Sadie Hawkins Race To Be Held Saturday

LECTURESHIP WEEK PROGRAM OUTLINED

The annual Thanksgiving lectureship is well under way. The lectures, held in the north wing of the new Industrial Arts building, have the theme "Foundations of Faith." Although four lectures have been presented, eight are still to follow ending Thanksgiving day.

These are the speakers and their subjects for the following lectures:

"The Psychological Soundness Of The Christian Faith" by J. D. Bales will be given Tuesday night at 7:30. At 8:15, L. O. Sanderson will speak on "Christ The Stone Of Zion."

On Wednesday the following lectures will be given. At 9:50 a. m. Burton Coffman will lecture on "The Bible As The Foundation Of Christian Faith." Dr. F. W. Mattox will discourse on "The Bible Confirmed By History" at 7:30 p. m. Mr. A. R. Holton, at 8:15, will speak on "The Lordship Of Jesus Christ."

The following lectures will be given on Thanksgiving day. "The Fruits Of Christian Faith" will be presented by E. W. McMillan at three in the afternoon. Mr. G. C. Brewer will speak on "The Proper Conception Of God" at 7:30 p. m.

The Thanksgiving address will be given by G. C. Brewer. This address will be held Thursday morning at ten. Following the address, there will be announcements made by C. L. Ganus on the progress of the Building Fund Drive, and George S. Benson will speak concerning mission work.

Former Hardingites Are Now In Switzerland

by Victor Broaddus

Report from Zurich, Switzerland, state that Miss Irene Johnson and Miss Dorothy Baker are enjoying and cooperating in the local afternoon custom of having coffee and pastries. Miss Johnson, former teacher at Harding, and Miss Baker, former Harding student, sailed from New York about the middle of last September on the first lap of their long journey to Germany where they will serve in the capacity of missionaries. On the way they stopped for about two days in Paris and then went on to Zurich, Switzerland, where they will remain until permission is granted for entrance into Germany. While staying in Switzerland they are spending their time in the study of the German language.

'World Wide Mission' Group Forms To Study Foreign Mission Fields

Plans and policies of the new club were discussed Saturday, October 31, when a group of students met together to form a World-Wide Mission study group.

According to Rodney Wald, one of the charter members, the purpose of this club is to find out more about opportunities for present work, and the extent of the need for workers on the various mission fields, and the extent of the need for workers on the various mission fields.

Look Magazine Prints Story On Insurance Policy on Dr. Benson

On page 125, the November 23 issue of Look magazine gives a page to a discussion of the insurance policy taken by the college board of trustees last spring on Dr. Benson's life.

According to the short feature, this five year policy, which has a $16,540 premium, is the largest written in the last fifteen years. It was deemed necessary to take this policy because of Dr. Benson's excellent work in raising funds for the school.

The Annual Harding College Lectureship Program Celebrates Its Forty-third Birthday This Year

by Mary Jean Godwin

This week is Thanksgiving Lectureship week and the alumni of this school, families of students, and friends will be here for homecoming. Homecoming on Thanksgiving day isn't a new occasion at Harding, but rather one of the oldest Harding traditions.

According to Mrs. J. N. Armstrong, this tradition dates back to 1905 at Western Bible and Literary college in Odessa. This tradition has been handed down from there to Cordell Christian college, to the college in Morrilton, and finally to Searcy.

"Back in it's beginning the speakers were invited and came from great distances, paying all their expenses," said Mrs. Armstrong. "These men loved the boys and girls and welcomed every opportunity to speak to them." Always on Thanksgiving day they would have "dinner on the ground." Only since the school has been known as Harding college have we had dinner inside.

Mrs. Armstrong admitted that

MAINTENANCE STAFF ADDS NEW MEMBER

Dungan Jeu, electrical engineer, has recently been added to the Harding maintenance staff as assistant to Mr. Turman.

Jeu is a Chinese, but an American citizen. He was born in Portland, Oregon, although he received his grade school and high school training in Hong Kong, China, he attended college in the United States.

He received a degree in electrical engineering from Virginia Polytechnic institute in 1924. Following graduation from V.P.I he returned to Hong Kong where he was employed by the Hong Kong Electric Company. Later he moved to Shanghai Power company, until the outbreak of World War II. During the war he operated a small farm on the outskirts of Shanghai. In July, 1946, Jeu returned to Hong Kong and then in July, 1947, came back to the United States. He has been working in New York city since then.

He is the uncle of Fung Seen Wong, a junior here, also of Hong Kong. Jeu is married and his wife is now visiting her sister in Sacramento, Calif., and will soon join him here. They will live in Grey Gables on the college campus.

