work

In a latest letter to Dr. Benson, Sterling Morton, prominent Illinois business leader, and Secretary and Director of the Morton Salt Company, stated: "I don't know of anyone who has attracted more or better public attention to sound economic ideas during the past year than you have. I'll owe you a good deal of gratitude."

Harding students remember Mr. Morton as one of the business men who lectured here in the fall of 1938.

McDoniel Awarded First Prize In Radio Skit Writing Contest

Miss Mabel Dean McDoniel, class of '41, now teaching in the Seasey Senior High School, was the first prize winner, of $500, in a radio skit writing contest sponsored by the committee in charge of the annual student sale for fighting tuberculosis.

The name of her skit was "The Melody of Limping" and it contained about 250 words.

For the contest were supposed to have been announced December 24, so the selected scripts could be used in the programs. There were so many entries, the judges' decisions were delayed.

Miss McDoniel also wrote an article published in the October issue of the Scholaristic Editor magazine entitled, "Editing a Yearbook Can Really Be Fun."

Besides teaching English in the Seasey Junior High School, she is in charge of school publicity, and is sponsor of the high school annual.

New Students Enter College

Six new students have entered Harding since Christmas. Some are new to Harding and others have attended before. Noah Massey, Marjorie Wood, and Robert Anthony are former students and F. M. Wilson, Fred Davis, and Paul Harris are new.

A number of the students were unable to return after the Christmas holidays.

Henry Evering has been drafted into the army and will be in camp at San Antonio, Texas.

C. F. Whitehead has entered a school where he is training in specialized defense work. Dot Baker, of Chattahoochee, will remain at home because of the sickness of her mother.

Maxine and Lois Roberts plan to go in training as nurses. Others who are not able to continue their work at Westmoreland, Bertha Lee Williams, and Dorothy Welch.

Benson Makes Progress In Endowment Drive

Soon To Net $37,000, He States On Return From Washington, D. C.

Several money gifts in the endowment drive for Harding College were announced by Dr. Benson on his return from Washington, D. C.

The largest, a sum of $5,000, will be turned over to the endowment fund by the donor next April, Dr. Benson said. He did not disclose the name of the donor, but said it was given by one individual.

Funds totaling $1,000, in part unsolicited, have been received in the endowment drive since December 13. Many of these gifts have come as a result of Dr. Benson's activity in behalf of national economy, and represent expressions of appreciation on the part of many donors for his work and for the service of the college.

Regarding the endowment drive, Dr. Benson said that the untimed offers are making it increasingly difficult to reach the goal of $30,000 immediately, but he pointed out that many good contacts had been made and were being made, and that he still expected to reach that goal within the time originally set.

A gift of $100, specifically given to start a student loan fund, was made by Mrs. and Mr. J. C. Davis, Lubbock, Texas, who heard Dr. Benson speak there recently. Mr. Davis, not a wealthy man, was impressed with Dr. Benson's work and said that service of the college is rendering. He stated that he desired to assist young people and the school in such a manner, and was endeavoring to raise a $1,000 total to start such a loan fund. Dr. Benson said he hoped the fund would reach $1,000 before the year is over and that it would reach $1,000 within the next three months.

Pres. George S. Benson attended a reception and luncheon given in his honor by the Indiani (now Emory) Club, Detroit, and Mrs. and Mr. E. C. Swig, students.

The reception and luncheon was held in the Grand Ball Room of the Book-admiral Hotel, Dr. Benson spoke at the gathering on national economy.

Ministerial Students Go To Lectures On Religion

Quentin Gately and Emmett Smith, ministerial students, left Monday to attend the lectures on religion being held at Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tennessee. The lectures started January 6 and will continue until January 18.

Fred Harden who gives these short courses annually for ministers and all interested persons. Some of the subjects being discussed this year are "Modernism," "God's Unfolding Plan for Salvation," "Preparation and Delivery of Sermons," and "The Book of the Hebrews."
Trim Expense Now!

Next year's income taxes will take a cut out of your folks' pay checks that sent you to college this year. Those "pabaricns" will really make the rounds since they have raised their rates more. Take steps to prevent the increased government consumption of industries.

To the most of us who are just getting by while living at Harding, more taxes to the government means we will wear metal taps on our soles and heels to save shoe leather.

Discover what old clothing you have and wear it in order to avoid wearing more. Take steps to save that crease in your trousers or those pleats in your skirt for next Sunday. Unnecessary cleaning and dry cleaning laundry bills dash a little pocket money to no economical use.

If little luxury items like candy are not written off your budget books, you might not be able to scrape up enough "sugar" out of the money bank for your tuition next fall. Cut down on sweets now! And we will be trimming our expenses for long years after the taps have stopped running for a nation of soldier boys to obey and bustle about with fire-arms.

Save To Give!

Save the good in order that you may give it to others. If you have no funds, then you might consider what might pommaz as security? There is your inscureity!

For the man who gives is the man who has security. It is not what he gives but how he gives them good gifts. Friends. Will take care of him even as he has taken care of them. So give a good gift to all who ask it of you. And it is better to give before the asking is known.

The Giver and the Gift

What is a good gift? Can you find out by count measure or can you judge by the spirit of the giver? There are some who feel that giving of pain giving until it hurts. Give to see other people happy and thus be happy. Some give neither to feel the pain nor to know the happiness but because they realize what they have is not for the use of all mankind but for the grace of God.

Allegorically Speaking

Some young fellow took his little lady friend into the drug store for a malted milk. They were hungry after their long horseback ride. He ordered one big glass and they both had it.

When they began using those two straws in the one glass, in came a young lady who raved the other for the affections of the little lady. Although there were ill feelings between the boys, the lady friend kept her mouth shut and took the drink out of the bottle, and the three knew the pleasures of a malted milk for a season.

