Lecture Program Concludes Thanksgiving Afternoon

Classical Dramatic Club Cast
To Give First Lyceum Thursday Evening
Steepr And Hargrave
To Play Leading Roles
In “Mrs. Miniver”

The production of this year’s harvest scene, “Mrs. Miniver,” will be presented in the college auditorium Thursday evening at eight o’clock.

The play has its beginning in pre-Protestant England and portrays the normal life of the Minvards and their friends. The war comes, and the second act pictures the spiritual and secular life in a typical English family during the Dunkirk crisis. It is during these stirring times that the Minvards look to God and request that “The Lord doesn’t seem to care how much muddle he gives Himself in helping our enemies.”

The cast includes Fred Morgan, Ben Groes, Frank Holland, Norman Sammons, Vivian Swain, Mary Hopson, Allen Swain, Helen Smith, Mildred Loxter, Frank Davidson, Patty Minter, Ann Pickens and Trudy Fewster.

The play is directed by Miss Vivian Raloton, assisted by Evan Utley. Makeup is in charge of Mary Hargrave, Dor­othy Neely, Frangois Detlof and Marg­aret Sharrons.

Kirk Announces Spanish Exhibition To Be This Week

Professor Kenneth Kirk, Spanish instructor, has announced that a Spanish exhibition will be set up in room 108 of the administrative building some time during the week. The 110 pound exhibit will include books, maps, flags, Spanish recordings, and Inca pottery.

The exhibit will continue here for two weeks. All students of that language are cordially invited to visit it.

Mrs. J. A. Armstrong Is Honored

Mrs. Florence M. Catheart has been appointed chairman of the publicity committee of the National Association of Dames of Women meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, February 22-24, 1945 with the title of “Mrs. J. A. Armstrong.”

Mrs. Armstrong attended the funeral.

Speech Festival Work To Get Under Way After Christmas

Those Desiring To Register May Do So At Present Time Number Already Registered

Mrs. J. N. Armstrong, head of the college journalism department and three representatives of the Arkansas Press Association were guest speakers on the Sunday morning meeting.

A new and institute of the college will be organized in the near future.

Allstar Teams For Football Announced

Confederates, Buzzards, Each Place Three On List; Canaries Place Two

Professor Hugh Rhodes has announced the 1934 football all-stars selected by the faculty committees on the basis of sportmanship, ability to play and the all-given their respective names during the recent tournament.

The championship Cardinal organization placed three players on the eleven man squad while the Buzzards’ had but one. With the preferences of the players as a basis, the Buzzards’ would have been a better team.

However, the Buzzards’ on the other hand, had more good players for the position of president of the council of the Benjamin Franklin Society.

He is survived by his wife and brother, Mrs. J. A. Armstrong, two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Armstrong and Mrs. C. A. Roper, a son, James A. Armstrong, and a grandson, Jas. Harding Armstrong.

Mrs. Armstrong attended the funeral.

Editorial

The Bison

Dear Editor,

I want to point out to those who question the College Faculty and Dean's correctness something which they may not realize. The "laundry" is operating under heavy punishment, as it is the lack of work for them, for whom there is a constant demand for serious, in their daytime workers and about ten students who are employed must handle the laundry and clean washing of some 375 student bodies as well as teachers and students. All women who work here will have to make up the labor deficit.

In view of this, I feel they are fully justified in the necessity of work they would be half as bad if their conditions were not so severe, and at the present time that which can't be helped, and they have no other escape but to work for their service. We are the customers. Let's be thankful.

Sincerely,

Hands for Better Worship Suggested

Dear Editor:

Have you ever stopped to think how you would feel if you were mad at someone and then wrote a letter of abuse about that person? Probably I am thinking of things we have seen in newspapers and on television; perhaps it was some song books in and taking them out of the music. Mr. King said something a long time ago that this is the day the other day but I don't think the most of us are suffering the abuse that we know. Perhaps the statement of the love which the following is not a sign of love and courtesy.

The next issue of this paper we hope to be out on time, and we hope one day to be able to be published like the other papers.

Sincerely,