Program At 7:15 In College Auditorium

Saturday, November 27, is Sadie Hawkins Day and that's the day all yew eager gals kin ketch wun of them scairt males. Jis so yew gals kin git thet man far and squar, these here are the reg-oo-la-tions.

Gals and guys be at the fish-pond wit yor atomic weepens at 3:45. From thar yew kin practice ron over to Benson Field whar the race starts at 4:00. Jis so the miserable males kin have one last chance, they'll git a 20 feet lead and after thet! Oh happy weddin' day!

Register Your Man

As soon as yew gals ketch thet ugly critter and fix him up so as he caint git away, register at the table at North Entrance to Godden Hall, otherwise—warnin'—without thet ticket yew caint go to thet programmy. If yew aint ketched no male by 4:45 it's jes too bad until nex yar gals—so url up them atomic weepens and ready to git—and yew mangey men be ready to git got!

The feeder said to announce thet the Dogpatch Dinner will be throwed on the table at 5:00 sharp They'll be aplenty fo all hongry racers who ain't et nothin since last yar.

Don't fer a minut think after yew've et yew're thru. No siree. At 7:15 the big, seen-sa-shun-al, stoo-pen-dous sooper dee-lux programmy gits started. All the talent in Dogpatch and Skonk Hollar will be thar.

Expect These

Programmy will be as follers: leastwise these critters will be on it.

Doug Lawyer and the Sweet Potato Hill Boys.

Hairless Joe Contes'.

Faculty quartet—consisting of Joe Pryor, Andy Ritchie, Jess Rhodes and Jack Wood Sears.

Stringbean McPole Contes' Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner election.

Kenneth Istre with "Move It On Over."

Wayne Johnson playing "Steel Guitar Rag."

Marryin' Sam and the Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae weddin'.

Yew gals had better be ashar-penin' yor toenails with thet lawn-mower and yew miserable male critters had better be a practking up, cause Saturday is thet grate day!

All detached people gotta ron in the rase effen they wanna go to the programmy. All at-tached people can go if they show their marrij licenses or a not from Zellie Bell's offis.

the lecture programs were not organized as well as they are now. Each speaker was invited to speak whatever he felt was most important at that time. Many stirring messages were delivered by some of the well known older speakers liwe J. A. Harding, Henry Warlick, J. N. Armstrong, R. C. Bell, F. L. Young, and Leroy Elkins.

Two speakers the students today know best are G. C. Brewer and E. W. MacMillan, who have been coming almost every year since Harding has been at Searcy. Every year there are many other outstanding speakers, but it would be impossible to mention them all.

"It's always wonderful to see all the old students back and especially when they appear on the lectureship programs," Mrs. Armstrong commented.

Year by year the idea of the lectureship in connection with the Thanksgiving season has grown and expanded and has become one of the most significant occasions at Harding college.

REGULATE YOURSELF!

"Train up a child in the way he should go," said the wise man. One must be trained so that he will lead a happy and useful life. Yet while the training he receives continues throughout life, it progresses to new things. Training would be useless if it taught the same things over and over again, for once something is learned, no further training is necessary. This applies to regulations. Parents have no need for hard and fast regulations governing the conduct of their children along a certain line once the children have learned to tell that which is right from that which is wrong. Training has had its effect. Regulations are no longer needed.

Many laws in our society are not flawless. We have laws against speeding, yet in cases of emergency, speeding is allowed. That is because there is a purpose in speeding which in this particular case is more important than the purpose in prohibiting speeding.

BUT THIS QUESTION POSES ITSELF. What would our society be without rules? Rules and regulations are made for the minority, not the majority. The majority of people do not transgress the rules so they have no effect on them. It is only to the lawbreaker that laws apply. But they must exist in order to restrain the lawbreaker.

There has been a lot of talk recently about rules and regulations on the Harding campus. Whether you think a particular rule is right or not, if you are always determined to do the right thing, then these rules will not bother you. But if you think that a certain rule is senseless or unnecessary, it would still be wrong to break it, unless it be a case of extreme emergency when the lawmakers themselves would permit such an infraction, just as a city government permits speeding in case of extreme emergency.

Do a thing because it is right and refrain from doing another because it is wrong! And not simply because it is legal or illegal.

But keep this in mind: There is nothing wrong with rules; they are to restrain only those who would do wrong!

GIVE US MORE OF THE SAME!

We wish to thank the Campus Players for their excellent staging of "Junior Miss" last Friday and Saturday nights.