After the long fellow was married to his little lady, they changed their system. The lady who had lost his bitter thoughts as he shared a malted milk.

Dear Angus

I feel like my theme this week should be on something like "love, courtesy, and the like makes a man." I trust our students returned married, and some who we hold in deep suspicion of it, and others who will shortly be fattuated.

Bill Lass and Cecil Hare were married during the holidays as it was officially attempted. Congratulations are in order. I understand cereal issued several reports to this effect before the Christmas holidays, but we didn't accept them.

Paul Herndon, a late comer from Davidville, NC, brought back his wife and recently I had a short letter from a former student, Valda Fay Montgomery, in which she philosophized, "The girls are getting a pretty good break in not having to go to the war, only the five who married are trying the considerable pains of being over looking for Shewmaker, speaking in the high and mighty style. We are more fortunate to see our dear little Eddie by misunderstanding kept all of the milk, leaving none for the liberal doore.

Rememblah Augus, next week I'm giving information concerning the rules and entries in this year's "cartin" contest. We have a very promising group, and it should be very little trouble to pick at least ten or twelve eligible coups out of the hundred or so. Have them. Until then.

So, Long.

"For the first time in its twenty-two years, the University of Texas Glee Club, Austin, TX, was being published in its campus press; "Teenage! Shine." I quote: "Mr. How's Tonight 681 is open to all students with a printing experience to handle the technical end of the job. At Searcy, Ark., Mr. How's headed the Harding College Glee Club, and the student newspaper took the state award for general excellence.

High Clark, former minister of Union Avenue church of Christ, Mem- phis, was the guest speaker at the Baptist Student Union convention this year. He is working regularly with the Abilene congregation.

They recently conducted a portion poll on chapel improvements. More music for the songs was the general request.

It was reported that Bob Reeves, Har­ ding ex 'at, now attending A. C. C., suf­ fered an appendectomy. We hope you get well soon, Bob, but hope more that you don't have to have you aren't sick, big­ ging all of O. K. Oh, my, skip it. Happy New Year to your bride, our friend, and all the family; with love and thanks.

Arkansas State Teachers presented at Conway the Kaufman-Hart three act comedy "George Washington Slept Here." Dec. 17. This is a highly praised play.

The A. S. T. C. debate team won second place in the women's division of the forensic tournament held in Pittsburg, Kansas.

Even the spirit of the receiver of the good gift must fit a necessity. He must accept the gift with grace but not abuse the privilege. By George S. Benson says, "We are living in God's world!"

Campus Effusions

We're waited by a bell
A class of one has to meet we

Go through the day
Of work and study
And through the night as well
We visit, we talk
Or go for a walk
By the blink of a light or a bell.

Homing Backstage

It's good to go home
But it's great to get back
To school for study and work
To all the dear friends
And duties we can shirk.

Social Groups Have Meetings

Tofebt

Mary Blanche Jackson was elected president for this quarter to succeed Margarette O’Flaherty at the Tofebt Club meeting in Miss Eltie Mae Hopper’s room in Patty Cobbl Hall Saturday night.

Mabel Grace Turman will serve as vice-president of Hollee Gaunt’s place and Eltie Reese will succeed Mary Blanche Jackson as secretary-treasurer.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was given for the couple, after which they left for a short wedding trip.

W. H. C.

Shirley Vaughan, Mildred Knowles, and Blodell Webb entertained W. H. C.’s Saturday night. During the business meeting plans for the country supper were discussed and committees were appointed.

Shirley, Blodell, and Mildred served Cola, potato chips, open-faced ritz sandwiches and stick candy.

Members of the W. H. C. Club gave a microllassion shower in honor of Cecil Hare Laas Sunday from 1:30 until 3:00.

Guests were received in the Boys’ Reception Room and were served tea and cakes.

G. A. T. A.

In recognition of Dorothy Baker’s departure, the GATA’s gave a farewell reception in her honor Tuesday night preceding the Christmas holidays.

Officers for this current term were elected with Esther Marie Clay being chosen president. Other officers elected were Betty Sue Johnson, vice-president, Mary McCallum, secretary and treasurer, and Dolene Helbarger, reporter.

Ju Go Ju

Mary Etta Langston’s home was the scene of a Christmas party for the Ju Go Jus, December 16. A Christmas tree and candlelight created the atmosphere of Christmas. Marvalene Chambers acted as Santa Claus and was assisted by little Miss Sandra Langston, who passed out the gifts.

Mary Etta presented Iris Merriw with a large birthday cake with candles on it. The group sang “Happy Birthday” to Iris, and then sang Christmas carols as Mary Etta served punch, cake, candy, and nuts.

The ring ceremony was performed by a lovely black purse in honor of her services to the club.

Almost one-half of the intramural basketball season is over, and already it appears as if one team is going to hog the spotlight. The Fresh dark-horses came through with two decisive victories, using their adaptable second team of half-inchers, and willingness to mix it up, if necessary. His ability to get the rebound accounts for half of the junior field goals.

Sophomores "shortness" is their main drawback. They are always in the thick of it, but someone usually has a longer reach, and they grope for thin air. Little Rouge Blackblush is a fighting fury and Jennings Harris is clever when it comes to handling the ball. Both teams fouled freely, but neither could capitalize upon it. The seniors committed 15 fouls, and the juniors 14. However, the juniors only commit 10 per cent of their charity tosses while the seniors commit five.

"Two much class and experience" aid the seniors in that quarter. The seniors could not catch. Plagued by inexperience and hard playing. Neither of their points. Jim Bill Miller was another of the highlights of the game. The junior team showed more ability and willingness to mix it up, if necessary. His ability to get the rebound accounts for half of the junior field goals.

Miller leads all classes in scoring with 36 of his team's 56 points to his credit.
