The Executive Council met at 6:00 pm on April 11, 1967. All members were present.

David Smith reported that the Highlight Record tape had been sent to the company for production. He also reported that a thousand copies had been ordered. The name of the record, according to David, had been changed to "Earbook 66-67: Highlights:"

The group then discussed possible advertising ideas. Karen Cronin asked that each of the SA cabinet members and Council members be present Sunday, April 16, at 7:15 pm to work on posters for the advertising. It was concluded that a small amount of advertisement would begin on May 1 and that a big campaign should begin on May 4.

The next topic of discussion was that of the chapel programs. April 24 was designated as the day for presidential candidates to speak. May 4 was reserved for the patriotic program, May 11 for the record and projects, and May 22 for the introduction of the new SA Council.

Next, the Council considered the topic of elections. David told the group that a vote would be taken in chapel on April 12, 1967, concerning the amendments proposed to the SA constitution. He reported that by-laws were being written in anticipation of possible passing of the amendments. The group discussed the utilization of additional ballot sites for elections. Five of the Council were in favor of such a move, and five were against; David, therefore, declared that such would not be attempted.
The Council then considered the possibility of extending voting hours during elections. Linda Byrd moved that the polls be open until 5:30 pm. Dave Young moved that Linda's motion be amended to read that the polls be open from 9:50 am until 5:30 pm. Dave's amendment was seconded and passed. Linda's amended motion was then voted on and passed.

David reported that John Black is forming a committee to work on election procedures. The group decided that absentee ballots should be provided for those unable to be present for the regular elections.

David reported then that the new projectors have been acquired. The cost for these will be approximately $13,000, but the Council will only be responsible for $2,500. The equipment should be in our hands by May 11.

The group decided that stricter control of the Activity Calendar should be exercised if possible. It was suggested that Dr. Gilliam should be consulted about such a suggestion to the Personnel Office.

Mary Beth Parks was asked to be in charge of obtaining typists to help Kyle Smock produce a handbook concerning the movie program.

At this point Dave Young suggested that the SA inquire concerning the possibility of obtaining paid secretarial help. David agreed to check into the subject.

David asked that the Council think about the practicality of the use of a glass case over the chapel announcement board. The possible use of auction funds for the glass case was suggested.

David then asked that all members of the Council be present at 7:00 am on April 13 for a final discussion of the problem of alumni contributions.

Because there was no further business to be discussed, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully Submitted,

Sherry Balthrop, Secretary