This was made possible by the excellent work of those in the play, the faculty advisors, and the excellent backstage work. All the people connected with the production of "Junior Miss" are to be commended for their outstanding work.

May we have more plays like this!

Prof. Ritchie Sez:

"Movie scenes recently displayed on our campus reminded us of the squalor and starvation affecting men's bodies in Italy. It is right that our spirit of compassion be aroused by such scenes, but it is much more important to see the wretchedness of men's souls—our own as well as others. All these conditions demand response upon the part of every true Christian."

With Other Schools

By Vicky Guest

From the Red Devil, Augusta.

Andy T. Ritchie, director of the Men's Glee club at Harding college, Searcy, appeared on the assembly program Friday, October 15.

After a brief devotional period, Prof. Ritchie sang "The Big Bass Viol", "Hills of Home", "Sing Me to Sleep", "All Day on the Prairie," "Water Boy", and "Sailin' Through." His accompanist was Miss Wong Fung Seen, of Hong Kong, China, who is a junior at Harding college.

The varsity band from Hendrix college, a group of top-ranking musicians picked from the larger concert band, have begun rehearsals this week.

The 34-piece group has been organized with the primary purpose to give the students an opportunity to learn the principles of conducting and to give the members a chance to do a great deal of sight reading music. Beginning in January, the band will be used on radio programs which will originate on the campus.

MANY VISITORS ARRIVE FOR THANKSGIVING WEEK: A large crowd of parents, friends, ex-students, and alumni of Harding are now arriving for the annual lectures this week. Among the visitors are several members of the college board of trustees. The visitors will be housed by the school and by friends of the school in Searcy.

Among other attractions of the week will be an art exhibit sponsored by the art department. This exhibit will be held in the reception room of the boy's dormitory. (No, Godden Hall was then a boys' dormitory.) There will be several different kinds of art work on display. These will be work done in water color, in oils, mixed mediums, and mechanical drawings.

? OF THE WEEK

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF PLEDGING?

Alice Straughn: Everyone should go through with it, I'm just waiting for next year.

Prem Dharni: It is really a nuisance at times.

Sarah Powell: Wonderful, it really makes a person appreciate the club.

Mary Jo Hare: It's right by me, I really thought it was fun.

Richard Walker: I'd just say it's r-u-f-f.

Kenneth White: Good idea, the tougher the better.

Jimmy Hammond: I think it's really a good idea, it really makes you feel like the club means something.

Evelyn Rhodes: Without pledging it would be nothing.

Norman Starling: I think it is fine because without pledging the new members do not appreciate the club in its fullness.

Mac Guthrie: Oh, it's something for amusement.

Billy Smith: I don't think of it very often, just once a year.

Velda Turner: I think it is a good idea and that it should be two weeks long.

Marion Bush: Pledging? Its plenty rough.

Florence White: More fun.

Glenn Boyd: I never did stop to think about it.

Helen Poplin: You certainly do a lot of things you would never do otherwise.

Edda Lee Madden: I think the Metah Moe system of pledging was best.

Leah Boyd: Fun! It really breaks the ice and helps you to meet people.

Mattie Lou Geer: It is really the best way to get acquainted.

.. Your Library Speaks ..

—By Evelyn Morris—

In observance of Book Week, perhaps you would be a bit more interested in really making a visit to the library and looking around. There is a delightful display of posters, made by our own Ruth Bornschlegel around the rooms. They will be interesting as well as helpful.

Have you ever dropped by the book display room and really observed its contents? There are all types of books, historical, professional, scientific, fiction, or nearly any kind you may want. Besides books, if you will notice the bulletin board you will find a way to spend your spare moments most enjoyably. On the bulletin board is a heart of "Good Listening Programs." The chart lists innumerable programs, their stations and times for listening. All are programs recommended by the Federal Radio Educational committee.

There are a number of new books in, including many that would be of interest especially to those taking the course in Southern history. We often find stories of the lives of the so-called great men. From a Southern Biography Series there are books on Felix Grundy by Parks, George Fitzhugh, by Wish, Seargent S. Prentiss, a Whig orator of the Old South by Dickey. These books and others attempt to give due credit to those who made the great men great. Dumas Malone has written about half the life of Jefferson in his book, Jefferson the Virginian. Malone was a history teacher in the University of Virginia, a school founded by Jefferson. This illustrated book is the could look up and see Monticello in the dim distance. From this experience he became determined to write a big book about Jefferson. This illustrated book is the first volume of four which Malone will write.

