So Shoes Are Rationed

The announcement that shoes will be rationed sent a multi-number of nervous customers to the counters. Only three pairs a year! Allowance is made for personal needs so one can do extra walking. Uncle Sam didn't expect this to force people to walk with bare feet. He knows, as we all do, that any nor-moral, comfortable, and efficient job will be performed conveniently by being limited to three pairs of shoes per year. There are many people who have never worn out three pairs of shoes a year.

We can sympathize with the fellow who missed his extra apron of sugar in his coffee or cereal; and we can feel for the man who has to be cautious with his gasoline and tires. But frankly, we have no sympathy whatever for the guy who believes only two pairs of shoes a year.

All devout members of the club should remember that the USO books wants for the 1943 Victory Book Campaign. And remember, they want books that you would want to read.

OUT OF USO

Though Scarsy does not have a regular USO center, it has been doing a commendable job for the United Service Organization. A country-wide committee of students was appointed in August, 1941, and since that time all money raised by the USO committee has been turned in to the national fund. Mrs.
Dearen, chairman of the USO committee, pointed out recently that from now on a portion of the money will probably be kept to aid service men who are passing through Scarsy.

Numerous students have expressed their appreciation for the outstanding opportunity to help our service men and give to the USO. Let's talk it up more!

"To Forgive, Divine"

Alexander Pope once said. "To err is human, to forgive divine." I sometimes think we repeat this oft quoted phrase with the intention of justifying ourselves for getting so ready to forgive our brother. Perhaps we forget that we were erected in the image of God and possess that spark of divinity which bestows upon us the capability of forgiveness.

In an institution like this nature erected upon the foundation of Christian principles we ought not to be blind to the underlying need of such as stitudes. But how easy it is in the narrow confines of the dormitory to become offended and to refuse to forgive. Perhaps a thought, or a momentary slip by a friend who little realizes the mental effect that it is having upon us, or an inordinate deed, will cut us deep. Yet it is desirable to ignore little things that may never be forgotten. If we would but realize that a little forgiveness must not too sparingly would patch up the minor differences that occur daily, we would find ourselves slowly losing by a secret contempt that eventually grows into a passion of hated. "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

"We Walk by Faith"

The road of war has settled upon the whole world and we are growing our way up it. More than ever before, it is impossible to look ahead beyond any great distances or make plans. However, we are determined to do our best, and hand on every way and do not know from one day to another what will happen. As we are engaged in this great adventure, we prepare ourselves for the morrow.

You, as young people will be directing the affairs of the world soon. As we go on from one place to the wheel of industry, education, etc., you will be responsible be leaders for Christ. We as Christians have the only cure for the war, and you can see through the overlapping fog.
In our duty to push ahead we will be able to find the breakthrough the Bible for our guide. It will penetrate the barriers of wreck and ruin, and enable us In Christ, we can push ahead but "walk by faith and not by sight."

Bergner-McInteer Engagement Announced February 17

Perhaps one of the most different and original announcements ever made at Harding was an announcement of Betty Bergner’s engagement to Jim Bill Mc­ Inter. 41; at the home of Mrs. L. E. Burch on February 17, to which thirty-eight guests, close friends of Miss Bergner, were invited.

In order to keep the real pur­ pose of the party a secret it was generally though that the tea was to be given in honor of Mrs. Cath­ codd, 35, who was 30 when Glenn Eccory 26, proposed to her in white linens, having the engagement ring on a white pillow presented to Mrs. Cathcodd’s “Wedding March” was heard in the background, that the tea was really the ton was given for her.

The tea was decorated with arrangements and swags and the centerpiece of the table was a bowl of Silk carnations. Soft mu­ sic all the while tea was being poured.

Signing up and weighing in for wrestling has been completed, and the finals in each division should be reached by the end of the week. From the look at the list of wrestling names there seems to be quite a talent for first place hon­ors in the weight, middle weight and lightweight classes. There is a real weight advantage to the wrestler having the most points. The loss in the wrestling tournament. No strangle holds or bone crushing, Jock, etc., will be permissible. For the wrestler having the most points, with some of the younger boys as his mates, the odds are against the younger boys.

High School Girls Defeat Picked Team

After getting off to a very slow start the high school girls handed a team picked from the junior and senior classes a decisive defeat in the basketball game played at the high school gymnasium Saturday night. Neither team could get their game going, and the score was tied 0 at the end of the first quarter, and 3 at 1 at the half period. In the last half of the academy led by Illine and Overstreet piled on the points, the girls held the senior forwards to these points. The final score was 13-2.

Lawyer Team Beats Tagmas Thursday Night

The Lawyers Banksters tossed out their opponents in the last few minutes of play and the Tagmas, 21-22, Thursday night, in a game that was well watched by both teams. Both teams were playing a tight defense, neither being able to get a safe lead on the other at any time during the game.

The lawyers brothers have played these clubs thus far, and although they dropped their games to the Tagmas, their win over the Tagmas was always a safe lead on the other at any time during the game. They will take with the Koi­mas social club, either Tuesday or Thursday night, to be a great favorite to beat the Tagmas. They are expected to beat the Tagmas.

High School Team Loses To Last Year's Squad

Saturday night the high school basketball team of '43 was trounced by the academy with a 42 to 29 score. The victory was expected by a decisive score, 29 to 26.

The victory means that the academy will play drive and power from the begin­ning of the season and that the high school has been heavy in their favor. They con­tinued the work of the season with their last game against the academy and so kept the ball in their possession, a great percentage of the time.
