Record Enrollment Blankets Campus

Student Body Tops 2,000 Mark; Enrollment Jumps 7.6 Per Cent

REGISTRATION DAY — The last stop in the long line at registration was the cashier's table. Above, Mrs. Sue Bucy calculates the first semester expenses for a Harding coed. A record 2,060 students passed through the registration line.

Enrollment for the fall semester has topped the 2,000 mark for the first time in Harding's history. A record 2,060 students have registered for the first semester classes.

The 1971 enrollment is an increase of 7.6 per cent over the 1970 enrollment of 1,916. The fall enrollment surpassed by 117 the old record of 1,943 which was set in 1968.

Freshmen head the list of classes with 580. The other classes rank close together with the seniors numbering 474, juniors with 468 and sophomores with 462. Forty-five graduate students and 31 special and post-graduate students have also registered for the fall semester.

The 1971 student body represents 48 states with only Hawaii and North Dakota not being represented. Arkansas students number 602 or approximately 27 per cent of the student body. Other states with more than 100 representatives are Texas (189), Tennessee (138) and Missouri (137).

Housing the record enrollment has not created any major problems for college administrators. Completion of a new $985,000 dormitory for men has relieved many housing problems created by the increased enrollment. Residence halls for male students house 746 students.

The women's dormitories house 873 coeds. The four main residence halls are filled and women also occupy the third and fourth floors of the college's American Heritage Center and a college-owned house adjacent to the campus. Last year the American Heritage was used to house male students.

For the second consecutive year, coeds outnumber their male counterparts. In 1970 women were only six ahead of the men, but this year they stretched their advantage to 18 as 1,040 coeds registered compared to the 1,022 male registrants.

President Clifton L. Ganus noted that the enrollment was somewhat more than he had expected, but he was quick to point out that he was "very happy" with such a substantial increase. "We have a large student body and it is a good group of students. I am looking forward to a very productive year," he added.

After examining the enrollment totals, Fred Alexander, director of admissions, explained some of the reasons for the sharp increase in the enrollment. "I think there are several factors that have created the situation. Most noticeably, of course, are the increase in the freshman class and the slight rise in the number of transfer students," he said.

In 1970 there were 553 freshmen or 27 fewer than this year. Even with an increase in transfer students, the 1971 junior class numbered exactly the same as the 1970 class. Alexander attributed this unusual occurrence to a small sophomore class last year.

Another significant factor was the retention rate in the 1970-71 freshman, sophomore and junior classes. "We lost fewer students due to transferring or for academic reasons. Without this higher retention rate the enrollment would not have gone much over the 2,000 mark," Alexander pointed out.

The Director of Admissions listed another reason for the increase. "The personnel in the financial aids office did an excellent job in working with prospective students and notifying them of the financial assistance that was available."

Alexander has already turned his attention to the 1972-73 school year and he confidently expects the enrollment to reach the 2,100 figure. "We had a large freshman class year and another one this year. These two classes should provide the base for a long range increase in enrollment."

Classes for the first semester began August 27 and will conclude with final examinations December 13-18. A new calendar was adopted for the 1971-72 school year which called for an earlier starting date and a completion of a semester before the Christmas recess.

Theme: 'Faith in Conflict'

Lectureship Program Announced; Schedule Lists 40 Guest Speakers

A complete schedule of events planned for Harding College's 48th annual Bible Lectureship has been revealed by Dr. Neale Pryor, lectureship coordinator.

Supplementing the general Lectureship theme, "Faith in Conflict," will be a variety of lectures, theme forums, and classes in which more than 40 guest speakers will participate.

Highlights of the four-day series November 22-25 will include a missions forum moderated by Gottfried Reichel, visiting professor of missions, and Don Shackleford of Slidell, La., and musical programs presented each night by numerous college and academy singers.

Theme lectures will be delivered by 10 noted ministers and educators including C. E. McGaughey, Oklahoma City, "Faith in Conflict"; Jim Bill McInteer, Nashville, "Growing in Faith"; Tom Holland, Henderson, Tenn., "Security in the Faith"; Batsell Barrett Baxter, Nashville, "Restoration of the Faith"; Delmar Owens, Norman, Okla., "Where Are the Nine"; Clifton L. Ganus, Searcy, "Stewardship in Action"; and Rubel Shelly, Memphis, "Young Preachers Face Today's Issues."

Eleven classes, planned to consider special interest level of the lectureship theme, will be conducted by Bob Danklefsen, South Bend, Ind., "Winning Souls for Christ"; Mrs. Juanita Goodvin, Wichita, Kan., "Instilling Faith in Our Children"; Mrs. Margaret Lynn, Memphis, "Faith in the Christian Woman"; Neil Lightfoot, Abilene, Tex., "Evaluation of Modern Versions";

Jack Exum, Lewisville, Tex., "The Christian Home"; Jack Lewis, Memphis, "Mosaic Authorship of the Pentateuch"; Allan Isom, Searcy, "Helping Souls in Conflict" and a "Discussion of Preacher's Salaries"; Thomas Warren, Memphis, "The Influence of Philosophy in the Church"; Ron Brotherton, Searcy, "Evangelizing Through Foster Home Care"; and Bill Patterson, Memphis, "The Educational Work of the Church."

Lectureship Program See Pages 6-7

Directing forum discussions will be Dwight Pierce, Texarkana, Tex., "Faith in Conflict With the World Around"; James Howard, Clyde, Tex., "The Nature of Faith"; Byron Corn, Jefferson City, Mo., "The Inner Conflict of Faith"; Winston Burton, Jonesboro, "The Christian Spirit in the Midst of Conflict"; Blanton Brown, "The Faith in Controversy"; and Larry Roberts, Little Rock, "Evidences for Our Faith." W. B. West, dean of the Harding

Graduate School of Religion, will speak at the annual Preacher-Elder dinner on Thursday at 5 p.m.. His topic will be "Challenges Facing Church Leaders."

On Tuesday of the Lectureship week the annual 20TH CENTURY CHRISTIAN dinner will be held followed on Wednesday by a Herald of Truth Luncheon. The Alumni Dinner is scheduled for Wednesday at 5 p.m. Prior to the dinner a coffee for visiting ladies sponsored by the Associated Women for Harding will be held. The traditional Thanksgiving Day Barbecue is planned for Thursday followed by a basketball tilt featuring Harding versus David Lipscomb.

The lectureship will conclude Thursday night with a presentation "Faith is the Victory" by Jimmy Allen, assistant professor of Bible at Harding.

Concerning the event Dr. Joe Hacker, chairman of Harding's Bible department stated, "It is our firm conviction that today's needs can be filled by the presence of God in individual lives. The times demand reliable solutions to human quests. Only through an unwavering faith in God's divine plan will we possess a strength necessary to face the daily conflicts which seek to destroy us spiritually."

The Lectureship series is expected to draw more than 3000 visitors to the campus during its four-day program.

Homecoming Enthusiasm Reaches Fever Pitch

Enthusiasm for Harding's 1971 Homecoming has reached an all-time high as alumni, parents and students are making their plans for the Oct. 22-23 activities.

For the first time in the school's history Alumni Day will be scheduled during the Homecoming activities. Alumni Day has been traditionally held during the spring commencement, but this year has been changed to the new date to allow more alumni to participate in the activities.

Homecoming chapel will be held October 23 at 10 a.m. in the American Heritage Center Auditorium. During the chapel program outstanding alumni awards will be presented and a business session of the Alumni Association will be conducted.