Among other books of interest in Southern history are Jefferson Davis and His Cabinet by Patrick, The South by Almon E. Parkins, and The South in American History by Hesselstine.

Remember—THE LIBRARY IS YOURS!

Think On These Things...

by Victor Broaddus

It was 327 years ago in the north-eastern part of our country that a group of people assembled in humble prayer and thanksgiving for the God who had supplied them with a bountiful harvest to offset the possible starvation of the following winter. Only three and a half years ago a group of American people stood in a distant country with tears in their eyes and prayers of thankfulness in their hearts for the presence of American soldiers who had liberated them from the enemy under whom they had been prisoners.

In both instances thankfulness was expressed by silence and prayer. Since 1621, however, the expression of thankfulness has degenerated into a form of gluttonous eating and unthinking celebration. At least that is the case with the great masses of people in our country.

The average American has more for which to be thankful than he often realizes or even wishes to realize. He has a roof over his head and enough food to eat. Perhaps he may not be able to reach the height of his ambitions, but yet he has enough.

He has not had to worry about bombs and soldiers of another nation invading the privacy of his home and taking all his possessions—or his life.

With these thoughts in mind one certainly would feel grateful enough to be able to be "giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God, even the Father." (Ephesians 5:20)

CASH REGISTERS

By Barbara Cash

Peso—I hope that you don't get tired of Physics but it is such a wealth of material that I really have to work it to death. This week we are studying about horses and horse power in our stable equilibrium. Horses, there they go..... Beeflebomb.

Franc—If you aren't color blind, I am sure that you have seen my beautiful orange Sox that I bought a couple of weeks ago. Jane Neal liked them so much that she asked me about the sizes that they came in. I told her that I did not know how small the sizes got because I asked for the largest that they had. That's what I get for being a Louisiana pelican with webbed toes.

Pence—Jack Plummer was really thrilled when he got a bid from the College Club. Their dues are kinda high. Speaking of clubs, I really got a large charge out of the Galaxy pledges calling me "Miss Cash" because I am an 'onery' member.

Mark—I sure do miss Bob Morris (pardon me, Mayor) singing his lovely serenade every morning, "Oh, Mommy, please tsay home with me". Corn pone.....

Shekel—My roommate and I have quite a time waking up in the morning. The other morning we were walking sleepily down the hall when all of a sudden, she just about died laughing. I looked in her hand at what I thought was a meal ticket and she had a card of snaps..... Now you know why I am like I am.....

Rupee—Names can sound so funny when you put them backwards. Just think how these would sound: Plack Jummer, Hodger Rawley, Wayton Caller, Wot Delsh, Frocter Dank, Mob Borris, Carbara Bash, Mu Rorton, Randy Itchie, and Spuddie Deers. Guess that Juanita Waller is just out of luck. I like to speak to people like this: Hi-Gene, Howdy Moudy, and Howdy Dudie.

Alms—As J. D. Bales says, "As Shakespeare said 'Let us draw the curtains of charity upon this tragic scene.'"

GALLOWAYING

The ivy on Godden Hall wall has a history. You knew—of course—that the building, around which so much of our activities center, was once a girls' school. The ivy was put on the wall first by Galloway's "Irving Literary Society" in 1907. The society brought the first twig from Irving's home, Terrytown on the Hudson. The first twig was lost to a blight in about two years. Not to be outdone the club secured a second twig in a few years from a boys' school named for Washington Irving. THE PATCH WORK QUILT

Texas weather: Chili today hot tamale..... Some powder goes off with a bang—some goes off with a puff..... "So you saw his B. A. and his M. A." "Yes, indeed, but his P. A. still supports him."

A GOOD TIME WAS HAD

The dramatic club certainly has started the year by presenting a number of good plays to the student body. Junior Miss was an excellent presentation, and all the one act plays given this year rank high in entertainment value. We feel that the dramatic groups will indeed render a service throughout the year. We hope that the student body will learn—more and more—to appreciate serious drama. More power to all our dramatic groups.

UNTIL NEXT TIME:

ARCHERY CLUB ROVES TO PICNIC SITE

The members of the Archery club left the campus Saturday morning, November 6, for a rove. The idea behind the rove was that all members were to shoot at a target and the one that came the closest would select the next target. The rove advances from target to target. The archers shot at approximately 30 targets including stumps, trees and fence posts. Maxine Grady came the closest to the targets more times than any other member. She was awarded an arrow autographed by each member of the club.

The archers took equipment for a weiner roast which they had slung across their backs. The group roved until four p. m. then they had a weiner roast.

