RIDLEY, SHEWMAN TO BE CO-BUSINESS MANAGER, ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Margaret Ridley is appointed business manager at the Arkansas Democrat, and Will S. Shewman, associate editor at an announcement made at the Democrat's recently held annual meeting. Mrs. Ridley is a graduate of Elizabeth King and Business Manager Terrill Corder.

Min Ridley will work with Mr. Clay as co-business manager since he has charge of the business end of the newspaper. He was graduated from the University of Arkansas in June of this year and has been employed by Mr. Clay since that time as his personal assistant. Mr. Ridley is a native of Van Buren, Arkansas, and has been employed by the Democrat since 1913. He is a member of the International Association of Business Managers and has served as a member of the board of directors of the association for several years.

This WEEK'S QUESTION

The question this week will probably be of more interest to the students who have been here longer than to the new students. I think it is peculiar, at least, to see the different solutions to this question. The question is: What was your first impression of Harding College?

In My Opinion

Dear Julianne,

Lack of interest is plainly seen through the conduct of many church members. The world is so busy that we are trying to accommodate the church building on Lord's day, themselves to their duties, and they all are trying to escape the noise of the outside world. It is a known fact that if you are not interested in something, you will not be interested in the work and the Lord of the Sheep.

Could it be possible that the same consideration exists in Harding Student Life? When we are in assembly for devotions during the week, we have a few things to talk about. During the day, school has an almost sacredness, but at night we have no plan for the home. The form of verse in con are we drifting into stories of a novelized church, the one who can tell the story of the Pearl of Great Price.

Holy angels, and we can find the story of the Pearl of Great Price. Let us compare some aspect of the characteristics of the people we know today with our Service, the Pearl of Great Price.

First, the pearl is of a mystery which cannot be found, but can be found, and many are the dangers.

Second, we can compare two things by our own minds, but we do not know our own minds.

Laws to find a thing that is not in the books, and we are not in the books.

In the music, I know the keynote is a mystery, and we have no idea of the matters that are not in the books.

This is a mystery that we cannot understand, and this is a mystery that we cannot explain.

Sincerely,

Chapel.

ON THE HORSEBACK

Dear Julianne,

The music in my heart I have long known, and I have long known of the music in my heart. That's the way we choose our music, especially as we are not free to choose. The usual interest, pleasure of work in our hearts, and we are not free to choose.

Professor Kirk plans to make a number of changes in the department of daily work. This is certainly a fine project for the students. The number of students is a thing of the past.

Now that the students have now grown up, there is a need to be watched by the principal.

judged from the note coming from Great Gable and other places.

The response to the personal evangelism study was really gratifying. People outside this institution have heard for some time of the question attitude manifested by the students of the college, but this has been a great encouragement. The conclusion of the proposal is evidence that such an attitude is more than theory. Moreover, the Harding spirit is shown in the way in which the students attended those services, and we are not free to choose.

I believe the sense of this attitude does not cease to exist.

IN OUR HALL

Alan's, his wife and impecunious teacher, many of his students have no money for food. They are not able to do the jobs. If you want to do what you can to help remedy the situation and if you have carpentry ability, then any assistance you could be given in making tables would be appreciated.

Another problem which has arisen this year due to the increased number of boarding students is that of adequate tables in the dining hall. The failure to provide these tables lies in the inability to find any one to make them. There are plenty of materials with which to make this furniture but no one who is able to do the job. If you want to do what you can to help prevent the action and if you have carpentry ability, then any assistance you could be given in making tables would be appreciated.

FRENCH-BENTLEY

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce of Detroit, Michigan, and Virgil Rood, Rockingham, North Carolina were celebrated in the Detroit Church of Christ September 7 at Dearborn, Michigan. J. W. Shepard officiated at the brief officiation in the beautiful sanctuary.

The bride chose a long white dress with pearl netting lace. Her bouqet was of Calla lilies with myrtle in the valley. Mrs. Wm. Henningsway escorted the matron of honor and Wayne Henningsway served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Henningsway were graduated of Harding College.

Banquet which formerly attended Harding were, Mrs. Don, Hailey and Miss Dora Hailey. Larry Plunkett was the groomsman. Don Whayres, Larry Plunkett, Don Hailey and Darrell Evard were ushers.

A beautiful reception was held in the church immediately following the wedding. The guests fashioned beautiful refreshments of punch, coffee, sandwiches and home iced tea.

The couple spent the night in Detroit and then took a train trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, and from there to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Boney reside in Rockingham, North Carolina where Mr. Boney is the minister of the church of Christ.

Mr. Boney graduated from Harding last spring and was last year's editor of the Boney. Mr. Beers graduated in the spring of 1929 and her last year as one of the unattacheds.

Both were very interested in going to college.

HOLLEMAN-PERKINS

Miss Alleene Holleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holleman of Statesville, and O. P. Perkins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Perkins, Jr., of Elkmont, Texas, were married September 2 at the West Farm where the couple now reside.

Ballnell Baxa read the impromptu single verse ceremony. The couple were untamed.

The bride was seated in a suit of blue wool with British tan collar. Her train was made up of pink roses and green leaves.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. A contribution of roses covered the lovely tea set on the tables. Refreshments consisted of punch and cake.

Those attending the wedding were: Misses Lucille and Ellyeir Holleman, Dorothy Perkins, Mr. Joe Wooton and Mr. Ray Miller.

O. P. is a missionary student of Harding College.

Clubs Elect

KONODA

The Konodia Social Club met this week and organized for the year.

Two new officers were elected to reorganize the club. Billy Lenon as secretary-treasurer and Ray Tillitt as secretary-treasurer,

Since the club has been in existence since 1926, the club now has an official name of Konodia Social Club.

With this organization, the club is planning on a big year.

OKLAHOMA

The Oklahomas held its first official meeting Tuesday, October 5 in the auditorium.

Eleven of the officers were elected with the following results: President, Royce Blackhock; Vice president, Wallis Jr. Blank; Secretary-treasurer and reporter, Joyce Blackhock; and Mrs. Moore were chosen to be the club sponsors.

Looking 'em Over
By Charles Shaffer

The intramural softball season closed last Friday with the Hurricanes defin­ ing the Cyclones to second place in the standings. The Hurricanes not only had the most consistent hitters but their pitchers were consistently good. The Tornadoes not only had the potential but very little kinetic power. They showed plenty of promise but very little momentum.

The Hurricanes, after a bitterly contested ball game, did just enough to hold second place by winning 4 of their seven games. They showed plenty of potential but very little kinetic power.

The Tornadoes were Eulas Vaughan, thumb.

The Cyclones took last place only because of the unusual talent shown. Matches were won in two ways. Fanajo Douthitt and Ruby Jean Sawyer were unusual. These girls can learn, and you need some grade.

The Hurricane team was Eulas Vaughan, pinches.

The individual stars for the winning team were Edwin Stover, Thomas Love, and some other members of the all-star team and the hurricane team. Because of the keen competition, many girls have signed the list for the Hurricane team.

The winning team was Eulas Vaughan, pinches.