Members of the classes celebrating five-year reunions will be making special efforts to attend the activities. The classes of '27, '32, '37, '42, '47 (25th anniversary), '52, '57, '62 and '67 will have five-year reunions during the '71 Homecoming.

Also on the agenda for the traditional weekend activities are a band concert, a student variety show and a Homecoming musical. All three musical events are new to the Homecoming celebration.

The concert will feature Harding's band under the direction of Eddie Baggett, assistant professor of music. The variety show will be coordinated by the Student Association and will be presented in Rhodes Memorial Field House.

The Homecoming musical, "Fiddler on the Roof," will feature a cast of 40 students and will be presented both nights at 8 p.m. in the college's main auditorium.

The original production of the musical is the longest running musical on Broadway. The Harding performers have been rehearsing since the beginning of the fall semester. Seniors Rick Moore and Teresa Rushton have been selected for leading roles.

The production will also present another first for the audience. A twenty-five member orchestra will accompany the stage performers. The orchestra will be directed by Clifton L. Ganus, III, assistant professor of music and director of music for the production.

Another new event in the weekend schedule is the first annual Black and Gold Banquet. Alumnus and now U. S. Congressman LaMar Baker will be the featured speaker at the banquet.

The banquet will be held Friday at 6 p.m. in the Charles M. White cafeteria.

Homecoming would not be the same without the traditional gridiron clash. This year coach John Prock's Bisons will tangle with the Tigers of Ouachita Baptist University. OBU is rated as a strong contender for the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference crown, but Harding has knocked-off the highly rated Tigers in the teams' last two encounters.

Additional seating at Alumni Field has also created enthusiasm among the returning alumni. Eighteen hundred new seats have been erected on the south side of the field, extending from the 25-yard line on the west to the 40-yard line on the east end. Approximately 990 of the new seats are located between the 40-yard lines.

For alumni who have not visited the campus in several years, the new residence hall for men, the art center and the expansion wing of the library will be open for the visitors' inspection.

Trio of Folk Music Singers Adds Melody to Recruiting

A trio of folk music singers, The Troubadours, will add a musical note to student recruitment at Harding this year, according to Fred Alexander, director of admissions.

Senior Larry Henderson and freshmen Ken Dowdy and Jeff Schlender will make singing tours to high schools, junior colleges and will perform at youth rallies, summer camps and junior-senior banquets. The group has also planned special musical programs to be presented on Harding's High School Guest Days.

Henderson, a transfer student from Lubbock Christian College and a native of Spokane, Wash., has been a member of the A Cappella chorus and musical productions. In the newly formed group, he will play the guitar, mandolin and bass.

A 1971 graduate of Madison Academy in Huntsville, Ala., Dowdy is a pre-dentistry major. He plays the guitar, banjo and the bass. Schlender has performed with the Metropolitan Detroit Youth Chorus and served as president of the group. The native of Warren, Mich., plays the guitar, banjo, bass and the piano.

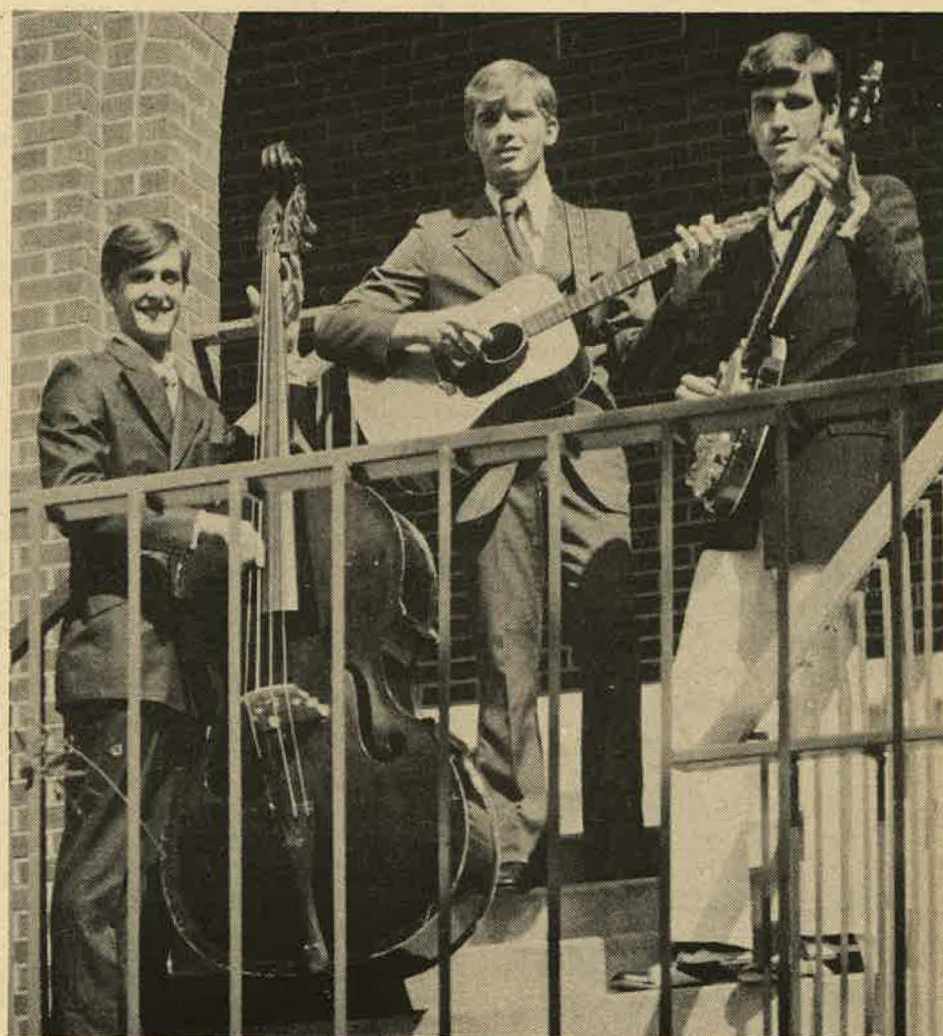

"The group's 1½ hour program will feature a wide variety of modern folk music. They will perform as a trio and also in solo and duet arrangements," Alexander pointed out.

Alexander explained that musical groups had been used previously in student recruitment, but this marked the first year the group had been given a name and a schedule of appearances had been planned. "The singing trio and High School Guest Days program are two approaches to student recruitment that should increase our chances of contacting prospective students," he added.

The students will take only a limited number of courses and attend school year-round. The group will be available during most of the year and several special tours to various parts of the country are being planned.

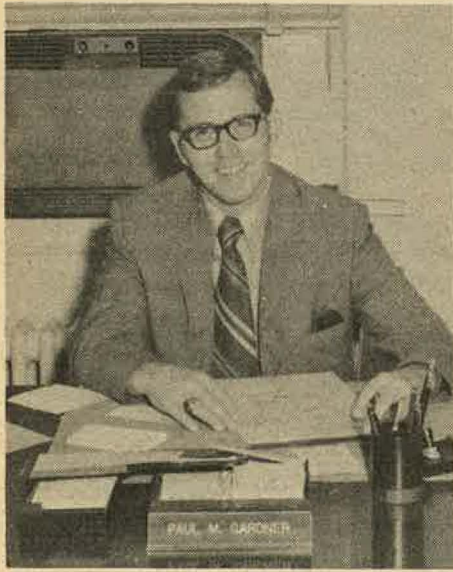

An admissions counselor will accompany the singing trio and be available to answer questions from prospective students.

