Mattox Says Housing Is Less Serious Now

In spite of approximately fifty new students enrolling this term, F. W. Mattox, manager of the Housing Department, feels that there will be no vacancies in the campus dormitories. Mattox, who is experienced in housing problems facing the college at the first of the year are being solved most satisfactorily.

Approximately twenty boys have been placed in private homes, to allow new students to occupy dormitory

The Housing Department has 20 new houses units for students to arrive at any day now, said Mattox. These will be available to all freshmen for the "Vie Village," as named, is the newly purchased near Rockford campus and the college medical building. The hospital is being cleaned and cleared for the hospital the 24th of April, according to the procedures for the structure and the hospital will supervise maintenance.

Students Attend Symphony Concert in Little Rock

More than fifty members from Harding University and Arkansas State University were present in the Little Rock Thursday night in the school auditorium.

The symphony orchestra, with Eugen Geyman conducting, presented the program: a first of four concerts. Other selections were Op. 37, Symphony No. 1 in C Minor, and Opus 68, Prelude and Love-Death from Act III of Tristan and Isolde.

A soloist, "The Doctor," and "China Seas·" Suite No. 2, with three encore selections, were among the concert selections.

The mixed group was again presented the "Serenade" by Brahms and "Concerto Grosso," by Corelli, as before the war with a depart-

A large banner is also given to the hall with a new banner, designed by E. Scott, a student in the music department.

The only yearly event to occur in the school is the annual music program.

Harding Has Forty-Nine New Students This Term

Forty-nine new students from seven states have enrolled for the second quarter. Approximately thirty-three of them are from Arkansas. Those entering are Mary McCollough Ferrey, a senior from Wales, a library science major. Mary enrolled Harding in 1942.

Mrs. Vivian Tie, a senior from Skinney, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Skinney of Little Rock, is a business major.

Charles Raby, a freshman from Denby Bible School near Red Oak, Georgia, appears on the annual music program.

Competition Will Be Renewed After Three Years

Following a lapse of three years during the war, the Arkansas College Piano and Violin Competition will be held at Harding in May, it was decided by a meeting of the officers on Tuesday, March 9.

Officers elected at the last convention on March 3 will hold their respective offices throughout the next academic year, after which the system of the rotation of offices among the members of the association will be retained.

The meeting of the officers was conducted on the campus of Ouachita at Arkadelphia and was attended by the editors of the southern newspapers. Mrs. A. E. S. M. as president, Dr. Oliver as secretary and Mrs. Henderson as treasurer. The report of the committee will be read at the next convention.
An Example Of Free Private Enterprise

In 1909 Lawrence Gilman Jones established what today is known as Pine Woods Private School. Jones, now known as the Little Professor of Pine Woods, began his chosen life’s work among his fellow negroes with the great out-of-doors as a schoolroom, a pipe-organ for a chair, a pipe-log for a recitation bench and $41.64 operating fund.

After graduating from the University of Iowa in 1897, Jones determined to do something for the betterment of his race through the education of the young negro mind, physically and spiritually. He engaged in two years of classroom teaching at New River High School, do to do a more effective work he returned to his native state of Missouri but went deep into the South and located in the heart of the pine country of Mississippi 25 miles south of Jackson where he is now directing the activities of an institution attended by more than 400 boys and girls ranging in age from six to forty, coming from 11 states and one foreign country. The plant is evaluated at $750,000 with 2,000 acres of farm land.

From this community where Jones found 80 per cent of the people illiterate in 1909, there have come men and women qualified to take responsible positions all over the United States. Some are teaching, some are in business, some are working with the states department of education, others in vast numbers have contributed in varying degrees to the better ways of living taught in the PineWoods.

Each student is carefully trained in at least two professions and found to be of more value to the industries of the world with more knowledge than the simple she and the city-born girl, which the house parents can anticipate in their children.

An outstanding example of this type of work was given in a typical graduation exercise in which the violinist demonstrated the proper method to be used in the vacation of bugs against chiggers. The olfactory demonstrated, on the stage, and improved method of washing and ironing a blouse. Another student collected a canker of beans by the steam pressure method.

In 1945 the graduating class of the Pine Woods School proceeded the services of Dr. T. J. Caudill of the Christian commencement address. Dr. Caudill, a Northern white boy who received her Ph.D. from the University of Iowa in 1928. Her major is English. During her visit to Pine Woods she became so fascinated with the practical type of education given there that she went back North, resigned her position in Upper Iowa University and came back to Missi­ippi as Director of Academic instruction in the PineWoods.