Members of the group are Lloyd Wright, Maxine Grady, Jesse Moore, Doris Rice, Zelma Bell, Ima Bell Kimbrough, Jack Harris, Al Bryant, Grace Arimura and Bill Belknap.

CAMPUS VISITORS

Mr. Fred Smart of Toronto, Canada, arrived on the campus last week to visit his daughters,

THE TRAINED HUSBAND

He put out the cat, wound the clock;
 From kitchen floor he swept some dirt;
 Went to the door, and set the lock;
 The stoker filled, got out a shirt;
 Sewed on a button, darned a sock—
 "A little extra work won't hurt
 A man at the end of his day,"
 He used to hear his mother say.

Civics Class Cleans Class Room

The High School civics class has taken as one of their projects, the improvement of their class room's appearance. As part of this beautification the wood work has been varnished, part of the chairs sanded and varnished, the walls Kem-Toned, the floor waxed, the windows washed, and a few other things were done to generally improve the appearance of the room.

Those directing the project were David and Henry Fullbright. Professor Sewell supervised the work.

Giants Outlast Eagles On Slippery Field

Led by Jack Harris, the Giants won their third victory by downing the fighting Eagles 18-14. The Giants gained an 18-0 lead on 3 runs by Harris. He returned two punts 38 and 40 yards for touchdowns aimed by nice blocking from his teammates. Harris scored the other tally on a 13 yard blast off tackle.

Les Perrin got his Eagles back in the game by snaring a long pass which skidded of a Giant defenders hand and running the remaining 15 yards for 6 points. The play was good for 55 yds. Hugh Newcomb tallied the extra point. The Eagles came within 4 points of the Giants when Gene Mowrer took a short pass from Newcomb and scampered 37 yards to pay dirt. Mowrer also made the extra point.

Yanks Shuffle Cards By Wide 20-7 Margin

The Yanks overpowered the Cards 20-7 Friday afternoon, Nov. 12, for their first win of the season.

The Yanks played, for the most part, a running game. The scoring started early in the first quarter with Ronald Smith scoring on a fifty-two yard run. Their next score was made by "Rip" Van Winkle on a long pass followed in the third quarter with another long run by Smith. Tucker grounded the ball behind the goal for the remaining two points.

The Cards took to the air and after completing two short passes scored on a freak catch by Whiteman in the end zone. A pass from Garner to Whiteman was good for the extra point. Brumley and Whiteman were the outstanding linemen.

GIANTS LOSE FIRST THRILLING GAME

Those game was played between the Lions and Giants Wednesday evening with forces almost even in ability. Luck was with the Lions when Ernie Wilkerson, quarterback for the Giants, passed in the last few minutes of play to "Speedy" Moore for twenty yards and a touchdown, which didn't register as the play was offside. The Lions held until the whistle blew, ending the game.

Grover and Mohundro were the piledrivers for the Lions as they ran for 61 yards between them. Mohundro scored a touchdown in the third quarter plunging through the line for four yards. Joe Wells outstanding man in the line snatched a 24 yard pass from Grover and romped over for the only other tally for the Lions. Wells was leading scorer with 8 points.

Moore and Menes, spark-plugs for the Giants, went over for the only touchdowns; Moore exploded through the line for three yards in the second quarter to score, with Menes following with the other as he made a nice catch from the strong arm of Ernie Wilkerson completing a 51 yard pass. The game ended thrillingly to a score of 14-12 in favor of the Lions.

Eagles Smash Cards Easily, With 46-6 Win

The score ended 46 to 6 as a powerful Eagles team went ram-busting over a haywire Cards team.

In the first half after Perrin made the first touchdown for the Eagles the Cards came right back to force their way to their only touchdown made by Brumley. After this an endless series of touchdowns were made by the Eagles throughout the game as Perrin, Hart, and Newcomb scored two touchdowns each over the bewildered Cards.

Although the Cards started out with only six men for the first half of the game, a number of times they nearly broke through the Eagles' pay dirt. The Cards did not threaten throughout the final half.

Bears Swamp Rams With 46-6 Shellacking

Steve Eckstein, swivel-hipped half-back of the powerful Bear attack swept past the bewildered Rams for four touchdowns. Coy Cambell, Gibby Bullington, and Max Vaughn each racked up one for the Bears. Dudley Spears of the Rams scored their lone tally to save them from a whitewashing.

The game was terminated at the end of the first half at the request of the Rams' Captain Bobby Connell. The Rams suffered from the absence of Chick Allison, "Pappy" Walker, and Joe Webb. Without these three men the Rams just don't have it.