All performances will be scheduled through Harding's Admissions Office. The trio began making tours this month.

SINGING TROUBADOURS — Harding's newest singing group will add a musical note to student recruitment. The Troubadours, (l-r) Larry Henderson, Jeff Schlender and Ken Dowdy, will present folk music programs at high schools and juniors colleges.

Campus Notes

Paul Gardner

Development Office Adds '65 Alumnus

Paul M. Gardner, a 1965 Harding alumnus, has joined the staff of the college's development office. The native of West Virginia will work with alumni in the Annual Fund solicitation program.

Gardner holds the M.S. degree from West Virginia University and has completed course requirements for the Ph.D. in Administration of Higher Education at Ohio University. His dissertation is a statistical survey of Harding's alumni in the classes of 1951, 1961 and 1970.

He taught at Ohio Valley College in Parkersburg, W. Va., from 1966 to 1968. He has also served as director of development for the Harding Academy in Memphis.

Seven New Members Selected for Troupe

Seven new members have been added to the 1971-72 Belles and Beaux troupe following auditions by Dr. Kenneth Davis Jr., director. The new members are Claudia Campbell of Atlanta and Debbie Lynn of Memphis, sopranos; David Campbell of Searcy, Richard Caughron of Memphis and Doug Killgore of Livingston, Tex., tenors and Jeff Chandler of Little Rock and Barrie Cox of Canyon, Tex., basses.

Returning members include Judy Adams of Ajo, Ariz., Becky Bagnetto of Bartlesville, Okla., Donna Curtis of Judsonia, Larry Curtis of Greenville, S. C., Debbie Dillard of Tempe, Ariz., Kathy Green of Valdosta, Ga., Jon Parham of Memphis, Danny Smelser of Florence, Ala., Jim Trotter of Raytown, Mo., and Cathy Walters of Memphis.

The Belles and Beaux have won six USO overseas tours entertaining military personnel since the group was organized in 1959. The singers have presented concerts in many major cities in the U. S. and endure a rigorous schedule during the year performing for civic groups, conventions and at high schools.

A new show is being prepared for the current season and several campus performances are included in the schedule.

Pre-Med Student Chosen by Classmates

Leon R. Blue, senior pre-med student from Searcy, has been elected Surgeon-General of the 125 pre-med students and allied health sciences majors at Harding. Assistants elected were seniors John McCutchen of Rolla, Mo., and Bob Scott of Bonita, Cal.

The group discussed the possibility of monthly programs. Following the meeting, each group met with counselors. Dr. Don England spoke to the pre-med students; Dr. Jack Wood Sears to students in pre-optometry, pre-dentistry and pre-medical technology; Dr. Bryce Roberson, pre-nursing and Dr. W. D. Williams, pre-pharmacy.

The students will study entrance requirements to various schools and will propose to facilitate acceptance.

Class Officers Elected

Class officers for the 1971-72 school year have been selected by their classmates. Listed as president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, the new officers are:

Seniors — David Willis, John Edwards, and Nancy McCluggage.

Juniors — Ron Nicola, Sam Hinton and Janice Dockery.

Sophomores — David Staggs, David McCluggage and Becky Cochran.

Freshmen — Stephen Tucker, David Campbell and Glenda Gunter.

A Cappella Chorus Auditions Designate 41 New Members

Forty-one new members have been added to the A Cappella chorus for the fall semester following auditions. Dr. Kenneth Davis Jr., director, has announced.

The new members are: Donna Arnold, Indianapolis, Carol Anne Beasley, Memphis, Katherine Mitchell, Pascagoula, Miss., and Denice Power, Texas City, Tex., first sopranos; Sylvia Cox, Sparta, Ill., Cathy Cole, Henderson, Tenn., Betty Green, Newark, Del., Linda Hayes, Oklahoma City, Gloria Burch, Killeen, Ala., and Brenda Haines, Baker, La., second sopranos;

Sharon Frank, Garland, Tex., Linda Franklin, Huntsville, Ala., and Glenda Polk, Ft. Deposit, Ala., first altos; Cheri Baker, Holyoke, Col., Renita Gail Evans, Corona, Cal., Pamela Lynn, Memphis, Jennifer Rhodes, Hope, Ark., Charlotte Wolfe, DePauw, Ind., Jane Burleson, Fayette, Ala., Nancy Blackwell, Morrilton, Ark., and Vicki Lynn Williamson, Dallas, second altos;

David Campbell, Searcy, Marcus Hogins, Jonesboro, Ark.; Tom Martin, Poplar Bluff, Mo., and Wayne Johnson Jr., Bedford, Ind., first tenors; and Richard Caughron, Memphis, David Jackson, Williamsburg, Va., Joe Roper, Bartlesville, Okla., Perry Taylor, Florence, Ala., and Melvin Lowe, Albany, Ind., second tenors;

Leonard Allen, Mt. Dora, Fla., Jeff Chandler, Little Rock, Jerry Lewis, Memphis, Howard Morris, Florence, Ala., Barry Sterling, Rochester, N. Y., and David Sullins, Memphis, first basses; and Glen Greenville, Colorado Springs, Royce Howard Jr., Quitman, Ga., Jack Norris, Independence Mo., Stephen Rhodes, Canyon, Tex., David

Tipps of Ft. Worth and Norris Wall, Helena, Ark., second basses.

The chorus has recently completed a new series of six records called "Harding's Hundred Hymns." The group will make a tour to the Southwestern part of the United States Nov. 13-20.

Admissions Counselor Joins Harding Staff

Roger Lowry

Roger J. Lowry, a 1968 graduate of Harding, has joined the admissions office staff as a counselor. The 25-year-old native of Wisconsin will travel to high schools throughout Arkansas and neighboring states and will visit Christian junior colleges in recruiting.

Lowry attended York College in 1964-66. He served two years in the Army and completed a Master's degree in business at the University of Arkansas. He and his wife, Jan, have two daughters, Laurel Beth, 3 years, and Kathleen Michelle, 16 months.

FIRST LYCEUM PROGRAM — The nationally renowned Preservation Hall Jazz Band began Harding's '71-72 lyceum series with a lively concert of Dixieland jazz. The New Orleans group presented two programs in the college's auditorium.

Jim Bill McInteer: Man of Many Talents

By Alice Ann Kellar

"Of all the Christians I admire, I'd rather be like him than anyone else I know," remarked a man who usually spreads praise sparingly.

He was speaking of Jim Bill McInteer, preacher at the West End Church of Christ in Nashville, Tenn., for 15 years, business manager of the 20th Century Christian magazine, treasurer of Harding's Board of Trustees, Harding's 1964 distinguished alumnus, writer, teacher, author and member or chairman of dozens of boards and councils.

Also, he is a lecturer, humorist, farmer, traveler, civic leader, counselor and business man.

"My parents put the fear of laziness into me. With them, shame was attached to failure—not honest failure—and they had rather I not act so nice than be lazy," he has said.

His parents succeeded well, because few other men give of their means, time and energy to the cause of Christianity as does Jim Bill McInteer. An avid supporter of Christian Education, he speaks on nearly every Christian College campus yearly, and on many other campuses as well. He attends the two regular meetings of the Harding Board annually and keeps abreast of all campus and administrative affairs through frequent visits. This year both his children are among Harding's 2,060 students. MariLynn is a senior, Mark a freshman.

