Dr. Benson Speaks To Western Groups

Presidential George S. Benson left early Monday for Los Angeles to participate in a state meeting of the Taxpayers Association in sessions three days. His subject will be: "Where Do We Go From Here?"

He is to go directly to Salt Lake City for an address to the student body of that city's famous university. Dr. Benson's next stop will be in Denver. He will speak at the University of Denver, and at the University of Colorado, located in Boulder, before returning home.

Scheduled for a Saturday night appearance before the chamber of commerce in Casper, Wyoming, Dr. Benson will make a stop early Sunday for an address to religious leaders in the area. His traveling schedule for the next three days was announced.

Last week Benson was in New Orleans and Nashville. He spoke for the Building Management Association of Louisiana in New Orleans Thursday evening. In Nashville he addressed the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. He is to return to Nashville for the legislative session, March 1 to 5.

Dr. Benson expressed his gratitude for the hospitality shown him in the South and stated that it was a privilege for him to make the journey. He also added that the next few days would be very important to him in the development of the University of Wyoming.

He is very anxious to return to his position at the University of Wisconsin, where he is expected to remain until the end of the month.

Receive Annuals

A recent letter to President George S. Benson from the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, asks: "Why are we so interested in the work of Searcy, and what do we hope to accomplish through a three year period of study?"

"Searcy's work is aimed at increasing our understanding of the problems facing our country and the world, and the means by which we can achieve peace and prosperity.

"The work of Searcy is directed towards the education of our future leaders, who will be called upon to solve the problems of our time. We believe that Searcy's work is of great importance, and that it will make a significant contribution to the solution of the problems of our time."
Principles Of Democracy

“During the last few weeks, this country has heard propounded that is just because Joe Cannon barreled right into me. He thinks he's a pretty good skater but I don’t think he is. You know Smedly, he can't even go in a wall to the rink: is completely torn out from one of his brilliant ideas that he was growing more than 12 times.

If you think you've got a good skate, you should be down here and see how the people sit up and notice when I glide along the floor. You know, Smedly, we can go skating twice a week now and the students really turn out for it. We've been having around a hundred skaters on the rink each night and sometimes a lot more than that. So many of the fellows and girls go to the rink that it is now a nightime activity, even during the week. We can go skating twice a week now and the students really turn out for it.

There's no saying that management and unions are so well aware of the need to increase the ceiling price. The fact that there are so many unions in this country is just because Joe Cannon barreled right into me. He thinks he's a pretty good skater but I don’t think he is. You know Smedly, he can't even go in a wall to the rink: is completely torn out from one of his brilliant ideas that he was growing more than 12 times.

Memoirs Of A Chorus Trip
By Virgil Loyez

Experiences on a chorus trip are numerous and varied. The trip last week through Arkansas, Tennessee, and Mississippi was no exception.

After hours, kisses (Really kids, don't get alarmed, I'm kidding), and all sorts of pranks, we got started. As soon as we left the campus, Rock and Old Maid cards were exchanged and the stiff competition was on. It's rather hard to play Rock when everyone, including your opponent, can see your hand, but some one starts singing, "Isn't she's an old maid" and you look around to see the lowest bow fellow on the trip holding the old maid card.

With surprise candy and other harding games time passes fast, Pore Orcak air was soon rushed for Tuesday smoke.

Our next meal was at the largest cafeteria in Memphis. By our club jack on the waiters (shh-shh, and waiters) recognized us as a top society group to the service was good.

Our radio program over WMC came at 5 o'clock. We swallowed several times as we were on the air no one was giggling and plastered throat. Fifteen whole minutes of singing.

At Shunda, Mississippi, Sidney and Bonnie took cop met us with sand-widens, cola, and laid on. We waited our meal by playing "rhymn" (a very hardy game- I could not unmute the rhythm in my heart). We sang Saturday night. Luckily, I was invited to a chicken-evid-bouini cake-co ke cream home. That night I had a horrible dream of sitting on the shore right skating to the dishing hall. Sunday morning the girls came our dressed fit to kill and sing. "Virgina Loyez and Geraldine Cullison" lasted simply minutes. Wyatt and Christine Seaver seemed right at home at Charleston. The ladies of their congregation overflowed us, too. The little Started boys are so merry.

Know Our Teachers
By Rosenmary Pfeifer

On August 12, 1918, Dean and Mrs. Speck were the proud parents of their first son, Jack Wood. They were at the Carthage Christian College in Oklahoma. The family moved to Har penetrate, Kanasa. Jack was about six when they moved again—this time to Merillton, Ark. Jack Wood attended school here and went through the fourth grade.