Now, in her responsible position, it is her desire to see a small library building in this section of Pine Woods, where there being no library in the county of Rankin, or the two adjoining counties of Simp­son and Smith, the children do not know the joy of the library and girls of age school.

Her only method of raising the $3,000 necessary for such a building and for the library to be housed in it is by asking the assistance of those who are willing to give aid in a financial way. The students make the brick and do the work but the finances must be obtained in some other way. The students of Harding College can appreciate the truth of the above statement quite fully.

It is an example of perseverence and hard work that has characterized the building of the greatest nation on earth. These principles are those advocated by all who would have one nation remain the free country that it has been since its founding.
Sanderson Speaks In Last Of Lecture Series

L. O. Sanderson of Tulsa, Oklahoma, was lecturer and chapel speaker at Harding for the week ending March 17. In the afternoon Bible class he discussed a series of church plotters. Monday night he spoke for the College congregation on "Parental Delinquency." Wednesday night speaking before the downtown congregation his theme was "The Church as a Congregation."

Sanderson is now preaching for the Tenth and Rockford congregation in Tulsa. For the past few years his work has been centered in Tulsa and in Texas.

He is well known for his writing of spiritual hymns. His work in the field of music led to his cooperating with C. M. Pallus in editing "Christian Hymns."

Betts has Leave for Completion of Ph. D. Degree

James D. Betts, associate professor of Bible, left Searcy Thursday night for the University of California where he will continue work toward the Ph.D. degree. His dissertation has been completed, but he has yet to make a final draft of it and pass an examination on it.

The theme of his thesis in the field of education is "Pragmatism in American Education."

He will be at the University of California six weeks, after which he will attend the Montgomery Bible School inducteeship where he is scheduled to speak. After conducting a meeting in Atlanta the last of May, he is to return to the University of California where he hopes to complete all requirements in time to receive his Ph.D. in June.

Picking the Pictures

By Elma Oliphant

"The Last Weekende" is one of the outstanding pictures of the year that some of the students wish to mention. Although the name might suggest a picture that some might not care to see, the actual picture is among a sermon against drink as could be delivered from the pulpit.

The story is of the weekend of an alcoholic taken from the book by Charke Jackson.

Roy Hilles, who plays the leading role, has just been given the Academy Award for the outstanding performance of the year.

No one wishes to let the picture come and go without seeing it.

The double ring ceremony was elected on either side furnished the gladiolus banked with fern with a traditional wedding march. The men's quartet sang, the college chorus sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Miss Lucille Hancock and Miss Ida Hazlett wore a style of yellow net over taffeta. Her sister's maid of honor wore a white dress. The bridesmaids, Miss Wray and another were Virginia Ramsey and Daisy Jackson. The Lamda Sigma establishes select Joe Cannon as its president in a recent meeting of the club. Other officers were: vice-president, Jimmie Vanhooker; secretary, Jule Miller; Dr. W. K. Stone is president of the club, where the couple will live.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gwin of Hot Springs announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucien J. Baggett, to Raymond Hawkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Hawkes also of Hot Springs.

Lucien J., a freshman in college, is a member of the dramatic club, chorus, and W.H.C. social club. Raymond, who is a freshman, is a member of the dramatic club and the G.A.R. social club.

Clubs Elect Officers

Las Companeras

Lucien Baggett, Lucien Joseph Baggett, Jr. is a prospective spring graduate of Harding College with a major in Bible and chemistry and a minor in math. As soon as he finishes, he plans to work toward a master's in chemistry at Louisiana State University. "In Christianity, every day is Labor Day," Christmas is a favorite among students and◒is Lucas's philosophy of life. He has learned that a good leader is one who knows how to follow the leader, too.

He doesn't mind leading, but he doesn't like those who borrow without permission. "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." Lucien has qualities for rich friendship. Of human life he has an involved, logical, spiritual, sympathetic understanding.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS SEPARATE CHAPEL

In order to provide ample seating space in the auditorium for all college students and to give the high school students a better opportunity to develop, Dr. Benson suggested Monday, March 6 in chapel that the high school have separate chapel from the college, beginning March 5. A special effort is being made to furnish speakers in these chapel exercises especially adapted to the needs of high school students.