The honored and familiar success story of the American dream does not actually apply to McInteer. An only child, he was born to parents in their 40's in Kentucky on June 16, 1921. He's been told that his mother shocked the community when he was born after 21 years of marriage to the point that everyone asked the question, "Is it a baby?"

"We always had things," McInteer recalls, "but I still was taught the honor of work. You know, even in the Garden of Eden, Adam and Even were told to tend. Sin didn't bring work. Man must always be employed in something useful to be happy," he contends.

McInteer grew up on the farm in Kentucky. "And I worked. I think I always enjoyed it. When I chopped in the fields or poured concrete, I knew I didn't have to do it to help make the living, but I knew my father wanted me to learn.

"And I still enjoy work. I try to follow carefully every public prayer, and often men pray for me to have a long life of work and service. Personally, I have dreamed of a vacation sometime," he chuckles.

The Tennessean speaks with powerful respect of his father, Will, an influential, industrious man who died a few years ago. He relates many of his present traits to the influence of his father. "Pick up that so your mother won't have to" I vividly recall his telling me. So I can't resist picking up trash and debris wherever I go," McInteer says. His father always wanted to make things better. So does Jim Bill.

Since his parents were older, most of McInteer's childhood friends were adults. One of the greatest blessings

SECOND GENERATION HARDING FAMILY — Jim Bill McInteer finds time in his busy schedule for frequent visits to the Harding campus. Above, he listens as his daughter, MariLynn, and son, Mark, report on recent campus happenings.

he received, he feels, is having the chance to grow up with older people. "That was an education in itself."

Mrs. McInteer, age 92, is an active participant in many things now. She resides on the farm in Kentucky where Jim Bill spends one day a week overseeing the business of the farm and attending her personal affairs.

McInteer finished high school in Middleton, Ky., and attended David Lipscomb College two years. After Lipscomb, which was then a junior college, he transferred to Harding where he filled practically every role on the agenda. He achieved academically (Alpha Honor Society), socially (class favorite) and in every extra curricular activity. At Harding he met Miss Betty Bergner of Isabel, Kan., and they were married in 1943.

After graduation he preached for the church in Sheridan. After a series of service to churches in Arkansas, Tennessee, Kansas and Kentucky, the McInteers moved to Nashville in 1947 and went to West End in 1956.

In addition to his full time duties as West End minister, he is engaged in several other full time endeavors. He is business manager of 20th Century Christian and Power for Today, monthly publications. At 8 o'clock every morning he goes to the 20th CC offices for a devotional with the staff and to hold planning sessions.

From there he goes to the West End offices for another devotional and to answer mail.

There the daily routine ends, and the rest of the day may find him speaking at a civic meeting, visiting hospitals, counseling with members of the congregation, studying, performing a wedding, conducting a funeral, teaching a class or attending other duties.

His sermons are almost always preached in a series. During 1970 he spoke every Sunday night on Prayer, and "Even then I didn't get through." He thinks the church needs three things tremendously — prayer, Shepherding and love — and he spends much time preparing sermons to fit those needs for his flock.

He probably writes more than some professional writers, for his sermonettes appear regularly in nearly every publication among churches of Christ. Most church bulletins have carried articles by Jim Bill.

When former Tennessee Governor Buford Ellington realized a need for a new program, he called on McInteer. "I find it hard to get anyone to stand for right," he told McInteer, placing him as chairman of the Policy Board for Rehabilitation in Tennessee. McInteer has worked extensively with the program and he is optimistic that people are having a trend of vision in the field of rehabilitation.

A program initiated on WLAC-FM in Nashville has brought wide attention. Ingeniously he worked with the station manager in arranging a one-minute "Call to Worship" which is played over the powerful network weekly. "So, in taverns, homes, businesses, and everywhere, this one-minute clip is heard repeatedly on weekends."

His correspondence would startle the United Postal Service if an analysis were made of his daily listing. Even his cars are wired for dictation and he talks while cruising along the highway or on a plane.

But he has never had a wreck. And he's never been hospitalized. And he never remembers missing a Sunday worship service. "I had a close call once when I broke my leg at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday afternoon," he recalls. But even then he preached on Sunday morning sitting in a chair. Before the cast was removed he had conducted a meeting, led singing and taught a young people's class in a Kansas town.

All of his activities prompted one associate to say, "His guardian angel must be the tireddest angel of all."

McInteer's thoughtfulness of others is a tremendous attest of his unselfishness, service and humility. He has the gift of making every friend feel as though he or she is the most important person of McInteer's life, and his graciousness and kindness to others is always wholesome and sincere.

Why does he continue his drive? He will answer that question with one word. "Debt. I am in debt to so many people who do nice things for me, I know I can never repay them. But I just have to keep trying. Above all the Lord has been so kind. It takes a life time to thank Him. Then we need an eternity to praise Him."

Thirteen Teachers Selected for Honor

Thirteen Harding teachers and administrators will be featured in the 1971 volume of OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA, a national awards publication.

Those included in the 1971 edition from the Searcy campus are: Dr. Jerome Barnes, associate professor of education and director of the Educational Media Center; Dr. Bobby L. Coker, assistant professor of education and director of Institutional Testing; Billy Ray Cox, vice president and director of the American Studies program; Dr. Harry Olree, director of research; Dr. Joseph E. Pryor, dean of the college; Dr. Neale T. Pryor, associate professor of Bible; and Dr. Nyal Royse, associate professor of education and director of Graduate Studies.

Six were honored from the Graduate School of Religion in Memphis. Selected to appear in the awards volume were Dr. Harold Hazelip, Dr. Jack P. Lewis, Dr. Bill Patterson and Dr. Thomas B. Warren; librarian Miss Annie May Alston; and Bill Flatt, registrar and assistant to the dean.

Outstanding Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for their exceptional service, achievements and leadership in the field of education.

Nominated earlier this year, the thirteen were selected on the basis of their talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities, civic service and professional recognition.

Noted Federal Judge's Life Story Recorded by Oral History Chapter

Noted Texas jurist T. Whitfield Davidson was inducted August 30 into the Harding College chapter of the Oral History Association. He was the 48th inductee in the Harding chapter.

President Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., conducted the 90-minute recording session in which Judge Davidson recalled the early years of his life and described some of his more memorable experiences as a lawyer, judge and politician.

