McMillan and Baxter Will Deliver Senior Addresses

E. W. McMillan of Memphis, Tenn., will deliver the commencement address Thursday morning in the Walker Auditorium. Baxter, Virginia, will give the baccalaureate addresses Sunday night, May 26, and on May 29. Charles C. Hildreth, president of the college, will give the commencement address on Friday morning.

E. W. McMillan is minister of the church at Clinton Avenue in Memphis. Before he began his work there he was for six years minister of Central church at Chicopee, N.Y., and then at Nashville, Tenn. He was also editor of the "Christian Leader" for two years. He has been associated with Bible and social work.

Baxter is also associated with Christian education either as a student or instructor since 1930.

Candidates for degrees this year are Kenneth Biddle, Roger Blatchford, W. Bradley, Anna Burford, Clay Callaway, Leon Campbell, W. W. Coleman, Belle Campbell, Mary Carroll, Richard Chandler, T. Ervyn Chea, Bill Dixon, H. R. Eggler, Elizabeth King, Alfred Lankin, Foster Lott, Dr. Anthony Low, Mary Beth Mattox, W. Coy Pettey, Margaret Ridley, Mary E. Robertson, Gerald Showalter, Colonel Smith, Marijean Waster, Mary Neil Wethers, and Verna Joan West.

This WEEK'S QUESTION

What will someone remembers longer a boot this year at Harding? (1) the high school girl's boot, (2) the basketball team's boot, (3) the Arkansas Democrat's boot. (4) the boot that made the trip to California.

Looking 'em Over

By Billy Bob Smith

The softball season rolled merrily on this week with some of the best games of the entire spring. The fans, predictably, came to life with an impressive victory over the heavily favored Cherokees. This ended the Cherokees hopes of ever taking the looking Chickasaws and winning the pennant question once and for all by Lawyer equally likely to win. Selections to be made and it looks-at first like a walk-over for the Oklahoma to acqui- the three finest players in the game to be played during graduation week. The second base spot will probably be filled by Bill Hatcher who filled it last season. First base spot will almost certainly go to Joe Wooten, the Hoosier to be considered. Third base will probably be Arnold Shaver and allowed few walks.