He next year of school work was in Chicago, but then he was back in Merillton where he completed the ninth grade. Harding moved to Shreveport and it was here that Jack Wood completed his high school work, showing a special fascination for basketball and "cousin-up." Jack Wood attended Harding College and received his degree in 1940 with majors in biology and chemistry. He was a member of the Campus Players, Sub-T President, Freshman Club member of Arkansas Club, Honor Student in 30-40. Alpha Honor Society, Who's Who. Business Manager of Petit Jean, Church Club, Quartet Euphonium, and Alpha Psi Omega. Sears were in Austin and entered the University of Texas at 20 years of age to begin his work on his Ph. D. in biology. The first year here he was in Texas he preached at San Marcos where he met Marita Speck, a graduate of Southeastern State Teachers College of Texas and instructor for three years in the Jones High School of San Marcos. They were married November 25, 1943.

Jack Wood was a native in Zoology for four years and minister during the latter part of his stay at the University. He received his Ph. D. in 1944.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Speck came to Harding in 1944 and Dr. Spears began the teaching of biological sciences. Two leaders of each month he preaches at Perkinsville, Mississippi, founder of Melbourne, Arkansas, and one in Denmark and Vehma, Arkansas.

Dr. Spears likes to fish and play golf, and although he doesn't have time for it now, he plans to take some time for it in the Spring.

The jolly fellow with the pleasant smile you see on the campus is he, but if you're one of those students that don't see this in the morning or draw near little animals no introduction is needed.

Social Clubs Aid Blind Couple

The regular meeting of the Ladies Sewing Circle met in the Golden Hall reception room Thursday night to take plans for a Pot Luck dinner for the women of the university on April 9th.

The hosts at this meeting were Mrs. Jack Wood Speck. Mrs. Horsman, Mrs. Nell B. Coxe and Mrs. John Lo Dyk, served open-faced sandwiches, cookies and cake.

Sherill Visits St. Louis Church

T. H. Speck, minister of the downtown congregation, left Sunday morning for St. Louis where he preached for the Central Congregation Sunday morning and night. The congregation has been without the services of a regular minister for the past year, and is hoping to get Sherill to preach regularly for them.

Wend K. Haxor preached for the downtown congregation Sunday morning and Bob Capeland Sunday night.

University Rises Again In The Philippines

The University of the Philippines is in "shock," writes Dr. Martin M. Kavari, a leading educator and statesman in the Philippines. The great and beautiful university in Manila had more than 7,000 students and 714 professors before the war. Jamo Tomas, the oldest university under the American flag, was one of the other thirty-six institutions of collegiate rank in the Philippines with a total enrollment of 156,584. Great damage was done to many of these institutions. Only 35,000 volumes of the 75,000 in the National Library were saved. In other libraries 6,578,721 volumes were lost, and 90 per cent of laboratory equipment of colleges and universities was destroyed.

The University of the Philippines re-opened his fall to temporary quarters. Joe Miner, California '42, home from duty in the Pacific, has written, "I just remember from the Philippines where I saw schools open up from nothing but trash and weeds overgrown. But they are building homes who will somehow build their country."

Funds contributed to the World Student Service Fund go to help Filipino students who have suffered grievously during the war, as well as to help students all over the war-ruined lands. Roland Elliott is now investigating the Philippines for the Fund.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE NEWS—

A man must learn to do four things: 1. To trust in God and heaven, secure that he will one day build his home. 2. To love his fellowmen equally. 3. To act from honest motives, purely. 4. To trust in God and heaven, securely.

Chorus Will Make
Three Day Tour
Of South Arkansas

Mrs. Florence Jewell and nineteen choristers will leave Saturday morning for a three-day tour of southeastern Arkansas.

Their first appearance will be in Magnolia Saturday. They are scheduled for performances in Magnolia and Little Rock.

On Sunday, Mrs. Florence Jewell and twenty members of the chorus are taking us in the flivver on a picnic and getting stuck-up in the mud, but it was worth it to smell the good fruit salad that had been made in a dish pan.

Fanny's; when Alice's first baby was born and how Harmon cried when it died, and all of us were sad, even the dog cried.

I remember father's operation, and how quiet the house was and how father in the world.

When I see the little boys and girls up here, cooped in 4-wall trailers, I think of what they are missing in not having you for a father and mother. I breathe a prayer of Thanksgiving, you, for my mother and father.

That's why I cried at church today and didn't listen to the preacher—I was too happy to have the best mamma and father in the world.

Your devoted daughter,

Morgan Binghamson, senior at Pearl