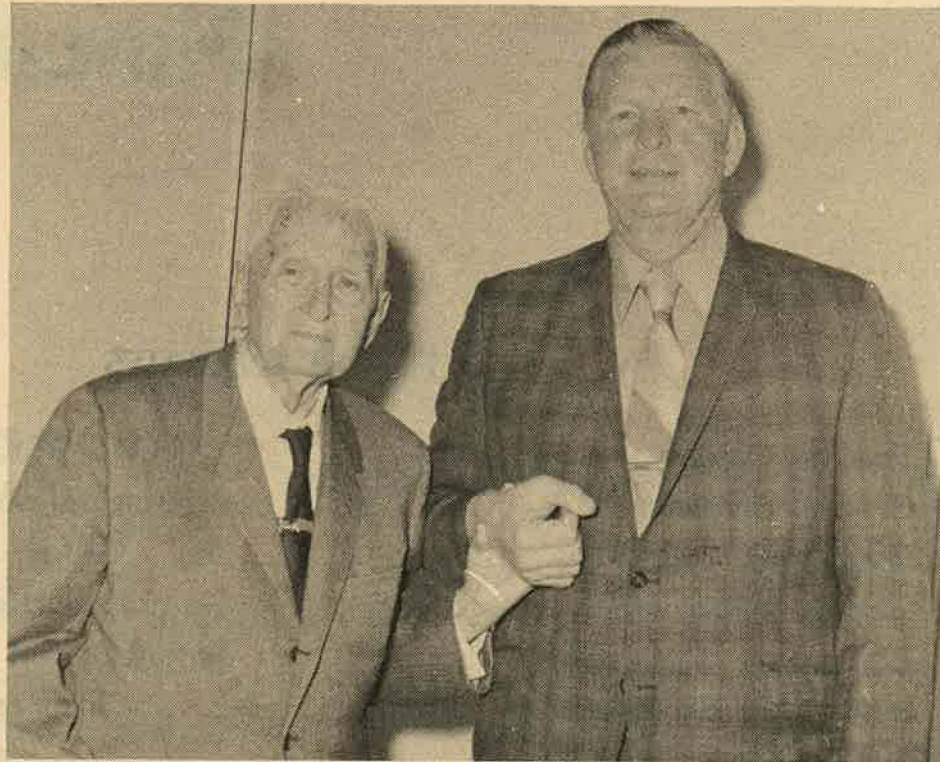

Tracing his ancestry from the courts of Queen Elizabeth I in the sixteenth century through the French and Indian Wars, the American Revolution, the Civil War and finally to settlers on the Texas frontier, he recounted his family's history. Davidson, who was 95 in September, was born on an East Texas farm in Harrison County. His mother and father had moved to Texas from Georgia in 1867.

Until he was 14, Davidson attended a one-room school for four or five months each year. During these years he developed a keen interest in history. Noting these early years of his life, he remarked, "I read every book available and sometimes at night I would sit near the fire and just study maps."

Working during the day and reading anything he could get his hands on at night, the self-taught young Texan received his license to practice law on St. Patrick's Day in 1903.

He was selected in 1920 to serve in the Texas Senate and as lieutenant governor under Gov. Pat Neff. In 1924 he was one of nine candidates for governor in the Democratic primary. One of his opponents was Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson, the subsequent winner of the race and Texas' first female governor.

Although Davidson considers himself an independent politically, he was a delegate at two national Democratic nominating conventions. He was a delegate to the 1912 convention which met in Baltimore. The Texas delegation was known as the "Immortal 40" for voting 46 times for candidate Woodrow Wilson. He was also a delegate-at-large at the Chicago convention which nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt.

FDR appointed Davidson to the federal bench for the Northern District of Texas in 1936. During his 35 years as a federal judge he has tried more criminal cases than any other living judge. He admitted that the penalties he imposed could be considered severe, but "I was not without sympathy and clemency to those who deserved it."

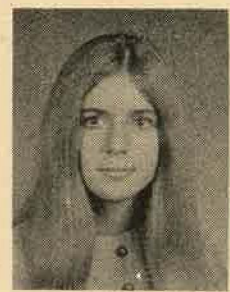

The Dallas resident is also noted for the memorial chapel he built in 1955. Located in Harrison County, the chapel was erected in memory of his mother, Josephine Davidson. Patterned after Roman structures in Italy and the French Riviera, the chapel was built from dark purple sandstone and is a widely known tourist attraction.

During the recording session Davidson noted some of the changes that have occurred in America since the turn of the century. "I am an unwilling pessimist because our nation is the greatest in the world, but the United States is headed in the wrong way. Unless we stop deficit spending the nation will experience national bankruptcy," he commented.

Striking a law and order note, he said that Americans were not backing their law enforcement officers. He also pointed out that in recent years criminal investigations had been hampered by legislation and Supreme Court decisions.

The purpose of the Oral History Association is to preserve history through the use of tape recorded interviews with people who make history. Harding joined the association in 1968.

Ron Coleman

Johnson, Coleman To Edit, Manage 1973 PETIT JEAN

Juniors Pat Johnson and Ron Coleman have been selected to serve as editor and business manager, respectively, of the 1973 PETIT JEAN, the college yearbook. The students were chosen for the positions by a vote of the members of the junior class.

Miss Johnson, an English major from Imperial Beach, Calif., edited her high school yearbook and has served on the PETIT JEAN staff for two years. She served as editor of the academics section of the 1971 edition.

She will work as editor of the organizations section of the 1972 volume and also serve as assistant editor under Larry Stewart.

Coleman was one of three candidates for the business manager's position. An accounting major from Searcy, he was photographer for his high school yearbook. This year he will work as assistant business manager under Mike Cole.

Other applicants for the position of editor were Donavon Blake, an art major from Haworden, Iowa; Leonard Allen, a general science major from Mt. Dora, Fla.; Jan Brewer, a journalism major from Springville, Tenn.; and Kay Patton, an elementary education major from Dallas.

George Duberry, an accounting major from Whitesville, W. Va., and James Parker IV, an elementary education major from Fort Worth, were the other applicants for the position of business manager.

Former President Retains Interest in Christian Education

His seventy-three years have not slowed the pace of George S. Benson, nor dulled his enthusiasm and dedication to Christian education. Harding's president emeritus continues to be the spokesman and energetic fund raiser for Christian education on two continents.

Benson's daily schedule is a continuance of the relentless pace that characterized the years he served as Harding's president. A Harding faculty member recently accompanied Benson on one of his many speaking engagements across the nation and reported that the slight-built, silver-haired former missionary followed a schedule that would have tired a man half his age.

Benson serves on the college's Board of Trustees and has been active in raising funds for many of the more recent buildings on the Harding campus.

The former educator has been involved in financial campaigns for almost every Christian college in the

Dr. George S. Benson

United States and also many of the nation's Christian academies. When asked how many miles he had traveled last year in support of Christian education, he laughingly replied, "I have no idea. I just can't keep up with all those miles."

In addition to his administrative duties at Harding, Benson served as chancellor at Oklahoma Christian College from 1957 to 1967.

Another project close to Benson's heart is the Zambia Christian School in Africa. For almost four decades he has helped support the mission work in Zambia and provided the funds to build the first permanent school building for use by the missionaries.

The secondary school now has 220 students and this year will graduate its first class. Benson pointed out that a majority of the teachers in the school are Harding graduates.

Zambia Christian School has an operating expense of $25,000, which must be raised each year. A large portion of the operating funds are used as scholarships for the African students.

Benson has been instrumental in raising approximately $250,000 for buildings at the secondary school and in securing support and travel funds for teachers at the school.

Many challenges are facing Christian education on both continents. Benson believes the failure to maintain Christian objectives is the primary impediment to Christian education. "We must hold fast to the Christian principles upon which the schools were founded. We must have Christian ideals before us with a Christian faculty providing a Christian education."

He speculated that Harding's increase in enrollment was the direct result of a greater concern by parents for Christian education. He revealed that more and more parents are becoming alarmed at the decline of the moral values that are being tolerated at some colleges and universities. He noted that the Christian education will have a great impact on the educational world in the years to come.

George S. Benson has been involved in some form of Christian education for more than fifty years, but his interest, enthusiasm and willingness to serve continue to grow.

Bible Professor Schedules Cruise To Mediterranean

Dr. Jack P. Lewis, professor of Bible at the Graduate School in Memphis, will direct a fifteen-day "Missionary Journeys of Paul" jet-cruise in the Mediterranean July 17-31, 1972. As Dr. Lewis' ninth trip to the Bible lands, he will lead the group in flying from Memphis to board a floating motel in Athens to proceed to sites of interest to students of Paul.

