The Merry-go-'Round

On the tenth of January delegates from many nations met in London, England for the purpose of further investigation into this problem of the world without war. Incidentally, this year is just twenty-six years after a similar meeting concerning the League of Nations in 1919. The greatest difference between the two meetings is the fact that the United States is represented in this one and she refused to be represented at the other one.

Arthur Godfrey said Friday morning that with the Atomic Bomb, Rumania, others...

The other night up at the "Sunday" show, Miss Alston was talking, and Olinda stopped for a moment and ordered a Guiness. The answer of which, caused the following discussion. Bob: "Olinda, are you coming tonight?"

Olinda: "Yes, why?"
Bob: "I don't think you should all come in this to your second year over here."

We are not, at this time, concerned with what the Old Covenant said on this subject, for it was prevalent in its own time. (Lev. 19:18) Furthermore we need to be reminded of the New Testament "Love your neighbor and hate you enemies. I open the door and listen for a while. The image of Christ.

A Friend
By James Bradley

Today our lives are constantly filled with distractions and noise. To find a moment of peace and quiet is a rare treat. Here is a poem that reminds us of the beauty of silence and the importance of being present:

Oh no, my friends, this is no dream,
This man who long is here nor there
This little man whom Though strange to you and me it seems;
Just
Is

The Harding Favorite
Three Harding Couples Are Married During Christmas

McDearman-Gibson

The wedding of Miss Ruth McDearman and Leon Gibson was solemnized December 24th at 2:50 o'clock in the Harding college assembly. The double ring ceremony was performed by F. W. Imes, pastor.

Nuptial music was provided by the Harding college chorus when the traditional wedding marches. A quartet rendered "Because" and while the chorus sang "I Love you Truly," soap suds were lighted by Miss Mary Ballenger and Miss Malisa Gregory.

The bride entered the auditorium with Dr. George S. Bowser, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white satin dress with a medium-length veil. She carried a white Bible covered by a violet with streamers of violets.

The maid of honor was Miss Betty Sue McQuaig, who wore a dress of black and carried white Daisies. Mae Quarles, who wore a dress of traditional wedding marches. A quartet sang "I Love you Truly," and while the ceremony was in progress, the bridal party marched in.

The bride's matron of honor was Mrs. T. J. Gibson, who wore a dress of black and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom's brother, E. E. Gibson, served as the best man.

After the ceremony, the couple left for a short visit with the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maunse of Alva, Oklahoma.

All the children of the Home were present for the wedding, with twenty two people present.

Mr. and Mrs. Magness will make their home in Porterville, Montana, where Dr. Magness will practice for the benefit of the church.

Who's Who in Harding College by Sue Draper

Kendricks were Miss Ruby Joan Watson and Miss Carol Brooks, whose dresses were of panel shades. The briolettes carried carpathian cyranths and glucidion.

The groom chose Ervin Uden as his best man. Uden was lighted by Miss Mary Ballenger and Miss Malisa Gregory.

The rings were twin crosses of the bride.

The bride and groom's going-away train was of black. They now are home at Nashville, N. C.

Mr. and Miss Shirley are both graduates of Harding. Miss Shirley was a member of the W. H. C. social club, and he was a member of the J.I.C. club.

Carrol-Magnes

In an impressive ceremony on December 23rd, at 6 o'clock p.m., E. A. Jordan, superintendent of the Tipton Home, Tipton, Oklahoma, said the vows that united Mary Carol and Forrest Magnes in marriage.

Realized was the dream of a blonde woman and a young man, the French doors opening into the lobby of the University. The Home was served as an imported altar. Items were placed on each side of the altar, and silver bells hung from the top of the structure.

The style of the wedding is "Sweet Mystery of Life," as was the wedding of the bride and groom. They both had the Lebanon Wedding March as the procession and the Men's Chorus sang "The Promised Land" as the recession.

The bride's dress was of white brocaded satin and taffeta with long pointed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Her face-length veil extended in Indian lace from a crown of white flowers that carried a white Bible covered by a hand-tinted with streamers of orange.

The bride's gown was of a dress of white, with a model of a dress of black, and the dress was decorated with a white veil. Her flowers were roses.

Bettie Sue Traylor

The bride entered the room with her father who gave her away. She wore a gown of white, with a model of a dress of black. Her face-length veil extended in Indian lace from a crown of white flowers that carried a white Bible covered by a hand-tinted with streamers of orange.

The bride's gown was of white, with a model of a dress of black. Her flowers were roses.
Intramural Basketball Begins

Joe Tuff's INDEPENDENT -T vs. KOINONIAS

Starting with only four men, but playing their hardest, and later completing their game with the addition of another player, an underdog independent team, headed by Joe Tuff, Thursday night whipped a Kosonias team, 27-26, in an overtime contest. At the first of the games, it looked as if the Kosonias would have an easy win, but the other team soon proved this to be wrong by hand and fast playing which matched the Kosonias point to point. Half-time score was 15-15, in favor of the Kosonias.