The cruise will include visits to Thessalonica, Philippi, Kavala (Neapolis), Ephesus, Izmir (Smyrna), Pergamum, the Island of Patmos, Tarsus, Antioch, Salamis and Paphos on Cyprus, Galilee, Jerusalem, Jericho, Bethlehem, Caesarea and other sites in Israel, the Island of Rhodes and Athens and Corinth. The plan of the cruise will be to sail at night, arriving in port in early mornings for a day of sightseeing by tour busses.

Geographical, historical and Biblical themes will be covered in a lectureship by Dr. Lewis and other speakers during evenings of the cruise.

For several years Dr. Lewis has been visiting all places mentioned in the Journeys of Paul. A reunion dinner for members of former tours will be held during Harding's lectureship at 4 p.m. on Nov. 23 at the Rendezvous in Searcy.

Further details and information may be obtained from Dr. Lewis at 1000 Cherry Road in Memphis, 38117.

Graduate School Sets New Record As 164 Enrolled

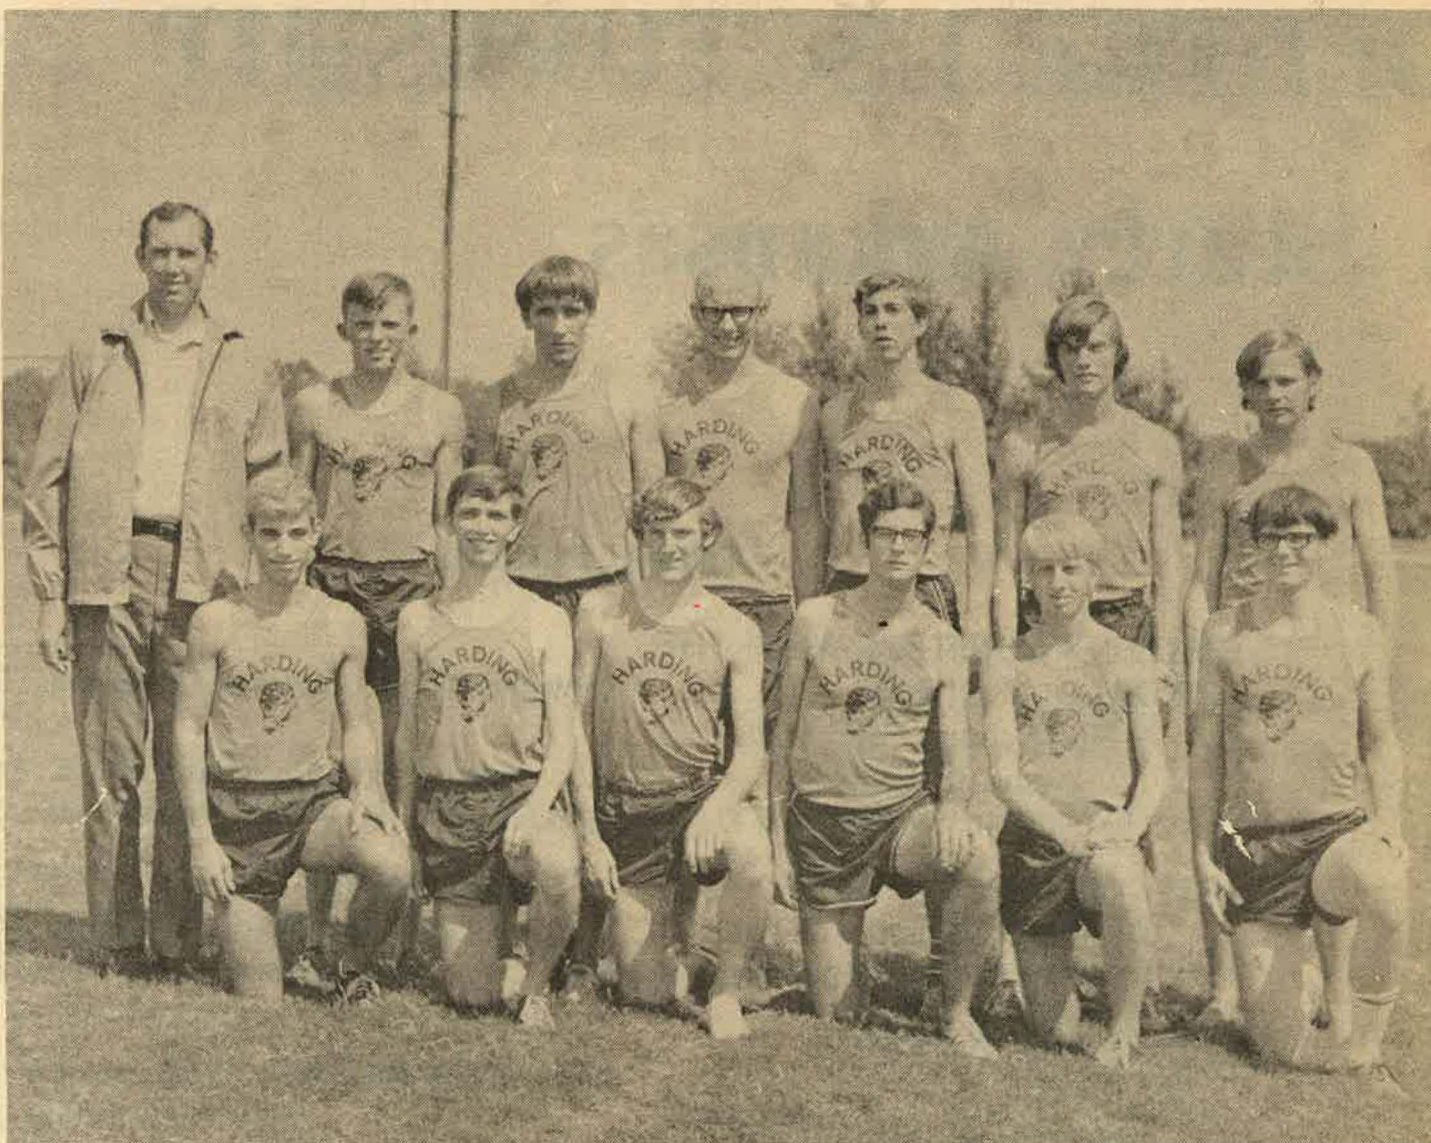

The Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis has a record enrollment of 164 for the fall semester, an increase of 30 over last year's total of 134.

Geographically, 100 enrollees reside in the Memphis area. The others come from other parts of Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama and Kentucky. Two student drive from Texarkana, 350 miles from Memphis.

The school opened for classes in the Educational Building of the Union Avenue Church on Christ in Memphis in 1954 and became the Harding Graduate School of Religion in 1958. More than 1,350 have been enrolled during the years.

Dr. W. B. West Jr., dean, said "God uses well-trained and dedicated young people in building His kingdom. There is great need for Christian leadership. We try to provide this leadership for the church and humanity and begin this academic year with great enthusiasm and hope."

The enrollment at the Harding Academy in Memphis also reached a record high. The school is the largest private school in Memphis with 1,602 students enrolled. The 1970 enrollment was 1,340.

Wave of Optimism Grips Harriers As Cross Country Season Opens

With an impressive opening meet victory behind them, a wave of optimism is quite evident in the Harding College cross country camp.

"We have excellent potential," coach Ted Lloyd Explained. "We have a fine group of new boys to go with the returning lettermen."

Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference John Ratliff and teammate Tim Geary tied for first as Harding downed Arkansas Tech in a dual meet 15-50 last week. Ratliff, a senior from York, Neb., and Geary, a senior from Merced, Calif., covered the four-mile course in 21:22.

"All of our top seven runners finished within 35 seconds of each other," Lloyd said. "In cross country this is much to be desired."

Ratliff and Geary provided possibly the most experienced one-two punch in the conference. Ratliff is a two time two-mile champion and Geary is the defending mile king in AIC track circles.

Returning lettermen include sophomore Richard Bellis of Covington, Ind. and junior David Embry of Indianapolis, Ind.

Lloyd indicated he was particularly pleased with the performance of his new runners. Finishing among the first seven were freshman Mike Kodrich (21:34) of Lisbon, Ohio, freshman Robert Mead (21:43) of Merced, Calif., transfer Paul Jacoby (21:52) of New Freedom, Pa., and freshman Perry Taylor (21:56) of Florence, Ala.

Rounding out this year's squad are: Phil Bone of Lincoln, Mich., Larry Brown of King of Prussia, Pa., Ed Cheshier and Robert Mead of Merced, Calif., Tom Reynolds of Ladysmith, Wis., Perry Taylor of Florence, Ala. and Ted Woods of Princeton, Ind.

Harding finished fifth last year as Southern State College claimed the conference crown.

The AIC Meet will be held November in Conway.

Crawford Continues To Win

Former Harding College track All-American Jim Crawford continued his winning ways with a pair of standout performances during August, this time for the U. S. Army.

Now stationed at Ft. Polk, La., the 24-year-old Crawford won a bronze medal in the Pan American games early last month, clocking a 3:43.7 in the 1500-meter event. He backed this up with a 3:43.0 victory in the Conseil International Du Sport Militaire (World Military Games) in Turku, Finland.

In the Pan American Games, Crawford ran third to the United States' Marty Liquori, who ran a record-setting 3:42.1.

"Bill Smart of Canada passed me in the last 50 yards," Crawford said, "but it still felt good to win the medal."

"In Finland I led all the way, but was pressed in the last 300 yards by Haico Scharm of the Netherlands," he explained. "I wouldn't let him get around me, and he stayed right on my shoulder all the way."

Harding track coach Ted Lloyd said this former miler's times were the mile equivalent of 4:00.7 and 4:00.0 clockings. The performances make the fifth time this year Crawford has run a 4:00.7 or under, Lloyd said. The West Millington, N. J., runner's best time was a 3:57.7 in the National AAU championships in June.

"The experience I've gained this year has been invaluable," Crawford said. "I believe that I'm a strong contender for the '72 Olympic team in the 1500 meters."

Future plans for the former AIC running star include the AAU Cross Country championship in San Diego in November.

Gridiron Team Claims Two Victories

NUMBER 150 — All-American split-end candidate Ronnie Peacock snares his record setting 150th pass. The senior is the all-time pass receiving leader in the AIC. He earned all-conference and all-district honors in 1970.

A pair of intersectional victories indicate the 1971 Harding Bison football season will be as exciting and crowd-pleasing as any in recent years.

Opening on the road, coach John Prock's Bisons used a four-touchdown barrage by tailback Alan Dixon to annihilate the Austin College (Tex.) Kangaroos 32-7. Dixon scored on runs of 37, 3, 5 and 55 yards.

After an open date, quarterback Terry Welch passed for three touchdowns and scored a fourth to direct a 28-7 victory over Millsaps College (Miss.) Split end Ronnie Peacock caught nine passes for 163 yards and two touchdowns.

Peacock's performance enabled him to establish an Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference career pass receiving mark. He now has 154 receptions, surpassing the record of 149 set by Doug Freeze of Ouachita Baptist. The McGehee, Ark., senior is currently setting the league pace with 12 receptions for 193 yards.

Dixon, the hard running sophomore from Fitzgerald, Ga., exceeded the 1000 yard mark for career rushing with 93 yards in 21 carries against Millsaps. The All-AIC tailback now has 238 yards in two games and 1060 for his 12-game collegiate career.

Harding will host Southern State on October 2, Mississippi College on October 9 and Ouachita Baptist October 23 in the annual Homecoming contest.

Basketball Prospects Looking Up

Only two seniors return to lead Harding College 1971-72 basketball prospects but experience is not on short supply.

Three starters and a part time regular return among five lettermen as coach Jess Bucy begins his third season at the Bison helm.

"We should be better," Bucy stated matter-of-factly. "Even though no other conference school lost more than two starters, we feel like we've narrowed the gap. Just how much, we won't know until the season starts."

The Bisons were 8-16 last year, finishing tenth in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference standings.

"With our returning boys, two or three junior college transfers and some good freshmen, there's a good possibility we've turned the corner in what we're trying to do."

Top hands returning are seniors Bill Chism (6-2) and Lester Busby (6-5), both all-conference caliber performers. Chism, a guard from Gideon, Mo., compiled an 18.3 scoring average last year and Busby was right behind with 14.3. From Indianapolis, Ind., by way of Ohio Valley College, Busby averaged 8.5 rebounds per game to lead the team in that category.

Sophomore Freddie Dixon (6-4) of Mineral Springs came fast in the last half of the 70-71 season to post a 12.5 scoring average and a sizzling .594 field goal percentage. Junior Joe Mathias (6-6) of Kirkwood, Mo., is expected to carry a big load on the boards and should improve on his 8.0 points per game scoring average. Sophomore guard Jamie Calley (5-10) of Henrietta,

Tex. is the other returning letterman.

Up from the junior varsity are sophomores Lester Davidson (6-2) of Corning, Emmett Sawyer (6-5) of Buffalo, Mo., and Ken Lawyer (6-0) of Clarksville.