Showing surprisingly good teamwork, the independent players were strengthened ed at the beginning of the second half by the addition of Bill Smith, and continued to keep even with the other team, so close to the end of the regular playing time with the score tied at 25-25. In a two minute overtime period, Bill Smith made two points for his team and Ray Miller one for his on a foul shot, to give the victory to the independ-

Leading scorers were Ray Miller and Joe Tuff, with 11 points each, and Bill Smith with 10.

SECOND INTRAMURAL GAME

In the second intramural basketball game of the year on Thursday night an independent team was made up of Kosonias by a 37-19 score. Playning a fast game, the independents, made up mostly of discharged players, showed their beginning to demonstrate some ability and promise of difficulty for the independents. Working smoothly, they completely dominated the game from the first.

Individual players who stood out for the independent men were Willard, Tom, and Kasper, who all showed excellence. Passers, scoring eleven points, was tied in following by Tom and T. Love and R. Wills showed some good ball handling and playing. Scoring for the Kosonias was distributed rather evenly, with three men making two points and one man one.

T. N. T. vs. INDEPENDENT

Playing smoothly but not outstanding, the T. N. T. "A" team Thursday night took their first victory by winning over the independent team by scores of 13-11. Working together, they cooperated to hold down the scoring of their opponents.

The game started off at an even pace, and gradually became faster as it progressed. Half-time score was 15-4 in favor of the T. N. T.'s, with the scoring being a little heavier in the last half. The scoring was distributed fairly evenly for the winners, with three men—Virgil Lawyer, Webb, and Draper, making eight points each, and Deon Lawyer leading the scoring with nine. Meschmann, who cleared the boards with three points, followed by Vanhooser and Morray with two apiece.

SUB T's vs. T. N. T's.

Reprising a score of 55 points as against 13 for their opponents, the SUB T's Tuesday night opened the se-son of intramural basketball by defeating the T. N. T. "B" team. From the begining of the game the ruling seemed to be against the SUB T's, but the underdog team kept playing away gamely, though unable to accomplish much in the way of scoring.

The game was played at a fast rate, with both sides working the ball rapidly.

The SUB T's dominated the court, however, and prevented very efficiently any large attempts at scoring by the T. N. T. team.

Girls' Basketball

Repeating their performance of last year, the sophomores girls came through the class basketball tournament victorious this year. Starting as a freshmen team last year, they overcame some stiff competition to win the tournament. This year they did not face the competition of last year, because only a few of the other classes participated in the tournament.

Individual tourney of the game was Ordia

Copeland, who made 35 of her team's points. Normas Steinfeld, Sub T, was next with 3, while Jack Harris led the T. N. T.'s with 4 ten to his credit.

Looking 'em Over

By Virgil Lawyer

Squads have begun to settle down now after ten days of freedom and with their settling down more teams are maintaining that the official "B" team in Harding's old gym. We have perhaps the smallest gymnastics in the state, but I doubt if more action could be found in the largest gym.

The administration has been kind in allowing the boys and girls to gather at all gym the games and support their favorite teams both in spirit and voice.

The past week we returned our intramural basketball tournament among the girls and boys. The girls are playing their tournament in teams chosen from the girls who signed up, but the boys are playing theirs by clubs and independent teams.

More students are participating in intramural basketball than have in the past several years.

Looking over some of the boys teams currently, we find some strong teams. The Sub T's probably have the edge over the other teams, with a good front man and plenty of reserves to relieve them from strain.

The T. N. T.'s and Kosonias are scoring the two teams and will probably be the runners up for second place honors.

Several of the Independent teams have shown strength and could give any of the club teams plenty of competition. In the games played thus far, the score has been too wide to produce much excitement from the spectators.

The Sub T's smashed the T. N. T. second string and one of the half independent teams called over a weaker Kosonias five. The T. N. T. first team dopped an independent team into the background as more of the closer struggles will come next week.

The girls are having better interest shown in their basketball tournament than any other sport in which they have participated. We have some real talent among our girls and the girls' games are being well attended.

Harding's intramural philosopher speaks: Love is blind, but we can still see up in the balcony.

LIONS vs. WILDCATS

In the first game to be played in the regular tournament this year, the Wildcats handed an unexpected defeat to the Lions by scoring 54 points to the Lions' 16.

The Wildcats took the lead in the first half and held it steadily through the game. Jimmie Smart of the Wildcats set the record for shooting by scoring 24 points in spite of the fact that Mr. Mose, Doris Johnson and Mary Mason were the Lion guards. William Williams, Kitchens and M. D. Smith kept Smart and McCaillin from making many of their well-known pivots and set shots.

BEARS vs. PYTHONS

A final score of 15-26 gave the Pythons the game after a struggle with the Bears. In the first quarter the teams seemed pretty evenly matched. The Pythons took the lead at the end of the quarter and were able to keep ahead of the Bears during the rest of the game. M. Smart made most of the baskets with the help of Eldridge and Carpenter. Mason, Smith and Winner, guards for the Bears were really in three fighting and gave the Pythons a good workout but they were unable to stop Smart from scoring.

Rhodes and Runner, guards for the Pythons, also held Fielder and Hennemann away from the basket so they could not score.