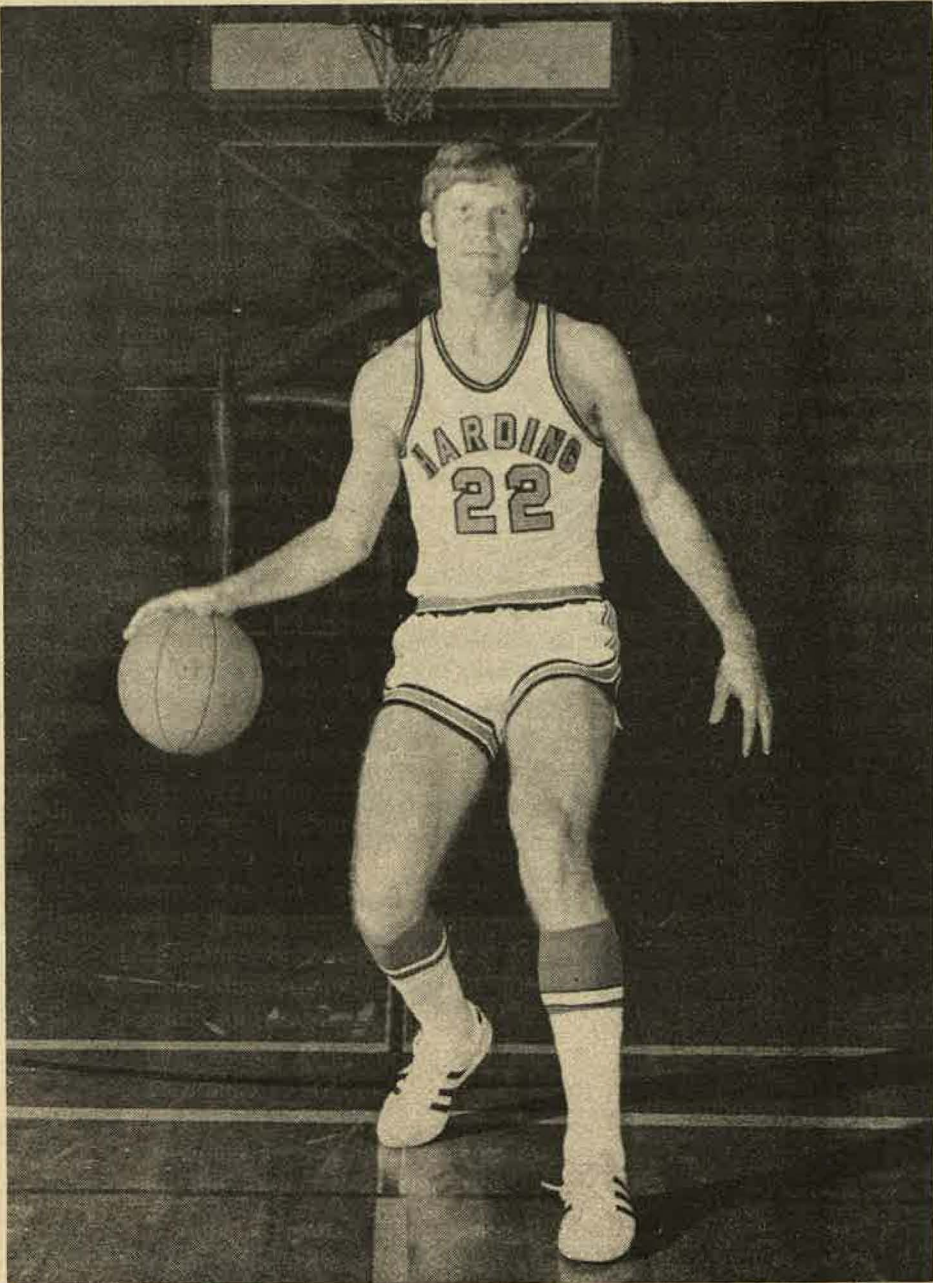

New athletes include a trio of junior college prospects, 6-4 Jeff Downs and 6-0 Tom Booth of Ohio Valley College and 6-3 Joel Byrd of York College.

Freshman candidates, termed by Bucy as "outstanding prospects", include Tim Vick (6-3) of Valdosta, Ga., Steve Kent (6-4) of Bloomington, Ind., and Randy Mulvaney (6-1) of Deer Park, Tex.

Are You SURE of Your Will?

More than half of Harding's Alumni and Friends either do not have a will or have not up-dated their present will taking into consideration new tax laws and benefits. To provide for your family in the way you choose, and to make a provision for Harding College, your will must be properly prepared. A charitable bequest to Harding through your will becomes a living memorial and will help Harding give greater Christian service and attain even higher academic excellence.

Write today for the free booklet "Making Your Will . . . what you should know before you see your lawyer."

Letter from Alumnus . . .

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following are excerpts from a letter that was written to President Clifton L. Ganus. The letter was read to members of the faculty at the annual pre-school conference at Camp Tahkodah. In reading the letter, President Ganus noted that this letter was characteristic of many letters he receives each year from former students.)

Dear Dr. Ganus:

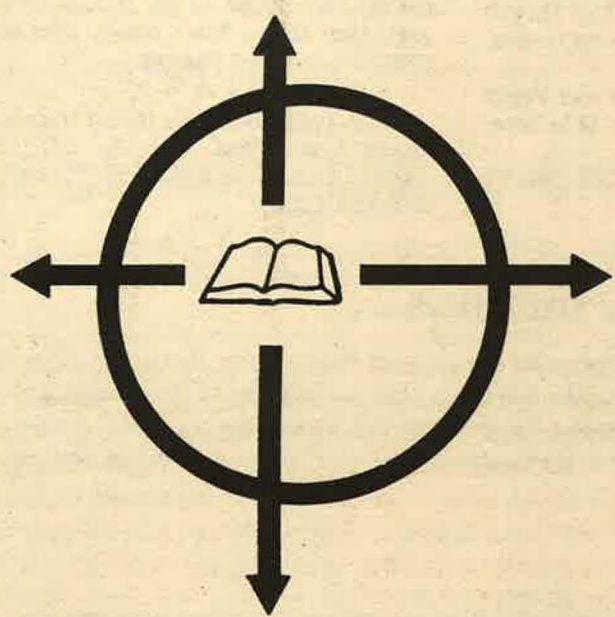

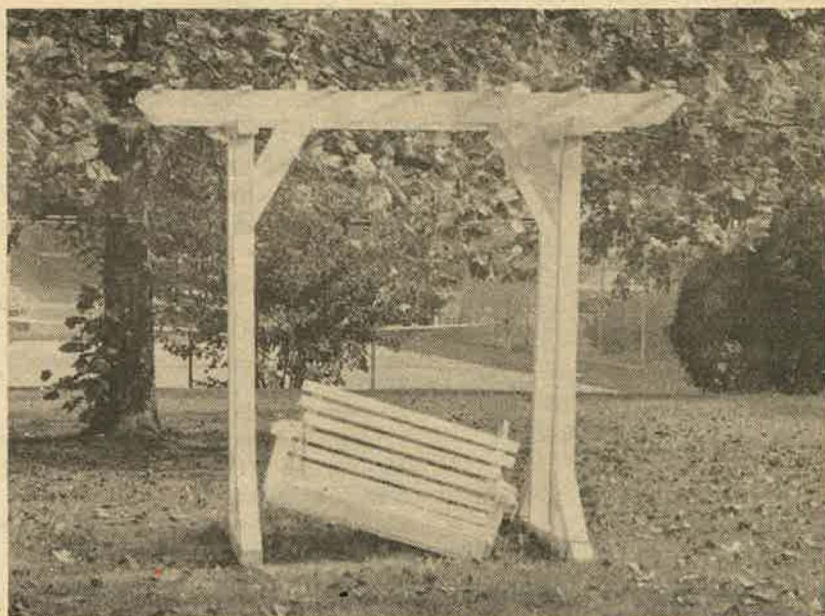

Let me begin by saying that I'm not writing this letter anonymously out of cowardice, nor would I be ashamed to have my own name attached to it. The name is withheld because I believe that countless others feel the same things that I do but either don't have the time or the inclination to put it into words. You won't find my name on your lists of contributors — yet. In time, when I get myself closer to being out of debt, it is my goal to make some contributions to Harding College that may in some way be partial payment for the things that it gave me.

While at Harding I was neither an outstanding athlete, scholar, campus leader, rebel, or even trouble maker: to be specific, I was Mr. Joe Average. Chapel was not always pleasant, but was generally bearable and occasionally outstanding. It would be a lie to say that I always obeyed all the rules, no student ever does, but for the most part I was a law-abiding student. Harding was, and still is, my life's high point, but for some reason I was anxious to leave. Since graduation (1970) I have come to know exactly what it means to have a Christian education; without it I might never have known the joy that I now can feel.

I envy the students now attending Harding College and hope that in the years to come they may remember Harding as I do.
